EXCURSION TO THE SHOALS.—The steamer Silver Star, Capt. Makinney, will make an excursion to the Shoals this evening, leaving Pier wharf between 7 and 8 o'clock, or on the arrival of the cars from Boston and Concord. She will return Monday morning in season for passengers to take the first trains that leave the city.

We understand that there are five clergymen of different denominations stopping at the Appledore House, and that arrangements have been made for preaching to-morrow forenoon by an Orthodox minister, and in she afternoon by a Unitarian. There will also be preaching at Star Island, by a clergyman of the Baptist denomination. If there are members enough present of any other sect, to make a respectable audience, we have no doubt a preacher can be had. Those who do not wish to attend divine service, will have a good opportunity to commune with nature; and those who desire "sermons in stones," can be supplied by the wholesale. T.

NOTICE.—We are authorised by Rev. Dr. Burroughs, to state that the letter over his signature, published in our issue of Thursday last, was neither written, dictated, nor signed by him: that he never saw the letter until it was published in our paper; that he never uttered one of the sentiments contained in it; that he had not read the book of "Missionaries and Martyrs," though, from the commendation of it by some of our citizens of good judgment, he would be disposed to concur with their opinions.

We are also authorised by the writer of the communication to say he had no intention of using the influence of a highly esteemed clergyman to recommend a book, beyond the liberty which he kindly granted;—and that he regrets any mistake or misapprehension on the subject.

POLICE COURT.—FRIDAY, P. M.—Before Justice Odell.—Two boys, of 14 or 15 years, were convicted of stealing nine gold dollars, from the clothes of a gentleman who was bathing.

They were sentenced to pay three times the value of the money stolen; pay the costs of court; and be each imprisoned 20 days in the common jail.

☞ The clipper ship Noon Day, will be launched this forenoon, at about 10 o'clock, from Badger's Island.

☞ Rev. Henry D. Moore, will close his labors with the North Church, to-morrow, in the Temple.

I HAVE examined for a short time only, the Collection of Figures illustrating the Life of our Savior, now on Exhibition in this city, and have no hesitancy in expressing my unqualified pleasure at the artistic, impressive and instructive Exhibition. I can follow the Savior from his Birth to his Ascension, through a series of groupings which are full of intimations of Scripture history, calculated to impress adults and especially adapted to please and improve the young. Parents should take their children to see these figures; and Sabbath Schools should not fail of the opportunity of seeing the most interesting scenes in the Savior's life, embodied in impressive and pleasing art. Hours could be spent amid these groups with profit to the beholder, while his meditations would amply repay for the time employed.

SYRACUSE, N. Y., 23d.—The Hard Shell Convention was permanently organized by the appointment of Henry W. Rogers of Erie as President, and various Vice Presidents and Secretaries. The President made a strong anti-fusion speech: resolutions were reported that the National Democratic party of New York reasserts its adherence and devotion to the principles of the National Democracy and Constitution, and stand by the platform of 1848 and 1852; that frugality and economy is an enduring article of their faith, that they insist upon the doctrine of State rights and non-intervention, and leave to the people of the territories the framing of all laws; that they are opposed to secret political societies and the curtailment of the privileges now enjoyed by aliens; that they regard the prohibitory liquor law as a violation of the Constitution, and demand its repeal; that they invite all who agree with them in principle to unite with them, regardless of minor differences, but desire no coalition with those holding hostile sentiments.

A supplementary resolution was offered by Mr. Sickles of New York, inviting the Soft Shells to unite with them on this platform, and take half the state offices.

Another resolution, highly denunciatory of the National Administration, was also offered. Also, one denouncing the Know Nothings.

A general debate sprung up, and is now (12 o'clock) still going on.

THE FEVER PANIC AT THE SOUTH.—The Washington correspondent of the National Intelligencer, under date of Tuesday, writes that "the fever panic at Norfolk and its vicinity has increased, and I cannot learn that it is diminished in the places which are exposed to communications with the infected region."—He adds:

The obstinacy and fatality of the fever have induced many of the inhabitants of the infected region to believe that it is not the ordinary yellow fever, but an African fever, of a more aggravated type, and one that cannot be controlled by any remedies heretofore resorted to.

CHOLERA AT FLEMINGSBURG.—A letter from Flemingsburg under the date of the 10th inst., says in a postscript: "In the last two weeks we have had in our town and vicinity over thirty deaths from cholera, and this morning seven cases which cannot recover. Two-thirds of the citizens have left the town. Our doctors are very unlucky. But one or two cases saved."—Louisville (Ky.) Jour.

MEETING OF THE GRAND LODGE OF ODD-FELLOWS.—Tuesday was the day for the meeting of the Grand Lodge of Odd Fellows for the State. Agreeably to previous arrangements, it was held in this city. The attendance was quite large, embracing a number of prominent men. We are informed that the session, though a protracted one, was very harmonious. The Order was represented, on the whole, to be in a very prosperous condition throughout the State, a renewed interest having been manifest in several Lodges. The additons have also been quite numerous, and the prospects of this social and benevolent Institution are, if possible, more flattering than ever.

The following is the list of officers elected for the current year:

Moses M. Burbank of Franklin, M W G Master; Joseph Kidder of Manchester, M W D G Warden; W. R. Tapley of Dover, M W G Warden; J. B. Smart of Concord, M W G Secretary; Mitchell Gilmore of Concord, M W G Treasurer; B. M. Tillotson of Manchester, Grand Chaplain; Geo. C. Williams of Lancaster, Grand Representative.

The next session will be held at Laconia, more generally known as Meredith Bridge.—Manchester Mirror.

GREAT FALLS BANKS.—The first meeting of the stockholders of the Somersworth Bank, as we learn from the Great Falls Journal, was held Tuesday of last week. The following gentlemen were elected Directors:—Oliver H Lord, Royal Eastman, Samuel S Rollins, George W Wendell, George W Brasbridge, John H Burleigh, R W Stevens.

It was also voted that 25 per cent. of the capital stock be paid in on the 1st day of October, 25 on the 1st day of November, and the remainder on the 1st day of December;—and that the Bank be put in operation on the 1st day of December, 1855.

The Stockholders of the Great Falls Bank held a meeting at their Banking Institution on Monday, 13th inst. The following gentlemen were elected Directors:—John A Burleigh, Daniel G Rollins, Samuel D Whitehouse, Nathaiel Wells, Mark Noble, M C Burleigh and I S Coleman.

At a subsequent meeting of the Directors, John A Burleigh, Esq., was chosen President.

A semi-annual dividend of 4 per ct. was declared.—Enquirer.

Yacht Sea Ranger,
FOR THE SHOALS AND A MARKET.

CAPT. JAMES W. GOODWIN respectfully gives notice to the pleasure seeking public that he has purchased for their accommodation the present season, the safe, commodious and fast-sailing Yacht SEA RANGER, of 45 tons burthen, with which he is now prepared to convey parties to the Shoals, Boar's Head and other places in the vicinity; and having furnished her with all the necessary materials, will accommodate FISHING PARTIES on reasonable terms.

The SEA RANGER will outsail any vessel on the Piscataqua or of any neighboring ports, in light or heavy winds; is fitted with excellent berths; is well supplied with sails, boats, fishing and cooking apparatus, and is in every respect the best vessel for the accommodation of parties who desire a few days enjoyment on the briny ocean that ever hailed from this port.

The SEA RANGER will make occasional trips to the SHOALS for the accommodation of such persons as desire safe conveyance thither; and when the bosom of old ocean is too much agitated for the safety of the Dancing, alias Silver Star, to venture forth, the Yacht will bear passengers safely o'er the bounding billow.

DEAD SHOT FOR BED BUGS.

A SURE death to these noxious disturbers of our nightly rest. Apply it to insects and it cuts them up and lays them out as readily as Sulphur Fumes kills Bees

It has no equal in the market. The whole world cannot produce a substitute of similar value to the comfort of a neat tidy housewife. Its application is of little trouble, while the benefit which may be derived from a single night's undisturbed repose is incalculable.

SANCHO PANZA

Called down "blessings upon the head of the man who first invented sleep." How much more worthy such honorable distinction would he consider the inventor of the Dead Shot, who, by his Pungent and Deadly Preparation, has rendered utterly impossible the ancient bloody forays of such 'tolerable and not to be endured' tormentors; and who has enabled every one to guarantee to himself his own particular share of "tired Nature's sweet restorer."

VIOLIN STRINGS of superior quality, for sale by J. S. HARVEY & SON. a17

In speaking of the appointment of Viscount Canning to be Governor General of India, the New York Daily Times tells the following story:—

Mrs. Canning (the late Viscountess) was one of the three daughters of General Scott, of Balcomie, a man nearly related to the Ducal house of Buccleugh, but so anti-aristocratical that he made a provision in his will to the effect that if any or either of his coheiresses, among whom he bequeathed about £600,000, should marry a Lord or a Lord's son, the person or persons so marrying should forfeit her or their share to the parties not so offending. Oddly enough, all three became Peeresses. One married the late Duke of Portland (and was mother of Lord George Bentinck;) another became the wife of Lord Doune, afterwards Earl of Moray; and the youngest married George Canning, then a Secretary of State, and was created a Peeress on her own right on his death. The testamental penalty imposed by General Scott was never enforced—the third sister, who had married a Commoner, re-bestowing on her sisters, by legal deed of gift, the fortunes which had become forfeited to her, by their noble alliances.

MILLARD FILLMORE.—We learn that Mr. Fillmore is having brilliant success in English society. His fine personal appearance and graceful and dignified manners contribute quite as much to this as his political distinction. Queen Victoria says he is the politest American she ever saw, and all manner of Dukes and Earls are inviting him to their country seats.—New York Tribune.

HAYES'S MEDICINES.

READER, are you suffering from Humors, Internal or external? HAYES'S Allied Ointment and Humor Syrup will cure you just as sure as you use it. Take not our assertion for it, but the testimony of a thousand living witnesses. All it wants is a trial—it advertises itself. One bottle has sold a hundred in a single town. Reader, do you ask how you shall know these statements are facts, when there is so much humbuggery in advertisements? We will inform you: call on any of our agents, get a circular, select any name you please, address a line to that individual—they will speak—they are living witnesses. It will cost but a trifle, and must convince the most skeptical. We subjoin one from among the many:

Read the following, it speaks for itself:

LAWRENCE, June 12, 1854.

We the undersigned, citizens of Lawrence, having used the Vegetable Ointment prepared by E. D. HAYES, of this city, and being personally acquainted with the Doctor, feel pleasure in adding our testimony to all the doctor claims for his medicine. Unlike other remedies in the market, this preparation performs its office speedily and with certainty. The Ointment we have used with the most happy results, after vainly seeking relief by the free use of Sarsaparilla, Salves, &c.

Our experience fully justifies us in confidently recommending it as the best article, and the only one known to us, as performing all it claims.

A. S. BUNKER. A. W. STEARNS,
S. I. THOMPSON, AS A T. SANBORN.

It cures Salt Rheum, Scrofula, Erysipelas, White Leprosy, Cancerous Humors, Ring Worm, Scald Head, Burns and Scalds, Chilblains, Piles, (a preparation expressly.) Barber's Itch, Fever Sores, and all old Mercurial Sores, however long standing. It removes all those vexatious Pimples, Eruptions and Moth or Mildew from the face leaving the skin perfectly soft and smooth, adding greatly to the beauty of the complexion. In no case will it leave a mark or scar. It improved the sight wonderfully, where the eyes are troubled with humors, by removing the difficulty and restoring the sight.

Price of the Ointment, $1; Syrup 50 cents.

Opinions of the Press.

It is now generally acknowledged that the Pianos manufactured by Hallet, Davis & Co. are unrivalled in America, if in the world, for brilliancy or purity of tone.—Boston Daily Times.

An immense volume of sound can be produced by these Pianos without shattering the tones, as they send forth the most perfect, bell like notes, and we must confess that we never listened to their equals for power, brilliancy, sweetness of tone, and purity of action.—Boston Herald.

The Pianos of Hallet, Davis & Co. deserve more than a passing notice. They are truly splendid instruments, very powerful, and of the purest and richest quality of tone.—Boston Traveller.

In regard to purity of tone, power and sweetness, being fully equal to any instrument that has come under our observation.—Boston Courier.

Owing to the beautiful elasticity of the action of your Grand Piano Fortes, I think it would be impossible for any Pianist, who plays properly, to break either a string or a hammer.—Extract from a Letter from Wm. Mason.

The peculiar feature of Hallet, Davis & Co.'s instruments is, they make no noise. Nothing but pure tone is produced by the vibration of the strings; and the construction of the sounding board, and action are such that skilful pianists, after once testing their merits, dislike to touch any other instrument in the Concert room.—Philadelphia Sunday Mercury.

I find them to be very superior instruments—as well in tone as in touch.—Extract of a Letter from L. M. Gottschalk.

I can unhesitatingly say that I find them superior in quality and quantity of tone, to those of other makers; also in the elasticity and easy touch; and can cheerfully recommend them to any one who wishes to own or play on the best Piano.—Extract of a letter from Robert Heller.

OPENING OF TUFTS COLLEGE.—The ceremonies incident on the formal opening of this college, took place on Wednesday, at the college buildings in Somerville. The procession, composed of the President, Trustees, and Faculty of the College, clergymen, and invited guests, formed in the basement of the College Hall, and proceeded thence to the chapel. The exercises in the chapel were opened by music from the Germania Serenade Band. Rev. Henry Bacon of Philadelphia, then offered a prayer. After another tune from the Band, Rev. Thomas Whittemore delivered the installing address. He confined himself almost wholly to the condition and prospects of the college. He thought it would be a means of great good to the youth of the country.

Rev. Hosea Ballou 2d, responded in behalf of the college. At the conclusion of that response, Dr. Ballou delivered his inaugural address. It was a long, but exceedingly well written document, and was very well received by the large audience who heard it.

Rev. E. Fisher of Dedham, then offered a prayer, when the procession was again formed and marched to a tent erected a short distance from the chapel. The exercises in the tent were opened with a prayer by Rev. A. G. Laurie of Charlestown. The guests then sat down to a bountiful collation prepared by J. B. Smith. About nine hundred and fifty sat around the tables, and many were unable to gain access to the tent. At the conclusion of the report, the President, Rev. Dr. Ballou, welcomed the assembled guests to the festivities of the occasion. Sentiments were then announced. The first sentiment was complimentary to Charles Tufts, who granted the land for the site of the college. Mr Tufts is now 73 years of age and somewhat infirm, and although he was present, did not respond to the sentiment. The audience, however, responded by three hearty cheers for "the founder of Tufts College."

Sentiments and speeches, interspersed with music by the band and songs by the School street church choir, continued during the afternoon. Among the speakers were Rev E H Chapin, Rev A A Miner, and Rev Otis A Skinner, all of whom were enthusiastically applauded. The exercises closed with the hymn, "From all that dwell below the skies," sung by the whole assembly.—Boston Adv.

A correspondent of the Unitarian paper in New York, describing the Phi Beta Kappa exercises at Cambridge, says:—"As at closing we sang Auld Lang Syne together with clasped hands, it fell to my lot to take the hand of old Dr. Beecher, who in the most hearty manner joined in the song, and beat time with the other great boys. Surely these are new days; and when I remember that in our boyhood, this excellent gentleman's name was identified with the most sulphurous style of preaching and dogmatic exclusiveness, I could hardly believe my eyes and ears. It seemed like a dream or hallucination—the singing of Auld Lang Syne with Lyman Beecher, after a generous oration from his son on mirthfulness."

GUIDE THE PRESS.—A correspondent of the Boston Transcript writing from Rye Beach, says in reference to occasional religious exercises on the Sabbath at one of the public houses:—"In the absence of such administration, I drove, on Sunday morning, to one of the Village meeting-houses, about three miles distant. I was particularly struck with one portion of the good man's prayer, as singular as it was appropriate and expressive: "Do thou guide the press, and direct the influence which it exerts." I never heard such a petition put up before; I have surely heard none which seemed to me more timely and significant.

A Providence officer went to New Bedford to procure a witness, a colored man. The people thought him a slave hunter, and at once put the man out of sight and reach.

GUANO A PREVENTIVE OF YELLOW FEVER.—Commodore Cooke, of the U. S. ship St. Louis, while on the coast of Brazil, states that his ship was free from yellow fever, while every other vessel that visited the same port had it. He supposed that the bag of guano which he had on board must have had some influence. So when he visited the same places again, he distributed the bis guano in three bags on the ship, and escaped as before.—This is the extent of his experience, but upon it he bases the opinion that guano is a preventive of yellow fever.

Hon Samuel Gannt, late of Michigan, visited Maryland, his native State, lately, and while there, is known to have expressed his Free Soil sentiments freely but moderately.—The last that was heard of him, he was in Washington, on the 22d of June, and there is some reason to believe that he afterwards returned to Maryland, got into some political squabble, and was murdered. The body of a man has been found upon the plantation of Mr A Boall, in Prince George's county, Md, and it is feared that it is the body of Mr Gannt.

The Committee on quack medicines, who have been appointed by the American Pharmaceutical Association, express the opinion that the tendency to take medicine ad libitum is a feature of the Anglo Saxon race, duly inherited by the American people, which, whatever may be its faults, is as much their nature as is the love of personal and political freedom.

William Selwyn died on the 25th ult. at Tunbridge Wells, England, aged 81. He was educated at the University of Cambridge, and was first chancellor medallist in St. John's in 1797. His work, Abridgment of the Law of Nisi Prius, has long been a standard book in the legal profession.

Morning Chronicle.

MONDAY, AUGUST 27, 1855.

NEW YORK HARD SHELLS. — The New York Hard Shell Democratic Convention at Syracuse, on Thursday evening, adopted as an amendment to the resolutions as reported, that the Kansas Nebraska bill be approved of, and all efforts to restore the Missouri Compromise be discountenanced. An address to the National Democrats was also adopted.

On Friday, Mr. Haskins' resolution denouncing the administration, was rejected, 33 to 60. Messrs. Greene C. Bronson, Samuel Beardsley, George W. Clinton, and Charles O'Connor, were appointed delegates at large to the National Democratic Convention at Cincinnati. The committee reported candidates for State officers.

At the close of the nominations, Mr. Haskins attempted to introduce his resolution again, denouncing the administration. A dispute occurred between Mr. Haskins and Alderman Barr. Charges of insincerity were bandied, the lie given, and much confusion ensued.

PORTLAND MATTERS. — The Portland Journal informs us that the Grand Jury, at the late Court, received and examined the mass of testimony taken before the Second Inquest on John Robbins. The transactions of the second of June were thoroughly investigated by the Jury, and no bill found, and only two out of sixteen were in favor of even a censure on Mayor Dow and the city authorities. But they did find bills against some eight or ten of the rioters. The tables are completely turned.

A PRIEST MILITANT.—The Emperor of Russia has conferred on a priest of the name of Jeromonach Johann Sawinoff, the military order of St. George, 4th class, for the following conduct:

On the night of the 22d to 23d March, in this year, the said Sawinoff encouraged and led on his countrymen at the moment when they were wavering under the attack of the enemy before the Kamtschatka Lunette. He appeared among them in his robes, with the crucifix in his hand; raising the latter, he cried with a loud voice, 'Lord, save the people! Give our Orthodox Monarch the victory over his enemies!'

Under the effect of this inspiration, the troops rushed forward again and took the first and second lines of the trenches. He had further been active in conveying to the troops in the trenches the orders addressed to them by their commanding officer; whilst so doing the lower part of the crucifix in his hand was shot away, and a hostile bayonet passed through his gown.

BLESSING THE TROOPS.—A letter in the Ost. Deutsche Post states that the Archbishop of Chersón has arrived in Sebastopol, having been sent for by Prince Gortschakoff to give his blessing to the army. On the 26th ult., the troops were drawn up upon the Place St. Catherine, and the Archbishop made an address, which is shortly to be published in the Gazette Russe d' Odessa. Turning to Gen. Osten-Sacken, he said, 'My son, the last time we met (after the bombardment of Odessa) it was a divine inspiration which led me to say to you, Go and fight, and the Lord our God will give you victory. The words of my prophecy are accomplished,—by the defence of the fortress committed to your care you have gained immortal laurels for yourself and your soldiers. And now I say to you once more—Fight and triumph, for you are the elect of the Lord, destined to become the scourge of his enemies.'

The writer adds—It is indeed surprising that General Osten-Sacken, whose military career extends over 48 years, who has assisted at more than 100 battles and combats, in which he has usually been found in the first ranks, has never received even the slightest wound.

Now, if some dignitary of the English Church, say the Archbishop of Canterbury, would come on the ground and bless the English,—the Pope or his Nuncio, and bless the French,—and some grand Mufti who should bless the Turks,—what a blessed set of combatants we should have there; all bent on mutual slaughter, and each trusting that his own cause was viewed with a partial eye by Him who sitteth in the Heavens.

BIDDEFORD AGENCY.—Sundry large stories having been told in some papers and by some speakers, about the great sales by the Biddeford City Agency,—the editor of the Biddeford Union has examined the books, and gives the following information.

The Liquor Agency was opened May 3, and a careful examination of the books show that in the space of ninety days, there were less than four thousand sales, and that the whole amount received for the liquor sold for the quarter was $815.45; being an average of about nine dollars a day; and this in a city where the population is near 8000, and where various trades and occupations are carried on which require the use of alcohol for mechanical purposes. Admitting the number of sales to have been 4000, the whole number of gallons sold being less than 600, of all kinds, it would be but a pint to each individual purchaser, within the three months. We find that the female operatives in the mills, who purchase alcohol generally half a pint at a time, rarely more than that, for bathing purposes, are the most numerous purchasers; and so far as the purchases of others are concerned, they are made indiscriminately by our citizens. The names of men who are opposed to the Maine Law, appear as often on the books as do those of its friends.

EXETER MONUMENTS.

The Exeter correspondent of the Manchester American, gives the following items of interest, from a cemetery in Exeter:

On a well preserved slate monument is an inscription to the Rev. Daniel Rogers, pastor of a church gathered in 1748, who died December 3, 1785, aged 78, who was five generations from Rev. John Rogers of London, who was burned at Smithfield, England, February 14, 1555, the first martyr in Queen Mary's reign.

This monument gives the regular descent, and closes with the following:

"Thou martyred Saint and all ye holy train,
O be your honor'd name never need in vain;
May each descendant catch your hallowed fire,
And all your virtues all their hearts inspire,
Prophets like you in long succession rise,
Burning and shining, faithful, firm and wise—
And millions be their crown beyond the skies."

In another part of the "Ground," amid a cluster of pines, lies the family of a man celebrated during his day for his learning and greatness. His greatness differed from that of most men; usually some great act gives celebrity—some great occasion; but in this case his greatness consisted in his sound sense and his uniform talent—not the greatness of one speech or plea or charge—but of a continued massiveness and learning attained to but by a few. It is the grave and family of Jeremiah Smith. The inscription upon his stone was prepared by Daniel Webster, and is copied for the information of your readers:

Here rest the remains of Jeremiah Smith—in early youth a volunteer in the cause of the Revolution, and wounded at the battle of Bennington, afterwards a Representative to Congress, by the choice of the people of New Hampshire, and an able and efficient supporter of the measures of Washington, a District Attorney of the United States, and Judge of the Circuit Court, by the appointment of Washington's successor. In years yet more mature, a Governor of New Hampshire, and twice its Chief Justice. He was at every period of life well deserving of his country, by his courage, his fidelity, and his devotedness to the public service; equalled by few in original power, practical wisdom and practical learning, and acuteness; surpassed in the love of home, justice and truth, by none. He was born at Peterborough, November 25th, 1759, and lived in Exeter from 1797 till a few months before his death, at Dover, September 21st, 1842, always most beloved in those circles of domestic affection where he was best known, and always a Christian, bothby his convictions and by the habits of a life protracted in extraordinary cheerfulness and energy to above four score and two years.

It may interest some readers to add that Jeremiah Smith was a conspicuous Federalist, and was when Governor a special mark for Republican opposition, because, as it was then whispered, he was supposed by the Republicans to be connected in the famous John Henry plot. This plot, by the way, turned out to be one grand humbug. President Madison paid Henry a large sum of money, for promised information of treason among the Federalists of New England. Henry knew nothing of any consequence, and fell into contempt.

Smith outlived the humbug, and laughed at it. "The man recovered from the bite: The dog it was that died."

SNAKES—AND PITS. — The Gilmanton snake girl is announced to be in New York, and preparing for her repulsive exhibition.—If we had the arrangement of the preliminaries! we would dispose of the article in this wise: the parents to the Penitentiary, the girl to the Orphan Asylum, and the snake to the bottomless pit, where his great predecessor, who fascinated the mother of our race, has gone before him.—Ex.

The book of Revelation, chap. xx. speaks of such a pit, and of the old serpent confined therein. Probably the English word fathomless would better express the idea of the Revelator, than bottomless.

The first moral and physical duty of a human being is to be clean. Cleanliness, the apostle says, is akin to godliness.—Exchange paper.

It was a heathen apostle who said that; but it is a very clever saying, nevertheless.

RUMORS.—It is reported that President Pierce has recently bought a farm of 500 to 600 acres, near Colesville, Montgomery county, Maryland—a few miles from Washington, as his future residence. It is also reported that in the event of his receiving the Democratic nomination for the Presidency in 1856, he will run as a Maryland and not as a New Hampshire candidate.

We saw this in one paper; thought it not worth copying. See it to-day in twenty papers; copy it to say we deem it absurd and groundless.

The gas company of Providence, announce that "in consequence of the reduced cost of coal," the price of gas will be reduced on the 1st of October, to three dollars per thousand cubic feet.

The Gas Company in this city, have not, as yet, given notice of a reduction in the price of the article.

CIRCUMCISION.—A child of Mr. Louis Leuisson, of Providence, and of the scriptural age, "eight days old," was circumcised according to the ancient Jewish method, at the house of its father, on Thursday last. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Mr. Wolf of Boston.

The Providence Journal says that quite a number of gentlemen, Gentiles as well as Jews, assembled to witness the rite, and as is usual on these occasions among the Hebrews, after the conclusion of the ceremonies, the guests were invited to a bountifully spread table.

LOCAL.

LAUNCH.

The beautiful clipper ship Noon Day was launched at the time announced, on Saturday forenoon, from the building yard of Messrs. Fernald & Petigrew, Badger's Island. The launch was witnessed by hundreds from the adjacent wharves, and buildings from which a view could be had. When the ship was fairly afloat, and had made her salute to her adopted element, a salvo of artillery, fired under the direction of Capt. G. W. Towle, notified all the city that the launch was successfully accomplished. Though we have seen scores of ships launched, we never view the sight without a fear that something will prevent the desired object. It seems unreasonable that puny man should have such command over the enormous bulk towering above his head. But so it is. A ship launch is a matter of about as much anxiety now, as was a journey to Boston a few years ago.

The owner, Henry Hastings, Esq., of Boston, had invited many guests to launch in the ship, and as she gracefully glided from the ways, the cheers of the men, and the waving of handkerchiefs by the ladies on the poop deck, almost caused the vessel to thrill with joy. When fairly afloat, the whole party partook of a bountiful collation prepared by Mr. Hastings, to which ample justice was done.

The steamer Silver Star now took the vessel in tow, and left her along side of the wharf, and after nine cheers by the owners and their guests for the builders, nine by the builders and mechanics for the owners and their friends, and any number of other cheers for numerous other meritorious persons concerned in the building, the party joyfully separated to their homes. Many gentlemen came from Boston to witness the launch.

The ship has been built in the most thorough manner, under the supervision of Capt. Pearson, agent of the Boston underwriters, entirely of New Hampshire white oak, and in beauty of outline, and in all other points that tend to comeliness and strength, will compare favorably with any ship afloat.

POLICE COURT.—Saturday—Before Justice Odell—Wm. D. Perkins was arraigned for assault on Elvin Newton, of Gosport.—Postponed to Tuesday, at 2 P. M., for deft. to prepare his case. Bonds for appearance, $200.

Jonathan Miller, of Alton, was arraigned for fornication with Mercy K. Drew: plead not guilty; introducing testimony showing that he was a married man, he was discharged. A warrant was in preparation to apprehend him for adultery, but he suddenly left town in company with Benj. Watson.

☞ We understand that the case of J. Smith Robinson, in the Probate Court of Rockingham County, has been postponed for three weeks. The Mayor and Aldermen did not certify that in their belief he was insane—therefore the Probate Court could not act in the case, and cannot now, without such a certificate.

☞ A Rattlesnake 4 1-2 feet long and 6 inches in girth, was exhibited in this city, on Saturday afternoon. The varmint was killed in Hookset.

LATER FROM CALIFORNIA.

NEW YORK, Aug. 25.

The steamship George Law, from Aspinwall, has arrived, bringing $1,300,000 in specie, and 450 passengers.

It is reported that curious developments had turned up in the affairs of Adams & Co, in which Santa Anna was implicated. An expose of the whole affair was soon to be made.

The banking house of Hamlet Davis, of Nevada, has suspended; liabilities large.

The steamship Cortes, which arrived up on July 30th, had nineteen deaths from cholera on board.

A magnificent cane, which cost $500, intended as a present to Gov Gardner, of Mass. is on exhibition there.

Capt. Joseph L. Folsom, fosmerly of Meredith Bridge, one of the first settlers in San Francisco, died July 20. He was a graduate at West Point. His funeral ceremonies were the most imposing ever had in California.

George H. Wendell, late second mate of the steamer Sierra Nevada, had been arrested on a charge of stealing $44,000 gold dust on board the steamer in February last.

The machine shop of Benj. T. Chase, on Stevenson street, San Francisco, and 20 other buildings, were burnt on the 18th July.—Loss $30,000.

The mining news is flattering.

The fortifications, &c. of Petropaulovski, the Russian settlement in the Pacific, have been destroyed by the allied fleet. When the fleet arrived they found the town deserted and the fortifications dismantled, the Russian ships having sailed sometime previously for Amoor river, taking with them the guns and stores. The allies blew up all the fortifications and public buildings.

Amoor, whether the Russians had proceeded, is said to be a strongly fortified place. A despatch from the French Admiral says, a French and English fleet had already proceeded thither from China, to be joined by the Pacific fleet. Severe fiting was expected.

Queen Isabella of Spain, it is said, has given all the linen in her palace—1,500—to the hospitals where the cholera patients are confined, and in addition to this, very considerable means in money.

THE POETRY OF PHYSIC.

AYER'S PILLS glide, sugar-shod, over the palate, but their energy, although wrapped up, is there, and tells with giant force on the very foundations of disease. There are thousands of sufferers who would not wear their distempers if they knew they could be cured for 25 cts.—Try Ayer's Pills, and you will know it.

Purify the blood and disease will be starved out.

Cleanse the system from impurities and you are cured already.

Take this best of all Purgatives, and Scrofula, Indigestion, Weakness, Headache, Backache, Side ache, Jaundice, Rheumatism, derangements of the Liver, Kidneys, and Bowels, all derangements and all diseases which a purgative remedy can reach, fly before them like darkness before the Sun.

Reader if you are suffering from any one of the numerous complaints they cure—suffer no more—the remedy has been provided for you, and it is criminal to neglect it.

That Ayer's Cherry Pectoral is the best medicine for a Cough, is known to the whole world, and that Ayer's Pills are the best of all Pills is known to those who have used them.

Prepared by DR. J. C. AYER, Lowell, Ms., and sold by every respectable Druggist in New England.

Agents in Portsmouth, W. R. PRESTON. J. H. THACHER, and D. KIMBALL, and sold by the Druggists throughout the United States. 2m al d&w

Wax Statuary.

I HAVE examined for a short time only, the Collection of Figures illustrating the Life of our Savior, now on Exhibition in this city, and have no hesitancy in expressing my unqualified pleasure at the artistic, impressive and instructive Exhibition. You follow the Savior from his Birth to his Ascension, through a series of groupings which are full of intimations of Scripture history, calculated to impress adults and especially adapted to please and improve the young. Parents should take their children to see these figures; and Sabbath Schools should not fail of the opportunity of seeing the most interesting scenes in the Savior's life, embodied in impressive and pleasing art. Hours could be spent amid these groups with profit to the beholder, while his meditations would amply repay for the time employed.

NEW YORK, Aug. 24th—Population of New York.—The population of the city is upwards of 624,000, being an increase of nearly 109,000 since 1850.

Rev. John Johnson, who has been for more than half a century pastor of the First Presbyterian Church in Newburgh, died in that village last evening.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, 22d.—The Catholic Church at Sydney, Shelby county, was blown up with powder on the night of the 18th inst., and is a mass of ruins. There was considerable excitement in the town, the crime being laid to the Know Nothings. A reward had been offered by the council, and a meeting of the citizens was to be held to express their sense of the outrage.

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 24.—At a meeting of Virginians held in this city to-day, it was resolved to raise a subscription to defray the expense of sending ten nurses to Norfolk and Portsmouth. They will leave for those places tomorrow.

The semi-weekly interments in six out of ten cemeteries show 136 deaths, including 164 from yellow fever.

YELLOW FEVER.—Baltimore, Aug. 24,—The deaths at Norfolk, Va., for the twenty four hours up to Thursday noon were sixteen. There were over 300 cases under treatment.

The deaths in Portsmouth, Va., during the same period were 22, and the cases under treatment there number 400, and were on the increase. On Wednesday there were 27 deaths in Portsmouth.

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 24.—Advices from Kansas of the 16th, state that Gen. Stringfellow had introduced a bill to authorize the election, on the 1st of October, of delegates to a Convention to frame a State Constitution, prior to Kansas being admitted into the Union.—Gov. Reeder sent in a message on the 15th, announcing his removal.

In the afternoon a sharp discussion sprang up, on the question of naming a county "Pierce," after the President. It was opposed vehemently, and the matter was finally compromised by adopting the name of "Wise," in honor of the Governor elect of Virginia.

THE POTATO ROT.—One of the Selectmen of a down east town, where the potato rot has prevailed somewhat extensively for some years, is something of a wag. When a Californian, surprised at the high price of the article here, informed him the other day that potatoes had become so plenty in the Golden State that they were considered 'a drug,' the Selectman replied that it was about the same in Massachusetts, they having for some years there, been a dye stuff.—N. Y. Evening Post.

DEATH OF A VENERABLE LADY.—We notice the death at Wheeling, Va., on the 19th, of Mrs. Mary Reid, wife of Capt. S. Reid, of the brig Gen. Armstrong, so celebrated in the annals of the last war. This lady's father was Capt. Nathan Jennings, of Fairfield, Conn., a staunch revolutionary fighter. He was at Trenton. Deceased was in her 62d year.

BOGUS ROBBERIES AT THE HOTELS.—The New York Mirror hints that some of the hotel robberies at Saratoga and other watering places are bogus. That rooms have sometimes been burglariously entered and property stolen, the editor thinks there can be no doubt; but at the same time there is just as little dought that in some instances, the reported robbery has been a mere subterfuge for the non-payment of a board bill.

THE MURDERER DEBEAR.—A Wisconsin correspondent thinks it probable that DeBear who was killed by the populace at West Bend, after being convicted of a cold blooded murder, was insane. DeBear was a young man of about 21 years of age, American born, a Wesleyan Methodist in good standing, industrious, kind and trustworthy. He had been three years in the employ of Christian Young and his brother, at West Bend, who had undoubted confidence in his honesty, and there were at times $1000 in the house. Mr Young represents DeBear as particularly kind and tender hearted. His horses and cattle were treated as though they had feeling. He had been sick just before the murder, and it is thought that this must have disordered his mind.

A LARGE CORN FIELD.—On an eminence near the city, may be seen at one sight, sixteen thousand acres of corn in one body, divided only by a few fences. It extends up this side of the Miami towards Elizabethtown. At an average of sixty bushels to the acre, which we believe is below what the average will be, this body of land will yield nine hundred and sixty thousand, or nearly one million bushels. The digging of California scarcely equals it.—Lawrenceburg (Ia.) Reg.

James P. Brown, a colored citizen of Ohio, was recently arrested and fined at Fort Wayne, Indiana, for having entered that State contrary to the Black law forbidding negroes or mulattoes from coming there. He was however released under a strict construction of the law, it being shown that while he was of part African blood, he was neither a full nor a half blooded black. There was a liberality in that decision that would not probably have been experienced two years ago.—Newburyport Herald.

AN EXPENSIVE CIGAR.—In Nashville, on Monday, a case involving one cigar came up before Justice Moore, which proved to be a source of considerable expense to both parties litigating. It cost Moore, the cigar dealer, $14 in fine and costs, and $20 for contempt of court. The purchaser had to pay $6,75.

At New Orleans on the 12th instant, there was not a single vessel in port loading, either for Boston or New York; a circumstance, the Delta says, almost without parallel during the last twenty years!

The Newark Daily Advertiser publishes a full table of the population of that city, showing it to be 50,711. In 1850 it was 38,894.—Increase in five years, 11,817.

The boat can be chartered for sea Parties, upon application to the captain on board, giving reasonable notice.

je23 THOMAS MAKINNEY, Captain.

Yacht Sea Ranger,

FOR THE SHOALS AND A MARKET.

CAPT. JAMES W. GOODWIN respectfully gives notice to the pleasure seeking public that he has purchased for their accommodation for the present season, the safe, commodious and fast-sailing Yacht SEA RANGER, of 45 tons burthen, with which he is now prepared to convey parties to the Shoals, Boars Head and other places in the vicinity; and having furnished her with all the necessary materials, will accommodate ENGINE PARTIES on reasonable terms.

The SEA RANGER will outsail any vessel on the Piscataqua or of any neighboring ports, in light or heavy winds; is fitted with excellent berths; is well supplied with sails, boats, fishing and cooking apparatus, and is in every respect the best vessel for the accommodation of parties who desire a few days enjoyment on the briny ocean that ever sailed from this port.

The SEA RANGER will make occasional trips to the SHOALS for the accommodation of such persons as desire a safe conveyance thither; and when the bosom of old ocean is too much agitated for the steamer GRACE DARLING, alias Silver Star, to venture forth, the Yacht will bear passengers safely o'er the bounding billow.

The commander of the Sea Ranger confidently appeals to those who have in past seasons patronized the SPY under his command, for the continuance of their patronage for his new Yacht, pledging himself to use every exertion to give them and all new patrons entire satisfaction.

For further particulars apply to JACOB WALDEN, No. 9 Water street, or to the Master on board, at Pier Wharf, foot of State street.

DEAD SHOT FOR BED BUGS.

A SURE death to these noxious disturbers of our nightly rest. Apply it to insects and it curls them up and lays them out as readily as Sulphur Fumes kills Bees.

It has no equal in the market. The whole world cannot produce a substitute of similar value to the comfort of a neat tidy housewife. Its application is of little trouble, while the benefit which may be derived from a single night's undisturbed repose is incalculable.

SANCHO PANZA

Called down "blessings upon the head of the man who first invented sleep." How much more worthy such honorable distinction would he consider the inventor of the Dead Shot, who by his Pungent and Deadly Preparation, has rendered utterly impossible the ancient bloody forays of such tolerable and not to be endured tormentors; and who has enabled every one to guarantee to himself his own particular share of "tired Nature's sweet restorer."

"Ned, who is that girl I saw you walking with?"

"Miss Hogg."

"Hog, Hogg—well she's to be pitied for having such a name."

"So I think," replied Ned. "I pitied her so much that I offered her mine, and she is going to take it presently."

Measures have been taken to work a mine of tin and copper in Warren, N. H. This mine was worked many years since, but abandoned on account of the defectiveness of the process of separating the ore. A new copper mine has been opened at Torrington, Conn.

The Richmond Dispatch speaks of a pamphlet just published in that vicinity, which estimates that within the last forty years 61,624 slaves have escaped from the South, or fifteen hundred annually, and that the total loss is $27,740,800.

Opinions of the Press.

It is now generally acknowledged that the Pianos manufactured by Hallet, Davis & Co. are unrivalled in America, if in the world, for brilliancy or purity of tone.—Boston Daily Times.

An immense volume of sound can be produced by these Pianos without shattering the tones, as they send forth the most perfect, bell like notes, and we must confess that we have never listened to their equals for power, brilliancy, sweetness of tone, and purity of action.—Boston Herald.

The Pianos of Hallet, Davis & Co. deserve more than a passing notice. They are truly splendid instruments, very powerful, and of the purest and richest quality of tone.—Boston Traveller.

In regard to purity of tone, power and sweetness, being fully equal to any instrument that has come under our observation.—Boston Courier.

Owing to the beautiful elasticity of the action of your Grand Piano Fortes, I think it would be impossible for any Pianist, who plays properly, to break either a string or a hammer.—Extract from a Letter from Wm. Mason.

The peculiar feature of Hallet, Davis & Co.'s instruments is, they make no noise. Nothing but pure tone is produced by the vibration of the strings; and the construction of the sounding board, and action are such that skilful pianists, after once testing their merits, dislike to use any other instrument in the Concert room.—Philadelphia Sunday Mercury.

I find them to be very superior instruments—as well in tone as in touch.—Extract of a Letter from L. M. Gottschalk.

I can unhesitatingly say that I find them superior in quality and quantity of tone, to those of other makers; also in the elasticity and easy touch; and can cheerfully recommend them to any one who wishes to own or play on the best Piano.—Extract of a letter from Robert Heller.

Morning Chronicle.

TUESDAY, AUGUST 28, 1855.

SHORT DIALOGUE.

Gazette.—The long mooted total abstinence hobby is exploded—the law settles the fact that good liquor is good for sickness.

Chronicle.—The law does not purport to settle any such thing; and if it did, it has nothing to do with the total abstinence hobby. The Washingtonian pledge was, to abstain from all intoxicating drinks, as a beverage.

Gaz.—And not only this, but we are soon to have a city grog shop opened in our midst, where sales to all and every one are to be free and general.

Chron.—Is that a free trade, which is limited and restricted? Is that a grog shop where no liquors are mixed or drank? Or are the readers of the Gazette sufficiently gullible to believe such things? We think no sober man believes one of them.

Gaz.—The Chronicle and Journal certify to the admirable working of the new liquor law, and think it has made a great improvement in public morals.

Chron.—Something has made a great improvement in out door order and quiet. We said, the obedience to the law produced it; and we have seen nothing to the contrary.

Gaz.—Yet we doubt if it has produced the slightest diminution in the use of liquor since it has been in operation.

Chron.—Really we can't say;—but if the tipplers do imbibe in private, they have so far conducted themselves with unwonted propriety in public.

Gaz.—In this city, the Marshal is endeavoring to create the impression that the law is generally observed and acquiesced in, but it is a fact that it is notoriously and openly repudiated and violated every day.

Chron.—Several of the most respectable dealers have honestly observed the law! and for this are entitled to the thanks of all sober men. The notorious violators, if such there be, may possibly plead not guilty!

PANDEMONIUM.—On the last few Sundays large parties of persons, some half dozen boat loads, have sailed down the harbor and landed at Long Island. A gentlemen who happened on the island for the last two Sundays, represents the scene there as a pandemonium of the worst character. A rum mill is carried on at the Long Island House, where two or three bar keepers are kept in requisition, and the quality of the stuffs sold there engenders the worst passions, the immediate consequences of which are bloody noses and broken shins. A short distance from the house there were to be seen gathered in a hollow some two or three hundred people of all complexions, characters and tongues—the most of whom were engaged in the games of shaking props, thimble-rigs, roulette, high-low-Jack, three card monte, throwing dice, &c. and rum being uppermost, every once in a while a general knock down and drag out was to be witnessed.

These disgraceful scenes have been enacted each and every Sabbath during the present summer, and the managers of the Long Island Company not having seen fit to put a stop to them, we trust that our worthy Chief of Police, Mr Taylor, will see to it that this island which has the present summer been a resort for gamblers, drunkards, prostitutes, and the lowest and vilest of the community, will be freed from the pestilence which is now hanging around it.—Boston Times.

If the Long Island Company would just throw out the rum, their bad company would go too. But if not, would it not be a great and dreadful invasion of the poor man's rights, to break up these edifying Sunday sports by law?

Surely it cannot be that the editor of the Times is such a fanatic as to think Sunday laws ever made Christians! Besides, these beautiful prop-shakers and thimble-riggers will resist, and then there'll be a funeral for somebody. Isn't the island their castle? Isn't this a free country? And is not the "rum-mill" on Long Island a great blessing?

INTERESTING FACTS.—Six persons took out licenses in New York to sell liquor under the new law; four have made reports according to law. It appears there have been 1061 buyers, or, in other words, this is the number of temperance men in New York who purchase liquor according to law. There have been no buyers for sacramental purposes; for chemical 1; for medicinal 1054. Where Maine Law divines have obtained liquor for sacramental purposes does not appear.

We find the above item in the Boston Chronicle, not original there, but doubtless correct. We copy it, chiefly for the last sentence, on "liquor for sacramental purposes." On this subject the rum papers appear to be laboring under great errors. As to New York, we cannot speak from actual knowledge; but in New England, we think we are safe in saying that nine churches in ten, use no intoxicating liquors at all, for sacramental purposes; not even imported wine; but the pure, unfermented juice of the grape; and of course all members of such churches are disposed to smile at the great zeal of the rummies in behalf of the communion table.

By the way, the "Divines" do not commonly provide the "Cup" or the "Fruit of the vine" for the table, though some of them do it occasionally. It is ordinarily done by the Deacons; and the Deacons in these days are mostly total abstinence men.

We presume that Delevan, Smith, and a host of others in New York State, have done for themselves, what the churches here have done long ago.

SAD CASE.—Some time since an artist of this city, of some celebrity, was confined in Cambridge street jail on some charge, the result of his intemperate habits. During his stay, he obtained employment at his business, and accumulated some fifty dollars, which was given up to him on the day of his discharge. Before midnight of the same day, the artist was again brought in almost senseless from intoxication, with his clothes torn and dirty, and with every cent of his money gone, his resolution to reform vanishing before temptation. After one or two sentences for drunkenness, the re-appearance of such persons to serve out a new sentence, can, in many cases, be calculated with almost mathematical accuracy. Some have been known to have received as many as thirty sentences to the House of Correction, spending a good portion of a quarter of a century there.—Boston Traveller.

Can't somebody complain of the law that sends this poor fellow to jail? Is it not unconstitutional? Is it not horrible to jail a this man for the consequence of drinking?—Why can't he get up a party to choose a governor and legislature to repeal the law?

LAWRENCE CHARITIES.

The sum total of large gifts, by Abbott Lawrence, in his life and by his will, appears to be $130,000.

To the Lawrence Scientific School	$50,000
Model Lodging Houses in Boston	50,000
To the Boston Public Library	10,000
To the Franklin Library, Lawrence	5,000
To the American Bible Society	5,000
To the American Tract Society	5,000
To the Home Missionary Society	5,000

The subject of "Model Lodging Houses" was one that had long engrossed the attention of Mr. Lawrence. He always felt that in no other way could the condition of the poor be more improved than by providing for the honest and industrious, comfortable and healthy habitations, at such reasonable rents as should be within their power to pay—thus guaranteeing one of the first elements of happiness and virtue: A HOME. During his life he contributed liberally, from time to time, towards the maintenance of the various benevolent institutions of Boston, and he would, doubtless, have remembered them in his last will, but that it was well known to him that they are so well provided for at present that their future support so long as they are properly conducted, may be safely left to rely upon the liberality of a community like that of Boston; so believing, he did not deem it necessary to bestow gifts on existing charitable establishments; but preferred rather to direct the appropriation of that, which under different circumstances, he might have devoted to them, to the establishment of the "Model Lodging Houses"—an object not less important, although it has not attracted so largely the attention of the public. Animated by the hope that the experiment of cheap and comfortable residences for the poor which has lately been commenced may be successful, and desirous of aiding it, Mr. Lawrence has bequeathed the sum of fifty thousand dollars, as above stated, with the injunction that half the nett rents and income of the Model Lodging Houses shall be annually contributed towards the support of various existing charitable institutions; and the other half of the rents to accumulate, in order to form a fund for keeping the proposed buildings in proper repair.—This certainly is a grand bequest, and for an object much needed. With such a foundation to operate upon, there can be no doubt of the success of the Model Lodging House enterprise in Boston.

CLERKS OF COURTS.—The Concord Statesman says, "it is understood here that all the Clerks of the old Courts have been re-appointed, or new appointments offered for their acceptance."

If this has been done with the expectation that it would add to the popularity or strength of the new system, its authors, we suspect, will find that like the re-appointment of some of the old Judges, it is "a blunder." We have been disposed to regard the new system with considerable favor, believing it to be a great improvement upon that which it supplants; but the apparent anxiety of its authors to surround it with all the rotten props of the old one gives us pause.—Dover Enq.

FARMINGTON BANK.—At a meeting of the Stockholders of the Farmington Bank, held at the Bank, on the 11th inst, it was voted to accept the increase of $25,000 to the capital stock granted by the last Legislature; and also voted that the new stock be paid in on or before the first day of October next. The books were opened for subscribers to the new stock, and in a few hours much more than the $25,000 had been applied for.—Dover Enq.

The Chicago Democrat of Friday states that a number of wholesale liquor merchants in that city, upon opening their warehouses on the day previous, found that large quantities of their liquor had been destroyed by persons boring the casks which had been left in the streets in front of their stores the night before. One person lost $800 worth of liquor and another $500. In all about $3000 worth was destroyed. The outrage is charged upon the ultra temperance men. The police have been set upon the watch for the perpetrators of the outrage.

John Raine, proprietor of the Gault House, Louisville, writes to the New Haven Palladium that Richard P. Robinson did die in that tavern a few days ago, having arrived there on the 3d of August from Texas. He called himself R. Parmalee, and during his delirium often mentioned his family; and, his negro nurse says, spoke often of Ellen Jewett, who he supposed was his wife. Such is the power of love. It appears a remarkable coincidence that Mrs. Robinson's first husband died at the same hotel in Louisville, where her last one has just expired.—Boston Telegraph.

What can the last sentence mean?

LOCAL.

POLICE COURT.—SATURDAY.—Before Justice Odell.—Mercy K. Drew complained against her two (illegitimate) sons, 16 or 17 years of age, that they were turbulent and violent, threatened her life, &c. In the examination she admitted that she made the complaint to prevent them from going to sea, unless she could draw their wages. The court dismissed the complaint.

The testimony on this case, and in another where both these parties were interested, shows the family—mother, children and all, to be a most debased, corrupt and wretched set of human beings, which might fairly be compared with a Mormon household, as the latter are described by the outsiders. This cage of unclean birds, it is said, were ejected from some town in the interior, by an indignant neighborhood, and now we have them for criminals, and may have them for paupers.

Saturday forenoon, Samuel Nason, brought up by officer Adams, was complained of by Mrs. Mehitable Hodgdon, for threatening to fire her building. His honor postponed his decision to Monday. W. H. Y. Hackett for complainant, S. H. Goodall for defendant.—The case was brought, by an agreement of parties, before Associate Justice Bennett, who, after hearing the evidence, reserved his decision until Monday morning and then discharged the case on the ground of want of jurisdiction, he being empowered to try cases only in the absence of the Police Magistrate.

☞ The Young Men's Christian Association of this city, have announced a Pic-Nic Excursion under their auspices, to take place on Wednesday next. This Association commends itself to the kindly notice of the churches and families of this community, as being one of the safeguards of our young men. The excursion is gotten up for the double purpose of enjoying a day in the country in social and pleasurable intercourse and recreation, and of replenishing the funds in their treasury. The character of the Association is a guarantee to all who favor them with their company, that the entertainment will be at once rational and elevating. So purchasr your tickets, the money for which will go into the Young Men's treasury, and get you into the cars with the certainty of a good time. M.

SUNDAY AT THE SHOALS.—On Sunday last, the Appledore House, at the Shoals, was full of company, who spent the day in a very agreeable manner. In the forenoon, most of the guests went from Appledore to Star Island, for the purpose of attending divine service; but on their arrival ascertained that the good shepherd of the place had left his flock for a time, and that there would be no preaching. Most of the forenoon was consumed in going to and returning from Star Island, and what remained was passed by each as he or she thought proper. In the afternoon, Rev. Mr. Turnbull, a Baptist clergyman from Connecticut, addressed the boarders in the parlor of the Appledore House;—about one hundred were present. The evening was spent in social singing, with a piano forte accompaniment.

In this connection it may not be amiss to say that Mr. Laighton has been belied by a writer in one of the Boston papers, who said that no Bible was to be found at the Appledore except a small portion of an old worn out volume. This statement was untrue: Mr. L. had several good copies on hand. However, when the article made its appearance, a Bible Society, thinking no doubt that Mr. L. and his family were heathen, sent them a present of fifty Bibles. A copy is placed in each room, and we hope may be the means of doing much good. T.

LIBERALITY.—A workman on the Navy Yard informs us, that on Monday Capt. Pearson addressed the officers and workmen in behalf of the sufferers at the Naval Station at Norfolk and Portsmouth in Virginia, where the fever is raging. They responded to the appeal by agreeing to give one day's pay for the charitable object. This is unanimous, from the Commodore down through officers of every grade, and men of all occupations.

☞ We understand that ladies of the Middle Street Baptist Society in this city, have recently presented to the pastor, Rev. Mr. Lamson, a fine gold watch, as a token of their respect and esteem. The presentation took place on the completion of the seventh year of his ministry in this city.

FIRE.—We learn that the barn of Mr. Simon Brown, at Wallis's Sands in Rye, was burnt about one o'clock on Monday morning, 27th. It is supposed to be the work of an incendiary; probably of the same hand which lately injured a bridge in that vicinity. The barn contained about 20 tons of hay, which we hear was insured. It is to be hoped the incendiary may be detected and punished.

☞ We understand the selectmen of North Hampton have appointed Nathaniel Batchelder, Esq., Agent for the sale of liquors for mechanical and medicinal purposes; and they have assigned him a commission on his sales.

The appointment we deem a good one; but the commission is expressly against the law, being forbidden in Section 7.

CALIFORNIA PAPERS.—From Mr. C. E. Rand, the "Noisy Carriers," and other friends, we have received a large lot of California papers, and some from Oregon.

Wax Statuary.

I HAVE examined for a short time only, the Collection of Figures illustrating the Life of our Savior, now on Exhibition in this city, and have no hesitancy in expressing my unqualified pleasure at the artistic, impressive and instructive Exhibition. You follow the Savior from his Birth to his Ascension, through a series of groupings which are full of intimations of Scripture history, calculated to impress adults and especially adapted to please and improve the young. Parents should take their children to see these figures; and Sabbath Schools should not fail of the opportunity of seeing the most interesting scenes in the Savior's life, embodied in impressive and pleasing art. Hours could be spent amid these groups with profit to the beholder, while his meditations would amply repay for the time employed.

SANTA ANNA'S LAST.

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 25th.—Later from Mexico.—The steamer Osisaba has arrived at Vera Cruz with dates to the 22d.

Santa Anna left Mexico on the 9th of August under the escort of twenty-five hundred men.

On reaching Perote he signed his abdication, and embarked on the 17th at Vera Cruz for Havana.

Fuller advices from Mexico inform us that Santa Anna left the capitol on the pretence of proceeding in person to quell the revolution in Vera Cruz. On the 21st inst. the citizens of Mexico adopted the plan of Ayuntamo. During the excitement following Santa Anna's desertion, the office of the Universal newspapers, and upwards of forty other buildings are demolished. The military interfered, killing forty persons and wounding many more. Delegates met in the city of Mexico on the 10th, in conformity with a request of the Provincial government, and chose Gen. Carrera President for six months. They also ordained the freedom of the press.

The statue of Santa Anna was thrown down and trampled upon by the populace.

NEW YORK, Aug. 26th.—The accounts from Fort Riley, Kansas, should be received with great caution. The War Department has received official intelligence from Fort Riley, and the only deaths from cholera officially reported are those of Major Ogden, (U. S. Quartermaster at Fort Riley,) the wife of Major Armstead, and fifty of the laborers, who had just arrived under the command of Major Ogden.

Major Woods had left Fort Riley with his command on the 27th of July for Fort Kearney, about 200 miles west of Fort Riley, and Major Armstead, had also left with his command. Major Ogden was in command, and Dr. Simmons, U. S. Surgeon, and Rev. Mr. Clarkson, were the only officers at Fort Riley, when the cholera broke out on the 31st of July.

The reports that the army money chest was broken open, that the men had deserted and committed various outrages, are not credited at the Department, as no official information had reached the War Department.

WASHINGTON, August 26.—Cuban Matters. Although the policy of the government respecting the acquisition of Cuba is said to be unchanged, it is believed here that minister Dodge's recently reported movement which called forth the declaration of the Spanish official Gazette, in opposition thereto, was not in a specific form, the American administration well knowing that Spain is now hostile to a cession of the Island.

Brigham Young is merely acting as Governor of Utah, while a successor is appointed, Col. Steptoe having in effect declined.

BALTIMORE, 26th.—At Norfolk, during the twenty four hours ending yesterday, there were seventeen deaths from yellow fever, and during the same time at Portsmouth nineteen.

Mayor Woodis of Norfolk is recovering.—Dr. Leavitt is dead.

The new cases in both cities are very numerous.

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 25th.—Many of our prominent physicians inform us that the fever is fast decreasing in their private practice. It is also on the decrease in the hospitals.

REMARKABLE ESCAPE OF A VESSEL FROM SINKING AT SEA.—Baltimore papers of recent date recorded the remarkable escape of a vessel from sinking at sea. The circumstances are as follows:

The barque Swan, Capt. Barker, of that city, on a late trip from Baltimore to Rio Janeiro, when about two days sail from Pernambuco, suddenly sprung a leak, and in order to save her the captain bore up for that port, where she arrived, making water very fast, and upon her arrival it was found necessary to run her immediately ashore to prevent her from sinking. An examination then showed that the leak came from a hole in her bottom, through which a carpenters' chisel was projecting. It was also ascertained, that the chisel had fallen into the pump while the ship was being built, three years previous, and by the action of the pump had gradually chiseled a hole through the bottom planking, four inches in diameter, the exact dimensions of the pump orifice.

The piece of plank, which is three inches thick, was cut out, and with the chisel and the plate of copper, the jagged edges of which had prevented the chisel from falling through, were secured by Capt. Hinckley, of Nantucket, and taken by him to Boston, where they have been left at the Commercial Mutual Fire Insurance office, No. 83 State street, where they may be seen. Had not the vessel been near port when the hole became perforated through the metal sheathing, the vessel must inevitably have foundered, as the pump would have drawn the water through the orifice from the ocean, instead of from the vessel. This is a very remarkable, but not solitary instance, and many a noble ship has passed into oblivion from causes apparently as trivial.

NEW YORK, 27th.—The steamer Daniel Webster, from Nicaragua, arrived to-day, at noon, with 350 passengers and upwards of $700,000 specie.

The Daniel Webster reports that a terrific hurricane visited the Mosquito coast on the night of the 14th, causing a total loss of the British sloop of war Wolverine, on the island of St. Andrew.

Yacht Sea Ranger,
FOR THE SHOALS AND A MARKET.

CAPT. JAMES W. GOODWIN respectfully gives notice to the pleasure seeking public that he has purchased for their accommodation the present season, the second, commodious and fast-sailing Yacht SEA RANGER, of 45 tons burthen, with which he is now prepared to convey parties to the Shoals, Boar's Head and other places in the vicinity; and having furnished her with all the necessary material, will accommodate FISHING PARTIES on reasonable terms.

The SEA RANGER will outsail any vessel on the Piscataqua, or of any neighboring ports, in light or heavy winds; is fitted with excellent berths; is well supplied with sails, boats, fishing and cooking apparatus, and is in every respect the best vessel for the accommodation of parties who desire a few days enjoyment on the briny ocean that ever hailed from this port.

The SEA RANGER will make occasional trips to the SHOALS for the accommodation of such persons as desire safe conveyance thither; and when the bosom of old ocean is too much agitated for the steamer GRACE DARLING, alias Silver Star, to venture forth, the Yacht will bear passengers safely over the bounding billow.

The commander of the Sea Ranger confidently appeals to those who have in past seasons patronized the SP ranger under his command, for the continuance of their patronage for his new Yacht, pledging himself to use every exertion to give them and all new patrons entire satisfaction.

DEAD SHOT FOR BED BUGS.

A SURE death to these noxious disturbers of our nightly rest. Apply it to insects and it carts them up and lays them out as readily as Sulphur Fumes kills Bees

It has no equal in the market. The whole world cannot produce a substitute of similar value to the comfort of a neat tidy housewife. Its application is of little trouble, while the benefit which may be derived from a single night's undisturbed repose is incalculable.

SANCHO PANZA

Called down "blessings upon the head of the man who first invented sleep." How much more worthy such honorable distinction would he consider the inventor of the Dead Shot, who, by his Pungent and Deadly Preparation, has rendered utterly impossible the ancient bloody forays of such tolerable and not to be endured tormentors; and who has enabled every one to guarantee to himself his own particular share of "tired Nature's sweet restorer."

WOMAN'S RIGHTS AMONG THE INDIANS.—The advocates of "women's rights" will be glad to learn that "though the Senecas, in revising their laws and customs, have in a measure acceded to the civilized barbarism of treating the opinions of woman with contempt, where their interest is equal, they still cannot sign a treaty without the consent of two-thirds of the mothers!"

"Do you think," asked Mrs. Pepper, rather sharply, "that a little temper is a bad thing in a woman?" "Certainly not, ma'am," replied her husband, "it is so good a thing that she ought never to lose it." Mrs. P. gave a vinegar look, and slammed the door.

Miss Schaumberg, of Philadelphia, is pronounced the belle of Newport, this season.—Owing to the new style of dressing which the ladies have adopted, each lady requires about ten square feet while standing, and a proportionate increase while walking. Whalebone has greatly increased in price.

Intelligence has just reached London of the almost total loss of the fine collection of antiquities which the agents of the French Government have been employed for some years past in bringing together from the various ruins of Assyria and Babylonia, for deposit in the Armory of the Louvre.

HAYES'S MEDICINES.

READER, are you suffering from Humors, internal or external? HAYES'S Allied Ointment and Blood Syrup will cure you just as sure as you use it. Take not our assertion for it, but the testimony of a thousand living witnesses. All it wants is a trial—it advertises itself. One bottle has sold a hundred in a single town. Reader, do you ask how you shall know these statements are facts, when there is so much humbuggery in advertisements? We will inform you: call on any of our agents, get a circular, select any name you please, address a line to that individual—they will speak—they are living witnesses. It will cost but a trifle, and must convince the most skeptical. We subjoin one from among the many:

Read the following, it speaks for itself:

LAWRENCE, Mass., Feb. 12, 1854.

We the undersigned, citizens of Lawrence, having used the Vegetable Allied Ointment prepared by E. D. HAYES, of this city, and being personally acquainted with the Doctor, feel pleasure in adding our testimony to all the other claims for his medicine. Unlike other remedies in the market, this preparation performs its office speedily and with certainty. The Ointment we have used with the most happy results, after vainly seeking relief by the free use of Sarsaparilla, Salves, &c.

Our experience fully justifies us in confidently recommending it as an article, and the ONLY one known to us, as performing all it claims.

A. S. BUNKER, A. W. STEARNS,
S. S. THOMPSON, AS. A. SHORN.

It cures Salt Rheum, Scrofula, Erysipelas, White Leprosy, Cancerous Humors, Ring Worm, Scald Head, Burns and Scalds, Chilblains, Piles, (a preparation expressly,) Barber's Itch, Fever Sores, and all old Mercurial Sores, however long standing. It removes all those vexatious Pimples, Eruptions and Moth or Mildew from the face leaving the skin perfectly soft and smooth, adding greatly to the beauty of the complexion. In no case will it leave a mark or scar. It improves the sight wonderfully, where the eyes are troubled with humors, by removing the difficulty and restoring the sight.

Price of the Ointment, $1; Syrup 50 cents.

Opinions of the Press.

It is now generally acknowledged that the Pianos manufactured by Hallet, Davis & Co. are unrivalled in America, if in the world, for brilliancy or purity of tone.—Boston Daily Times.

An immense volume of sound can be produced by these Pianos without shattering the tones, as they send forth the most perfect, bell like notes, and we must confess that we have never listened to their equals for power, brilliancy, sweetness of tone, and purity of action.—Boston Herald.

The Pianos of Hallet, Davis & Co. deserve more than a passing notice. They are truly splendid instruments, very powerful, and of the purest and richest quality of tone.—Boston Traveller.

In regard to purity of tone, power and sweetness, being fully equal to any instrument that has come under our observation.—Boston Courier.

Owing to the beautiful elasticity of the action of your Grand Piano Fortes, I think it would be impossible for any Pianist, who plays properly, to break either a string or a hammer.—Extract from a Letter from Wm. Mason.

The peculiar feature of Hallet, Davis & Co.'s instruments is, they make no noise. Nothing but pure tone is produced by the vibration of the strings; and the construction of the sounding board, and action are such that skilful pianists, after once testing their merits, dislike to use any other instrument in the Concert room.—Philadelphia Sunday Mercury.

I find them to be very superior instruments—as well in tone as in touch.—Extract of a Letter from L. M. Gottschalk.

I can unhesitatingly say that I find them superior in quality and quantity of tone, to those of other makers; also in the elasticity and easy touch; and can cheerfully recommend them to any one who wishes to own or play on the best Pianos.—Extract of a letter from Robert Heller.

SPIRITS AS BOOTJACKS.—Rev. Mr Constantine, formerly a clergyman of the Baptist denomination at Lawrence, has become a convert to spiritualism. His conversion was in this wise:—He was one day expressing a decided opinion against the reality of spiritual manifestations, when he was suddenly seized by an invisible influence, lifted up over his chair, dropped upon the floor, and his boots pulled off, one of which went up to the ceiling of the room and slowly descended again.—These astounding performances led him to investigate the subject, and he now believes in spirits. We think it was high time that the reverend gentleman gave in his adhesion if by want of faith he was to be bereft of "understanding," but we should have liked to have seen that boot!—Boston Chronicle.

HORSE KILLED ON A RAILROAD.—About one o'clock Thursday morning, as the first train from Woburn, over the Lowell Railroad, was passing across East Street, in East Cambridge, there being no gate on the easterly side of the track, a runaway horse attached to a chaise dashed furiously against the second passenger car. A shaft of the chaise broke through the side of the car near the forward end, and severely grazed the whole length of it as it moved along, finally breaking the wooden support of the steps at the lower end of the car, and throwing the affrighted horse in a sort of somerset upon the opposite track. The poor animal's head struck with great violence against the car, leaving thereon several tufts of hair, and by the force of the continuous collision, his legs were broken, and he was altogether terribly maimed. He died in a few minutes.

It has been intimated that the late Mr. Nathan Richardson, of Woburn, committed suicide in consequence of having been notified that he must leave his boarding-house. He was a man of a rather singular turn of mind, and had resided in the family of his employer, Mr. John Flanders, several years, and it is highly probable that the necessity of leaving the house, which seemed his home, so wrought upon him that he was induced to commit the rash act. It should be understood, however, that Mr. Flanders had notified him that he must change his lodgings on the third of July, that he had made arrangements to board with a sister, and that Mr. Flanders was obliged to dismiss him on account of the ill health of his wife.

A list of Patents granted in Washington up to the present time, forms a curious document. On Air Engines 21 patents have been granted, of which not one is in use; 138 have been granted on steam boilers; and 60 on Sewing Machines in the nine years since their invention. On Stoves there have been 1160 patents: on Washing Machines 309; and on Water wheels 227. Of late years great efforts have been made to save labor in Agriculture; and 111 patents have been granted for Grain and Grass Harvesters; 272 for Plows; 153 for Straw Cutters; 140 for Smut Machines; 163 on Winnowing Machines, and 270 on Threshing Machines.

Gov. Medill of Ohio, a democrat of high standing is a candidate for re-election, and he heard of the removal of Gov. Reeder he exclaimed—"Here it is again! The Northern elections once more jeopardized to save the South. The Ohio democracy are of no account at all. We have not got any niggers. So far as Reeder's removal is concerned, the administration had better have joined the Abolitionists at once. It is as good as 50,000 votes for Chase. Boys, we are dead, and I fear there is no resurrection.

Last Sunday night, says the Springfield Republican, John Quinn and two other Irishmen of Holyoke, drank to excess at the house of Fitzgerald, whose liquor has since been seized under the law, and unable to get home laid down upon the ground, on the way, for a night's rest. In the morning Quinn was gone, and no trace of him could be found until Wednesday evening, when his dead body was found in the canal. He had crawled or staggered accidentally into the water, during the night.

OLD AND YOUNG FOLKS CONCERT.—There was a large and enthusiastic audience at the Tremont Temple, Boston, on Tuesday evening, at the concert of American Music of the 18th century. Deacon N. D. Gould who led, was received with hearty applause. The programme included twenty six tunes, from the most celebrated composers of that early day. The tunes which elicited an encore were Lenox, Invitation, and Majesty. A duet in which the veteran leader took part was also repeated by general request. The audience rose and united in singing 'Coronation' at the close of the concert.

Between the parts the venerable Dr. Lyman Beecher came forward, and made a short and very appropriate address. He was 'electrified' by the sound of the glorious old tunes he learned seventy years ago, and spoke with a depth of feeling and power that thrilled the whole assembly, in regard to the character of church music, and the effect the noble old tunes in use three generations since produced in quickening the religious emotions. The whole performances of the evening were of the most pleasing character. From the glow which pervaded the countenances of the elder generation present, it was quite evident that the singers had "stirred a fever in the blood of age."—Transcript.

A CENTENARIAN.—Mrs. Mary Farrar, relict of Rev. Joseph Farrar, died at Petersham, in this county, yesterday morning, aged 100 years, 6 months, and 20 days. She sustained her faculties, was about the house, and in usual health till within three days of her death. Worcester Spy, 25th.

TAKEN.—The police yesterday seized six barrels containing kegs of liquor, which were said to have come from St. John, via steamer Admiral.—Portland Argus, Aug. 25.

Blake's Patent Fire Proof Paint.

THIS extraordinary substance has now been tested nearly nine years, and its Fire and Water Proof qualities are most extraordinary. Instead of the action of the weather destroying the coating as it does ordinary Paints, it only serves to turn it to a perfect Slate or Stone, protecting whatever covered from the action of Fire or Weather.

WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 29, 1855.

DETESTABLE TYRANNY.

Judge Kane, of Philadelphia, is playing the petty tyrant to perfection, in the imprisonment of Passmore Williamson, for contempt. Williamson's contempt consisted in returning an answer to Kane's Habeas Corpus, which Kane says was true in part and false in part; but on the alleged false part the grand jury declined to find a bill. And for the present no limit or mitigation of the imprisonment is visible.

We see, by late papers, that Dr. Wilson, Williamson's physician, has by letter made application to Judge Kane, requesting the removal of his patient to the debtor's prison.—Judge Kane said he had no doubt that the Marshal was as ready now as he had been to allow him any comforts that his condition might require, but it would be upon the condition that Mr. Williamson himself must make the application.

That is, Williamson, who has committed no crime, and obeyed only the simplest dictates of freedom and humanity, must humble himself in some way, before one of the most contemptible edicts of tyranny that ever disgraced a judgment seat. It amounts to the imprisonment of a worthy and excellent man, during the pleasure of another man less worthy every way, and in this transaction contemptible. The dignity of the Judge is lost in the meanness of the tyrant. Old Jeffries himself could not have fished up worse law, out of the well manured bog of his judicial oppressions.

There is no danger that such a Dogberrian edict would disgrace the judge who could make it;—but in the eye of every sound lawyer and every judicious man on earth, the proceeding is contemptible. The contempt attaches and will attach itself to the system upheld; to the court which issues, and to the miserable minions of tyranny who execute the edict.

The country has not waked up very promptly, to consider the enormity of the transaction; but if the imprisonment is continued, the people will be waking up presently. Senator Sumner, we are glad to see, has waked up and written the following letter, (to Williamson,) which may wake up somebody else.

LAKE SUPERIOR, on board the North Star, August 11, 1855.

MY DEAR SIR:—With astonishment and indignation I have learned the story of your imprisonment; and now from this distant retreat, where I am for the moment, I make haste to send you my sympathy.

From beginning to end—from side to side, and in every aspect—this transaction can be regarded only as a clear, indubitable and utterly unmitigated outrage. The new tangled doctrine, that a slave master can voluntarily import his alleged slave—of course with all the revolting incidents of slavery—into the free States, is not more odious than it is preposterous. It is scouted by reason and disowned by universal jurisprudence. You were right in disregarding it.

In stepping forward to rescind persons, claimed as slaves on this pretext, that all such claim is baseless, you did a good work. It was this knowledge which filled them with confidence to regain their God-given liberty. And for this it appears that you have been brought before a man, who, "dressed in a little brief authority," has cast you into prison. This outrage is rendered more outrageous by the way in which it was done.

It was perpetrated through the perversion of the great writ of habeas corpus. This writ of freedom and deliverance, which in England has often been styled the palladium of the Constitution—which is recognized as a distinctive feature of constitutional government—which finds no place in a despotism, and which is the very master-key to unlock prison doors and let the oppressed go free—has been made in your case, by a hocus-pocus without precedent, the instrument of imprisonment and oppression.

Strange and disgraceful as all this is, it must be considered as the natural fruit of slavery. Any person, wherever he may be—whether simple citizen, or magistrate—who undertakes to uphold this wrong, seems forthwith to lose his reason. He may be just, humane and decent in other things, but in the support of slavery he becomes unjust, inhuman and indecent—often in obvious unconsciousness of his degradation. The blindness which makes him insensible to a wrong so transcendent, naturally makes him insensible to the lesser wrong by which it is maintained. What is the writ of habeas corpus, the trial by jury, the privilege of debate, or your liberty or mine, in the estimation of a person who has already screwed himself to the pitch of injustice necessary for the vindication of an institution which separates parent and child—which stamps woman as a concubine—which shuts the gates of knowledge, and which snatches from the weak all the hard earned fruits of incessant toil?

But there must be an end to those things; and as Shakspeare found a jewel in the toad's head, so do I find a cheering omen even in the injustice which has made you its victim. There is an old saying handed down from distant antiquity, that "Whoso the gods wish to destroy they first make mad;" and I have often of late been impressed by its truth. The slave oligarchy is mad, and their overflowing madness runs through every agent and tool. In all that they do—especially in the Fugitive Slave bill and its cruel enforcement, the Nebraska bill and its felonious administration, and now in the imprisonment of an unoffending citizen—I rejoice to believe that there is unmistakable evidence of that madness which precedes a fall. Verily the day is at hand when returning justice will once more bear sway; then, among the triumphs of freedom, will be a reckoning with unjust judges.

Meanwhile accept my congratulations on the portion of responsibility and dignity which is yours. It is a privilege to suffer for truth; and I envy not the meanness of that soul which would hesitate to prefer your place within the stone walls of a prison, to the cushioned bench of the magistrate by whose irrational and tyrannical edict you have been condemned.

Believe me, my dear sir, with much regard,
Very faithfully yours, CHAS. SUMNER.

Passmore Williamson, Esq., Moyamensing Prison, Philadelphia.

POTATOES.

The Newburyport Herald of Monday, says we hear of but very little rot in this vicinity, it being confined to the wet lands, and there thus far destroying only a small portion of the crop. If we get through this week without any sudden and great destruction, we may be quite sure of a crop better by far than has been gathered in any time within the last ten years.

The Boston Price Current of Saturday, says the receipts of Potatoes this week have been quite large, and prices have reached a lower figure than for a long time. The report of the rot in different places has caused considerable quantities to be thrown upon the market, and sales at 40 a 60 cts. per bush. and some instances as low as 50 cts. per brl.

The editor of the Manchester Mirror hears complaints from various parts of New Hampshire of the potatoe rot, and says that there are apprehensions that in some localities it will destroy whole fields of potatoes.

The Boston Journal, of Monday evening, says, the same statements are applicable to Massachusetts. But although we hear of the existence of the rot in limited localities, there is no doubt as to the safety of the general crop.

We may add, that while there is some rot in various directions near Portsmouth, there appears to be an abundance of sound potatoes.

☞ The New Hampshire State Agricultural Fair, will be held at Manchester, on the 12th, 13th and 14th, proximo. We are under obligations to James O. Adams, Esq. Secretary of the State Agricultural Society, for a complimentary Badge, which will admit the bearer to the fair through the three days. Mr. Adams, the Secretary, and Frederick Smythe, Esq. the Treasurer, have been indefatigable in their exertions, and to them almost entirely, is due the success that has thus far attended the exhibitions of the Society.

PRESIDENT PIERCE.—Baltimore, Aug. 27.—President Pierce had a public reception at White Sulphur Springs. He was welcomed by Ex-President Tyler in a brief speech, to which the President replied. The latter complimented the former on the purity of his administration, which he characterized as one of high purposes, bravely and wisely carried out. He denounced the know-nothings and the modern isms of the day, and urged his hearers to avoid all heresies which are in direct antagonism with the basis, doctrine and principles of the Constitution.

Washington, Aug. 27.—Information received here from the White Sulphur Springs, represents President Pierce as recovered from the slight attack of chills and fever, to which he was subjected, and has having attended a ball there.

About $3,500 have been subscribed here for the relief of the yellow fever sufferers in Virginia. The physicians at Norfolk represent the fever to be unabated.

It is said that the Coast Survey Office has received a despatch, stating that the steamer Hetzel exploded her boiler near the Capes of Chesapeake, killing a fireman, and seriously wounding assistant engineer Latimer.

ALTERED BILLS.—Bills of the Weare Bank, Hampton Falls, altered from two to ten dollars, have appeared in Boston. The alteration of the figures is so neatly done, that the bills have passed through several banks without detection.

AN OLD VESSEL.—A writer in Notes and Queries states that the good old barque William & Ann, built in London in the year 1759, which vessel actually conveyed General Wolfe at the time of the seige of Quebec, is now in existence, and is classed in Lloyd's register book as Æ. No. 1 (second class,) and yet is almost a century old.

ANTIOCH COLLEGE.—The Christian Inquirer says this institution will reopen on Wednesday, the 5th of September next.—The applications are said to be numerous for the next term, and the prospects are very flattering.

DARK TROOPS.—In Massachusetts, the Governor has found a legal objection to loaning the State arms to a colored military company in Boston. The Newburyport Herald says:

If this had not been, he might have pointed out to them the evil influences of masters, and the negroes would have known enough to dissolve their organization. This military business costs the State some $75,000 annually. We wish the tax-payers could be at the encampments.

Nevertheless, it is said the dark troops are to buy guns for themselves.

ST LOUIS, Aug. 27.—Gov. Shannon passed here yesterday en route for Kansas.

LOCAL.

POLICE COURT.—Tuesday—Before Justice Odell—The case of Wm. D. Perkins, for assault on Elvin Newton, of Gosport, on Tuesday, Aug. 21, came up to-day, by postponement.

Thomas S. Gammon testified that he saw Perkins strike Newton two blows with his hand or fist.

Other testimony was introduced, showing the nature and extent of the injury, which was stunning, bruising the face and making three slight wounds on the cheek, nose and lip.

The testimony for the defence, related only to some declarations of Newton's that he would prosecute liquor cases or others if he chose; that he was not afraid of any body; and that he could or would whip four men in Portsmouth—probably meaning the men who had assaulted him the night before.

The Court found the prisoner guilty of the assault; and sentenced him to 15 days imprisonment in the County jail, to pay the costs of prosecution, and to give bonds of $100 with good sureties, to keep the peace.

From this sentence he appealed and gave bonds.

Messrs. Editors:—I learn that some twenty-five individuals were publicly drinking cider in front of Congress Hall upon the street, on Friday evening, between nine and ten o'clock. What an exhibition for a temperate city!—Has not the Marshal power to stop such proceedings? and if so, why did'nt he?

ENQUIRER.

If twenty-five gentlemen or boobies, sots or simpletons, choose to exhibit themselves in the ridiculous attitude described by Enquirer, the City Marshal, we suppose, has no more power to prevent them, than he has to hinder the same ornamental persons from puffing segars there. But if they make a disturbance, impede passengers, or create a great nuisance any way, the police may and ought to arrest or disperse them, and doubtless would do it.

The temperance character of our city, we think, will not suffer greatly by the exhibition. The character of the authors might suffer some, if they had any;—but that is not probable.

HOW TO RETAIN PATRONAGE.—A writer in the Ballot says:

The Chronicle, although it has had much to say in favor of temperance, to retain the patronage of the opponents of the law asserts that it has never advocated legislation on the subject.

If telling the truth will retain patronage, why not tell it?

We have taken our own course on the subject of temperance; calm dispassionate discussion, the exhibition of facts and arguments, the correction of errors and the comparison of laws. We are satisfied that our new law is one of the best in New England: we are glad to see it so well obeyed; and hope to see it accomplish much good. If that be treason, make the most of it.

IMPROVEMENTS.—We notice with pleasure, that the city authorities have at last procured a respectable team for the use of the keeper of the city farm and others in authority or visiting there; and also a good substantial wagon for marketing purposes. It was high time the old tumble-down horses and rattle-trap carriages were superceded. The market wagon was built at the manufactory of Wm. C. Hatch, ironed by Gardner Greenleaf, and painted by Dresser & Stone—and is an excellent carriage. The harnesses bear Larrabee's stamp, and of course are good. There is no need of going out of town for anything of this kind.

LAW CASES DISPOSED OF.—At the late term of the Superior Court of Judicature ending Aug. 17th inst., the Court ordered that, as to cases on the Rockingham Docket,—

No. 3, Hazelton v. Grant, dismissed.
" 7, Claggett v. Simes, judgment for Dft. affirmed.

THE FIRST FROST.—One of the early comers into the city, from Rye, informs us that on Tuesday morning, the bridges at Sagamore and White Rock, were covered with a white frost.

☞ The bequests of Mr. Abbott Lawrence, in his last will, amounted to $130,000. The benefactions of his previous life, which were large, were not included in the sum.

Schooner Elizabeth, loaded with lumber, bound from Bangor to Boston, while off Boars' Head, Monday, sprung a leak, and filled even with the rail. The crew jumped into the small boat, and left the captain at the helm, who set a signal of distress, which, on being observed by the captain of the pilot boat America, bore down to her and placed on board Capt. Mayo Gerrish, who with the master of the vessel, brought her safely into port, at considerable risk of their lives. The small boat followed at a respectable distance, expecting every moment, to see the vessel take a lee lurch, and go over.

It was the captain's intention, if his signal had not been noticed, to have run her on to the coast, in which case, the vessel would have become a total loss, as a heavy sea was running during the whole day.—Newburyport Herald.

CAPT. E. G. ADAMS, AND THE PERUVIAN GOVERNMENT.

Correspondence of the N. Y. Daily Times.

LIMA, Peru, Wednesday, July 25th, 1855.—In my last I made mention of the case of Capt. Adams of the American Ship John Cummings. Since then we have had some [illegible] times in connection therewith. It appears that some weeks ago Commodore Mervin came in at Callao with the frigate Independence, having been sent for by our Minister, Mr. Clay, to render him the aid of his presence in the settlement of Capt. Adams's difficulty with the Peruvian Government. It will be remembered that Capt. Adams shot and killed one of his mutinous sailors at the Chincha Islands in February last. The evidence is most conclusive that in this he was perfectly justified by American laws—and also that the strictest code of morals must sustain his course on that occasion. On his arrival here the Peruvian Government undertook to arrest him and hold him accountable for murder; whereupon Mr. Clay took the Captain under his protection, in his own house, and absolutely refused to recognize any and all jurisdiction of this Government in this case.

When the Independence came in here to back up the energetic action of our Minister, the Government became frightened and promised to arrange the matter promptly and amicably. Under these circumstances Commodore Mervin went to sea again; and as soon as his back was turned the Government—with treacherous, knavish faithlessness have claims of jurisdiction, and impudently assumed to take the matter out of our Minister's hands.

Mr. Clay, with a decision and energy which reflect the highest honor upon himself and the country he represents, boldly defied Capt. Adams's prosecutors.—warned them of the consequences of their course, and presented the arguments to show that their conduct was violative of the law of nations, insulting to our flag, and must inevitably involve them in serious responsibility to the United States.—But all this seemed of no effect, until the Independence put in at Callao again a few days ago. Commodore Mervin at once held another consultation with Mr. Clay, the result of which was that the Independence ran very close in shore, (where the John Cummings had been taken by the Peruvian authorities,) sent men on board, raised her anchor, towed her out to her original anchorage, and placed her under the protection of the frigate's guns.

This proceeding rather astounded the Peruvians. Meantime, on Saturday last, a Peruvian Court at Callao proceeded to try Capt. Adams for the murder of the seaman. The Captain was not present, the proceedings were all ex-parte, no evidence was sought except such as was deemed acceptable for the purposes of the prosecution, and the accused was sentenced to death. At the same hour and all day on Sunday, Mr. Clay was engaged in earnest negociations with the government in hopes of bringing about an amicable adjustment of this serious affair. As a primary point he notified the government that at every risk and hazard the John Cummings should be sent to sea under the protection of the Independence, and that Capt. Adams should depart in her as commander, subject to nothing but the responsibility to answer in the United States for any charge that might be preferred against him. From this position the goverument was notified there would be no retreat, and Commodore Mervin proceeded to prepare the Cummings for sea, and his own ship for whatever might be wanted of her.

These very energetic steps frightened the Peruvian authorities. They saw they had gone too far, but could not see how, honorably, to get out of the scrape. They proposed among other things, that the John Cummings should be brought back to her inshore anchorage; that the Independence should move several hundred yards to the seaward, so as not to seem to menace the castle, and that Capt. Adams be not permitted to take command of his vessel. Upon these they finally professed a willingness to let the vessel and the captain go; but our representative promptly refused to listen to any such overtures, until at last it was agreed that the Independence should change her own position about three hundred yards; upon that basis the difficulty was finally arranged, and the John Cumming with Capt. Adams on board sailed for home this morning, accompanied to sea by the Independence, bound for San Francisco.

When it is remembered that Mr. Clay and Commodore Mervin acted in this case without special instructions, it will be seen that they assumed a great responsibility; but there can be no doubt that the whole country will sustain their noble defence of their countrymen and the honor of our flag.

Yacht Sea Ranger,
FOR THE SHOALS AND A MARKET.
CAPT. JAMES W. GOODWIN respectfully gives notice to the pleasure seeking public that he has purchased for their accommodation during the present season, the safe, commodious and fast-sailing Yacht SEA RANGER, of 45 tons burthen, with which he is now prepared to convey parties to the Shoals, Boar's Head and other places in the vicinity; and having furnished her with all the necessary materials, will accommodate FISHING PARTIES on reasonable terms.
The SEA RANGER will outsail any vessel on the Piscataqua or of any neighboring ports, in light or heavy winds; is fitted with excellent berths; is well supplied with sails, boats, fishing and cooking apparatus, and is in every respect the best vessel for the accommodation of parties who desire a few days enjoyment on the briny ocean that ever hailed from this port.
The SEA RANGER will make occasional trips to the SHOALS for the accommodation of such persons as desire safe conveyance thither; and when the bosom of old ocean is too much agitated for the steamer GRACE DARLING, alias Silver Star, to venture forth, the Yacht will bear passengers safely o'er the bounding billow.
The commander of the Sea Ranger confidently appeals to those who have in past seasons patronized the SPY under his command, for the continuance of their patronage for his new Yacht, pledging himself to use every exertion to give them and all new patrons entire satisfaction.

DEAD SHOT FOR RED BUGS.
A SURE death to these noxious disturbers of our nightly rest. Apply to insects and it cuts them up and lays them out as readily as Sulphur Fumes kills Bees
It has no equal in the market. The whole world cannot produce a substitute of similar value to the comfort of a neat tidy housewife. Its application is of little trouble, while the benefit which may be derived from a single night's undisturbed repose is incalculable
Called down "blessings upon the head of the man who first invented sleep." How much more worthy such honorable distinction would he consider the inventor of the Dead Shot, who, by his Pungent and Deadly Preparation, has rendered utterly impossible the existence of bloody forays of such 'tolerable and not to be endured' tormentors; and who has enabled every one to guarantee to himself his own particular share of "tired Nature's sweet restorer."

SELECTIONS FROM PUNCH.—My Lords and the Laboratory.—Perhaps the reason why British governments are generally so reluctant to employ chemistry in aid warfare is a slow prudence, that prejudices them against a science of which one of the principal phenomena is precipitation.

A Drawing-Room Test.—You can generally tell how popular you are with a lady by the length of time she keeps you waiting whilst dressing to meet you.

The Thames and its Tributaries.—To look at the many floating masses that make of the Thames a perfect sink of corruption, one would imagine that in London it never rained anything but literally "cats and dogs," and that the whole found their way down the river.

The Way of the World.—"I beg of you to understand, Sir," said the philosophic beggar, "that though I am asking for a penny, I am not in the least want of it." The penny was instantly given.

Verbal Navigation.—Disraeli calls one of the Bright's long speeches against the war "a Pacific Ocean of words."

An Every-day Moral.—The law may be compared to a street-fight, at the end of which it may be discovered that the coats of the combatants are missing. The fact is, the lawyers, whilst their clients were pommelling one another, have quietly walked off with them.

Ladies for Legislators.—There is one reason why ladies should be eligible for Members of Parliament. They would afford such facilities for pairing off.

PIANOS.
HALLETT, DAVIS & CO.
MANUFACTURERS of GRAND and SQUARE
PIANO-FORTES.

☞ Particular attention is solicited to our PATENT SUSPENSION BRIDGE—also our PATENT GRAND ACTION, as applied to both Grand and Square Pianos.

WAREROOMS,
NEW FREESTONE BLOCK,
No. 409 WASHINGTON STREET,
NEAR BOYLSTON STREET.....BOSTON.

Opinions of the Press.

It is now generally acknowledged that the Pianos manufactured by Hallet, Davis & Co. are unrivalled in America, if in the world, for brilliancy or purity of tone.—Boston Daily Times.

An immense volume of sound can be produced by these Pianos without shattering the tones, as they send forth the most perfect, bell like notes, and we must confess that we have never listened to their equals for power, brilliancy, sweetness of tone, and purity of action.—Boston Herald.

The Pianos of Hallet, Davis & Co. deserve more than a passing notice. They are truly splendid instruments, very powerful, and of the purest and richest quality of tone.—Boston Traveller.

In regard to purity of tone, power and sweetness, being fully equal to any instrument that has come under our observation.—Boston Courier.

Owing to the beautiful elasticity of the action of these Grand Piano Fortes, I think it would be impossible for any Pianist, who plays properly, to break either a string or a hammer.—Extract from a Letter from Wm. Mason.

The peculiar feature of Hallet, Davis & Co.'s instruments is, they make no noise. Nothing but pure tone is produced by the vibration of the strings; and the construction of the sounding board, and action are such that skilful pianists, after once testing their merits, dislike to use any other instrument in the Concert room.—Philadelphia Sunday Mercury.

I find them to be very superior instruments—as well in tone as in touch.—Extract of a Letter from L. M. Gottschalk.

I can unhesitatingly say that I find them superior in quality and quantity of tone, to those of other makers; also in the elasticity and easy touch; and can cheerfully recommend them to any one who wishes to own or play on the best Piano.—Extract of a letter from Robert Heller.

THE HARVEST — IMPORTANT INFORMATION.— We see that a sale of flour was made in Albany, a few days since, at $13 per bbl., and there still seems to be an insane desire on the part of the holders to keep up present prices. It cannot last much longer, however. The New York Herald has received the following statement from a correspondent, just returned from an extended tour in the Northern wheat growing country:—

"I returned yesterday from an extensive tour in the wheat growing districts of New York, Pennsylvania, Northern and Central Ohio, Northern Indiana, Northern Illinois and the whole of Michigan. Employed by some of the most extensive grain and wheat dealers to examine and report facts as I found them I have passed lengthwise through Michigan on two different routes; crossed through the centre of the State at right angles, visited the extreme north, on Lake Huron, stopping at the large market towns from five to ten hours, inquiring of produce dealers, merchants and farmers. Northern Indiana, Northern Illinois Northern and Central Ohio, and Central Pennsylvania, were equally all examined.—The wheat crop is the largest, by 100 per cent ever grown. The rains fell in the two last weeks of July, but some very good weather in the last week of July was improved to secure a part of the crop. Since the 1st of August the weather has been as good as could be desired.

The corn now standing covers more ground than I ever saw, and although generally good, is somewhat later than usual. The oat crop is tremendous. Potatoes cover an immense breadth of ground, and the yield, so far as tested, is large, and free from any indication of rot. Hay and grass good everywhere.—Farmers will soon rush their wheat to market. The price of wheat varied from $1 to $1.06.

The Herald remarks—Now this is a most cheering state of things. Our correspondent has evidently made earnest inquiries, and gives us the result very succinctly. We recommend his letter to the careful consideration of both bulls and bears, producers, sellers and consumers.

THE SERVICES OF MISS NIGHTINGALE.— A circular has been issued in England by Mrs. S. C. Hall, addressed to a few ladies of weight and influence—the purpose of which is to ascertain the public feeling with reference to the services of Miss Nightingale, so far as relates to the practicability of recording the public estimation of them by establishing some institution which shall forever associate her name with that of the education of women to perform duties such as those undertaken and discharged by her, and the excellent women associated with her.

The circular says, "Perhaps by establishing to her honor and that of her associates, an institution in which women may be surely educated, and properly qualified to undertake duties such as those which those admirable women have, so worthily, and at so much self-sacrifice, discharged."

THE AMERICAN MISS NIGHTINGALE.— Miss Andrews, who is now attending upon the sick in Portsmouth and Norfolk, is from Syracuse, N. Y., and a niece of Judge Hall. She is just 21 years of age, very handsome, and a communicant of the Protestant Episcopal Church. The Mayor, and all others who have witnessed the exertions of Miss A., speak of her attentions to the sick in the highest terms.

A FAIR HIT.— At the Women's Rights Convention, in Saratoga, a few days since, while Mrs. Lucy Stone Blackwell was speaking, some facetious opponent of Lucy's theory, asked her "who would take care of the babies, when mothers went to Congress?" "I will reply to that everlasting query," rejoined Lucy, "by asking who takes care of them, when their mothers come to Saratoga?" and then clinched the repartee by adding, "If mothers in Congress found their babes required their presence at home, they would resign, and let the men run." After this hit, Lucy was allowed to "take her time."

THE BRANDY TRADE AT LA ROCHELLE. A letter from a correspondent of the Boston Chronicle, dated La Rochelle, France, the 30th ult., says—"You will remark, what has never occurred here before, the absence of all American vessels from this port for the last six months. The last vessel that stopped here left in December. The only ship that has been in this vicinity since the 1st of January was the Trenton, of Mobile, bringing lumber, and, in consequence of the utter stagnation of the brandy trade with the United States at this moment, she was obliged to leave in ballast. This may be accounted for, as I have already stated in a former communication, by the failure of the grape crops for the last two years, the consequent high price of brandy, and lastly, the temperance movements in the United States. These movements have created quite a panic here among the brandy dealers. Without two successively good crops, it is believed that the trade will not revive."

There is a fair opportunity now, at Norfolk and Portsmouth, Virginia, for the different schools of medicine to give us the comparative effects of their systems on fever patients. It is said that no medicines have as yet been found useful; and in New Orleans doctors and physic give place to good nurses. Dr. Nott of Mobile advises that no medicine be used; and it is generally conceded that the faculty know nothing about it.

STEAMBOAT ACCIDENT.—On Sunday morning between four and five o'clock, as the steamer Elm City, from New Haven for New York, was coming through Hell Gate, she ran down a small row boat containing three men, all of whom are believed to be drowned. The accident is said to have been unavoidable so far as the steamer was concerned, owing to the narrow and dangerous channel through which she was running.

THURSDAY, AUGUST 30, 1855.

NEW HAMPSHIRE STATE FAIR.

The State Agricultural Society holds its Fair at Manchester. The American says:

The prospects for the sixth annual Fair of the State Agricultural Society are now very flattering. This is the third year of the Fair in this city. The first year everybody recollects for the immense concourse which it drew; for the excellent exhibition of agricultural and mechanical products; for the charming weather which continued during the occasion, and for the great man whose voice was heard for the last time to public among his native hills. The last Fair held here was no less successful, and everything indicates that the gathering this year will surpass either of the others.

We learn from the Secretary that the prospect is that the display in stock will be very large. One gentleman proposes to bring 39 horses. J. M. Whiton, Esq., of Plymouth, intends to bring a large and choice variety of stock, which he will offer for sale. We understand also that many farmers intend to bring rare stock and offer it for sale, in order to encourage the improvement of stock.

The preparations at the Fair ground, (the Rye Field,) are going on, and when completed will not differ materially from those of the two previous years. Yale's mammoth tent is to be used for a protection to the articles, in stead of the long building erected the last year. The fencing is nearly done on the same line, but in a more substantial manner than heretofore.

Mr. Yale, the owner of the tents, will furnish coffee, at all hours of the day, and once a day chowder, within a tent on the field.—Provisions of all kinds will be for sale on the field constantly.

The Manchester Cornet Band has been engaged for the occasion, and will play during the time within the enclosure.

Mr. H. G. Clark, of Concord, will give an exhibition of fireworks on one of the evenings of the Fair, within the enclosure. This will be an important addition to the bill.

When we state that the address is to be given by Hon. Charles B. Haddock, it is all that need be said to the people of New Hampshire in respect to it. And when we add that a distinguished son of Virginia, Hon. John M. Botts; and one of the most illustrious of the illustrious sons of New Hampshire, Hon. Lewis Cass, will be present, and each deliver brief addresses on the occasion,—no one will doubt its interest in this respect.

The procession which has usually occupied so much time will be dispensed with, but it is understood that the Amoskeag Veterans will parade on one of the days, and that the City Guards will also appear.

We may conclude by saying that no effort will be wanting on the part of the managers to make the Fair in all respects what it should be. Let, therefore, everybody attend.

JOSEPH L. FOLSOM.—A letter from San Francisco, August 1, published in the Boston Journal, says:

Among the deaths of the fortnight, that of Capt. J. L. Folsom is the most prominent.—He died at San Jose on the 19th of July, very suddenly. His funeral was largely attended. The various military companies and Masonic lodges composed the greater portion of the procession. In his will he divides his property as follows, Messrs. Halleck, Peachy, and W. P. Vanwinkle being executors: To Mrs. Mary Gilman, of New Hampshire, an annuity of $5000, and all the personal property of the deceased in equal shares to his mother and sister, Sally T. Forest, after satisfying said annuity. The deceased has devised all his real estate, two thirds to his sister and one third to his nephew, Gustavus Decatur Folsom.

The Washington Star thus announces the death of Capt. Folsom, who was Assistant Quartermaster General in the Army.

The War Department received official intelligence of the death of this gentleman at the mission of San Jose, California, on the 19th ult. Though the richest man in California—his income from real estate being $200,000 per annum—he continued, up to the time of his death, to discharge the duties of his post in the army. He was a native of New Hampshire, and going out to the West coast early, acquired all his vast property by speculation since the commencement of the Mexican war. His age was about 36.

☞ Frank Leslie's Gazette of Fashions and the Beau Monde, contains a well written memoir of Caroline Bonaparte, Queen of Naples, wife of Murat, with a likeness. Also, more than 40 engravings of Fashions; dresses, male and female; bonnets, &c. Frank Leslie, publisher, New York.

A man in California named Lewis Robertson, lately took the benefit of the insolvent act, rendering in his liabilities as $20,000: assets, a note for $175.

A rowdy in Lowell, named Tom Allen, knocked down and brutally kicked Miss Ann Augusta Conway, on Saturday evening, because she had testified against one of his companions before the police court.

MANCHESTER, N. H.—The American of the 27th says:—The idea has gone out that the new liquor law has not had the same effect in this city as in Concord, Nashua, Portsmouth, and other large places. This is a mistake. We venture the assertion that there is no more liquor sold in this city in proportion to the population, than in either of the places named. The fact is, there is no public sale of liquor in any of these places. If it is sold here at all, it is with such extreme caution that it has heretofore eluded the vigilance of the officers. And this is undoubtedly the case in the other cities which we have mentioned.

In the Manchester Police Court, 27th, Timothy Maloney was complained of for being drunk in his house on Saturday, and for disturbing the peace of his family, under the new law. Plead guilty. Sentenced to house of correction for thirty days and to pay costs, $4.97.

John Brown was complained of for being drunk in Church street. Plead guilty. Sentenced to pay $5 and costs, $3.97.

Richard H. A. Barnes, Samuel R. Perkins, and Nathaniel Perkins were complained of for obstructing Urish H. Foss, a police officer, in arresting Loren D. Hunt, on the 17th inst. Plead not guilty. Court adjourned to Friday.

WEST INDIES.—The Daniel Webster at New York brought Jamaica papers to the 18th inclusive. The Kingston Journal says:

A serious affray with the Black Troops stationed at the barracks in Kingston, took place on the 11th; in the course of which, Serjeant Ester received a blow over the eye from a bludgeon, so serious as to fracture the bone.

We regret to learn that the late heavy rains, which caused such disastrous floods in some of the Northside parishes, have nearly destroyed the pimento crop in Santa Ann, the principal pimento parish in the island. There is this consolation, however, that pimento is peculiar to Jamaica, and though the crop of this year will be small, the present high price will be maintained, or even augmented in consequence.

BARBADOES.—The crop of the present year is estimated at 40,000 hogsheads. Provisions have been very scantily planted, which will necessarily render the inhabitants dependent upon American breadstuff with which their market is sparingly supplied, and prices have considerably advanced.

ANTIGUA.—Occasional shocks of earthquakes had been experienced at Antigua without inflicting any injury. The weather was reported to have been more favorable for manufacturing operations than was experienced for some time previous.

The legislature was in session. The board of Council had taken no action on the Canadian Intercourse Bill, but preferred awaiting intelligence from Canada on certain points, ere it comes to a conclusion.

ST. CHRISTOPHER.—In St. Christopher the weather had been seasonable for grinding, but there had been a great difficulty in commanding a sufficiency of labor.

Two smart shocks of earthquakes had been experienced. The Legislature had passed a bill to promote immigration to the island.

MONEY MAKES THE MUSIC GO.—Mason Brothers, publishers of the New York Musical Review, in their issue of August 25th, offer two prizes ($200 and $100) for the best two musical compositions (songs, with piano forte accompaniment) which shall be sent to their address prior to Oct. 1st. All desirous to compete for fame and the money, will find particulars in the Review, with other good things. A committee is to select the best eight pieces sent in, and these will be published in the Review; the subscribers are requested to forward their opinions concerning them, and the two having the largest number of approvals, will receive the prizes.

RETURNED.—Mary Williams, the poor Irish woman, who, with her infant child born in the country, was sent back to Ireland against her will, under the laws of this State, arrived at this port a few days ago, in the ship Chatsworth, Capt. Gorham, one of the Enoch Train's Liverpool packets. At the time of her extradition there was considerable excitement and discussion in the newspapers, and when Mr. Train was informed of the circumstances he declared that his ships were not intended for prison ships, and immediately sent for her, tendering her a free passage back to this country. He also issued orders that every passenger on board his ships should henceforth be questioned, and if found to be unwilling to return to the old world, should immediately be landed. Several gentlemen offered to pay her passage and other expenses, but Mr. Train declined to receive anything himself although they now have an opportunity to bestow their pecuniary aid upon the women herself. She was in Mr. Train's office on Wednesday, when several men conversed with her. She is a tidy looking woman, aged 28 or 30 years, and her babe is a bright specimen of Young America, about a year old.—Those who have taken an interest in her welfare will see to it that she is well provided for.

Mr. Train's ships now return to Liverpool with almost as many passengers as they bring from that port. The "Daniel Webster," which will sail on Tuesday, will have about 400 passengers, of which about 50 are paupers, sent back at the State's expense. They go willingly, of course, many of them having petitioned to be sent back. Many of the remaining 350 are possessed of considerable means, and several go back merely for a short visit, with the intention of returning to this country. Some of them have procured bills of exchange for sums varying from $500 to $1500, and others leave a portion of their earnings in the saving banks, &c., in this country. There are three or four Californians among them, who have acquired considerable means.—Boston Atlas.

NATIONAL THANKSGIVING.—A friend, whose heart is made glad by the abundant yield of the fruits of the earth this year, would respectfully suggest, (as he says,) to the President, the appointment and recommendation of a special National Thanksgiving therefor, on some day in November.

LOCAL.

☞ The Middle Street Society, with friends and acquaintances, are to make a Pic-Nic Excursion to the beautiful Grove near New Market Junction, to-day. Cars leave the Portsmouth & Concord Railroad Station at half-past ten o'clock. Tickets may be had at J. C. Carr's—20 cents each.

We are indebted to the managers for complimentary tickets—as also to the arranging committee of the Young Men's Christian Association, and the ladies of the Methodist Society, for similar favors. We have not found it convenient to attend all the social gatherings which so abound this season; but we should not object to a weekly "institution" of this sort, to accommodate everybody,—and think the public would be the gainer by a general observance of such rational, healthful and pleasant holidays.

The Young Men's Association was accompanied by a large crowd of friends, (of course the young ladies were all there), said to have numbered five hundred in all; and the party enjoyed themselves much. The New Castle Brass Band, which we had supposed was effete, kindly volunteered their services for the occasion, and added much to its interest. The Band numbered ten pieces, and performed very creditably.

But we took up our pen merely to announce the Excursion by the Middle Street Society to-day—perhaps the last for the season. It offers a good chance for enjoying a day socially—and as this Society is noted for the attention paid to visitors at their church, their guests to-day may rely on being well entertained.

☞ We needed the services of a truckman a few days since, and applied to a couple who were lounging near their idle teams, to do a little job, neither difficult nor dangerous—and for which we offered to pay their own price. Both made excuses, and declined doing the job; and we were obliged to wait till Mr. Murray drove on the truck-stand—when we were promptly and faithfully served. The last-named man was a hired driver only, and received stated pay whether at work or not while the others drove their own teams. He who did the job is not, we should judge, a Yankee; while the others (we doubt not) rejoice in their nativity on this side of the water—though we thought then that the former exhibited more of the thrift and industry which have made the Yankees so noted. Perhaps it was none of our business; but we couldn't help thinking that if some people would be a little more accommodating during the busy season, there would not be so much need of mortgaging old horses, nor so much chance to be cheated by horse-jockies, nor so much growling about "hard times." F.

☞ The Portsmouth Athæneum, that is the building, especially the Reading Room, is now in the hands of the painters, whitewashers, and brushers up generally. These artificers will give it a generally improved aspect, in the course of a few days or weeks.

Meanwhile the Readers of the Athæneum have been invited by the Mercantile Library Association, to use their room; and the invitation has been accepted.

LAW IN CONCORD.—The Patriot gives a good account of the Criminal Trials by the Supreme Court in session there.

Newton Call, of Boscawen, was sentenced to the State Prison for 3 years for stealing a horse.

Joseph Fred'k Emerson, 4 years, for house breaking, &c. His partner in crime, John C. Smith, escaped by turning state's evidence.

Andrew J. Barton, fornication, 3 months in county jail.

Sidney Nelson, grand larceny, 4 years in State Prison.

The trial of the Savings Bank robbers is postponed to enable them to prepare a defence.

David G. Fuller was found guilty on two indictments for selling liquor. Motion was made for arrest of judgment on account of defect in indictment. The motion to be argued.

Wm. L. Hildreth, was acquitted from a charge of liquor selling.

Philip B. and Frank L. Grant plead nol. con. on a similar charge, and were fined $20 each and costs.

Six liquor indictments were found against George W. Blaisdell, five against Charles Lawrence, and one each against Solomon Bumford, (the only case under the "Maine Law,") W. L. Hildreth, Gustavus A. Evans, Cotton K. Simpson, Eben'r Clark and Francis Flint. Simpson was fined $20 and costs.

Solomon Bumford, of Canterbury, pleaded guilty, on Tuesday morning, to a charge of giving away a glass of spirituous liquor to a woman who asked it for the use of a sick child. Bumford refused to take payment for the liquor. A fine of $50 and costs of prosecution was rewarded this deed of charity, as provided for under the 18th section of the law for the suppression of intemperance, passed by the last Legislature.

Some parts of this last item sound improbable. We shall look for other reports of this case.

A BOY DEVOURED BY A WILD BEAST.—The Free American (at North Adams, Mass.) of last week, announces that a boy was devoured in the woods by a beast, supposed to be a bear or panther, in Woodford, adjoining Readsboro', Vt., the week previous. All but his head and feet, (the latter being encased in his boots) were eaten by the animal. Near the remains lay a fishing rod and line, and a small string of fish. His name was Jones.

WANTED—A BOY who writes a good hand.
a14 W. SIMES & CO

ARRIVAL OF THE CANADA:

The Mail Steamship Canada, Capt. Stone, from Liverpool on the 18th inst., arrived at Halifax on Wednesday the 29th. She brings Liverpool dates of Saturday, 18th.

The threatened bombardment of Sweaborgh by the allied squadron, was opened on the 9th, and continued uninterrupted until the 11th, resulting in the destruction of the place. The losses of the allies were trifling.

In the Crimea, on the 16th inst., the Russians, under the command of Gen. Liprandi, attacked the lines of the allies on the Tchernaya. A desperate engagement of three hours duration ensued, when the Russians were repelled with very heavy losses.

Gen. Simpson had telegraphed to the British government that the bombardment of Sebastopol would be recommenced on the 17th.

Queen Victoria was in France, paying her long contemplated visit to the Emperor.

Commercial Intelligence.—In Cotton an advance of 1 8 a 1-4c had been established. The week's business amounted to about 80,000 bales, one third on speculation.

The market for Breadstuffs was dull, and a slight decline had taken place on all descriptions.

The weather and the accounts of the crops are of a satisfactory character.

KINNEY AND WALKER.—Col. Kinney is at San Juan, with about twenty men, half of them sick, and the rest 'lying around loose,' drunk, ragged, and in a most wretched condition.

[This contradicts entirely the story that came by way of Panama, which represented him as doing very well—and gaining reinforcements. That story, it will be remembered, was told by one of Kinney's men.]

Walker is laying off at Realejo. He and Munos don't agree. His prospects are represented as very shabby.

The Chicago Tribune of the 24th, says:—Revelations have been made to us by one who is entitled to know the designs of the Kinney expedition, which leave no room for doubt that a descent upon Cuba is the ultimate object of the party now in Greytown, and their friends and backers in the States. To this end they are now building vessels, purchasing stores, and enlisting recruits all along our Atlantic coast, though the latter are gathered principally in Louisiana and other slave States. Their efforts are seconded by the Cuban Juntas in New York and New Orleans, which furnish the principal part of the funds needed for the enterprize.

NEW YORK, Aug. 28th.—The Washington correspondent of the Journal of Commerce says, that the report of Santa Anna's flight and abdication is doubted in that city. No news of the affair has been received by the Mexican Legation.

A letter to the Herald says that quarters were provided at Havana for Santa Anna, who was expected to arrive in the English steamship Wye from Vera Cruz, where the British sloop-of-war Daring had been waiting to take him on board. The Wye arrived at Havana on the 22d, and left same day for Southampton via St. Thomas, but whether Santa Anna was on board was not known. The same letter says, that a Spanish war steamer which went to sea on the 22d, had orders to proceed to Vera Cruz to aid in the escape of Santa Anna, should it be necessary.

BRAVE WOMAN.—On Saturday, as Mrs. Eben Colwell of Ipswich, was about taking the cars at Stonington for Boston, she felt a strange hand in the pocket of her dress, and instantly seizing the intruding member, found that it belonged to a scamp of the masculine gender, who was evidently intending to appropriate the contents of the pocket to his own use. Mrs. Colwell maintained her hold of the fellow, in spite of his resistance, until relieved by the prompt arrival of an officer, who conducted him to Providence and committed him to jail to await an examination.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—The report that the steamer Hetzel, of the Coast Survey, had burst her boiler near the Capes of Chesapeake proves to have been true. Samuel C. Lattimer, assistant engineer, Wm. Bulger, John T. Knight, and Wm. Gardner, firemen, and Bernard Moran, seaman, were killed, and four others injured, including Quarter Master D. E. Marshall.

Niepcotypes on Glass, and Photographs on Paper.

MR. SALEN wishes to inform the citizens of Portsmouth and vicinity, that he has procured the Art to take Likenesses on GLASS and PAPER. The now so much admired Photograph, taken on paper, excels by far the Daguerreotype on a metallic plate

These pictures are durable; are not reversed; have not the blending of a Daguerreotype, and excel in softness of light and shade the finest engraving. They are finished on beautiful French cartons put up in frames, and therefore are particularly adapted for parlor pictures. They can also be secured and sent in a letter to a distant friend.

Taken at SALEN'S Daguerrean Gallery, at all prices and sizes, on reasonable terms.

Please call and examine specimens. a4

GOODWIN respectfully gives notice to the pleasure seeking public that he has purchased for their accommodation this present season, the safe, commodious and fast-sailing Yacht SEA RANGER, of 45 tons burthen, with which he is now prepared to convey parties to the Shoals, Boar's Head and other places in the vicinity; and having furnished her with all the necessary materials, will accommodate FISHING PARTIES on reasonable terms.

The SEA RANGER will outsail any vessel on the Piscataqua or of any neighboring ports, in light or heavy winds; is fitted with excellent berths; is well supplied with sails, boats, fishing and cooking apparatus, and is in every respect the best vessel for the accommodation of parties who desire a few days enjoyment on the briny ocean that ever hailed from this port.

The SEA RANGER will make occasional trips to the SHOALS for the accommodation of such persons as desire safe conveyance thither; and when the bosom of old ocean is too much agitated for the steamer GRACE DARLING, alias Silver Star, to venture forth, the Yacht will bear passengers safely o'er the bounding billow.

The commander of the Sea Ranger confidently appeals to those who have in past seasons patronized the SPY under his command, for the continuance of their patronage for his new Yacht, pledging himself to use every exertion to give them and all new patrons entire satisfaction.

DEAD SHOT FOR BED BUGS.

A SURE death to these noxious disturbers of our nightly rest. Apply it to insects and it carts them up and lays them out as readily as Sulphur Fumes kills Bees

It has no equal in the market. The whole world cannot produce a substitute of similar value to the comfort of a neat tidy housewife. Its application is of little trouble, while the benefit which may be derived from a single night's undisturbed repose is incalculable

Called down "blessings upon the head of the man who first invented sleep." How much more worthy such honorable distinction would he consider the inventor of the Dead Shot, who, by his Pungent and Deadly Preparation, has rendered utterly impossible the ancient bloody forms of such 'tolerable and not to be endured' tormentors; and who has enabled every one to guarantee to himself his own particular share of "tired Nature's sweet restorer."

WAREROOMS,

Opinions of the Press.

It is now generally acknowledged that the Pianos manufactured by Hallet, Davis & Co. are unrivalled in America, if in the world, for brilliancy or purity of tone.—Boston Daily Times.

An immense volume of sound can be produced by these Pianos without shattering the tones, as they send forth the most perfect, bell like notes, and we must confess that we have never listened to their equals for power, brilliancy, sweetness of tone, and purity of action.—Boston Herald.

The Pianos of Hallet, Davis & Co. deserve more than a passing notice. They are truly splendid instruments, very powerful, and of the purest and richest quality of tone.—Boston Traveller.

In regard to purity of tone, power and sweetness, being fully equal to any instrument that has come under our observation.—Boston Courier.

Owing to the beautiful elasticity of the action of your Grand Piano Fortes, I think it would be impossible for any Pianist, who plays properly, to break either a string or a hammer.—Extract from a Letter from Wm. Mason.

The peculiar feature of Hallet, Davis & Co.'s instruments is, they make no noise. Nothing but pure tone is produced by the vibration of the strings; and the construction of the sounding board, and action are such that skilful pianists, after once testing their merits, dislike to use any other instrument in the Concert room.—Philadelphia Sunday Mercury.

I find them to be very superior instruments—as well in tone as in touch.—Extract of a Letter from L. M. Gottschalk.

I can unhesitatingly say that I find them superior in quality and quantity of tone, to those of other makers; also in the elasticity and easy touch; and can cheerfully recommend them to any one who wishes to own or play on the best Pianos.—Extract of a letter from Robert Heller.

STAY AT HOME.

The following excellent advice is given to discontented people in New England, by a cotemporary, who has had opportunity to compare the relative advantages and attractions of the old and new States. We agree with him.

Of those who annually leave New England for the West, nine-tenths would perhaps, we might say certainly, do better by staying at home than by seeking the rich, rank soil of the new States, where, if food be abundant, fever is equally so. The food crop does sometimes fail there; the supply of fever is always sure and unlimited. To us, who have seen something of the West, it is impossible to exaggerate the effect of the fever and ague on the body and the mind of a new settler. The natives take the disease more kindly, they being born to the manner of shaking. It is especially hostile to the beauty of woman.—The finest specimen of feminine excellence that ever existed, could be shaken into a hag in a twelvemonth. Had Venus, on rising from the ocean, gone to a fever and ague country, she would have become a Sycorax in a few weeks, and Cupid would have been a Caliban.

All men who go from New England to the West do not become seedy and discontented, for there are men who cannot be kept down by even the worst influence; but such men would succeed anywhere. People who cannot succeed here, cannot do much better in new countries. The exceptions are not sufficiently numerous or striking to destroy the rule. The story of Dr. Simpleton, which was published thirty years ago, gives in brief the fate of thousands of middle-aged persons, who leave the old States for the new, and get nothing but a skin-full of bones for their labors and sacrifices.

The only New Englanders that ought to "go West" are young people, who can form themselves on Western life; and even they must submit to pay heavy apprentice fees to their new mode of living. Persons whose habits are formed ought not to go there, unless they are so happy that they do not know what to do with themselves, and would have a little adversity to relieve the monotony of their existence. We speak more with reference to persons who propose to embark in agricultural pursuits, for western cities, if people will only live temperately there, and take proper care of themselves, are far from being undesirable places of abode.

There is agricultural work enough to be done in New England, for a century to come, to employ the entire energies of all our farmers, or of all who may desire to become farmers. There are tens of thousands of unoccupied acres in our six States, and twice as much land that is not half cultivated. A good deal of this land is put down as worthless, but by people whose opinion on the subject is not likely to be worth much. How do they know that so much land was made in vain? Is it their knowledge, that causes them to speak so boldly?

The more extended application of science to agriculture, will probably make every acre of land in New England as productive as land is in China itself, where so vast a population must be fed. We are as yet on the threshold of agricultural science. Much as we have learned about it during the last quarter of a century, we are but children in our knowledge, compared with what must be known by the close of the present century. Then it may be found that what are stigmatized as poor lands, are as rich in goodness as the blooming prairies of the farthest West.

COMMISSIONER TO CHINA.—It has been announced that Mr. Peter Parker, who has long been a resident of the city of Canton in the character of a missionary and physician, has been appointed by the President to the office of Commissioner in China. We learn that he has accepted the appointment, and he will return to China in October next. We doubt if there is any other man so well qualified as Mr. Parker for the satisfactory discharge of the duties of this office. By his long residence in China, his skill and success as a physician among the natives of the country, by which he has obtained their confidence and been admitted to a more free and unreserved intercourse with them, than probably any other American; he has been enabled to obtain a more thorough knowledge of the condition and character of that people than any other person who could be selected for this important appointment.

Indeed Dr. Parker must have been chiefly relied upon by all the commissioners who have been sent to that country for many years, for the necessary information to enabled them to maintain an intercourse with the government of the country, or any of its functionaries. Having become well acquainted with the Mandarin language, both written and spoken, he is able to hold intercourse with the officers of government, and the people of every part of the country. We believe that he was the only interpreter relied on by Mr. Cushing in his negotiations with the Chinese government, and has served in that capacity for every United States Commissioner to that country since. In addition to this important and almost indispensable qualification, he appears to be in every way fitted by his general intelligence, his discretion, and his high and honorable character for this responsible and important office.—Boston Adv.

Morning Chronicle.

FRIDAY, AUGUST 31, 1855.

SHOES.—Eighty thousand pairs of shoes have been sent to Boston from Haverhill, within two days. They are mainly for the Southern market.—Exchange.

If the Southern people are such miscreants as the Northern abolition fusion press is now busy representing them to be, why have anything to do with them? Why trade with them?—N. H. Patriot.

The Southern people—we at the north only owe them good will. Do not our Northern mechanics, and our laborers, our officers and privates, contribute to relieve sufferers at the South? There is no alienation between the peoples. There are demagogues, North and South, fit only to be despised:—but the great body of the people at both ends of the country, cherish no ill feeling whatever.

POTATOES AND PROSPECTS.—The N. H. Patriot says:—

We only hear of the rot where potatoes have been planted on low land near the seaboard, or where sea weed and other stimulating manures have been used. A friend, who has recently journied over a considerable portion of New Hampshire and Maine, assures us that nearly double last year's surface of land has been planted in potatoes in each State, and that even if there should be a total loss of all that have been planted on low and wet land, from the rot, enough will be secured from the high land to bring the price down to from 30 to 50 cents per bushel at the highest.

So much for potatoes,—now for prospects.

A bountiful harvest this fall will do much towards crushing the northern abolition fanatics and fusionists in still another attempt to rekindle the flame of sectional animosity, and provoke ill blood between the North and the South to a greater extent than they ever did before.

That's the richest extract we have made for some time. Fanatics and fusionists! prepare to be crushed by mammoth pumpkins, overgrown cornstalks and gigantic cabbages.

☞ The N. H. Patriot denounces our namesake, the Boston Chronicle, accuses it of being in league with the fanatics, &c., closing as follows:

The Chronicle, under the direction of the instigators of the new anti liquor law movement, now favors a separate organization.—The fusionists are perfectly satisfied with this movement. They know that it will give them the State in November. The present law will not be repealed, the State Agency will be continued, and a larger quantity of rum and bad brandy than ever will hereafter be sold by a few wholesale dealers, who will have a monopoly of the trade. Herein we have a key to this new movement.

What is the world a-coming to?

PORTLAND EXPOSITOR.—This is the organ of the liberal liquor party in Maine. The Expositor of August 29th says:

At the Buckfield meeting of democrats, holden on the 18th inst., letters were read from Judge Wells, and ex-Governor Parris, neither of which is given by the Argus. We should be pleased to learn if these documents were suppressed by the Argus, from the same motive that the name of F. O. J Smith was suppressed by the Argus as of the number of persons who addressed, by special invitation, that meeting?

We stated, that Judge Wells' letter emphatically declared his opposition to the repeal of the Missouri Compromise. Was this the motive of suppressing that letter by the Argus?

The fact is, the course pursued by the Eastern Argus, during the pending campaign, in fostering little, narrow, personal jealousies throughout the State, towards certain men, and on certain subjects, and towards our paper, will be the primary cause of Judge Wells' defeat, if he be defeated at all.

"PENNY-WISE AND POUND-FOOLISH."—There is not yet a single public edifice in the city of Concord, says the N. H. Patriot, constructed after any regular order of architecture. A recent examination of Mr. Foster's plan for the new City Hall and Court House, which hangs in the office of the Eagle Hotel, satisfied us that we were about to have an improvement in this respect. But it seems we were mistaken. With a view to save, say $1000, we learn that the building committee have decided that the ornamental caps over the windows of the new City Hall shall be left off. Thus, the entire structure will be deprived of a most distinctive feature, and the whole style of architecture be destroyed. It will injure the looks of the building $10,000 worth to save $1000. It is to be hoped that the building committees of the new Unitarian and Universalist churches will not attempt to save a few hundred dollars in this way, and thus spoil their beautiful designs.

We commend the above remarks to the attention of all builders of edifices, public and private, all building committees and proprietors.

If we wish for a building, plain or ornamental, let us get a proper plan, and then adhere to it strictly. Otherwise instead of beauty we get a botch.

FROM MEXICO.—The San Antonio Sentinel of the 18th, mentions the arrival of Col. Riddell, from the head quarters of the revolutionists in Northern Mexico. He says Vidaurri is willing to deliver to their owners all fugitive slaves escaping to Mexico, and is anxious to make a treaty therefor.

It will presently appear plain enough, that there is some intrigue between Vidaurri in Mexico, and some parties in Texas and Washington.

RAILROAD DISASTER.

Another terrible railway disaster has just occurred near Burlington, N. J., with great loss of life, occasioned so far as we can see, by no great carelessness or fault in any one.

The accident occurred on the 29th of August, to the train which left New York at 10 o'clock on the Jersey railroad, for Philadelphia.

A despatch from the passenger train on the road, says that there were from thirty-five to forty passengers killed.

The accident occurred two miles above Burlington. The up train waited at Burlington, for the down train, which was behind time ten minutes, and then went on slowly. There was a vehicle at the crossing, the driver of which waited until the train passed up, when he started to cross the track: the engineer hearing the down train approaching, suddenly reversed his engine, and in coming back encountered the vehicle whichwas entirely crushed to pieces. The occupants, however, escaped without any serious injury. The whole train, however, was thrown from the track. One car ran completely through the next car, killing or maiming nearly all the passengers in it.

We have the names of the following among the killed:—Catherine Bigelow, John Ballam, D. F. Haywood, Thomas J. Meredith, E. M. Green, G W Ridgeway, C M Barclay, E C Bacon, Wilson Kest, and Alexander Kelley. Most of the foregoing belonged to Philadelphia. M J Stoughton, Martin Counel of Wilmington, Del., Jacob Howard, of Lebanon, Tenn., Harvey Rush of Georgetown College, Capt. Boyce of the U. S. Navy, together with his wife, and James Lincoln of Md.

The wounded are said to number 70, and among them we understand, are two daughters of Capt. Boyce, who with his wife was killed.

Captain or Major Boyce, was connected with the coast survey. Thomas J. Meredith and John Ballam belong to Baltimore. Edward M. Green, is among the killed. Mrs. Margaret Prescott, Buon De St. Andre, French Consul of Philadelphia, and Catharine Brown, colored, were also killed.—Among the wounded we have the names of Wm. C. McClary, member of Congress from New York, (seriously;) Mr. Fisk of Conn; John F Gillespie and wife, of Natches; Mrs. King, of Charleston, Va.; Mrs. S. Back of Pittsburg; John Kelly of Pittsburg, (badly;) Mr. Kent of Mississipi; Samuel Lamb of Ohio; Hon. Wm. Whelan, of the naval bureau, Washington; Com. J W Smith, Spencer McConkle, of the coast survey; Mrs. Haslan, of Jersey City; Dennis O'Kane, of the District of Columbia; H A Hughes, of Shankland's Express; C W Oldensburgh, of Philadelphia.

Mrs. Barclay, among the dead, was the wife of Clement S. Barclay, of Philadelphia, on her way to Europe. Master Ingersoll, son of Lieut. Harry Ingersoll, of Philadelphia, died at Bristol, where he was conveyed subsequent to the disaster.

When the down train from New York stopped, it was within one hundred feet of the wrecked or Philadelphia train. The vehicle which caused the accident to the up train, was driven by Dr. Hannegan, and contained also his wife and two children, all of whom escaped with but trifling injuries.—Both horses were instantly killed. The doctor was hard of hearing and did not hear or see the returning train. Having seen the train pass up, he thought all was safe.

SWEABORG.—This place is described as a strongly fortified maritime town of Russian Finland, situated in the Gulf of Finland, on seven islands connected by pontoons, mounting 800 cannon, and garrisoned by fifteen thousand men. This fortress has frequently been called the Northern Gibraltar, on account of its extraordinary strength, vast docks, military works and batteries. It is immediately south-east of Helsingfors, an important city and capital of Finland. Helsingfors has a well fortified and commodious harbor, extensive linen and canvas manufactories, and its commerce is considerable. It is also the great recruiting station of Russia, who draws her seamen principally from Finland.

The Boston Advertiser remarks:

We do not regard the destruction of Sweaborg as likely to result in any considerable substantial advantage to the allies.

Accounts from the Crimea state that the Russians attacked the allies at Tchernaya on the morning of the 16th, and after a desperate action, which lasted three hours, they were completely repulsed by the French and Sardinians.

The force of the Russians was from fifty to sixty thousand men, and their loss is estimated at from four to five thousand, and four hundred prisoners taken. The loss of the allies was very small.

FROM KANSAS.—Dates from Kansas to Monday evening are received here. A bill for the selection of territorial officers by the present Legislature had been passed, and the two houses were in joint session, making the election. The bill provides that all the local officers for the next six years shall be elected by the present Legislature.

Why not choose them, as well, for the next 16 years?

FUSION.—There are to be two Fusion Conventions at Worcester, Mass., on the 20th of September,—one of Delegates, and one Mass Convention.

☞ The deaths from yellow fever at the Charity Hospital in New Orleans, now average about fourteen daily.

☞ Maine election will take place September 10th.

ONCE AN ACTOR.—Rev. Dr. Cone, who died in New York, Tuesday, was once an actor. He was next an editor; next an employee in the treasury department, and next a preacher. For several years he had been among the first lights in the New York pulpit.—Bee.

LOCAL.

P. & C. RAILROAD.—At a special meeting held at Raymond, on Thursday, the Stockholders of the Portsmouth & Concord Railroad voted not to redeem their Bonds, but would allow the Road to go into the hands of the Trustees, for the benefit of the Bond-holders—the stockholders to be held harmless from debts for which they might be liable under the personal liability law, (about $14,000.) They also voted to approve the act of the last Legislature establishing the Concord & Portsmouth Railroad.

☞ In the Police Court on Tuesday afternoon, one Andrew Goodridge was arraigned for selling intoxicating liquor. Owing to the absence of one witness, and the forgetfulness of another, the case was continued to Monday next, and Goodrich not finding bail, was locked up for safe keeping.

☞ We understand that Mr. Geo. Raynes, of this city, has, within a few days, concluded a contract with William F. Parrott, Esq. of Boston, for the building of a ship of about 800 tons. The prospect now is that our ship carpenters will be fully employed the coming fall and winter.

ACCIDENT.—We learn that a son of Mr. John R. Woodman, about 12 years of age, fell from the new ship Noon Day, on Wednesday forenoon, breaking one wrist and injuring himself internally.

THE RYE FIRE.—The Newburyport Herald says—

A School Committee man in Rye, N. H., named Brown, thinking there was necessity, removed a female teacher, who upon appeal was sustained and reinstated by the general Committee; but it seems that all parties are not satisfied, and in a criminal and malicious manner they have attempted to revenge themselves upon Mr. Brown. On two occasions while he was at church, they cut the harness of his carriage, so that his life was endangered in riding home. Then they removed several planks from a bridge that he must cross; and not having accomplished their purposes by these efforts, last Monday night they set fire to his barn, by which the building, ten tons of hay, and several head of cattle were consumed. Suspicions rest upon a certain individual, but no arrest has been made. These are getting to be pleasant times for School Committee men. Who wish to be the candidates hereabouts for the next year?

There are some errors in the above statement; no cattle were burnt, but more hay. Our statement published on Tuesday, derived from a market man, we believe to be substantially correct.

We have received a communication on the subject, which we shall not publish till we know the writer.

PEACHES.—Gen. Clark, at his Saloon in Exchange Buildings, has this morning opened a large lot of first rate Peaches—which he sells at retail or by measure. If they are all as good as the dish-full he sent up to us,—why, call and try 'em.

QUICK TRIP.—The schooner Eliza, Capt. Andrew Frisbee, jr., which has just arrived here from Pictou, has been absent from this port only 13 days, making her two passages, and taking in her cargo in that time.

HALLETT, DAVIS & CO'S PIANOS.—The Boston Mail says these are always preferred by the best players—and cites Wm. Mason and Gustave Satter as examples, remarking that the latter, "after testing the pianos of all the makers in Boston, has decided in favor of the Grand Pianos made by Hallett, Davis & Co., and will now use none other in the concert room. Mason and Satter had the good sense to perform our American national airs at their concerts, for which some of the flunkeys are down on them.

We take pleasure in calling attention to the advertisement, in another column, of G. W. Stone's Liquid Cathartic, and Family Physic, believing it to be one of the most valuable compounds ever offered to the public, and one richly deserving the great success that has already attended the efforts of the proprietors in introducing it. Judging from the immense quantities being sold, and the testimonials in its favor by those who have used it, we feel warranted in recommending the afflicted to try it.—Lowell Advertiser.

Veterans, Attention!

TO the Members of the Company of Veterans, and all others who may feel themselves interested: You are hereby notified to meet at the City Eating House, (formerly City Hotel,) on WEDNESDAY Evening next, Sept. 5, at 8 o'clock, for choice of Officers, and other business for the current year. A full and punctual attendance is requested.

MASSACHUSETTS SCHOOLS.—The legislature of that State passed a law which prevents the payment of any public school money to a class or caste school. This law virtually dissolves the negro schools in Boston.

In that city, therefore, a meeting of the colored parents was held on Monday evening, to express their feelings of thanks for the act of the Legislature which opens all the public schools to their children. Mr. Nell offered the following resolves, which were unanimously adopted:—

Resolved, That we tender our heartfelt thanks to the Massachusetts Legislature, and to all who may have contributed to the result, for the act whereby colored and all caste schools are abolished in this Commonwealth.

Resolved, That in this act we recognize through the providence of God, the sure and rapid progress of the anti-slavery enterprise, which, based upon the recognition of the fatherhood of God and the brotherhood of the race, deserves the advocacy of every lover of humanity.

Resolved, That to attest our appreciation of this anti-colored school act, we, the colored parents of Boston, do hereby pledge ourselves to have our children punctually at school, and neat in their dress, and in all other ways will aid their instructors in the task which has been assigned to them.

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be sent to the Superintendent of Public Schools, and that the public press be respectfully requested to give them an insertion.

BALTIMORE, Aug. 29.—Sixty-two new cases have been reported at Portsmouth since Saturday. The deaths for the week ending Tuesday, were 118. For the last eight hours there had been seven deaths. A party of physicians and nurses have arrived from Charleston. The deaths at Norfolk yesterday were fifteen. The newspapers in the latter city were all suspended.

The whole number of deaths from fever at Portsmouth, from the beginning up to Wednesday noon was 300, including 107 at the Naval Hospital.

FLOUR—FINE AND SUPERFINE.—We have (says a St. John, N. B., paper) seen two samples of wheat flour, one of which is out of a lot branded by the inspector superfine, and one from a lot branded fine. The flour branded "fine" is much the best looking article, being whiter and in all respects superior to the other. Unless better discrimination is effected by the inspector the public will soon come to disregard their brands altogether.—We are informed that purchasers of flour now buy irrespective of the brand, and frequently give the preference to that which is branded "fine!" As all this flour comes from the United States, our flour dealers should look to the complaint.

THE SNAKE CASE.—The case of Lyford C. Hill, of Manchester, N. H., who was indicted for compelling his daughter, of seven years, to handle a large black snake, by which she was bitten, came up for trial in the Municipal Court, Boston, on Wednesday. Dr. J. C. Ayer, Watson Goward, Messrs. Russell and Snow testified for the government; J. H. Bradlee, counsel for the defence, moved for a postponement for the purpose of having the girl testify. The case goes over to the next term. The testimony for the government was confirmatory of the facts which have been related in our columns. The unnatural father is in a fair way to get his deserts.—Bee.

CHICAGO, Aug. 29th.—The schooner Knickerbocker, Capt. Richmond, capsized off Sheyboygan on Sunday. Capt. Richmond and two of the crew were drowned. The Knickerbocker was owned in Milwaukie and bound thither. The cargo is a total loss and uninsured.

WASHINGTON, 28th.—The Imports for the last quarter of the fiscal year just ended, amount to about $60,000,000. The imports during this quarter at the Lake ports, from Canada and the Provinces, amount to over $6,500,000. The whole value of the trade for the year 1854 was $7,398,000. The great increase of trade over that of last year, is due to the Reciprocity Treaty.

G. W. STONE'S

LIQUID CATHARTIC,

AND

Family Physic,

The most important discovery ever made in Medical Science, being a compound of Barks and Roots, which forms the most powerful, safe and agreeable Physic ever offered to the public.

THE necessity of such a Medicine has long been felt both by the heads of families and Physicians. Its advantages over cathartics given in the form of Pills or Powders, must be obvious to every intelligent person. It operates more immediately and effectually upon the system, and at the same time is infinitely less difficult to administer, being quite agreeable to the taste. It not only produces all the effects where physic is required, but completely removes habitual Costiveness, leaving the bowels perfectly free. It expels all humors from the blood, is a certain cure for the Piles, regulates the action of the Liver, frees the Stomach from Bile, invigorates the whole Nervous System, and removes the cause of all local pains, such as

RHEUMATISM, NEURALGIA, TIC DOLOREUX, GOUT, PAIN IN THE HEAD, SIDE, STOMACH, &c.

It may also be relied upon in all diseases of the Bowels; Dysentery, Diarrhœa and Cholera Morbus yield at once to its magic influence. Again we repeat, TRY IT!—it needs no other recommendation. No family will be without it after they have properly tested its merits. Reader, if you have tried other remedies, without success, despair not—relief is now at hand. Are you suffering with Scrofula, six bottles of my Liquid Cathartic will cure you. Would you be relieved from habitual Costiveness?—three bottles will effect all that you desire. If you are afflicted with Rheumatic, Neuralgic, or other local pains, two bottles will free you from them. All humors will be eradicated from the blood by the use of from one to six bottles. In short, if you require a physic for any purpose, this is the most reliable, safe and agreeable to the taste that has ever been placed within the reach of the public.

PRICE $1.00.

Niepcotypes on Glass, and Photographs on Paper.

MR. SALEN wishes to inform the citizens of Portsmouth and vicinity, that he has procured the Art to take Likenesses on GLASS and PAPER. The now so much admired Photograph, taken on paper, excels by far the Daguerreotype on a metallic plate.

These pictures are durable; are not reversed; have not the blending of a Daguerreotype, and excel in softness of light and shade the finest engraving. They are set in beautiful French cartons put up in frames, and therefore are particularly adapted for parlor pictures. They can also be secured and sent in a letter to a distant friend.

Taken at SALEN'S Daguerrean Gallery, at all prices and sizes, on reasonable terms.

Please call and examine specimens. a4

Yacht Sea Ranger,

FOR THE SHOALS AND A MARKET.

CAPT. JAMES W. GOODWIN respectfully gives notice to the pleasure seeking public that he has purchased for their accommodation for the present season, the safe, commodious and fast-sailing Yacht SEA RANGER, of 45 tons burthen, with which he is now prepared to convey parties to the Shoals, Boar's Head and other places in the vicinity; and having furnished her with all the necessary materials, will accommodate FISHING PARTIES on reasonable terms.

The SEA RANGER will outsail any vessel on the Piscataqua or of any neighboring ports, in light or heavy winds; is fitted with excellent berths; is well supplied with sails, boats, fishing and cooking apparatus, and is in every respect the best vessel for the accommodation of parties who desire a few days enjoyment on the briny ocean that ever hailed from this port.

The SEA RANGER will make occasional trips to the SHOALS for the accommodation of such persons as desire a safe conveyance thither; and when the bosom of old ocean is too much agitated for the steamer GRACE DARLING, alias Silver Star, to venture forth, the Yacht will bear passengers safely over the bounding billow.

The commander of the Sea Ranger confidently appeals to those who have in past seasons patronized the SPY under his command, for the continuance of their patronage for his new Yacht, pledging himself to use every exertion to give them and all new patrons entire satisfaction.

DEAD SHOT FOR BED BUGS.

A SURE death to these noxious disturbers of our nightly rest. Apply it to insects and it cuts them up and lays them out as readily as Sulphur Fumes kills Bees

It has no equal in the market. The whole world cannot produce a substitute of similar value to the comfort of a neat tidy housewife. Its application is of little trouble, while the benefit which may be derived from a single night's undisturbed repose is incalculable.

SANCHO PANZA

Called down "blessings upon the head of the man who first invented sleep." How much more worthy such honorable distinction would he consider the inventor of the Dead Shot, who, by his Pungent and Deadly Preparation, has rendered utterly impossible the ancient bloody forays of such 'tolerable and not to be endured' tormentors; and who has enabled every one to guarantee to himself his own a particular share of "tired Nature's sweet restorer."

A FORTUNE.—Solomon Rothschild, whose recent decease at Paris has been announced, left to his two sons the enormous sum of one hundred and twenty millions of francs, or more than twenty millions of dollars. As an old Quaker gentleman of this city said when leaving an immense sum to an only daughter, "we hope there is enough to make them comfortable."—Providence Journal.

PEPPERMINT FIELDS.—Much attention is paid to the raising of peppermint in some parts of Michigan and New York. This is a sure and productive crop, and not an expensive one to raise, the original setting out being the most laborious and troublesome part of it. The plants are set out by hand, and will be fit for the scythe the next year. After two years the land is back-furrowed and the plants are renewed by being plowed under. The peppermint is distilled into oil by means of a still, of which every farmer has one, the cost being about $150. A fair yield is eighteen pounds to the acre, which is worth from four to four and a half dollars per pound.

The following notice, says the Salem Gazette, may be seen in a Blacksmith's shop, in the town of Essex:

"No Horses Shod on Sunday except sickness and deth."

HAYES'S MEDICINES.

READER, are you suffering from Humors, in Scrofula or external? HAYES'S Allied Ointment and Humor Syrup will cure you just as sure as you can read it. Take not our assertion for it, but the testimony of a thousand living witnesses. All it wants is a trial—it advertises itself. One bottle has sold a hundred in a single town. Reader, do you ask how you shall know these statements are facts, when there is so much humbuggery in advertisements? We will inform you: call on any of our agents, get a circular, select any name you please, address a line to that individual—they will speak—they are living witnesses. It will cost but a trifle, and must convince the most skeptical. We subjoin one from among the many:

Read the following, it speaks for itself:

Lawrence, June 12, 1854.

We the undersigned, citizens of Lawrence, having used the Vegetable Allied Ointment prepared by E. D. HAYES, of this city, and being personally acquainted with the Doctor, feel pleasure in adding our testimony to all the encomiums for his medicine. Unlike other remedies in the market, this preparation performs its office speedily and with certainty. The Ointment we have used with the most happy results, after vainly seeking relief by the free use of Sarsaparilla, Salves, &c.

Our experience fully justifies us in confidently recommending it as THE ARTICLE, and the ONLY one known to us, as performing all it claims.

A. S. BURNHAM, A. W. STEARNS,
S. I. THOMPSON, ASA T. SANBORN

It cures Salt Rheum, Scrofula, Erysipelas, White Leprosy, Cancerous Humors, Ring Worm, Scald Head, Barns and Scalds, Chilblains, Piles, (a preparation expressly,) Barber's Itch, Fever Sores, and all old Mercurial Sores, however long standing. It removes all those vexatious Pimples, Eruptions and Moth or Mildew from the face leaving the skin perfectly soft and smooth, adding greatly to the beauty of the complexion; in no case will it leave a mark or scar. It improves the sight wonderfully, where the eyes are troubled with humors, by removing the difficulty and restoring the sight.

Price of the Ointment, $1; Syrup 50 cents.

PIANOS.
HALLETT, DAVIS & CO.
MANUFACTURERS of
GRAND AND SQUARE
PIANO-FORTES.

☞ Particular attention is solicited to our PATENT SUSTAINING BARRES—also our PATENT GRAND ACTION, as applied to both Grand and Square Pianos.

WAREROOMS,
NEW FREESTONE BLOCK,
No. 409 WASHINGTON STREET,
NEAR BOYLSTON STREET.....BOSTON.

Opinions of the Press.

It is now generally acknowledged that the Pianos manufactured by Hallet, Davis & Co. are unrivalled in America, if in the world, for brilliancy or purity of tone.—Boston Daily Times.

An immense volume of sound can be produced by these Pianos without shattering the tones, as they send forth the most perfect, bell like notes, and we must confess that we have never listened to their equals for power, brilliancy, sweetness of tone, and purity of action.—Boston Herald.

The Pianos of Hallet, Davis & Co. deserve more than a passing notice. They are truly splendid instruments, very powerful, and of the purest and richest quality of tone.—Boston Traveller.

In regard to purity of tone, power and sweetness, being fully equal to any instrument that has come under our observation.—Boston Courier.

Owing to the beautiful elasticity of the action of your Grand Piano Fortes, I think it would be impossible for any Pianist, who plays properly, to break either a string or a hammer.—Extract from a Letter from Wm. Mason.

The peculiar feature of Hallet, Davis & Co.'s Instruments is, they make no noise. Nothing but pure tone is produced by the vibration of the strings; and the construction of the sounding board, and action are such that skilful pianists, after once testing their merits, dislike to use any other instrument in the Concert room.—Philadelphia Sunday Mercury.

I find them to be very superior instruments—as well in tone as touch.—Extract of a Letter from L. M. Gottschalk.

I can unhesitatingly say that I find them superior in quality and quantity of tone, to those of other makers; also in the elasticity and easy touch; and can cheerfully recommend them to any one who wishes to own or play on the best Pianos.—Extract of a letter from Robert Heller.

CONNECTION OF TEXAS WITH THE MEXICAN REVOLUTION.—A Mexican correspondent gives some particulars of the Texan connection with the revolution on the Mexican frontier. The rich planters in the neighborhood of San Antonio, he says, have sent an agent to Vidaurri, with the proposition that if he will make a treaty guaranteeing the surrender of all fugitive slaves on the Mexican side, they will reciprocate the favor by returning all persons who escape to Texas, and also place one thousand men at the disposal of Vidaurri, equipped and officered in the same manner as the regular troops of the United States, and bear all expenses until the troops so furnished shall arrive at any place which Vidaurri may designate. The Texans had raised $200,000 for this purpose, and their agent had had an interview with Vidaurri, at Saltillo.

The same writer states that Caravajal had a disagreement with Vidaurri, and had retired in disgust. The latter was about to march on the interior as far as San Louis Potosi.

INTERESTING TO HOTEL KEEPERS AND THEIR BOARDERS.—In the case of T. Victor Murisol, French physician, indicted for obtaining board by false pretences at Adams House, the county Attorney said there were two questions involved—first, whether the term "board" could be concluded under the provisions of the law against obtaining by false pretences, "goods, wares, money, or other property;" and if so, whether the indictment would not be void under the act of 1854 requiring that the pretences alleged shall be in writing. He said he was in doubt about the matter, but as similar cases might involve large amounts, he advised the grand jury to find a bill, so that the Court should determine the law. After some remarks by B. Roelker, defendant's counsel, the Court without hesitation held that the indictment could not be sustained, a nol. pros. was entered, and the defendant discharged.—Boston Post.

THE GREAT BABY SHOW came off at Doylestown, Pa., on the 23d. The attendance was exceedingly large; 25,000 persons supposed to have been present. Twelve babes were entered to contend for the prizes. The first premium ($500) was awarded to Helen Eckbert, of Easton, Pa., four years and six months old, and weighing 78 lbs.

On the 24th, twelve ladies entered on the race course as competitors for prizes, among whom there were three professional riders from Philadelphia and Boston, who figured conspicuously. The first premium was awarded to Miss Mary Ann Roberts, of Doylestown, Pa.; 2d to Mrs. Aaron, of Norristown, Pa.; and the third to Miss Jenkins, of Montgomery square. There were about 30,000 people in attendance to witness the ladies' horsemanship.

THE WHEELER SLAVE CASE.—The case of William Still, John Ballard, and others, the colored men charged with having committed assault and battery upon the Hon. John H. Wheeler, at the time of the famous rescue of his servants at Walnut street wharf, a few weeks since, came up today in the Court of Quarter Sessions, before Judge Kelley. The witnesses for the Commonwealth being called, none of them responded. After conversation between counsel and the Court, Judge Kelley remarked—that he would not force the Dist. Attorney to call up a case out of its proper order, and that the District Attorney had his election as to the day for trial. The case was postponed until Monday.—Philadelphia Bulletin, 27th.

DROWNED.—On Sunday night, the visitors of Eastham Camp-meeting from Lynn embarked on board the schooner "Moll Pitcher" to return home, but owing to the severe northeast blow which prevailed, they put back for safety. Monday morning, while beating up Eastham harbor, the pilot, Mr Joseph Ryder of Wellfleet, was struck by the main boom and knocked overboard and drowned. He was about 30 years of age.—Boston Telegraph.

QUITE A FAMILY MAN.—An Irishman named McTeer, who keeps a small grocery in Dover place, with his wife, or one of his wives, and one child, was the other afternoon confronted by a woman from Quebec, who claimed him as her husband and father of eight children, which she presented to him with herself. The grocer denied the "soft impeachment" and all the concomitants, when officer Leighton was called in as a sort of umpire in the case. McTeer indignantly declared that he was a "know nothing" as to the woman or her children; stating that he left Ireland when 7 years old, and married the wife with one child in Quebec about five years ago.

On the other hand, the would-be Mrs. McTeer, with tears in her eyes, stoutly asseverated that she married him in Ireland, and lived with him there, and also in Quebec, until about a year ago, when he came to Boston, leaving her with the eight children to shirk for themselves. The officer could not pretend to decide who was right, and left the grocer in full possession of both wives and all the little ones.—Boston Transcript.

The Springfield Republican states that on Saturday last, as Miss Martha Burrows of Bernardston, a young lady fourteen years of age, was driving a horse and carriage over a crossing of the Connecticut River Railroad, her attention was attracted by the music of an organ grinder, and she did not observe an approaching train of cars. The locomotive struck her carriage at a high rate of speed, shivering it to atoms and killing the horse, while Miss Burrows was safely taken off by the engine and seated on the railing in front of the smoke stack, where she was found unharmed, when the train was stopped.

THIS extraordinary substance has now been tested nearly nine years, and its Fire and Water Proof qualities are most extraordinary. Instead of the action of the weather destroying the coating as it does ordinary Paints, it only serves to turn it to a perfect Slate or Stone, protecting whatever covered from the action of Fire or Weather.

SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 1, 1855.

THE RAILROAD DISASTER.

New York papers bring additional particulars of the fatal disaster near Burlington, N. J. The names are given of 20 persons killed; and 3 bodies lie there, one woman and two men, names unknown. There were 180 passengers in the train, in four passengers cars. Three of these cars were rolled off the track, and broken up; and nearly all the passengers in them were injured more or less. One passenger car, with the baggage car, engine and tender, staid on the track unhurt.

As to the causes of the disaster, the New York Times says:

The conductor of this train was Isaac Van Ostrand. The engineer was Mr. Adams.—We have heard Mr. Van Ostrand's conduct censured in the highest terms. It is said that he was entirely incapable of directing, and the engineer was not much better. Neither took any active part, and we are informed that the passengers even threatened violence to the conductor. It is not fair, however, to charge the accident upon either the conductor or engineer. It seems to have been occasioned more by the inadvertence of Dr. Hannegan in driving upon the track without due precaution, than from any neglect of duty upon the part of the engineer or conductor. It is said that Dr. Hannegan is hard of hearing, and did not hear the train. The train was backing as we understand it, at the rate of twelve miles an hour, when it struck the horses. We have heard it stated that Dr. Hannegan was warned by a girl standing in the door of the house on the cross roads, that the train was approaching. It was, however, very unusual for a train to back at this point.

Mr. James E. Ray, a merchant of New York, who was badly injured in the train, writes to the Tribune:

When the engineer discovered the morning train from New York approaching, there being but a single track, he reversed the engine and commenced backing the train to the Burlington switch in order to allow the train to pass. They had gone backward a mile, and were the same distance from the switch, going at the rate of twenty to twenty five miles an hour, when the accident occurred in this wise: Dr. Harrington was driving a span of horses before a carriage in which were four or five ladies, and attempting to cross the track ahead of the train, the horses got upon the track when they were struck by the first passenger car, and instantly killed, one being thrown on one side of the track and his mate on the other. Neither of the persons in the carriage were materially injured. The train being on the move backward, the engineer did not see the horses and carriage, and was not aware of the collision until he saw one of the carriage wheels lying on the track as the engine passed over it. The conductor saw the horses and carriage and apprehended that the train would strike them, but the bell rope was out of order, so that he could not warn the engineer. He started through the cars for the purpose of doing this in person, but was too late—the car struck the horses before he could get there.

It is all plain enough now. The railroad arrangements were wretched, the officers of the train incompetent, and the bell rope out of order. The train was backing in an unusual place, at considerable speed,—and with the deficiency of the bell rope, no warning could be given! If there are any Courts and Juries down that way, the Company will have to pay some damages; but that will not bring back the dead.

IMPORTANT—For naturalized citizens to know that at the late session of the Legislature an act was passed, that those naturalized citizens who would secure the right to vote next March in this State, must present their papers to the selectmen three months previous to the election, for record; otherwise the law refuses to allow them to vote.

In this connection, would it be improper to suggest that the selectmen give notice of time and place, when and where they will meet to receive and examine the papers of all who wish to avail themselves of the right to vote under this new law.—Manchester Mirror.

There are some other changes which might be made to good advantage, in our laws and usages about elections.

In Massachusetts, the man who has not paid his tax within a certain time, is not suffered to vote; but in this city the collectors from year to year find a large number of tax bills for a poll tax only, in the names of men whom they cannot find. A portion of these names, on the check lists, are marked as having voted at elections; but when wanted by the tax gatherer, they are not to be found.—Some of these missing men probably change their names. We do not find fault with the valuable citizens who don't pay; but with the system which suffers them to vote without it. There is no need of it; and the next Legislature would do well to set it right.

Some have suggested that the names of delinquents be published; the Selectmen or Aldermen might do this, by a vote; but we would much prefer a slight change in the law, as above indicated.

THE FEVER.—Advices from Norfolk up to Wednesday evening 29th, represent the fever to be unabated. The deaths for the 48 hours previous were 27.

At Portsmouth, the deaths on Tuesday were 13, on Wednesday 7.

The vintage of the Island of Madeira has again failed, and much destitution prevails there.

PASSMORE WILLIAMSON.—A Philadelphia dispatch of the 30th, states that the appearance in Court of Jane Johnson, the rescued slave of Mr. Wheeler, to give her testimony in the case of Passmore Williamson, caused great excitement. After her statement was concluded, the U. S. officers attempted to arrest her, but the Court informed its officers, that being a witness, she was to be defended with their lives. She was finally taken out of Court between a long file of policemen, and placed in a carriage and driven off. Relays of carriages were prepared and in waiting, and she was soon beyond the reach of the officers. Great excitement prevailed around the Court House for some time afterward.

RAILWAY ACCIDENT. — The Manchester American gives the particulars of an accident at the Sanbornton station on the Montreal road, by which the Rev. C. Curtis and Mr. J. Sanborn were injured. They were standing on the track and were thrown down by the cars. Mr. Sanborn had just time to drag himself out of the way before the train passed by. Mr. Curtis fell between the rails and three cars passed over him, but he was not touched by the wheels. His thigh however was crushed very badly either in the fall or by the brake attached to the cars. It was feared he would not survive. He was lame previously.

☞ Harper's Magizine for September, 1855, is on our table from Fetridge & Co., Boston, via J. F. Shores Jr. of this city.—The first twenty pages are occupied with Pictures of the Russians, being a pleasant sketch of Russian life and manners, with at least twenty illustrative cuts. Next, going from cold weather to hot, we have something about the Mosquitos,—not the bloodthirsty little singing stingers, but the people on Mosquito shore so called. Then, Early Printing and Printers, &c., &.

The editor's drawer,— and the Punchy Leaf,—are filled with drolleries.

John Bromley; and Why our Minister never Married;—are prime stories.

PUTNAM'S MONTHLY.—We have received from Fetridge & Co., by J. F. Shores, jr., the September number of this interesting and valuable monthly. The contents are:

New English Poets; The Storm; Twice Married, concluded; Sunkes Treasures; The Amazons of South America; Life Among the Mormons; Cossack Song; The late Horace Binney Wallace; The Harmless Old Gentleman; Thackeray's Newcomes; Rachel; Living in the Country; Loisella; The Armies of Europe; Editorial Notes.

Harpers' Story Book, No. 10, is a full and interesting sketch of Harper's establishment, giving such information on printing, book making, &c, as will interest every reader.—It is a number of rare value. For sale by J. F. Shores, jr.

THE APPLE CROP.—The Baltimore American learns that owing to the unusual crop of apples, so general throughout the country, a large quantity of apple brandy will be manufactured. Very extensive arrangements have been made in refitting distilleries for this purpose. The article of apple brandy has been quite scarce for several years past, but it is said a large supply will be furnished the coming season.

Apple brandy is a fiery and horrible fluid. Apples as food for men and some animals, are very palatable and wholesome. We are glad to hear they are so plentiful. But why should man's perverse ingenuity torture as many blessings of Providence as possible into curses?

☞ We learn from the Boston Chronicle that the Liberal Union (liquor) Convention at Worcester, Mass., nominated Erasmus D. Beach for Governor, and Moses Davenport Lt. Governor. Rev. Mr. Lovejoy received only thirteen votes for Governor; but he was chairman of the Committee on Address and Resolutions.

MANCHESTER.—The Mirror of the 28th, says:

James Wood was found drunk on Canal St., and accordingly was fined $3 and costs, $4.60. He came here a stranger, to get work, but instead got drunk. He thought he could raise the money, though he was not acquainted with any one here. He belongs in Bristol, this State, Where he says he has a farm, and, also, a family. Inasmuch as he could not "raise the wind," the Court sentenced him to ten days hard labor in the House of Correction, and costs of prosecution.

☞ In the Manchester Police Court, on Wednesday, John Andrews was bound over in $300 bonds, to answer in the Supreme Judicial Court, to the charge of being a common seller of intoxicating liquors: and also not to sell in the mean time. The sales were made indirectly, under certain ingenious pretexts;—nevertheless the Justice bound over the seller.

☞ Four flour barrels containing each a twenty gallon keg of R. G. liquor, were seized on the steamboat wharf in Portland, on Thursday, by officer King.

☞ Rev. Corban Curtice of Sanbornton Bridge, who sustained a fearful if not fatal injury, on Tuesday forenoon, was setting out for Concord, to be present at the anniversary religious exercises which commenced that day.

LOCAL.

☞ The Pic-Nic in the Grove near New Market Junction, on Thursday, by the Middle Street Sabbath School and Society, was largely attended; and was one of the most pleasant social gatherings of the season.—After dinner in "the wild old woods," an hour was agreeably spent in social singing, and listening to addresses from the Pastor of the Society, the Superintendent of the Sabbath School, and others. The former referred with pleasure to the improvement which has within a few years been wrought in the social connexion between pastors and the young of their societies—attributing it to the establishing of the Sabbath School. He spoke impressively and earnestly of the object of this important branch of christian education; and we have rarely listened to an appeal so eloquent and touching, as this brief extempore address, made among the waving trees, beneath the clear blue sky, while the bright summer sun—to which the speaker referred as one day to "be blotted out,"—seemed shining with fullest radiance to cheer the scene below. The Superintendent congratulated the Society on the happy gathering, and was gratified by the general favor with which the invitations of their Society, on occasions like these, were always received. He urged parents to interest themselves in their children's studies for Sabbath School recitations; and thus to enable them to improve all its advantages—and hoped the interest manifested in the Sabbath School on the present occasion, would permanently continue.

The party enjoyed themselves in the usual pic-nic sports, till about five o'clock, when most of them took the train for home—though one car load remained till the last train. All arrived home without accident or other occurrence to mar the pleasure of the day.

☞ A couple of young ladies, passing through a pasture in Newington, a few days since, were chased for a considerable distance, among bushes and trees, by a bull. On emerging into a large open space, and being too far from any fence for them to hope to reach shelter in that way—one of the ladies suddenly turned and confronted the closely-pursuing animal, while her companion sank among the bushes, exhausted. The brute's eyes met those of the lady, and he paused; and thus they stood, eye to eye, till the bull tuning after some men who appeared in another part of the pasture, gave the ladies an opportunity to escape.

☞ We are informed by H. F. Wendell, Esq. that on Friday about noon, a whale boat with two sails and a jib, near Ragged Neck, was seen to sink by Mr. Robert Varrell, of Rye, Sandy Beach road. Mr. Varrell immediately went off to the place in a boat, and picked up a few floating articles, among them a tiller marked M. J. and a bail box containing buttered bread, which he will have at the Spring Market this morning. Nothing was seen of the persons in the boat.

☞ The Bridge of the P.S. & P.Railroad, at Eliot, sunk considerably during Wednesday night, for about half its length—interrupting travel, and rendering it necessary for the cars to be switched off upon the Boston & Maine track at the Junction. A large gang of workmen were set to repair damages, the bridge is restored to its place, and trains proceed as usual.

HAY.—We understand some loads of hay have been sold here at seventeen dollars per ton.

N. H. GENERAL ASSOCIATION. — The Concord Reporter says:

The General Association of Congregational Clergymen has been attended by ministers from all sections of the States, who appeared as delegates from similar associations. The opening sermon on Tuesday morning, was preached by Rev. Chas. Shedd, of Campton. The Convention was organized by the choice of Rev. Thomas Savage, of Bedford, for Moderator; E. J. Wright, Scribe, and W. R. Jewett, Assistant Scribe. On Tuesday evening, a most effective and eloquent discourse was delivered by Rev. Mr. Murray, of New Jersey. His subject was faith in God. Dr. Murray is a celebrated "Kirwan," whose writings against Papal hierarchy, have been the most effective bomb-shells recently thrown into the Romish camp. The sermon on Wednesday evening, was preached by Rev. Dr. Waterbury, of Boston.

WALPOLE.—A correspondent of the Manchester Mirror, writing from Bellows Falls, Vt., says.

Here at Bellows Falls, there is great rejoicing at the success of the law in New Hampshire, for, the old topers, when their grog was cut off by the Vermont Law, used to point their red noses New Hampshire-ward, and crossing the river got as boozy as their funds would admit, and then stagger home to Vermont. So you see, New Hampshire kept rum-shop for both her own and Vermont imbibers. But, you will ask, is the law enforced? I answer yes, and it cannot be repealed. I know it is enforced here at Bellows Falls, also at Walpole on the opposite side of the river, and I learn from others, here, that it is nearly every town in the vicinity.

ESCAPE OF A SLAVER.—The Boston Times of Wednesday says:

The U. S. authorities at Boston had their suspicions excited a short time since, and so were led to set a watch upon the movements of parties who had purchased and were then fitting out a little schooner of 122 tons.—the Mary E. Smith. She was cleared at the custom house in ballast for Montevideo, on Friday last, the name of her commander being given as Vincent de Cranatich, of Louisiana. The officers appointed to watch, ascertained that the vessel, then lying at East Boston Point, took in lumber, water casks and barrels of beans, in quantities much greater than were required for ballasting; and they reported the fact to the proper authorities, who after consultation, ordered the schooner to be detained and the captain arrested. Two officers from the U. S. Marshal's department and one Inspector were detailed for this duty, and boarded the schooner as she was being towed down the harbor by a steam tug. They informed the captain that he was under arrest and his vessel seized.

The Captain evinced no little surprise, but gave no orders to bring to; and, as the revenue cutter, which had been ordered to haul into such a position as to bring the suspected slaver under her guns, could not move for want of men, the saucy schooner kept on her course down the harbor, carrying with her the discomfited officers. When the schooner had got fairly outside, the officers were put on board the tow-boat, which was cast off, and the schooner spread all of her canvass, and was soon in the dim distance, flying before the wind. On their return home the officers reported their own capture and subsequent release, which greatly incensed their superiors, but, as there was no help, there the matter was allowed to rest, with the consolation that everything that was proper under the circumstances had been done by the U. S. authorities.

This incense and consolation may do very well to gull the flats;—but if there had been a particle of sincerity in the authorities, they would have made the matter sure.

CROPS IN TENNESSEE.—A letter from Syracuse Mills, (Tenn.) says:—"Wheat is so abundant that it is selling at 50 cents per bush. Corn, which during the past winter and spring sold for $1, will soon be down at 20 cents; it is now past being affected by the drought.—This is the place to live, if you would live cheap; good board is only $1 per week; beef sells at two cents per pound; pork and other things in about the same proportion, as compared with prices at the East. But it is a money-making business to raise them at the above prices—everything grows so free and fast. The luxuriance of vegetation almost surpasses belief.

POTATOES AT LOW PRICES.—At Newburg, on the Hudson river, 2000 bushels of fine potatoes were sold by a single dealer, on Saturday, for 28 to 31 1-4 cents per bushel. We are informed that there are tens of thousands of bushels in the river counties ready to be contracted at very low prices. So in various parts of New Jersey this important crop has matured in perfect order.

As Van Amburg & Co.'s Menagerie was crossing a bridge in Burlington, N. J., on Friday, the bridge gave way, the cage containing the rhinoceros & horses all went down together. The rhinoceros, horses and driver were badly bruised, the cage was broken to pieces, and a lad who was standing on the bridge at the time, was so seriously injured that his life is despaired of.

Cough, Consumption, and Bronchitis ELIXER.

THE Proprietor would respectfully call the attention of the public to his invaluable Remedy for all Affections of the Throat and Lungs, and begs of those who are undecided what to select, from the numerous medicines advertised, and recommended for such complaints, to give his ELIXER a trial. Having done so, they will no longer hesitate what to take themselves, or recommend to others A single trial will prove to them that this is the most valuable remedy ever discovered for the various affections of the Throat and Lungs; it will immediately relieve the most violent Cough, and in a few hours completely cure the most severe Cold. As a Preventive and Cure for Consumption, it has no equal.—It is purely Vegetable, contains no poisonous ingredients, is quite agreeable to the taste, and may be given with perfect safety to the most delicate child. The numerous testimonials received almost daily from those who have been cured by it, fully justify the assertion that no family should be without this Medicine: let Mothers give it to their Children who have the Whooping Cough or Croup, and they will alleviate at once the sufferings of their little ones. Price 50 cts.

G. W. STONE'S

—AND—

Family Physic,

The most important discovery ever made in Medical Science, being a compound of Barks and Roots, which forms the most powerful, safe and agreeable Physic ever offered to the public.

THE necessity of such a Medicine has long been felt both by the heads of families and Physicians. Its advantages over cathartics given in the form of Pills or Powders, must be obvious to every intelligent person. It operates more immediately and effectually upon the system, and at the same time is infinitely less difficult to administer, being quite agreeable to the taste. It not only produces all the effects where physic is required, but completely removes habitual Costiveness, leaving the bowels perfectly free. It expels all humors from the blood, is a certain cure for the Piles, regulates the action of the Liver, frees the Stomach from Bile, invigorates the whole Nervous System, and removes the cause of all local pains, such as

RHEUMATISM, NEURALGIA, TIC DOLOREUX, GOUT, PAIN IN THE HEAD, SIDE, STOMACH, &c.

It may also be relied upon in all diseases of the Bowels; Dysentery, Diarrhœa and Cholera Morbus yield at once to its magic influence. Again we repeat, TRY IT!—it needs no other recommendation. No family will be without it after they have properly tested its merits. Reader, if you have tried other remedies, without success, despair not—relief is now at hand. Are you suffering with Scrofula, six bottles of my Liquid Cathartic will cure you. Would you be relieved from habitual Costiveness?—three bottles will effect all that you desire. If you are afflicted with Rheumatic, Neuralgic, or other local pains, two bottles will free you from them. All humors will be eradicated from the blood by the use of from one to six bottles. In short, if you require a physic for any purpose, this is the most reliable, safe and agreeable to the taste that has ever been placed within the reach of the public.

PRICE $1.00.

DEAD SHOT FOR BED BUGS.

A SURE death to these noxious disturbers of our nightly rest. Apply it to insects and it curls them up and lays them out as readily as Sulphur Fumes kills Bees

It has no equal in the market. The whole world cannot produce a substitute of similar value to the comfort of a neat tidy housewife. Its application is of little trouble, while the benefit which may be derived from a single night's undisturbed repose is incalculable.

SANCHO PANZA

Called down "blessings upon the head of the man who first invented sleep." How much more worthy such honorable distinction would be consider the inventor of the Dead Shot, who, by his Pungent and Deadly Preparation, has rendered utterly impossible the ancient bloody forays of such 'tolerable and not to be endured' tormentors; and who has enabled every one to guarantee to himself his own particular share of "tired Nature's sweet restorer."

PIANOS.

HALLETT, DAVIS & CO.

MANUFACTURERS of GRAND AND SQUARE

PIANO-FORTES.

☞ Particular attention is solicited to our PATENT SUSPENSION BRIDGE—also our PATENT GRAND ACTION, as applied to both Grand and Square Pianos.

WAREROOMS,

NEW FREESTONE BLOCK,

No. 409 WASHINGTON STREET,

NEAR BOYLSTON STREET.....BOSTON.

Opinions of the Press.

It is now generally acknowledged that the Pianos manufactured by Hallet, Davis & Co. are unrivalled in America, if in the world, for brilliancy or purity of tone.—Boston Daily Times.

An immense volume of sound can be produced by these Pianos without shattering the tones, as they send forth the most perfect, bell like notes, and we must confess that we have never listened to their equals for power, brilliancy, sweetness of tone, and purity of action.—Boston Herald.

The Pianos of Hallet, Davis & Co. deserve more than a passing notice. They are truly splendid instruments, very powerful, and of the purest and richest quality of tone.—Boston Traveller.

In regard to purity of tone, power and sweetness, being fully equal to any instrument that has come under our observation.—Boston Courier.

Owing to the superiority of the action of your Grand Piano Fortes, I think it would be impossible for any Pianist, who plays properly, to break either a string or a hammer.—Extract from a Letter from Wm. Mason.

The peculiar features of Hallet, Davis & Co.'s instruments is, they make no noise. Nothing but pure tone is produced by the vibration of the strings; and the construction of the sounding board, and action are such that skilful pianists alone can testify their merits, dislike or use any other instrument in the Concert room.—Philadelphia Sunday Mercury.

I find them to be very superior instruments—as well in tone as in touch.—Extract of a Letter from L. M. Gottschalk.

I can unhesitatingly say that I find them superior in quality and quantity of tone, to those of other makers; also in the elasticity and easy touch; and can cheerfully recommend them to any one who wishes to own or play on the best Pianos.—Extract of a letter from Robert Heller.

GOLD ON THE CONTINENT.—A letter from Strasburg to the Philadelphia Ledger says:—

Commercially speaking, the war has had a great influence on the precious metals.—Gold has actually become a drug on the Continent, and exchange on London, from Germany, Belgium, and even France, is actually below par. On bills on St. Petersburg, there is a heavy discount, while in Germany gold loses in exchange against silver.

In France, too, gold has become the circulating medium—pure gold five franc pieces and ten franc pieces, to double Napoleons or forty franc pieces. It is the silver which is now hoarded by the peasantry, as the article on which less depreciation is feared, than on any other. American stocks are actively inquired after, and large investments are made in them in small towns, without producing any sensation whatever. In like manner are large sums going to the United States, to be invested in public lands; for even colonels and generals begin to grow timid and seek investments for their money in countries not subject to revolution. In a word, a general feeling of insecurity pervades the whole of Europe, and as each party is happy to ascribe all its mistakes to the blundering want of sense of its opponents, political rancor increases in proportion to the insecurity of property.

RARE HONESTY.—Some years since a man in New Hampshire bargained for a lot of land, and agreed, by notes, to pay $400 for it; but things went wrong with him, and after some time he left town suddenly, between two days. The seller of the land, though rather sold, said but little about it, and pocketed his disappointment, though he did not the dollars. He came to the vicinity of Boston, and remained a poor man, the "lot still on hand" and making him no richer. A few days since, while passing along State street, a voice familiarly called his name, and turning, he recognized his old customer in a well dressed and good looking man. After shaking hands, the well dressed man asked him if he would now take the face of his note for the land.—"Certainly," was the quick response, "and very glad to get it." "Well," said the man, "come in here;" and taking him into an office in the vicinity, he counted out to him $1000, telling the astonished note holder that there was his pay and interest, with the assurance that he had enough left to meet any little demands that might come up. He had been to California, and had come home to rest on his ores. He was munificent to his creditor because he had been easy—a lesson to all stony hearted creditors.—Boston Post.

The young ladies of Buffalo have taken to wearing hoops after the old style. The local editor of the Republic boasts that he accompanied a handsome young lady down the street, a day or two since, but being unable to get within four feet of her, the conversation consisted of uninteresting scraps of common place, conducted principally in screams and halloos. As a crowning catastrophe a dog attached to a tin kettle ran against her, and could not be extricated until she reached home. Owing to the darkness of his situation, the dog remained quiet, but the persons she met were surprised by the occasional mysterious tinkling of his kettle.

Mr. Taft, of Charleston, S. C., who lost his arm on the Western Railroad, a few days since, claims $100,000 damages. The company will undoubtedly be obliged to pay large damages, and if in proportion to the damages given to Dr. Brown, at Ipswich, last season, he will recover all he claims.—The accident would have been prevented had the doors been made to slide, on the merchandize cars, instead of swinging outwards. We believe the change to sliding doors was made on the Eastern Road after an accident similar to this, but much less severe, which happened to Hon. Leverett Saltonstall, at the Salem depot.—Newburyport Herald.

THEY WANTED BREAD AS WELL AS BED.—An Irishman, with his "ould woman," applied for lodgings at the 4th Police Station a night or two ago, and after having been comfortably accommodated by our worthy friend the Captain, told him to "be after bringin' on the supper as speedily as possible."

The Captain mildly answered that, inasmuch as the authorities had furnished the Station with neither a cook nor cooking utensils, it was utterly out of his power to prepare an evening meal for visitors.

"And, be Jasus! are ye after believin' I and the ould woman are goin' to bed on an empty belly? Holy Virgin! was there ever the like! Let us out of this, you unhospitable spalpeen!" And the infuriated couple sought lodgings elsewhere.—Boston Her.

Queen Victoria, escorted by six ships of war, crossed to Bologne on the 17th, and intended to remain in France six days. Immense preparations were being made to receive her. The Emperor was to meet her at Bologne on the 18th, and escort her to Paris.

Hon. Millard Fillmore was introduced to the Emperor on the 15th., by Mr. Mason.

DEATH OF PROF. WHEELER.—Prof. Nelson Wheeler, for many years at the head of the Worcester County Academy; subsequently Principal of the High School in Worcester, and still later Professor of the Greek language in Brown University, died in Royalston, Mass, on Saturday last, at the age of 41 years.

Morning Chronicle.

FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 3, 1855.

Foreign Correspondence of the Chronicle.

LETTERS FROM GERMANY.—No. 4.

BONN, August 1, 1855.

Messrs. Editors:—The route from Mechlin to Cologne is exceedingly romantic and beautiful. The principal cities through which it passes are Liege, Verviers, and Aix-la-Chapelle. Liege is situated at the junction of the Ourthe with the Meuse, in a fertile valley, and is approached by an inclined plain, two and a half miles in length, down which we were let by means of a stationary engine.—The descent is between four and five hundred feet, and the view obtained of the city and the valley of the Meuse is seldom equalled in railway scenery.

The city of Liege contains 76,000 inhabitants, and is said to be more thriving than any other town in Belgium. The greater part of its inhabitants are engaged in the manufacture of fire arms. An English writer says, "Liege is one great armory, and produces, at a low price, a better article than can be made for the same sum in England." It also contains extensive saddle manufactories, and one establishment for the manufacture of spinning machinery and steam engines, in which they are also said to rival the English. Large quantities of coal are found in the immediate vicinity, and it is said that a portion of the city itself, and, in some places, the bed of the river, is undermined. There is a University here, but it has not as yet obtained much celebrity. It was established in 1817. A museum is connected with it, which is worth visiting on account of an extensive collection of fossil bones found in the neighborhood.

Near Liege there are numerous caverns, which have acquired celebrity from the abundant and remarkable animal remains they have afforded, and the interest attached to them is heightened by the discovery of human bones and skulls in the same cave with bones of bears, hyenas, the elephant and rhinoceros. It would appear however that the remains of man were introduced at a later period than those of the animals.

Liege has suffered terribly from the tyranny of bishops and their defenders, under whom the inhabitants groaned continually, except in seasons of revolt, from some time in the 10th century until the French invasion A. D. 1794. In 1468, having murdered their bishop, Louis de Bourbon, Charles the Bold, who supported him, inflicted terrible chastisement upon them. A great many of the inhabitants were slain, and the whole city, except churches and convents, was burned to the ground. At that time it numbered more than 120,000 inhabitants.

From Liege to Verviers the railway passes through a very different country from any I had previously seen. The route lies, for the most part, along the valley of a small and beautiful stream called the Vesdre, which it crosses seventeen times in less than as many miles, and nineteen times plunges through its lofty and overhanging banks, which seem to project alternately, like the teeth of two saws placed together, between which the stream winds its serpentine course, leaping, bounding, dashing, foaming, upon its rocky bed.—One moment you are enveloped in darkness,—the next not only the light of the sun, but lofty perpendicular cliffs on the one side; a narrow valley and sloping hill side, clothed in verdure, on the other, with a little village snugly and warmly clasped in their bosom, and the clear and sparkling waters of the Vesdre, suddenly greet your eye as if by magic. The fairy scene lingers but a moment, and again you are enshrouded in darkness; anon the light, the crag, the forest, a stately castle, beautiful summer houses, ornamented grounds, and the ever leaping, dancing, laughing stream, astonish and delight you again. Thus we passed from side to side of the Vesdre, the landscape varying constantly with our position, as if the chief end sought in the location of the road had been the beauty of the scenery obtained from the several stand-points.

Verviers is the last town of importance in Belgium. It has a population of 27,000, most of whom are engaged in its cloth manufactories. The fabrics produced are said to be second rate, and are exported principally to Italy and America. The Belgian army is clothed from the looms of Verviers. In taking leave of Belgium, I cannot do justice to my own feelings without saying it is the most interesting portion of the continent I have yet seen. Belgium is a perfect garden. The soil is more thoroughly cultivated, the cities are more flourishing, and the inhabitants appear more enterprising, than in either France or Prussia.

I shall give some notices of Aix-la-Chapelle and the route to Cologne, in my next. T. M.

☞ We would call the attention of ship-builders and dealers in southern pine timber, to Mr. Porter's advertisement in another column.

PILOT ARRESTED.

The Boston Mail of Saturday says:

In the case of Jacob E. Lunt, charged with obstructing an officer in the discharge of his duty, John H. Riley, U. S. Deputy Marshal, testified that on Saturday afternoon he went to East Boston to arrest the captain and mate of schooner Mary E. Smith, for aiding in fitting out said schooner for the slave trade.—Saw the schooner going out in tow of steam tow-boat Stag. Together with Lieut. Prouty of the revenue cutter, and officer Butman, was rowed by four men to the schooner, boarding her at Governor's Island.

On going aboard he told the pilot he had a warrant for the arrest of the captain and mate and ordered him to heave to. Went below, where things were much cluttered, read the complaint to the captain, and when he reached the charge of engaging in the slave trade, the captain asked him if he was a mason, and how much he should give him to let him off, for he did not want to go back; asked him two or three times if he was a mason, and told him he would secure him if he would let him go. Riley told him he could do nothing about it, that if he went back and satisfied the collector that everything was right, he would let him go.

Upon going on deck, Riley asked Lunt, the pilot, why he did not heave to. He was asked who he was, to which he replied, telling the captain again his object. The captain was asked also why the vessel was not hove to, and the pilot replied that the captain had nothing to do with it. Heard Lieut. Prouty call for the schooner's papers; twelve or fifteen men were on deck, the sails were set, and the pilot was on the quarter deck, when Riley went into the cabin and again told the captain he was doing wrong in putting to sea, and that he would suffer for it. Saw Lieut. Prouty, and asked him what he was going to do, to which he replied that he did not know what to do. While he had the captain by the arm, under arrest, orders were given to cast off, and "all aboard the boat." Not being ready to go to Montevideo, and seeing no help for himself, Riley left with the rest and returned to the city.

Two other witnesses did not see the Marshal's warrant for the arrest of the Captain, and supposed that the charge against him was for being engaged in a filibustering expedition, and carrying arms and ammunition to the West Indies for such a purpose.

Arguments were made by the counsel, and Lunt was held in $500 for trial.

James B. Simpson, merchant, is to be examined on Thursday next, on the charge of fitting out the "Mary E. Smith" as a slaver.

Every intelligent reader will perceive the undoubted rascality of both captain and pilot. As the former has got off, the latter should be punished with a good long imprisonment: but he gives only a small bail.—The owner is probably liable.

But above all, the officers, Riley, Butman and Prouty, with their four men, are peculiarly culpable. They should have kept the captain a close prisoner, and compelled the pilot to heave to instantly. They had a right to command the aid of the steamer's crew.—Had they been about to kidnap a single unarmed negro, male or female, they would have been well armed, prompt and decided; but when about to arrest the captain and mate of a piratical schooner, they don't know what to do, except just to save their own precious necks.

☞ The Supreme Court of N. H. at Concord, are trying Cornelius Haskell, a mulatto, and Sarah A. Brown, a white, for the murder of Stephen C. Washer, at Hopkinton last May. The testimony goes to show it up as a rum murder. The murderers had been drinking, and one of their employers had drank with them. David Francis, a witness, bought the fatal two quarts of rum in Warner Village.

Perhaps after reading this trial, or after seeing the prisoners and witnesses,—somebody may raise the question, Whether it can possibly be Constitutional, to keep liquor away from such wretches,—or whether the Union would absolutely be dissolved, if their rations should be cut off. Also, whether rum does not do them as much good as it does any body?

☞ Jane Johnson, the mulatto woman, who left minister Wheeler on the deck of a steamer at Philadelphia, has testified before the court in that city, that no force or violence whatever was used to take her on shore, but she was glad to go. The six negro men arrested for assault and battery, in whose case she testified, will not suffer much. The Court very properly protected their witness, Jane, from kidnappers outside, who pretended or were supposed to be U. S. officers.

ACCIDENT IN EXETER.—On Saturday afternoon, a man named Thomas Barker, while at work upon the new town house in Exeter, fell a distance of about twenty feet, to the lower floor of the building. He was severely, though it is hoped not fatally, injured.

☞ Thomas N. Pearson, was drowned last Wednesday, at Machias, Maine. He was 21 years old, and was from Greenland, N. H.,—so says the Portland Argus.

A LIQUOR PEDLAR ARRESTED.—A man named Martin Smith, residing in Boston, provided himself with a quantity of liquor in bottles, and carried it to Abington, on Wednesday last, where a pic-nic was being held.—While engaged in peddling out his stock, which was carried in a valise, some Abington officers arrested and took him before a Justice of Peace. He was found guilty on two counts, upon each of which he was fined $10, and sentenced to 20 days in the Plymouth Jail.

LOCAL.

☞ Our Carriers are not furnished with copies of the Chronicle for sale. Persons wishing the paper left at their houses, or stores, will please leave their names at the office, or with the carriers, and they will be regularly served. Terms for the Daily, $3 per year, in advance; Weekly, $1. Subscribers who prefer it, can pay the carriers for the Daily, 6 cents per week.

☞ Capt. Charles Mitchell and another man whose name we did not learn, both belonging to Kittery, are missing from their homes, and it is feared that they were in the boat which was seen to sink off Ragged Neck on Friday, as Capt. M. was out in a boat answering her description, on that day. The articles picked up have been sent to his friends for identification. Capt. Mitchell was for several years captain of a fishing vessel from this port, but for one or two seasons past has been engaged in boat fishing.

ROCKINGHAM CONVENTION.—The Rockingham Convention of Universalists, at Brentwood last week, was well attended and interesting. Rev. S. S. Fletcher's case came up, on which two reports were made; but after much discussion the matter was indefinitely postponed. Rev. Messrs. Whittemore, Goodrich, Jewell, Williams, Spalding, Greenwood and others, were present.

☞ We have received from William H. Brewster, Esq., of Newburyport, a member of the Committee, a pamphlet copy of the Report of the Investigating Committee of the Stockholders of the Eastern Railroad Company, July 30, 1855. The purport and substance of the report were brought before the public at the above date; but the detail is interesting and worthy of perusal.

☞ The City Agency for the sale of Liquors, will be opened this morning.

POLITICAL.—The meeting of the various committees of the different political organizations, at the United States Hotel, resulted in making arrangements for a Mass and also a Delegate Convention. Both are called at Worcester, on Thursday, September 20th.

The following is the call of the Delegates Convention:

The people of Massachusetts who are opposed to the extension of Slavery, are requested to meet in primary public meetings in their several towns and cities, and elect delegates in the proportion of three times their representation in the General Court on valuation year, to a Convention to be held at Worcester on the twentieth day of September next, for the nomination of State officers.

This call is signed by quite a number of politicans and gentlemen of high personal character. If they can fuse and pull together they can command the votes of a vast majority of the people of the State. The newspapers and old party leaders will be as impotent before them, as they were against the K. N.'s last year.—Boston Trav.

No Go.—The Boston Advertiser says,

We are able to state from the best authority that the nomination of Hon. George S. Hillard by the "Union Liberal Convention" for the office of Attorney General was without his knowledge or consent.

DEATH OF AN OFFICER.—In New Brunswick, N. J., 21st inst, after a lingering illness, Capt. Charles Gaunt, of the United States Navy, 61. He was born in Burlington county, N. J. He first served in the gunboat service, on the Delaware river. In 1812 he was appointed to the U. S. ship Wasp, Capt. Jones. He was in the action of the Wasp and Frolic, in 1812; was taken prisoner to the Island of Bermuda, was afterwards in the frigates Macedonian and Mohawk, and also on Lake Erie. In 1827 he was appointed to the Warren, as First Lieutenant, to search the Mediterranean and Archipelago in quest of pirates, which arduous duty he continued until 1829, when the object of the cruise was sat isfactorily accomplished and the ship returned to the United States. He was afterwards in the Pacific, in the command of ships Raritan and Dale, besides shore duty at the Philadelphia Navy Yard.

MARRIAGE AND LOSS OF WIFE.—Mr. W. H. Tratt, who joined a Shaker society in Livingston county, N. Y., ten years ago, became enamored of a girl of 17, who had been brought up by the Society from infancy, eloped with her, and married her. He went out to work, and left his wife at a farm house: and since this she has unaccountably disappeared, and he cannot find her. The Shakers state that they nothing of her whereabouts.

BREAD.—Mr. Oliver Holden, of Brooklyn, in a letter to the Brooklyn Star, states that when flour is six dollars per barrel bread can be sold for three cents a pound; with flour at eight dollars bread can be sold for four cents; at ten dollars five cents; and at twelve dollars for six cents—affording at these prices a profit of 50 per cent. to a baker. This will of course be news to the bakers hereabout.—Charlestown, Mass. Advertiser.

LOST OR STOLEN—At Portsmouth, on Monday morning, Aug. 27, in or about the Eastern Railroad Cars or Depot, a leather CIGAR CASE, bound in steel, opens by press springs; letters O. W. P. gilded upon the side. Whoever will return said Cigar Case, or give information leading to its recovery, to Jackson & Co's Express shall be liberally rewarded. s1 3t

SHOCKING ACCIDENT.—Thursday afternoon, as the up train on the Concord road was opposite the Amoskeag Counting Room, Manchester, a man named Charles W. Kendall, in the employ of the Land and Water Power Company, was going into the yard.—He was deaf, and not hearing the cars, went upon the track immediately in front of the engine. He was hit and carried several rods before the train was stopped. When taken out he was shockingly mangled, and of course had been instantly killed.

He was 26 years old. He has a wife and one child living in Bristol, Vt., and a brother in this city. His parents reside in Allenstown, and he was born in Fitchburg, Mass.

The engine, tender, one baggage car, and part of another, passed over him before the train could be stopped.—American.

HALIFAX, Aug. 31st.—Sub Marine Cable lost.—A dispatch just received in this city from Sidney states that by some mismanagement in the laying of the sub-marine cable between Newfoundland and Cape Breton, when 40 miles out from the coast of Newfoundland, the cable was lost. The vessel had been engaged two days in laying the cable, when the accident happened. The despatch does not inform us in what manner the loss was occasioned, and it is also silent as the probability of recovering the cable. The company are understood to have an insurance on the cable to the extent of $70,000.

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 31st.—This morning about two o'clock, the express train on the Ohio and Pennsylvania Railroad, going West, ran over a cow, and three of the cars were thrown of the track. The accident occurred about twenty miles from this city. One car was completely wrecked, and ten persons were more or less injured, some of them seriously.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 31st.—Wm. M. Burwell, and John W. Bryce, have bargained for the entire ownership of the "American Organ," know-nothing newspaper, in this city, which is held at $15,000.

CHICAGO, Aug. 31st.—Chief Justice Lecompte gave a dinner to the Kansas Legislature, in return for the honor of locating the capitol at the town named after him. Judge Elmore was present, and was toasted enthusiastically. He announced his determination to resist President Pierce's usurpation of power.

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 31st.—Wilson Brown, Governor of Missouri, died on the 27th instant.

Advices from Fort Pierce to the 18th announce the troops at that fort to be healthy, and the Indians quiet.

FATAL RAILROAD ACCIENT.—As Stephen Harrison, a man of 65 years, living about 2 miles from Westfield, was walking upon the Western railroad track, near his residence on Wednesday evening, the half-past five o'clock train for Albany came upon him unexpectedly, threw him about six feet, and killed him outright. He had been to Westfield to see a brother, and was returning when he met with the fatal surprise.

Cough, Consumption, and Bronchitis
ELIXER.
THE Proprietor would respectfully call the attention of the public to his invaluable Remedy for all Affections of the Throat and Lungs, and begs of those who are undecided what to select, from the numerous medicines advertised, and recommended for such complaints, to give his ELIXER a trial. Having done so, they will no longer hesitate what to take themselves, or recommend to others. A single trial will prove to them that this is the most valuable remedy ever discovered for the various affections of the Throat and Lungs; it will immediately relieve the most violent Cough, and in a few hours completely cure the most severe Cold. As a Preventive and Cure for Consumption, it has no equal.—It is purely Vegetable, contains no poisonous ingredients, is quite agreeable to the taste, and may be given with perfect safety to the most delicate child. The numerous testimonials received almost daily from those who have been cured by it, fully justify the assertion that no family should be without this Medicine: let Mothers give it to their Children who have the Whooping Cough or Croup, and they will alleviate at once the sufferings of their little ones. DEAD SHOT FOR BED BUGS.
A SURE death to these noxious disturbers of our nightly rest. Apply it to insects and it carts them up and lays them out as readily as Sulphur Fumes kills Bees
SANCHO PANZA
Called down "blessings upon the head of the man who first invented sleep." I for more worthy such honorable distinction would consider the inventor of the Dead Shot, who, by his Pungent and Deadly Preparation, has rendered utterly impossible the ancient bloody forays of such tolerable and not to be endured tormentors; and who has enabled every one to guarantee to himself his own particular share of "tired Nature's sweet restorer."

No Revenue.—About two hours after the steamer America had sailed this morning, the agents had not made the proper returns to the Custom House, as they are bound to do before she can start. What is the use of revenue laws unless they are enforced against foreign steamers? Do our custom house officers except British vessels from the laws of Congress?—Boston Transcript, 29th.

A Knight Rival.—In one of the villages in the southern part of the State, a merchant had got painted on the fences over the village —"Go to Markham's to trade." A keen, quick-witted rival followed up after him and painted right under the line—"If you want to be skinned." Sharp people down there, the Lowell Courier says.

A clerk in the office of the U. S. Quartermaster at San Antonio, Texas, is a defaulter to a large amount. It is said to have been evident for two or three years, that the young man named above obtained his money in some such way. He purchased property, farms, stock, and negroes, freely, and kept a table at a cost of not less than $2000 per annum, on a salary of $60 to $70 per month.

HAYES'S MEDICINES.

Allied Ointment and Humor Syrup
will cure you just as sure as you use it. Take not our assertion for it, but the testimony of a thousand living witnesses. All it wants is a trial—it advertises itself. One bottle has sold a hundred in a single town. Reader, do you ask how you shall know these statements are facts, when there is so much humbugery advertised? Simply, we will inform you: call on any of our agents, get a circular, select any name you please, address a line to that individual—they will speak—they are living witnesses. It will cost but a trifle, and must convince the most skeptical. We subjoin one from among the many:

Read the following, it speaks for itself:

LAWRENCE, June 12, 1854.

We the undersigned, citizens of Lawrence, having used the Vegetable Allied Ointment Prepared by E. D. HAYES, of this city, and being personally acquainted with the Doctor, feel pleasure in adding our testimony to all the doctor claims for his medicine. Unlike other remedies in the market, this preparation performs its effects speedily and with certainty. The Ointment we have used with the most happy results, after vainly seeking relief by the free use of Sarsaparilla, Salves, &c.

Our experience fully justifies us in confidently recommending it as the article, and the only one known to us, as performing all it claims.

A. S. BUNKER. A. W. STEARNS.
S. I. THOMPSON, ASA T. SANBORN.

It cures Salt Rheum, Scrofula, Erysipelas, White Leprosy, Cancerous Humors, Ring Worm, Scald Head, Burns and Scalds, Chilblains, Piles, (a preparation expressly) Barber's Itch, Fever Sores, and all old Mercurial Sores, however long standing. It removes all those vexatious Pimples, Eruptions and Moth or Mildew from the face leaving the skin perfectly soft and smooth, adding greatly to the beauty of the complexion. In no case will it leave a mark or scar. It improves the sight wonderfully, where the eyes are troubled with humors, by removing the difficulty and restoring the sight.

Price of the Ointment, $1; Syrup 50 cents.

CHARLES H. KENT General Agent for the United States and Canada, Lawrence, Mass, to whom all orders should be addressed.

Sold in Portsmouth, by Jos. H. Thacher, at the Good Samaritan Store, and W. R. Preston; and by Agents everywhere.

PIANOS.

NEAR BOYLSTON STREET.....BOSTON.

Opinions of the Press.

It is now generally acknowledged that the Pianos manufactured by Hallet, Davis & Co. are unrivalled in America, if in the world, for brilliancy or purity of tone.—Boston Daily Times.

An immense volume of sound can be produced by these Pianos without shattering the tones, as they send forth the most perfect, bell like notes, and we must confess that we have never listened to their equals for power, brilliancy, sweetness of tone, and purity of action.—Boston Herald.

The Pianos of Hallet, Davis & Co. deserve more than a passing notice. They are truly splendid instruments, very powerful, and of the purest and richest quality of tone.—Boston Traveller.

In regard to purity of tone, power and sweetness, being fully equal to any instrument that has come under our observation.—Boston Courier.

Owing to the beautiful elasticity of the action of your Grand Piano Fortes, I think it would be impossible for any Pianist, who plays properly, to break either a string or a hammer.—Extract from a Letter from Wm. Mason.

The peculiar features of Hallet, Davis & Co.'s instruments is, they make no noise. Nothing but pure tone is produced by the vibration of the strings; and the construction of the sounding board, and action are such that skilful pianists, after proving their merits, dislike to use any other instrument in the Concert room.—Philadelphia Sunday Mercury.

I find them to be very superior instruments—as well in tone as in touch.—Extract of a Letter from L. M. Gottschalk.

I can unhesitatingly say that I find them superior in quality and quantity of tone, to those of other makers; also in the elasticity and easy touch; and can cheerfully recommend them to any one who wishes to own or play on the best Pianos.—Extract of a letter from Robert Heller.

REMOVAL.—The dome of the Capitol at Washington is to be taken down immediately; The Washinton Sentinel says:

While the work is progressing the pictures in the Rotundo will be properly protected, as may be conceived. They are too valuable to be exposed to the dust and fragments attending the destruction of the dome.

The scaffolding will probably be erected in the course of the next two weeks, when the work of demolition will be commenced.

After the dome shall have been removed the Rotundo will be protected from the influence of the weather until the iron castings for the new dome shall be completed and erected; which period, we presume, is far distant, as, according to our information, contracts have not yet been made for the performance of that work.

It will be remembered that Congress appropriated one hundred thousand dollars for the erection of an iron dome, the present one being composed of combustible materials, and certainly not graceful in its proportions.

On this the Boston Advertiser remarks:

To those at a distance, who do not view matters in the light of Washington contractors and jobbers, it would seem that it might have been more prudent to defer the removal of the old dome, until the approach of the "period" described above as probably far distant, when the new dome which is to take its place, shall be finished.

LIBERALITY OF PHYSICIANS.—It has always been said that physicians would disparage any remedy, however valuable, which they did not originate themselves. This has been disproven by their liberal course towards Dr. J. C. Ayer's preparations. They have adopted them into general use in their practice, which shows a willingness to countenance articles that have intrinsic merits which deserve their attention. This does the learned profession great credit, and effectually contradicts the prevalent erroneous notion that their opposition to proprietary remedies is based in their interest to discard them. We have always had confidence in the honorable motives of our medical men, and are glad to find it sustained by the liberal welcome they accord to such remedies as Ayer's Cherry Pectoral and Cathartic Pills, even though they are not ordered in the books, but are made known to the people through the newspapers.—New Orleans Delta.

A TRUTH WELL STATED.—The New York Times, in commenting upon the letter of Washington Hunt, says, trenchantly and truthfully:

To damn with an epithet is the shortest form of political logic. Call Abolitionist the man who sets his face with a certain resoluteness of energy against the aggressions of slavery; call fanatic the earnest advocate of any great truth, or opponent of any great error; pronounce enthusiasts all men of strong and hopeful convictions, and you have achieved a surer victory than all the syllogisms of Aristotle could afford you. It is a short way with all sorts of dissenters. They may disprove your facts, expose your fallacies, and refute your argument; but by the well-chosen and oft-repeated epithet, as by a talisman, all the glory of the contest remains your own. The recipe is no secret, or we might conceal it for private use. It is in daily practice. It operates like an opiate on all the otherwise decided movements of the day. It crushes enterprise, condemns the earnest and patriotic to obscurity, and leaves the stage of politics for knaves, and fools, the Punches and Judies of routine to caper upon. The trick is especially well understood by the South and its Northern reflectors; it frightens the timid into acquiescence with Kansas, and similar outrages, which their judgment cannot avoid condemning.

The Montgomery (Ala) Mail seems to have a fund of humor on hand, and gives occasionally a southwestern sketch by a few touches, that are as telling as Hogarth's. It would seem that at a certain "court time" in Pike county, there was a trial for a general row, and and a witness testified that one Salstonstall, jest kept sloshin' about. As this remark regarding the chivalrous Salstonstall was frequently repeated, said the Lawyer, for "the defence,"

"Come, witness, say over again what it was that Mr. Salstonstall had to with the affair."

"Salstontall? why I've told you several times; the rest on 'em clinched and paired off, but Salstonstall, he jest kept sloshin' about."

"Ah my good fellow," exclaimed Nat, quite testily, "we want to know what this is. It isn't exactly legal evidence in the shape you put it. Tell us what you mean by sloshin' about."

"Well," answered the witness very deliberately—"I'll try. You see John Brewer and Sykes, they clinched and fout. That's in a legle form ain't it?

"Oh, yes!" said Nat, "go on."

"Abney and Blackman then pitched into one another, and Blackman bit off a piece of Abney's lip—that's legle, too, ain't it?"

"Proceed!"

"Simpson and Bill Stones and Murray was altogether on the ground, a bitin' and kicken' one another—that's legle, too, ain't it?"

"Very!—but go on."

"And Salstonstall made it his business to walk backward and forward through the crowd, with a big stick in his hand, and knock down every loose man in the crowd as fast as he comes to 'em!—That's what I call sloshin' about!"

Blake's Patent Fire Proof Paint.

THIS extraordinary substance has now been tested nearly nine years, and its Fire and Water Proof qualities are most extraordinary. Instead of the action of the weather destroying the coating as it does ordinary Paints, it only serves to turn it to a perfect Slate or Stone, protecting whatover covered from the action of Fire or Weather.

TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 4, 1855.

THE STATE FAIR.—From the accounts in the Manchester papers, we judge that the most ample arrangements are in progress in that city, for the sixth annual Fair of the New Hampshire State Agricultural Society. Manchester being convenient of access from all parts of the State, the managers of the Fair feel assured that specimens of fruits and vegetables, the wonders of the mechanic arts, the products of the kitchen and dairy, beautiful fabrics of nimble fingers and noisy looms, will be entered in greater numbers and in higher excellence than ever before. The droves of horses, herds of lowing kine, flocks of bleating sheep, and the unctuous swine will be more numerous and in greater perfection. Beyond this, which in a great measure depends on the efforts of the managers, there is another production, which it is of the highest importance to have on the ground in great numbers, to make the Fair completely successful, and which depends on the mass of the people. What will be most wanted, is men—robust men, beautiful women and smiling children.

Let the people of the State give their countenance to the managers, and each returning year will show great improvement in the exhibition. The exhibitors will also be encouraged, and a spirit of emulation excited, which will result in a direct benefit to the people who excited it.

Persons designing to exhibit articles of any kind, should have them on the ground before Wednesday next at 12 o'clock, and if possible, on Tuesday, so that every thing may be arranged in season.

The people can go at any time, to suit their own convenience—only be sure and go, before the close of the Fair on Friday night.

JOHN COMSTOCK.

The Newburyport Herald informs us that Johnny Comstock, the Eastern hermit, paid a visit to that city last week, and attracted considerable attention arrayed in his fantastic habiliments. Those who never saw him before, supposed he might be the king of the Shetland Islands, instead of a humble recluse. Mr. Comstock has resided in a cave near York, Me., some fifteen years, and about five years since removed his abode to Manchester woods where he now resides. He is strictly temperate and scrupulously honest.—He never solicited, nor has he ever obtained alms from the charitably disposed. He never rode in the cars or other mode of public conveyance, prefers to walk, and then in the most unfrequented roads. Provided with a small tin cup, in which he steeps his tea, coffee, sugar and crackers, he occasionally issues forth, to ascertain what progress is being made in the world, and when fatigued by walking and fasting, will sit down by the road-side, make a fire and prepare his frugal repast. He never disclosed his retreat; his only companions are two tame foxes, which he brought up from sucklings, and who will follow him, and seemed to be as much attached to their master as trained dogs. During the winter he subsists solely upon game, and does not consider his manner of living as all precarious. Money is no object to him, as he can always drive a barter trade in roots, herbs, seeds, game, &c., and says he would not exchange his manner of living and situation with any man in the Universe.

THE BOSTON BABY SHOW.—The Boston Bee says that nearly one hundred names have been entered for Barnum's baby-show, which opens in that city on Tuesday the 11th inst., for five days. And rumor hath it that Mrs. Partington's are among the number. Her twins are a model pair.

The editor of the Great Falls Journal trusts that the above is correct, as far as Mrs. Partington is concerned—for if those little twins have not changed amazingly since he saw them a couple of months ago, he says they will be sure to take a prize. They look about as healthy and promising as Mrs. P. herself. [We have no doubt those twins are justly the pride of their father, the joy of their mother—and should rejoice to have them awarded the highest premium at the show; but what puzzles us, is where our bachelor friend Fogg, of the Journal, obtained his knowledge of "house-keeping," whereby he is enabled to speak so discriminatingly, decidedly and discreetly, respecting those "graciously given" joys, concerning which we had supposed he was as yet in a state of sad ignorance.]

PILOT LUNT.—Mr. J. K. Lunt, the Boston pilot who took the slaver to sea, has published a statement in the Boston Advertiser, making his own case all fair weather. His statement throws the blame on the U. S. officers, marshals, &c.

THE HOPKINTON MURDER.—Cornelius Haskell and his white paramour, Sarah Ann Brown, who beat to death a man named Stephen Washer, at Hopkinton, were convicted of murder at Concord on Saturday.

CLAREMONT.—So far as we have been able to learn, says the Eagle, the Liquor Law is operating favorably. No man in his senses supposes that the traffic is yet entirely suppressed in New Hampshire, but no one hereabouts dares to sell the contraband article, or to use it to excess, without the utmost caution. No one we believe can sell to any considerable extent without being visited with the severe penalties of the law. The first prosecution under the new law in this town took place on Saturday night, 25th ult. George Jackson, a colored barber at the lower village, had procured a quantity of liquor at Weathersfield, Vt. as he confessed, and was found in a glorious state of intoxication and kicking up a row generally. On complaint of William Dodge, Esq. a warrant was issued and placed in the hands of Chief of Police O. G. Robinson, who promptly arrested Jackson and conveyed him to the lobby at the Town Farm and placed in "durance vile," where he was kept until next evening, and was then let out on the most solemn promise that he would not be caught in another scrape of the kind.

MANCHESTER.—The Mirror says that in the Police Court on Friday, Luther Aldrich was complained of for being a common drunkard. His own family complained of him. He was sent to the house of correction last spring, for ninety days, but some chicken-hearted man got him pardoned out. At the time he was sent there then, he was found threatening his wife with a butcher-knife.—He has a son now sick with typhoid fever, but the heartless father regards it not, and instead of aiding his family in their time of grief, he adds to their troubles. He was sentenced to the house of correction for ninety days, and to pay costs.

James Higgins, a boy, was complained of as a vagabond. He was a sad sight—clad in rags and tatters. It appeared that he was in the habit of getting drunk, sought no employment, enticed away small boys, and was full of mischief. He was sentenced to hard labor in the house of correction for thirty days, and to pay costs.

TUESDAY MORNING, the Methodist society, accompanied by their leaders, made a trip to the Shoals, and returned the next day, with sunburnt countenances, having had a fine time. Great coats, top boots, thick mittens, brandy punches frozen so hard as to be broken with a hammer, are in the bill of fare. The proceeds of the trip will be expended in the frescoing of the church, whose walls are as bare as a barn door.—Dover correspondent Boston Times.

But they shouldn't go in for ornamenting their church through such questionable means. It looks as if their hearts were as hard as the frozen brandy punches, or their throats as dry as the bare walls of their church.—Hartford Times.

Not so. Our Hartford namesake should understand that they do these things in a more humane way in New Hampshire than they do in Connecticut—although we have heard of a Hartford West India dealer who gave a hogshead of rum toward the erection of a meeting house in one of the towns of the Land of Steady Habits.—Boston Times.

All readers "should understand" that the story about the brandy punches of the Methodist society, is just as true as the statement that they were frozen so hard as to be broken with a hammer. That is, it is the merest fiction, without a shadow of foundation.

THE BUMFORD CASE.—The Concord Reporter, and the Independent Democrat, both mention that Solomon Bumford of Canterbury, pleaded guilty in a liquor case;—but do not say a word about the sick child mentioned in the Patriot's report. We do not doubt the Patriot's statement that Bumford made the plea; but are inclined to think the Court did not believe the whole of it.

Of 22 indictments the Democrat says:

Five cases were obtained on testimony furnished by the city authorities, and 17 by evidence produced by the County Temperance Committee. It is said the Committee have in their possession much evidence for future use. This county will sustain the law energetically, we doubt not, and the Committee will go ahead.

DEATH OF JUDGE CRANCH.—William Cranch died at Washington, D. C. on Saturday evening at the age of 86 years. He had served in the Court of the District of Columbia for nearly 55 years. He was eminent for learning, for the soundness of his opinions, and for the purity of his character.

He received his first Judicial appointment from John Adams, in 1801, when he was appointed Junior Assistant Judge of the United States Circuit Court of the District of Columbia.

In 1805, Judge Cranch was appointed by President Jefferson to the office of Chief Justice and by virtue of that office was sole Judge of the District Court of the United States for the District of Columbia, which has the same jurisdiction as the other District Courts of the United States. Judge Cranch published nine volumes of Reports of Cases in the Supreme Court of the United States, a memoir of the life, character, and writings of President John Adams, read before the Columbian Institute March 16, 1827, and an address upon the subject of temperance in 1831, a small pamphlet. He was a member of the American Academy of Arts and Sciences, and of the American Antiquarian Society.

The negroes of Norfolk, having nothing else to do, (all work being suspended,) hold religious meetings at their churches every day, and the loud wailing and psalm singing cantings of the sons and daughters of Africa resound constantly through the air with a melancholy and solemn cadence.

COAL.—The Pictou, N. S., correspondent of the Boston Post states that more coal is being shipped than ever before.

LOCAL.

POLICE COURT—MONDAY—Before Justice Odell.—Andrew Goodrich's case, for a sale of liquor, came up—but he was discharged, the only witness declining to testify on the ground that it would criminate himself.

Goodrich was also charged with being a common seller—but the witnesses swore they knew nothing—and the culprit was discharged.

KITTERY SHIP BUILDING.—Our correspondent "Down East" sent us, several days ago, a communication for which we had not room at the time; and the purport of which we now think, on a second or third reading, can be more pleasantly stated in a brief and non-controversial article.

Geographically, Portsmouth Navy Yard is in Kittery, Me.—Very true; so it is; and yet it does Portsmouth exactly as much good as if the great channel ran the other side of it. The view is just as pleasant; the ornament as great.

So of the merchant ships and their builders; so of the merchants and ship masters. Badger's Island and Capt. Samuel Badger's building yard are both in Kittery; and a large number of our ship builders, carpenters, and other mechanics, engaged on ships, on both sides of the river, were born in the County of York. Of our merchants also, and ship masters, not a few claim their birth on the east side of the river.

It does not hurt our dignity in the least, nor offend our love of country, nor damage our patriotic feeling, to hear the phrase Kittery Navy Yard—a Kittery ship—a Kittery captain. We have not the least objection to them; but the port happens to be the Port of Portsmouth; and so quite naturally all the ships built therein are called Portsmouth ships. Nevertheless, New Castle, Kittery, Eliot, &c., are all on the shores of the old harbor of Piscataqua; and are all entitled to their respective shares of the honor belonging to Portsmouth built ships, Portsmouth navigators and Portsmouth merchants.

Our adopted citizens, i. e. those citizens who have chosen to adopt this as their place of business in preference to their own birth places, are, as Down East intimates, many of them, among our most active, enterprising and liberal men. We are very glad of them; and they form a valuable element in our population: to us they are Portsmouth people, though some of them were born beyond the river, and others beyond the ocean. We would cherish no narrow view, no sectional prejudice.

NOVELTIES IN BUILDING.—Mr. Joseph A. Dorr is building a spacious, and it is thought safe and durable, building, for a bakehouse, &c., in the place of the fine wooden building burnt last spring. The materials used for the walls are irregular stone and cement—forming what is termed the concrete wall. He will have a "Granite Bakery" this time, in reality. Mr. Dorr has made the old wilderness at the lower end of Jaffrey's Court, now Linden street, to blossom like the rose. Success to him.

Messrs. John Durgin and D. R. Ambrose are each building an octagon house at the west part of the city—Mr. Ambrose on the northeasterly corner of Islington and Cabot streets, and Mr. Durgin on the easterly side of Salem street. The latter, at least, is to be built according to the plan of the Fowlers—the sides being each sixteen feet, which give a finish of fifteen feet for the rooms. These houses are to be of wood, and will be watched with general interest as to the success of the experiment here.

DEATHS BY DROWNING.—There is no doubt now remaining, as to the lives lost by the upsetting of a whale boat off Rye on Friday.—They were Capt. Charles Mitchell, jr., aged 43; and Mr. Joseph Lewis, aged 54; both of Kittery Point. Mr. Mitchell leaves a widow and two children; Mr. Lewis was a widower, and leaves nine children from 7 years upwards.

WILLIAM U. MOULTON, Esq, editor of the Boston True Flag, and Miss Ellen Louise Chandler, were married in Connecticut, last week. Mr. Moulton is a native of Portsmouth, son of the late Joseph Moulton; and a practical printer, having worked for some time in the Journal office. The True Flag is one of the best papers of its class, and we are glad friend Moulton's industry and enterprise meet so full a reward. Miss Chandler is well known to the literary world under the signature of "Ellen Louise," and as the author of a book entitled, "This, That and the Other," and of newspaporial articles.

We wish them much blessedness in the matrimonial state, and the paper an increasing prosperity.

PORTSMOUTH ASSOCIATION.—The Portsmouth Association of Baptist Churches will hold its annual session with the Middle street Church, in this city, the present week. The session will open by a sermon on Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock, and will close on Thursday afternoon. All the services will be public.

TOO TRUE.—Bishop Clarke of Rhode Island, says that while the world is perishing for lack of knowledge, and multitudes, even in Christian lands, never heard the word Jesus, except when His sacred name is used to paint a jest or adorn a blasphemy, five sixths of all the theological intellect is expended in mutual controversy and recrimination.

MEXICAN NEWS.—New York, Sept. 3.—Santa Anna left the city of Mexico on the night of the 9th ult., at the head of 1400 men, under the pretence of quelling the revolution in the State of Vera Cruz. On arriving at the fortress of Perote, he threw off the mask, and unveiled his real design. He there issued a proclamation, depositing the government in the hands of Pavoni, Vega, and Salas, and immediately departed to Vera Cruz, where he arrived on the night of the 15th. On the night of the 17th he and his family embarked for Havana.

In the meantime, Santa Anna's ministers at the city of Mexico took French leave, and Gen. Carrera, at the head of the only troops left in the city, pronounced for the plan of Ayuntla, naming Carrera President pro tem., and Vega Commander-in-Chief of the troops.

On the 13th, a mob of 8,000 or 10,000 marched to the square, and attempted to enter Santa Anna's palace, for the purpose of destroying the furniture, but they were repulsed by the soldiery.

The National Intelligencer, referring to the complaint that our Goverement refuses to pay Santa Anna the remaining three millions of the ten millions agreed to be paid to him, publishes the third article of the treaty, with the following comments, as an act of "sheer justice to the functionaries of the United States":—

"In consideration of the foregoing stipulation the Government of the United States agrees to pay to the Government of Mexico, in the city of New York, the sum of ten millions of dollars, of which seven millions shall be paid immediately upon the exchange of the ratifications of this treaty, and the remaining 3,000,000 as soon as the boundary shall be surveyed, marked, and established."

The seven million dollars, as is known, were duly paid according to this provision of the treaty; but, as the survey of the boundary referred to is very far from being completed, and the boundary, of course, not yet marked and established, the remaining three millions are not yet due.

SANTA ANNA IN NEW YORK.—The N. Y. Herald learns that a suite of rooms has been secured at the Metropolitan Hotel, in that city, by a Mexican gentleman, for "a party of distinguished Mexicans," who are expected to arrive shortly, and intimates that the "party" is to consist of Santa Anna, his family and followers, who are expected to take up their abode there for the present.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 1st.—Judge Kelley charged the jury at noon in the case of the colored men, charged with assaulting Colonel Wheeler at the rescue of his slaves, but no verdict has yet been returned. In his charge, Judge K. used the following language: "A man may bring his slave into this State, but he makes him a freeman thereby. Force may not detain him, at any time whatever. A slave cannot by virtue of the laws of this State remain upon its soil. The object of the Pennsylvania act of March 3, 1847, was to remove every law from our statute book from which ingenuity could seek to make it appear that slavery could in any way exist here."

CHICAGO, Sept. 1.—Judge Elmore has written a letter to the Hon. Caleb Cushing, dated, Shawnee Mission, August 23d, in which he states he has not violated a single law of Congress, or order of the Department, and that he is satisfied that his case was prejudiced, and his removal was decided on the grounds of policy. He also says that by the 27th section of the Kanzas Nebraska act, he holds office for four years, and gives notice that he will resist the action of the President through the Courts.

The last number of the Squatter Sovereign doubts the reliability of Governor Shannon in regard to the slavery question.

CHICAGO, Aug. 30.—In the Kanzas Legislature on the 21st August, the concurrent resolution denunciatory of President Pierce, for removing Judge Elmore was debated. Mr. McMeeker thought the President should be taught to know his place.

Mr. Stringfellow did not object to the vote of censure, but thought they were making themselves ridiculous.

Mr. Blair said that Ex-Governor Reeder was removed only to prepare the way for Elmore's removal.

Mr. Whitlock thought the President should have sent a battalion of soldiers to slaughter the whole crowd of free soilers.

Mr. Weddle looked upon the President as a mean Yankee, and a double dyed coward.

An amendment was finally adopted leaving the resolution about the same as the original.

VERMONT CROPS.—Through a large portion of the state a traveller says the farmers were not more than half done haying. The crops of hay, grain and apples are very large, almost unprecedented. The peach and plum trees were mostly killed last winter.—The potato disease has begun to appear in various sections of the state.

MEAT CHEAPER.—The New York Times is rejoicing in the knowledge that for an entire year, or since the drought of 1854, there has not been so abundant a supply of good meat in New York as there is now. The price of beeves fell in New York market, on Wednesday, from a half to one cent a pound.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 1.—The President, wife and suite arrived here this afternoon after an absence of seventeen days at the Virginia Springs.

G. W. STONE'S
OR
Family Physic,

The most important discovery ever made in Medical Science, being a compound of Barks and Roots, which forms the most powerful, safe and agreeable Physic ever offered to the public.

THE necessity of such a Medicine has long been felt both by the heads of families and Physicians. Its advantages over cathartics given in the form of Pills or Powders, must be obvious to every intelligent person. It operates more immediately and effectually upon the system, and at the same time is infinitely less difficult to administer, being quite agreeable to the taste. It not only produces all the effects where physic is required, but completely removes habitual Costiveness, leaving the bowels perfectly free. It expels all humors from the blood, is a certain cure for the Piles, regulates the action of the Liver, frees the Stomach from Bile, invigorates the whole Nervous System, and removes the cause of all local pains, such as

RHEUMATISM, NEURALGIA, TIC DOLOREUX, GOUT, PAIN IN THE HEAD, SIDE, STOMACH, &c.

It may also be relied upon in all diseases of the Bowels; Dysentery, Diarrhœa and Cholera Morbus yield at once to its magic influence. Again we repeat, TRY IT!—it needs no other recommendation. No family will be without it after they have properly tested its merits. Reader, if you have tried other remedies, without success, despair not—relief is now at hand. Are you suffering with Scrofula, six bottles of my Liquid Cathartic will cure you. Would you be relieved from habitual Costiveness?—three bottles will effect all that you desire. If you are afflicted with Rheumatic, Neuralgic, or other local pains, two bottles will free you from them. All humors will be eradicated from the blood by the use of from one to six bottles. In short, if you require a physic for any purpose, this is the most reliable, safe and agreeable to the taste that has ever been placed within the reach of the public.

PRICE $1.00.

DEAD SHOT FOR BED BUGS.

A SURE death to these noxious disturbers of our nightly rest. Apply it to insects and it curls them up and lays them out as readily as Sulphur Fumes kills Bees

It has no equal in the market. The whole world cannot produce a substitute of similar value to the comfort of a neat tidy housewife. Its application is of little trouble, while the benefit which may be derived from a single night's undisturbed repose is incalculable.

SANCHO PANZA

Called down "blessings upon the head of the man who first invented sleep." How much more worthy such honorable distinction would he consider the inventor of the Dead Shot, who, by his Pungent and Deadly Preparation, has rendered utterly impossible the ancient bloody forays of such 'tolerable and not to be endured' tormentors; and who has enabled every one to guarantee to himself his own particular share of "tired Nature's sweet restorer."

DISGUISED.—The editor of the Johnston Echo recently became the presence of a splendid new suit, which completely destroyed his identity. Hear him:

In our new costume we promenaded the streets, meeting numerous and once intimate friends, who, after being saluted, old reminiscences revived, and explanations made, recognized us. Strangers, upon hearing our name mentioned, supposed we were Smith the banker. One of our neighbors, after being satisfied of the identity, kindly accompanied us home and introduced us to our family.—Our wife was overjoyed at meeting us, but our children seemed rather distrustful, and were some time in becoming familiar.

No FAMINE.—The Buffalo Republican foots up the total of 1,468,976 barrels of flour from the opening of the navigation to the 15th of August, at seven ports in that state, and makes some plain comments upon the course pursued by the produce dealers in keeping up prices to famine mark during the past season. It says that now they are obliged to "dickse" off their surplus in the face of the large receipt anticipated from the new crop.

AMERICAN AND FOREIGN OFFICE.
Agency for business with US Patent Office, Washington,
76 State st, oppo. Kilby st, Boston.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION TO INVENTORS.—The Subscriber (late Agent of the U. S. Patent Office, under the Act of 1837) determined to present advantages, in applying for Patents, superior to those offered to inventors by others, has made arrangements whereby on pending applications prepared and conducted by him, THIRTY DOLLARS, instead of twenty, as paid back by others, will be remitted by him in case of failure to obtain a patent, and the withdrawal through him within thirty days after the rejection. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments and all necessary papers and drawings, for procuring patents in this and foreign countries prepared, and advice rendered on legal and scientific matters respecting inventions, and infringement of patents.

Inventors can not only here obtain their specifications on the most reasonable terms, but can here avail themselves of the experience of 20 years' practice, an extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and correct accounts of patents granted in this and other countries; besides being saved a journey to Washington, the usual great delay there, as well as all personal trouble in obtaining their patents. Copies of claims of any patent furnished by remitting one dollar.—Assignments recorded at Washington.

R. H. EDDY,
Solicitor of Patents.

"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. There were few, if any persons acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent Office; and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the best informed and skillful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure them the rights and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."

PIANOS.

WAREROOMS,
NEW FREESTONE BLOCK,
No. 409 WASHINGTON STREET,
NEAR BOYLSTON STREET.....BOSTON.

Opinions of the Press.

It is now generally acknowledged that the Pianos manufactured by Hallet, Davis & Co. are unrivalled in America, if in the world, for brilliancy or purity of tone.—Boston Daily Times.

An immense volume of sound can be produced by these Pianos without shattering the tones, as they send forth the most perfect, bell like notes, and we must confess that we have never listened to their equals for power, brilliancy, sweetness of tone, and purity of action.—Boston Herald.

The Pianos of Hallet, Davis & Co. deserve more than a passing notice. They are truly splendid instruments, very powerful, and of the purest and richest quality of tone.—Boston Traveller.

In regard to purity of tone, power and sweetness, being fully equal to any instrument that has come under our observation.—Boston Courier.

Owing to the beautiful elasticity of the action of your Grand Piano Fortes, I think it would be impossible for any Pianist, who plays properly, to break either a string or a hammer.—Extract from a Letter from Wm. Mason.

The peculiar feature of Hallet, Davis & Co.'s instruments is, they make no noise. Nothing but pure tone is produced by the vibration of the strings; and the construction of the sounding board, and action are such that skilful pianists, after once testing their merits, dislike to use any other instrument in the Concert room.—Philadelphia Sunday Mercury.

I find them to be very superior instruments—as well in tone as in touch.—Extract of a Letter from L. M. Gottschalk.

I can unhesitatingly say that I find them superior in quality and quantity of tone, to those of other makers; also in the elasticity and easy touch; and can cheerfully recommend them to any one who wishes to own or play on the best Pianos.—Extract of a letter from Robert Heller.

NEW BUILDING MATERIAL.—We had an opportunity, a few days ago (says the Salem Gazette) of examining a new building material, which from its appearance, and the representation made to us, we should judge can hardly fail to supersede most others, unless time should affect it injuriously. It is a manufacture of actual stone, by the use of the same material which nature uses, brought together and the process so hastened by the help of art and science, that the results which would require centuries of nature's slow workmanship, is effected in a few hours. Messrs. Chapman, of (North) Danvers, have established a manufactory of this artificial stone, near Rev. Dr. Braman's church and the Holton estate, and propose immediately to build a house of it, in order to exhibit its capabilities.

☞The invention is of western origin, the process having been discovered by Mr. Ambrose Foster. Acting on the established fact, that hydrated (wet) lime, when exposed to the action of the atmosphere again, takes up the carbonic acid which it lost in the process of burning and slacking, and so becomes indurated, Mr. Foster set himself to work to find out the proper proportions of sand and lime to form a species of sandstone. These he found were one part lime to twelve of sand. He also found that in order to effect a more perfect combination, the lime and sand should be mixed in a nearly dry state. The mixture is then run into moulds, and subjected to great pressure. When placed out in the atmosphere, a chemical change begins. The moisture of the atmosphere enables the lime to again take up the carbonic acid, and the whole is transformed in the course of a few days into stone of remarkable hardness, cast into the proper form, and in all other respects ready for ordinary building purposes.

The surface now presents the appearance of a whitish sandstone, while month after month, and year after year, the same chemical changes are going on, and the blocks become harder and harder, till at last they are said to be as indestructible as granite itself. The blocks from their nature, are impervious to damp, and one great advantage is, that from their smoothness and beauty, lathing and plastering become unnecessary, and the outside and inside of a wall are made at the same time.—Owing to their great strength and hardness, these blocks may be manufactured with perforations, as in the specimen which was shown to us. This is a saving of material and gives many other advantages.

Lime and sand, it is well known, are more plentifully scattered than the clay, from which the common brick is formed, consequently Mr. Foster's invention, unless time should disclose some defects not yet discovered, will materially decrease the cost of building, since by the machinery of manufacture, which is portable, they can be made in almost all localities more cheaply than the most common brick. Metalic oxides may, where necessary, be incorporated with the materials, so as to give any shade or colors required, or produce an apparently almost indistructible imitation of any kind of marble or stone.

THE BURLINGTON MASSACRE.—On Wednesday, at Burlington, N. J., twenty-five persons were killed and some fifty wounded by what is called a railroad accident. Since the disaster at Norwalk, in 1853, no such wholesale slaughter had occurred on any railroad in the country. The facts have been clearly ascertained by reporters of the different journals and are duly spread before our readers.—The points in the case which especially call for comment are the following:

1. Though this road is one of the greatest & most profitable thoroughfares in the country, it has but a single track. This is owing to the corrupt monopoly system maintained by the State of New Jersey, in defiance of her interest and the public welfare, and to the destruction of her good name. Had there been two tracks, this dreadful event had not happened.

2. The highway across the railroad was neither carried over a bridge, nor protected by suitable gates with proper attendants to prevent carriages from going upon the track except when absolutely safe. Had those safeguards existed we should not now deplore this sickening calamity.

3. The conductor saw the danger and tried to stop the train—which, our readers will remember, was running backward—but the bell-rope was out of order, so that he could not ring the bell. But for the derangement of this apparatus the calamity might possibly have been avoided.

4. The train was running backward at an extraordinary and unjustifiable rate of speed, considering that the engineer could not see any obstacles on the track. Had proper prudence been observed in this respect many families would not now be mourning the dead of that awful catastrophe.

5. The train was out of its time. Had it been running according to the regulations of the road there would have been no such slaughter.

These are the facts which form the character of this whole affair. They appear to us to show conclusively that the Camden and Amboy Company are pecuniarly responsible to the sufferers, and that the conductor and engineer are criminally responsible to the public. In any other country than this, and we had almost written in any other State than New Jersey, they would at once be arrested and tried for murder.—New York Tribune.

SALEM HIGH SCHOOL.—The Salem Gazette says—The plans and specifications have been lying at the City Hall for some time past, and they certainly do great credit to the taste and skill of our young townsman, the architect. The building will be surmounted by a cupola, and will have entrance at each side. It will be 105 feet long, 55 feet high, and 78 feet to the top of the cupola.

Blake's Patent Fire Proof Paint.

THIS extraordinary substance has now been tested nearly nine years, and its Fire and Water Proof qualities are most extraordinary. Instead of the action of the weather destroying the coating as it does ordinary Paints, it only serves to turn it to a perfect Slate or Stone, protecting whatever covered from the action of Fire or Weather.

Morning Chronicle.

WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 5, 1855.

AN EXCURSION.

A correspondent of the Boston Real Estate Register, says, "being in Burlington at the late Commencement of Vermont University, I saw a handbill, issued on the evening of that day, that a pleasure excursion to Montreal would leave by steamboat the next morning at six o'clock, to connect with the Plattsburg and Montreal Railroad"—to return in the evening and night. He went accordingly.

On calling at the Captain's office to pay our fare, we found him evidently in high glee, remarkably sociable, somewhat silly, not a little profane, and exceedingly good natured; but in a state which, in my judgment, would have given some alarm to stranger passengers, if he had been the pilot. It was said that he belonged to a Band which played at the ball the previous night, and seemed not quite over with his jollification. How that may be, I know not, but in spite of our apprehensions, we were conveyed to Plattsburg in good time and entire safety, and no one had any reason or disposition to complain.

The train contained 1700 passengers,—and was carried through without accident.

Of the return trip he says—

It was soon evident that the Maine Law had not been enforced while we were in Montreal. The sweating, and staggering, and screaming, and fighting that filled up our hour of waiting, gave me a phase of miserable humanity which I have not witnessed before since the days of Temperance commenced.—It was ominous of what we might expect for the night which was approaching. * *

We had not long enjoyed our peaceful settlement before a rowdy set of 'squatters,' with a bottle of rum, took possession of one end of our car. We concluded forthwith to emigrate; and took up our abode upon another car. But from this we were soon driven by another gang, no more hopeful. A third time we moved farther on and found a car already occupied by three or four who seemed to be seeking quiet, and we took up our lots. And whenever any quiet, sober looking men or women appeared, I invited them to be seated, declaring my object to establish a civilized community. It was not long before we had gathered such a staid looking body as to constitute a repellant force to the rowdyism that was promenading back and forth while waiting for the return boat. The boat returns, her freight is transferred to the cars, with the exception of those who by reason of their drunkenness and fighting require the aid or interference of their friends. At length, 'all aboard,' we start for home. Four miles are made, the whistle screams, the cars stop, and four whom rum has so crazed that they will not stop fighting are pitched off the train.—We proceed—a set of drunken rowdies promenade continually from car to car, fights ensue, swearing and screaming are continued. At length two men come to our car and seeing that we are dwelling quietly, ask the favor of bringing two or three ladies to take seats with us, because for the last two or three hours they have had so much fighting on their car, and so many times men have fallen against them that they are desirous of a peaceful retreat. We welcome them to our community, which, with the exception of one or two stupid inebriates, still sustains the principles on which it was established, and the men stand guard to keep the crazy fellows from following. How so many drunken men could be carried on such cars without the destruction of life or limb is indeed a marvel.

The reader may make his own comments; if he will please to remember that the laws and the drinking usages in Montreal, are at this day something like what they were in New Hampshire forty years ago.

MAINE ECONOMICS.—An intelligent friend from the Middle States, has been spending a few weeks of the past Summer, in a large and rather old farming town in Maine. It is an inland town, without any extensive manufactures, but well cultivated, and contains some villages. There used to be a considerable number of stores, and in all of them intoxicating liquors were sold: now there are but few, and no liquor is sold in any of them, except at an agency;—and but little at that.

Some of the results are, that half the men formerly in the stores, now till the soil; that the lawyers, all but two or three old fellows, have vamoosed; probably gone to Boston; and the old ones are mostly employed in looking after their lands. And lastly, to our friend a most unlooked for result, the blacksmiths of the place have lost more than half their business, which used to consist chiefly of repairs of chains, carts and tools of husbandry.

All these things, said an intelligent and sober blacksmith, are in better repair than ever; but the farmers don't break them half so often; and we, the blacksmiths, now spend half our time in farming.

EXETER.—The News Letter states that the sale of intoxicating drinks has been almost totally suppressed within the limits of Exeter but not quite. Stephen Morrill, on Monday, August 27th, was picked up drunk, and not disclosing, was sent to jail for 30 days, by Justice Wood.

HANDSOME CONTRIBUTION.—The sum of $202 has been contributed in the Charleston Courier office for the benefit of the Virginia sufferers, and forwarded to Norfolk, with the direction that one-half was to be sent to Portsmouth.

KANSAS.—We are indebted to George Henderson, Esq., for a copy of the Kansas Tribune extra, printed in Lawrence, K. T. It is dated August 15th, and filled with an account of the proceedings of a great "peoples' meeting" held in the town of Lawrence the day previous. The meeting continued through two days. The Tribune says not less than 600 persons were in attendance, from all parts of the Territory. The present Legislature of Kansas was ignored by the squatters, and a State organization recommended. "There was a deep feeling of indignation manifested against the outrageous acts of usurpation and tyranny by which their people are enthralled, and a determination manifested to resist these usurpations at all hazards." Resolutions to this effect were passed; also complimentary of ex Governor Reeder's course; and recommending the Territorial Free State Executive Committee be requested to call a Convention on the 5th of September, "to take such action as the exigencies of the times demand.

Rev. Isaac Burns, of Platte County, Mo., a Methodist preacher, has been threatened with tar and feathers if he remains in that vicinity. In order to conciliate the ruffians, and save the church in Platte County, Bishop Morris of Cincinnati, has published a letter addressed to Mr. Burns, in which he denies that the Methodists are abolitionists, and says: "They are merely Methodists, and their object is to get as many sinners converted as possible." But Rev. Mr. Burns is not willing to skulk behind any cowardly subterfuge of that sort, and comes out with a letter in which he adheres to the declaration of his church discipline, and is "as much as ever convinced of the great evil of slavery."

MANCHESTER.—On Friday, in the Police Court, George Young was convicted on three complaints, and bound over to a higher court, on the following testimony, as reported in the Mirror:

Charles F. Weeks.—Called at Geo. Young's last Saturday for one gallon of rum. Some one told me where it was—don't know who. I drew it. Paid eighty cents for it; laid it on the counter. Paid a bill and Mr. Young gave back the change.

Cross Examined.—Bought the liquor for sick folks—a man sent for it by me.

Thomas D. Dearborn.—Was at Young's last Saturday, and got a pint of brandy.—Asked him for the liquor. Don't know who put it up for me—don't know as I paid for it. Had some other stuff and paid my bill, and don't know whether he took pay for the brandy or not.

Cross Examined.—Bought the liquor for use in my family in case of sickness.

John L. Quimby.—Purchased liquor of George Young last Saturday, four glasses of cherry brandy. Helped myself to the liquor. It was near by in a decanter. Paid no one—laid money for it on the counter. Saw a man get some rum there. He laid the money on the counter. Did not see any one take it.—Think Young was present. Don't know as Young owns the store.

☞ We learn from the Exeter News Letter, that the walls of the new Town House are nearly completed. The building will be substantial and elegant.

☞ The Free Library at Newburyport is to be opened to-day, at the city hall. The number of volumes is 5500, with funds on hand sufficient to add 1000 more—and its prospects are bright.

THE BIBLE IN TURKEY.—In the monthly paper of the British and Foreign Bible Society, is the following statement:

It is a remarkable fact that years ago our Society possessed only a small obscure depot in Galata, which was opened only twice a week, and where the Turks never put their foot in, and the Christians entered it rarely and by stealth. Now, besides the great depot, which is kept open all day long in the most frequented street in Constantinople, leading to the principal bazzars, the Society's books are exposed for sale in the grand street of Pera, at the Scripture Readers' Depository and Reading Room at Galata, at the London Jews' Society's stores at Constantinople; and last, but not least, they are hawked about the streets of this vast capital by colporteurs, and may be met with on the great floating bridge, and other parts of the city, taken there by venders of books.

HOW ARE THE MIGHTY FALLEN!—Where is the Whig party? asks the New York Herald. Where is that same old coon? Where are the Castle Garden Union Whigs? The party seems now to consist of Mr. Franklin Dexter, of Massachusetts, Mr. Washington Hunt, of New York, and Mr. Benjamin of Louisiana. We might include Mr. Bell of Tennessee, but he has dallied with the Know Nothings. So passes away the glory of this world.

THE ALMY SHOOTING CASE.—Charles E. Almy, the young man arrested for the murder of his cousin at Little Compton, R. I., about a fortnight ago, was released from confinement in the jail at Newport, Friday, the Grand Jury having refused to return an indictment against him. The most convincing proof of his insanity at the time he fired the fatal shot was submitted at the examination. He has been placed in the Butler Insane Asylum, at Providence.

The wife of Mr. John Currie, farmer, of West Gwilliambury, Canada, was killed by lightning last Thursday. Her clothing was torn off and set on fire, and within a radius of six feet the ground was perforated in six places, all obliquely, as it by grape shot.

Colonel Hart, United States Consul at Smyrna, died suddenly at Teneriffe, July 22. He was author of 'Miriam Coffin' and other literary works.

LOCAL.

APPLES.—We understand by the newspapers, that there are great crops of apples in many states; and we believe there are some in New Hampshire. As evidence that some are expected, we may state that one of the largest farmers in this county has just contracted for two thousand new apple barrels to be made forthwith. The staves passed through this city on Monday and Tuesday, and are to be put together on the farm.

EATING AND LODGING HOUSE.—By our advertising columns, it will be seen that the City Hotel has been transformed into a public house somewhat on the European plan—viz., to furnish good lodgings, and meals as ordered; so that each man pays for what he eats, and no more. Such an establishment, rightly conducted, we should judge would receive liberal patronage. Mr. Marden is an old and favorite hand at serving up oysters, &c.; and Mr. Downs will also be found an attentive and accommodating landlord. We commend the City Eating House to strangers visiting our city.

☞ Somebody, or probably bodies, have been doing considerable in the way of pilfering, of late. Fruit orchards and hen roosts have suffered. We advise the rascals to have a care how they again enter one man's garden we know of—for he may treat 'em to gunpowder, peas and salt.

CHIEF JUSTICE JAY'S VIEWS OF SLAVERY.—In a letter, written in the year 1780, when in Spain, to his friend Egbert Benson, who, at that time, was the Attorney General of New York, he says: "An excellent law might be made out of the Pennsylvania one for the gradual abolition of slavery. Till America comes into this measure, her prayers to Heaven for liberty will be impious.—This is a strong expression, but it is just. Were I in your legislature, I would prepare a bill for the purpose with great care, and I would never cease moving until it became a law, or I ceased to be a member. I believe God governs the world, and I believe it to be a maxim in his, as in our court, that those who ask for equity ought to do it." In another letter written at a later period he observes: "It is much to be wished that slavery may be abolished. The honor of the states, as well as justice and humanity, in my opinion, loudly call upon them to emancipate these unhappy people. To contend for our own liberty, and to deny that blessing to others, involves an inconsistency not to be excused."

CONCORD, Sept. 4.—Haskell, and the woman Brown, convicted of the murder of Washer, on Saturday last, were this morning sentenced to be executed at Concord, on the 2d day of October, 1856.

Coleman & Stetson, proprietors of the Astor House, were arrested on Tuesday, and held to bail on a charge of violating the liquor law.

COURTESY.—During the funeral of Lord Raglan not a Russian gun was fired. In return, as soon as the church bells began tolling, announcing the death of Admiral Machinoff, all the allied batteries were silenced.

Telegraphic accounts announce the arrival of Santa Anna at Havana and his departure for Caraccas.

Mrs. Captain Peck, commander of a canal boat, was arrested twice for assault and battery in Albany on Wednesday.

The Mexican Ex-President, Arista, died suddenly, lately, in Europe.

SEDUCTION AND FEARFUL RETRIBUTION.—The quite town of Warrington was startled from its apathy, on Wednesday morning, by a tragic occurrence, which shocked alike the feelings of all the inhabitants. That our readers may understand the particulars, we will relate the story as it was told us. Mr. A. J. Lamberton, Postmaster at Warrington, discovered on Tuesday evening Mr. J. Jones, a pilot of this port, in a criminal connection with his wife, but he (Jones) escaped from the premises before he could attack him. The circumstances wrought upon the feelings of Mr. L. to such an extent that he wandered like a maniac all the night of Tuesday, and early on Wednesday morning he procured a double-barrel shot gun, which he loaded with heavy charges of buckshot, and lying in wait for Jones, discharged one barrel at him as he was crossing the street from his house, which did not hit him.

Jones then turned and ran toward his house, and just as he was entering his gateway, a second shot from Lamberton killed him instantly. Mr. L., after taking advice, departed immediately and has not since been heard from. Both gentlemen were well known and highly respected among the community in which they lived, and were on the most intimate terms with each other. Of the frail, false creature who betrayed her husband's honor, crushed his spirit of life, and abandoned her children, with an indelible mark of shame, we have heard nothing reliable since her infamous conduct which led to the bloody catastrophe.—Pensacola Gazette.

PHILADELPHIA Sept. 3. The Wheeler Case. The jury in the case of the men arrested in the matter of the alleged rescue of Mr. Wheeler's slave returned their verdict to-day. It declares all the defendants not guilty on the first count, charging them with riot; but on the second count, which charges them with assault and battery, the verdict is not guilty, in respect to all, except Ballard and Curtis, who are pronounced guilty.

Eben Lipscomb has been tried, convicted and sentenced to death, in Preston county, Virginia, for killing his wife, the mother of seven children. He tried the fashionable dodge of insanity, but Dr. Stribling, of the Western Lunatic Asylum, gave a patient examination to him and his history, and ignored the craziness.

A writer in Putnam, in alluding to the Parisian ecstacies concerning Ristori, says "it is, possibly, as real and dignified an excitement as that which New York experienced upon the decease of the late lamented William Poole!"

POPULATION OF CHARLESTOWN.—The census recently taken shows a population of between twenty-one and twenty-two thousand, exclusive of the marines at the Navy Yard and the inmates of the State Prison.

On Sunday afternoon, a young man named William Pond was drowned in Spy Pond, Cambridge, in consequence of the upsetting of a boat in which he was sailing, in company with a friend.

We learn from the New Bedford Standard that two slave children, one six and the other eight years of age, have just been purchased of their owner in Washington city, by contributions of citizens of New Bedford and Boston.

DEAD SHOT FOR BED BUGS.
A SURE death to these noxious disturbers of our nightly rest. It is to insects and it curl them up and lays them out as readily as Sulphur fumes kills Bees
Called down "blessings upon the head of the man who first invented sleep." How much more worthy such honorable distinction would he consider the inventor of the Dead Shot, who, by his Pungent and Deadly Preparation, has rendered utterly impossible the ancient bloody forays of such "tolerable and not to be endured" tormentors; and who has moreover every time to guarantee to himself his own particular share of "tired Nature's sweet restorer."

A HEROINE.—Miss Lucy E. Andrews of Syracuse, N. Y., has arrived at Norfolk, where she has tendered her services to the authorities as a nurse for the hospital, and she was duly installed as a ministering angel to the sufferers by the yellow fever. In addition to this noble sacrifice of self, Miss Andrews made a donation to the Howard fund, and requested to be called on again if more funds were needed. Such instances of disinterested philanthropy are rare in this sinful world. She is the true Christian.

Aye, rare indeed. To us Miss Lucy E. Andrews is more to be honored than he who has conquered the world. Her sacrifice and devotion arise as a sweet savor unto him who bade us visit the sick and bind up the broken-hearted. Heaven's brightest blessings shall fall about her earthly pathway, and at last the voice shall say to her in tender tones of love, "Come ye blessed; inasmuch as ye did unto these, ye did it unto me."—Great Falls Jour.

TRIAL FOR ASSAULT AND EVADING THE PAYMENT OF RAILROAD FARE.—In Salem, before Justice Waters, three men named Chas. and Gilbert H. Chase and ——— Tarbox, were brought up charged with refusing the payment of their fare on the Eastern Railroad. The parties had been to the military encampment on Winter Island, and took the last train from Salem on their return to West Lynn where they belonged. When called upon for their fare, they refused to pay, and when put out of the cars at Lynn the first named two assaulted the police officers who were on board the train to preserve order, biting one of them in a severe manner. For evading the payment of their fare they were each fined $15; for the assault, a fine of $16.50 was imposed.

HAYES'S MEDICINES.

Allied Ointment and Humor Syrup
will cure you just as sure as you use it. Take not our assertion for it, but the testimony of a thousand living witnesses. It will waste in a trial—it advertises itself. One bottle has sold a hundred in a single town. Reader, do you ask how you shall know these statements are facts, when there is so much humbuggery is advertisements? We will inform you: call on any of our agents, get a circular, select any names you please, address a line to that individual—they will speak—they are living witnesses. It will cost but a trifle, and must convince the most skeptical. We subjoin one from among the many.

Read the following, it speaks for itself:

LAWRENCE, June 12, 1854.

We the undersigned, citizens of Lawrence, having used the Vegetable Allied Ointment prepared by D. B. HAYES, of this city, and being personally acquainted with the Doctor, feel pleasure in adding our testimony to all the doctor claims for his medicine. Unlike other remedies in the market, this preparation performs its office speedily and with certainty. The ointment we have used with the most happy results, after vainly seeking relief by the free use or Sarsaparilla, Salves, &c.

Our experience fully justifies us in confidently recommending it as the article, and the only one known to us, as performing all it claims.

A. S. BUNKER. A. W. STEARNS,
S. I THOMPSON. ASA T. SANBORN.

It cures Salt Rheum, Scrofula, Erysipelas, White Leprosy, Cancerous Humors, Ring Worm, Scald Head, Burns and Scalds, Chilblains, Piles, (a preparation expressly,) Barber's Itch, Fever Sores, and all old Mercurial Sores, however long standing. It removes all those vexatious Pimples, Eruptions and Moles or Mildew from the face leaving the skin perfectly soft and smooth, adding greatly to the beauty of the complexion. In no case will it leave a mark or scar. It improves the sight wonderfully, where the eyes are troubled with humors, by removing the difficulty and restoring the sight.

Price of the Ointment, $1; Syrup 50 cents.

Opinions of the Press.

It is now generally acknowledged that the Pianos manufactured by Hallet, Davis & Co. are unrivalled in America, if in the world, for brilliancy or purity of tone.—Boston Daily Times.

An immense volume of sound can be produced by these Pianos without shattering the tones, as they need forte playing perfect, bell like notes, and we must confess that we have never listened to their equals for power, brilliancy, sweetness of tone, and purity of action.—Boston Herald.

The Pianos of Hallet, Davis & Co. deserve more than a passing notice they are truly splendid instruments, very powerful, and of the purest and richest quality of tone.—Boston Traveller.

In regard to purity of tone, power and sweetness, being fully equal to any instrument that has come under our observation.—Boston Courier.

Owing to the beautiful elasticity of the action of your Grand Piano Fortes, I think it would be impossible for any Pianist, who plays properly, to break either a string or a hammer.—Extract from a Letter from Thos. Mason.

The peculiar feature of Hallet, Davis & Co.'s instruments is, they make no noise. Nothing but pure tone is produced by the vibration of the strings; and the construction of the sounding board, and action are such that skilful pianists, after once testing their merits, dislike to use any other instrument in the Concert room.—Philadelphia Sunday Mercury.

I find them to be very superior instruments—as well in tone as in touch.—Extract of a Letter from L. M. Gottschalk.

I can unhesitatingly say that I find them superior in quality and quantity of tone, to those of other makers; also in the elasticity and easy touch; and cheerfully recommend them to any one who wishes to own or play on the best Pianos.—Extract of a letter from Robert Heller.

"It has given me perfect satisfaction, and I have only to regret that it is not applied to all the topsail yards. On the passage to this port, (Charleston, S. C.,) it experienced strong gales from the S. W. and had occasion to use it several times, and on every occasion it worked finely."

BURNING FLUID.—Of the manufacture of this most dangerous stuff, the Boston Chronicle says:

There are no means by which we can give the exact number of gallons, or barrels, or thousands of barrels of burning fluid and camphene made in this city during one single year, but we do know that the business of making these mixtures and of manufacturing lamps in which to use them, employ hundreds of men and hundreds of thousands of dollars. Scarcely twenty years ago, burning fluid was discovered and patented by John Porter; but not until within the last nine years did it come into general use. Could the patentee arise from his grave and see to what an enormous extent the business he founded has grown, he would be scarcely less astonished than Rip Van Winkle when he arose from his centurial slumbers on the banks of the Hudson. He would remember the time when scarcely a hundred dollars would cover his sales for a year, and would stand aghast when his eye ran down the long columns of figures and saw the sum of $180,000 as a token of the amount sold by his successors in the same time. Could he visit the distillery and see the immense cisterns of molasses in a state of fermentation, the huge stills and roaring fires, the long curling worms, the alcohol stills, and a brook of fluid almost sufficient to work a mill running continually into lake-like tanks; could he witness the numbers of barrels, coated with glue, ready to be filled with that mixture that shall aid the student in his studies and the mechanic at his toils, that shall give light to brilliant assemblies in palaces, or enliven the motley crew at the stranger's wake; and then to think of his ten gallon can, he could but exclaim, as he returned, "where will the improvements of the 19th century stop?" From the far West and the sunny South, from the East and the North, orders perpetually pour in for Boston manufacturers to supply; and the demand is not confined to this country alone, for large quantities are shipped to the Mediterranean and to other sections of the world.

We wish the Chronicle would collect and give the public as accurate a statement as possible, of the amount of alcohol, spirits turpentine, &c. used for these purposes: also the whole amount of liquors distilled, imported, exported and sold in Boston.

LADY NAPIER AND THE MONKEYS.—Lady Napier related to us an amusing incident in connection with animals. As she and Sir Charles were coming down the Mahableshwur Hills, they chose to pitch their tent and remain for the night on a spot which was inhabited by a tribe of monkeys. These beasts were drawn by their intense curiosity close to the travellers, and Lady Napier sent for some nuts, put them into the pocket of her apron, and fed one which was bolder and tamer than the rest, with them. When they withdrew into the tent, their apish guests likewise retreated.

On awaking next morning, Lady Napier was startled at finding that her purse, which was in the pocket of the apron, had been stolen in the night. An inquiry was instantly made, and a close search instituted in her room for it, but in vain, and she had come to the conclusion, that some of those skilful Indian robbers, who can steal the sheets from under one, unfelt and unseen, had carried off her property, for the loss was considerable.

When walking by chance into the back enclosure of the tent, she found her friend the monkey seated in grave dignity with her apron on, imitating her yester-evening's action, and supplying the want of nuts with her gold and silver coins, which he scattered liberally around him. He was suffered to empty the purse, when they tried to catch him, but, so far as we remember, did not succeed; he returned to his woods clad in a black satin apron! and doubtless played for the future the part of the monkey who has seen the world.

DEATH OF A LADY OF THE DAYS OF THE REVOLUTION.—Mrs. Elizabeth Knights died in Charlestown, Mass., on Sunday, August 26th, at the age of 95. Previous to and during the Revolution, Mrs. Knights was a resident of the town of Lexington, and was in the habit of giving her young friends sketches of that early battle field, as when it occurred she was nearly 15 years of age. She particularly spoke of the different emotions excited by the terrible scene then going on; the panic of some, the patriotism and bravery of others, and as the battle raged, of the dying and wounded Americans who were borne past her house.

The Colonists were determined that their arms and ammunition, which they perceived would soon be of priceless value to them in defending the rights which they had so bravely advocated in the town meeting and the legislative hall, should not be taken from them, and therefore constructed hiding places which the inquisitive search of the British officials could not discover. One old farmer, she says, had some cannon balls. They would not probably have been of great value to the British if they had found them, but into his well they went, and there probably remain to this day. These living witnesses of that glorious period in American history are fast disappearing, and it cannot be many years before the few that now survive will pass away.—What a thrilling sentence will that be—"He was the last survivor of the American Revolution."—Boston Traveller.

TRIED TO CUT HIS THROAT.—Luther Aldrich, who was yesterday sentenced to the House of correction for ninety days, attempted to cut his throat with a knife. It was at the house where he lived, whither he had gone with officers Ellis and Densmore, before going to the Farm, that he might get a suit of clothes. As soon as he had got into the house he drew a dull knife from his pocket, made an earnest effort to take his life, cutting his throat in three places and drawing the blood freely. But the instrument was too dull for the occasion, and he was stopped before much harm was done.—Manchester Mirror.

THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 6, 1855.

CIDER—CIDER.

The Boston Mail contains an editorial about Cider, as it is affected by the Massachusetts Law. Here is an extract:

There is a good crop of cider apples this year, but when the farmer undertakes to turn them to their legitimate use, he is met by the rigid features of the law. He cannot make cider out of them (except for his own use,) without subjecting himself to fine and imprisonment. If he undertakes to grind the apples in his mill, with the purpose of selling the product, he has the pleasure of looking forward to a six months' residence in the county jail. Those who have been in the habit of manufacturing cider for others, cannot now continue the practice, for, if they do, the prison is before them. Those who have a supply of last year's cider in their cellars dare not sell one pint thereof, for if they undertake to, they will see more of iron bars than will be agreeable. Thus is the farmer hemmed in on all sides. He must either let his apples rot, or use them to fatten pork; and the long vista of winter opens before him more than ever cheerless, because he can obtain no cider.

This certainly is attacking the farmer where he is naturally sensitive. A barrel of cider is as much an essential of a farm house, as chairs, tables or beds. Custom has placed it there, and it is an act of cruelty to take it away.

The New Hampshire Law differs from that of Massachusetts, inasmuch as in this State anybody may sell domestic wine and cider, in any quantity, with this restriction only, that they are not to be drank on the premises where sold.

The editor of the Mail seems to be laboring under some errors about the law in his own State, and not to be very well posted up in the gains or losses of cider making, in its relative importance to the apple business, or the common usage among farmers.

In the first part of the first paragraph, above quoted, the farmer has many apples, and can make cider for his own use only, but may make so much that he will not know what to do with it: but in the latter part of the same paragraph, he looks cheerless for lack of cider.

The second paragraph bestows uncalled for sympathy on the farmers; at which most of them will laugh.

Forty years ago, cider was the table drink, at dinner, all over New England. Now, water has taken its place, almost entirely. Forty years ago, every family in Portsmouth, which was able to lay in anything, laid in its barrel of cider annually; many families laid in their hogshead each; and not a few private families of 10 or 12 persons laid in their three or four hogsheads.

At this day, our of out 1000 or 1200 families, we suppose there are not 50 who lay in so much as a single barrel; and we have not seen a hogshead of it going into any man's house-cellar in the city these dozen years.

But few of our farmers in this vicinity now make cider at all. Say 20 each, in Portsmouth, Newington and Greenland: though 40 years ago almost every farmer did so; and every large farm had its cider mill. In this connexion, we would inform the Mail, for the benefit of its farmer readers, that farmers this way used to make cider on shares, so that none of them need to be very gloomy for want of it. The farmers, by the way, knew all this before, though the Mail does not. Farmers know, also, that if every drop of the cider now made, stood for vinegar, there is a good demand for the whole of it.

Last, but not least, the cider making business, as is well known, does not pay well. It is about the poorest business the farmer does; while the raising of good apples is about the best.

For this reason, the farmers about us have, within a few years, grafted all their cider orchards which were not too old; there has not been a new cider orchard planted within a dozen miles of us for 25 years past; and there will probably never be another.

Not much indignation can be got up among farmers, about cider.

FREEWILL BAPTISTS, MAINE.—It was voted at the late session of the Cumberland Quarterly meeting of Freewill Baptists, that the following resolutions, adopted by that body, be sent for publication in the Portland papers.

Resolved, That we recognize with heartfelt pleasure the rapid advance of Temperance and the diminished sale of intoxicating liquors in our State since the adoption of the Maine Law.

Resolved, That we regard the present Anti-liquor law of Maine in all its essential features as it now stands, just what the temperance cause and the other best interests of the people demand, and that it is our duty as philanthropists and Christians to vote in the ensuing election so as promptly to sustain that law.

Resolved, That as a Conference we are deeply interested in the contest now going on between Liberty and Slavery, and we pledge our influence as ministers and laymen in support of liberty, and against the unholy encroachments of the slave power.

J. M. BAILEY, Clerk.

We should call that somewhat political, up this way.

For the Chronicle.

Messrs. Editors:—Judging from the criticisms we hear made in regard to the course pursued by our lawyers in criminal Courts, I apprehend there is a great want of clear perception in the public mind, as to what is the right and proper course.

For the purpose of directing attention to this subject and drawing out the views of others, I herewith state briefly my views of the subject, and commend them to the careful perusal of some of the lawyers in this city.

It is the duty of the counsel, both for the State and for the prisoner, to elicit the whole truth, and present it fully and clearly before the judge. And to do this fully and impartially, it is necessary that the counsel for the State should exhibit all the facts and circumstances that tend to criminate the prisoner; and the counsel for the prisoner should exhibit all the facts and circumstances that tend to exculpate the prisoner. They are both to deal with facts and circumstances as they believe did occur.

To lie, to deceive, or to deny the truth, will injure a lawyer's soul just as much as that of any other person, and it should affect their character and standing in the community the same as it should affect that of any other class of men.

If the counsel for the State seeks to make out the prisoner guilty, when he knows the honest truth would make him innocent, such a counsel is guilty of a base crime and injustice against the prisoner, and deserves the same punishment as would be awarded the prisoner if proved guilty.

So also if the counsel for the prisoner resorts to any falsehood, deceit, or subterfuge, himself, or instructs his witnesses to that course, to clear the prisoner, when he knows the truth would convict him, such a counsel is a participator in the crime of the prisoner, and equally guilty with him.

No honest lawyer can take advantage of an error made by the person who draws up the complaint or indictment, when it is unquestionably a mere mistake, and does not materially affect the indictment. In short, it is the duty of the counsel to endeavor to secure justice to those they act for; but when they endeavor to thwart justice for the sake of making out a case, they are a disgrace to the profession and a nuisance to society.

PRINCIPLE.

ACCIDENT.—In Newburyport, on Tuesday, a little son of Mr. J. W. Hardy, about six years old, was crossing High street, and his attention being diverted for a moment to a playmate left behind him, he came in contact with the end of a large stick of timber which was being hauled by on wheels. The stick crushed his right foot to the ground, tearing the flesh nearly all off, and struck the left ancle, taking out a piece of the bone.

While it behooves drivers of all sorts to "take heed to their ways," it can hardly be recommended as the best plan, to cross public streets backwards, or with the "attention diverted," as is not uncommon, especially with children, who would be more safe if kept out of the streets, or accompanied when in them, until old enough to know better.

SAWDUST AS BEDDING FOR HORSES.—The Boston Times states that 300 cords of sawdust has been brought from down-east saw-mills, to be used as bedding for the omnibus horses in Hatherne's stables in that city, instead of the more expensive article of straw. It costs, freightage and all included, about $3 per ton; and it is thought will be fully as convenient in the use as straw, and as comfortable and healthy for the horses.—We have tried it during the past summer, and prefer it to the best straw.

A correspondent of the New York Evening Post, at Frankfort, Ky., speaks of Fairbanks, who is now in prison for a second time for enticing slaves to run away, as being very melancholy. His sentence is for fifteen years.

Rather a melancholy affair to be for any cause shut up in close prison fifteen years:—and rather a melancholy spectacle in the Land of the Free, to see such a man shut up fifteen years for such a cause.

Hail! Columbia, happy land!
Hail! ye heroes, heaven born band,
Who fought and bled in Freedom's Cause!

☞ Nathaniel Perkins and H. A. Barnes, have been examined in the Police Court at Manchester, on a charge of resisting the police officer and rescuing one Hunt, a prisoner arrested for a breach of the law for suppressing intemperance. They were found guilty, and bound over to the Supreme Court.

THE SUPREME JUDICIAL COURT, commenced its session at Amherst on Tuesday, Chief Justice Perley presiding. In the capital cases he will be assisted by Judge Bell. Nothing but criminial cases will be tried at this term. There will be three capital cases, if Curtice of Windsor is re-tried for poisoning his father; Simon Meserve of Goffstown for killing Hezekiah R. Brown with a pitchfork, on the 24th of March, in this city, and Levi Johnson, a pauper; for killing, in Hillsborough, Jesse C. Kendall, with a shovel, on the 5th of last June—Manchester American.

The market price of hay in Aroostook Co. Me., is said to be $5 per ton, and large tracts of grass land are left uncut, as the farmers believe it will not pay for the cutting.

LOCAL.

POLICE COURT.

WEDNESDAY, Sept. 5.

Before Justice Odell.—Wm. R. Preston, druggist, was charged with selling one pint of Alcohol to John K. Pickering. The testimony shew that the application was made and the article delivered in the presence of the City Marshal.

For the defence, B. Hutchings, apothecary, testified that Alcohol is not in commerce considered as a spirituous liquor, but is generally known as a drug.

The Solicitor objected to this testimony, as inapplicable; but it was admitted, after argument.

The bottle and liquid, as furnished by the apothecary, were exhibited; and the witness stated it to contain camphor.

Dr. Oliver—Did not know that alcohol is ever used as a beverage; it would make a person drunk.

The Counsel for the defense, W. H. Y. Hackett, Esq. rested his defence on two points: 1st, That there was no sale, the alcohol being a gift; and 2d, That Alcohol is a drug, and therefore not amenable to the law.

The Solicitor, Mr. Hatch, prosecuted the case, not con amore, but from a sense of official duty, in view of the penalty; and took the ground that the sale had been proved; that anything containing spirits—even the various tinctures of the apothecaries were liable under the law; that the law intended to give towns and cities a monopoly of the trade; and that any other decision would repudiate the law.

The justice was of the opinion that the law would not allow of so broad a construction as that claimed by the Solicitor. He was not fully prepared to decide the matter, but would postpone the decision to Monday morning at 9 o'clock.

BAPTIST ASSOCIATION.—The Portsmouth Association of Baptist Churches met in the Middle street Church in this city, on Wednesday morning. Rev. Mr. Cook presided as moderator; and the association was well attended by clerical and lay delegates. The opening sermon was by Rev. Mr. Cookson, from Colossians 1: 16, All things were created by him and for him. The sermon was mainly built on this idea, that All things were created for Christ. It was an able performance, and was heard with interest by a good audience, considerably more numerous than forenoon assemblies of this kind are wont to be in this city on a week day.

The afternoon was devoted to Association business; chiefly to hearing brief statements of the condition and prospects of the several churches and societies.

☞ We learn that a barn in Kittery, belonging to a Mr. Fernald, was accidentally set on fire by some children, on Tuesday. But little damage was done, as Elder Paine was on hand with a garden engine, and, assisted by the ladies of the neighborhood, who kept the "machine" constantly supplied with water, soon put out the fire. The Commodore sent an engine to the scene of action from the Navy Yard, but the ladies and the Elder subdued the flames before it arrived.

POTATOES.—Visits to two or three neighboring towns, and numerous inquiries of farmers in all the towns around this city, enable us to say that the amount of rot thus far, is but light, compared with the whole crop: not enough to affect the price.

PORTLAND.—On Monday last Deputy Marshal Ring obtained a warrant to search the Depot of the Portsmouth, Saco & Portland Railroad; also the freight house and cars;—and in company with the Marshal, went thro' the building. Mr. Eaton, the freight agent, came in and demanded why they were there. Ring replied that it was by virtue of a warrant to search, and put his hand to his pocket for the purpose of drawing out the warrant; when he was seized by Eaton, who attempted to put him out of the cars. Eaton and the police had two different contests. At the close of the second, Ring examined the freight and discovered three 20-gallon kegs of rum, marked M. Lynch, Portland, which was immediately seized. Three barrels marked for Standish agency, were detained till the authorities of that town could be heard from. Five barrels marked Gardiner agency, were ascertained to be all right, and the Marshal had it carted to the Kennebec Depot.

In the Police Court, two complaints were entered against Eaton—one for assault in the cars, and another for aggravated assault. On the first complaint he was fined $10 and costs, and on the second he was bound over to the next criminal term of the S. J. Court.

LOOK OUT! STAND FROM UNDER!!—Some portion of our fellow citizens were most horribly alarmed yesterday, by a report that Mayor Dow obtained from the arsenal four hundred guns, with cartridges to match! The talk among some few was terrible indeed, and some appeared to be terribly frightened. But we are happy to quiet their fears, by saying that Mr. Dow has ordered no guns or cartridges, and has none in his possession, so that they can sleep peaceably, unless disturbed by the fears arising from their own guilty consciences.—Portland Adv., 4th.

Corn lower; sales 50,000 bush; mixed 84 a 85.

In Boston, same day, the market for Flour is dull, and sales at easier prices. Common brands Western have been sold at $8,25; fancy brands $9,75, and extras at $10 a $11,25 per bbl. Extra Genesee ranges from $10,50 to $12 as to brand. Southern is quiet at $9,-50 for fancy, and $10 a $10,50 for extras.

Corn quiet, sales of Western mixed at 96 a 97 c, the Southern yellow is held at $1 per bush. Oats 60 a 61 c per bush for Northern and Western, and 50 a 55 for Southern. Rye $1,05 per bush. Sugars and molasses advancing.

THE CROPS IN CONNECTICUT.—A gentle' man who has visited Hartford, Tolland and Litchfield counties during the past week, gives the most gratifying reports of the crop throughout that part of the State. Oats, barley, and winter rye have produced uncommon yields, and have been generally harvested with little damage by wet weather. The crop of hay was not all secured, but the amount already in barns more than equals the crop of any previous year since 1846. Apples, pears and grapes never looked better or promised a more abundant yield. Peaches have suffered by the early frost, and a hard winter. Potatoes have showed no appearance of the rot in that section of the State alluded to. Connecticut has seldom been blessed with such a promising harvest, and we opine that 1855 will be a year of plenty.

BURLINGTON, N. J., Sept. 4th.—The coroner's jury held two sessions to-day, had not been able to agree on a verdict. They met again this evening, and from present appearances, their deliberations will continue until a late hour, with but little prospect of a verdict. One body is still lying here unrecognized.

Later.—The body that has been awaiting identification has at length been recognized as that of T. Loveland, of the firm of Green, Loveland & Co. merchants of Laconia, Ill.—It was claimed this evening by Mr. Green, his partner, who came on from Boston afterward.

BURLINGTON, N. J., Sept. 5.—The verdict of the jurors on the Burlington railroad accident, was rendered late last night. The jury exonerate the conductor, and severely blame Dr. Heinekin, the driver of the carriage, and also the Railroad Company. Three jurors refused to sign the verdict.

VERMONT ELECTION.—There was considerable excitement and a very full vote was cast. Stephen Royce, the present Governor, 'fusion', has been elected by a thandsome majority. He was supported by Whigs, Republicans and Know Nothings. Merritt Clark was supported by the Democrats, and Messrs. Shafter, Wheeler and Slade received some scattering votes.

The Know Nothing Republican party have carried the Legislature without doubt. Returns from 48 towns show that result by three to one.

BALTIMORE, Sept. 4.—The steamer this morning brings awful tidings. There were 94 deaths from fever, in Norfolk, yesterday. The Herald gives the names of 35 who died on Sunday. The boat brought a large number of persons who had fled from the city, many of whom have sought a temporary shelter in the Rotunda of the Exchange.—The fever is said to be abating at Portsmouth, the deaths averaging ten daily. A committee of citizens of Norfolk have gone to Washington to ask the President's permission to remove the remainder of the inhabitants to Fort Monroe.

Sept. 5.—The deaths at Norfolk for the 24 hours up to yesterday noon, were 60, and the new cases more numerous than on any previous day.

At Portsmouth the deaths were 9, and new cases 15. The deaths occur so rapidly that it is impossible to obtain coffins for the bodies.

RAILROAD ACCIDENT.—We learn from Providence, that an accident occurred to the Steamboat train which left Stonington for Boston on Tuesday morning. A rail, it is said had been removed by some scoundrel, and the engine, with two second-class cars, and four of the six first-class cars were thrown from the track and completely demolished.—There were between four and five hundred persons on the train, whose lives were miraculously spared. Some of those in the two cars which were thrown from the track, however, received severe injuries. Benjamin Simmons of North Kingston, lost both legs; Robert Lawrenceson, mail agent, had one of his legs badly fractured; Patrick Hogan had his leg and chest badly hurt; David McNeill of Belfast (Me.) was injured in the back and spine; Mary Barry of New York, was wounded in the arm; Mr. Smith of Harnden's Express, had his foot badly crushed; Ann Wise of Salem, was badly bruised; Mrs. Leary of Salem was also considerably bruised. Several others whose names are at present unknown were more or less injured. The passengers subsequently held a meeting on board the steamer Plymouth Rock, at which Capt. Ebon Caldwell of Boston presided. Speeches were made by Dr. Peter Parker, Rev Dr. Chickering and others. Resolutions were adopted returning thanks to the various individuals who distinguished themselves in the trying emergency, and a committee was appointed to collect subscriptions for the relief of the sufferers, who subsequently reported receipts amounting to $193.

JUDGE HUMPHREY ON THE MAINE LIQUOR LAW.—Judge Humphrey charged the Grand Jury of Monroe County N. Y., that the Maine Liquor Law was constitutional; that imported liquors came within its restrictions, and that the jury was not to be judge of its constitutionality.

DEAD SHOT FOR BED BUGS.

A SURE death to these noxious disturbers of our nightly rest. Apply it to insects and it cuts them up and lays them out as readily as Sulphur Fumes kills Bees

It has no equal in the market. The whole world cannot produce a substitute of similar value to the comfort of a neat tidy housewife. Its application is of little trouble, while the benefit which may be derived from a single night's undisturbed repose is incalculable.

SANCHO PANZA

Called down "blessings upon the head of the man who first invented sleep." How much more worthy such honorable distinction would he consider the inventor of the Dead Shot, who, by his Pungent and Deadly Preparation, has rendered utterly impossible the ancient bloody forays of such intolerable and not to be endured tormentors; and who has enabled every one to guarantee to himself his own particular share of "tired Nature's sweet restorer."

THE CAMDEN AND AMBOY CATASTROPHE.—A gentleman informed us on Saturday morning that up to a late hour on Friday night, the wounded sufferers were doing as well as could be hoped for. On Thursday evening Dr. Goddard amputated the thigh of Mr. Gillespie, and on Friday morning the injured limb of Mrs. Gillespie. The former is rapidly sinking, and it seems almost impossible for the recovery of either.

The rumor of the death of Commodore Smith was unfounded, but Mrs. Smith, who was thought to be only slightly hurt, has since died because of her injuries.

Mr. Otis Fisk of Middleton, Ct., had a portion of his foot amputated on Thursday night. He is at the house of Caleb R. Smith. He seems to be easy and in a fair way to recover.

Rev. J. M. Connell, who was killed, was son of John Connell, Esq., near Wilmington, and left his father's house only a short time before the disaster.

William A. Hughes of Boston, whose arm was broken and otherwise injured, returned to his home Saturday.

There are only thus far 22 deaths that can be clearly identified. It is not improbable that some others will die.

During this sad calamity it appears that numerous thieves were busily about. Many gold watches and other valuable articles have been stolen.

A telegraphic despatch states that Mr. Gillespie, of Natchez, died at Burlington on Saturday afternoon, and that his wife was not expected to recover. A Philadelphia paper asserts that Mr. Gillespie, by his will, left his property, $600,000, in case of his death or that of his wife, to prosecute the railroad company to the last cent of his fortune.—Boston Atlas.

Try it! Try it! Try it!
G. W. STONE'S
—AND—
Family Physic.

The most important discovery ever made in Medical Science, being a compound of Barks and Roots, which forms the most powerful, safe and agreeable Physic ever offered to the public.

THE necessity of such a Medicine has long been felt both by the heads of families and Physicians. Its advantages over cathartics ordinarily in the form of Pills or Powders, must be obvious to every intelligent person. It operates more immediately and effectually upon the system, and at the same time is infinitely less difficult to administer, being quite agreeable to the taste. It not only produces all the effects where physic is required, but completely removes habitual Costiveness, leaving the bowels perfectly free. It expels all humors from the blood, is a certain cure for the Piles, regulates the action of the Liver, frees the Stomach from Bile, invigorates the whole Nervous System, and removes the cause of all local pains, such as

RHEUMATISM, NEURALGIA, TIC DOLOREUX, GOUT, PAIN IN THE HEAD, SIDE, STOMACH, &c.

It may also be relied upon in all diseases of the Bowels; Dysentery, Diarrhœa and Cholera Morbus yield at once to its magic influence. Again we repeat, TRY IT!—it needs no other recommendation. No family will be without it after they have properly tested its merits. Reader, if you have tried other remedies, without success, despair not—relief is now at hand. Are you suffering with Scrofula, six bottles of my Liquid Cathartic will cure you. Would you be relieved from habitual Costiveness?—three bottles will effect all that you desire. If you are afflicted with Rheumatic, Neuralgic, or other local pains, two bottles will free you from them. All humors will be eradicated from the blood by the use of from one to six bottles. In short, if you require a physic for any purpose, this is the most reliable, safe and agreeable to the taste that has ever been placed within the reach of the public.

PRICE $1.00.

PIANOS.

☞ Particular attention is solicited to our PATENT SUSPENSION REPEAT—also our PATENT GRAND ACTION, as applied to both Grand and Square Pianos.

NEW FREESTONE BLOCK,

NEAR BOYLSTON STREET.....BOSTON.

Opinions of the Press.

It is now generally acknowledged that the Pianos manufactured by Hallet, Davis & Co. are unrivalled in America, if in the world, for brilliancy or purity of tone.—Boston Daily Times.

An immense volume of sound can be produced by these Pianos without shattering the tones, as they send forth the most perfect, bell like notes, and we must confess that we have never listened to their scales for power, brilliancy, sweetness of tone, and purity of action.—Boston Herald.

The Pianos of Hallet, Davis & Co. deserve more than a passing notice. They are truly splendid instruments, very powerful, and of the purest and richest quality of tone.—Boston Transcript.

In regard to purity of tone, power and sweetness, being fully equal to any instrument that has come under our observation.—Boston Courier.

Owing to the beautiful elasticity of the action of your Grand Piano Fortes, I think it would be impossible for any Pianist, who plays properly, to break either a string or a hammer.—Extract from a Letter from Wm. Mason.

The peculiar feature of Hallet, Davis & Co.'s instruments, is, they make no scales. Nothing but pure tone is produced by the vibration of the strings; and the construction of the sounding board, and action are such that skilful pianists, after once testing their merits, dislike to use any other instrument in the Concert room.—Philadelphia Sunday Mercury.

I find them to be very superior instruments—as well in tone as in touch.—Extract of a Letter from L. M. Gottschalk.

I can unhesitatingly say that I find them superior in quality and quantity of tone, to those of other makers; also in the elasticity and easy touch; and can cheerfully recommend them to any one who wishes to own or play on the best Piano.—Extract of a letter from Robert Heller.

"It has given me perfect satisfaction, and I have only to regret that it is not applied to all the topsail yards. On the passage to this port, (Charleston, S. C.,) I experienced strong gales from the S. W. and had occasion to use it several times, and on every occasion it worked finely."

Morning Chronicle.

A SAD TALE.

In our yesterday afternoon's edition (says the Boston Mail, of the 4th,) we gave a paragraph headed an "Attempt at Self Destruction," giving an account of an attempt of a girl residing in Andover street, to put an end to her existence by taking a dose of laudanum. By accident the history of this young female may serve the purpose of preventing others from following in her footsteps. In a small town, within a few miles of Bangor, there lived a family of father, mother and three children, two sisters and one brother. The father was in comfortable circumstances, owning a small farm, the produce of which, with the help of three children, was enough to maintain them comfortably. In the fall of the year 1848 the oldest sister, being then nineteen, with the consent of the parents, came to Boston, and went into the workshop of a tailoring establishment in Ann (now North) street, to learn the art of making coats, pants, &c. This girl, whose name we shall call Matilda Powers, (her real name we suppress on account of her family,) was rosy-cheeked, with dark blue eyes, curly hair, a splendid form, and generally made up with all the requisites for being called handsome.—She plied the needle very dexterously, and at the end of three or four months was master of her trade, and could then make her five dollars per week. Being the handsomest girl in the shop, she naturally attracted the attention of the numerous clerks and runners visiting the place, and being of a lively disposition and good conversational powers, was not long in having any number of gentleman acquaintances. She was escorted by these acquaintances to the ball-room, concerts, theatres, and in fact to all the principal places of amusement in Boston, which she as readily accepted, and before the summer of 1850, she might be set down as one of the gayest of the shop girls of Boston. In April, 1850, she became acquainted with a handsome and well known clerk, who kept then, and now keeps in an extensive mercantile establishment in this city, and he had at first sight deliberately set upon her ruin. With protestations of sincerity and love, after an acquaintance of about a year, held out to her inducements to marry, and the young girl, having confidence in his word, yielded and strayed from the paths of virtue. A short time succeeded before the quondam lover began to grow weary of his burden, and forsook her almost entirely. With tears she would plead with him upon his unfaithfulness, but it was of no avail. He quit her altogether, and took up with another, to ruin.

Miss Powers after remaining about two years in the shop, all the while having the confidence of her employer, and keeping her secret within her own bosom, determined to quit Boston. She went home and stopped for a year, was discontented, returned to Boston, worked in a shop for a while, and being unsettled in mind, started for New York, where she let herself as bar-maid, and tended bar in a saloon in Canal street, near West Broadway. There she staid only for a few weeks, being beset by the rones of New York, which were extremely distasteful to her.—She hied back to Boston, and resumed her intimacy with her first lover, the Clerk, who now with her consent, kept her as his mistress.

The last month or two he has been off again, and Matilda has been doing the housework in a house of ill-fame in Andover street. Saturday she went to the Museum, there met her recreant lover, in company with another woman, and tried to induce him to leave her, but could not. She left for home, and determined to put an end to her misery, but overshot the mark. She took too much laudanum.

The name of the seducer we have in our possession, but for obvious reasons we refrain from publishing it. Let his own conscience be his accuser.

For obvious reasons he ought to be exposed and punished, if any law can reach him; or exposed and withered by the public scorn and contempt, if there be no such law. Such rascals ought to be put over the road.

VENERABLE CITIZEN GONE.—The Bangor Journal announces the death of deacon Eliashib Adams, in that city, at the age of 82 years. He had been very busy during the day he died, and his death took place suddenly at the residence of his daughter, Mrs. James Crosby, of disease of the heart. The Journal says of him—

Deacon Adams was one of the eldest citizens of Bangor; the precise date of his coming here we are not able to state, but as early as 1817 he was elected one of the Trustees of the Theological Seminary, a post which he held up to his death, and a portion of the time was Treasurer and Agent.

He leaves three sons, all of whom are clergymen of ability—Rev. Dr. George E. Adams of Brunswick, formerly a professor of the Theological Seminary, and now one of the Trustees, Revs. John C. Adams of Manchester, and Aaron C. Adams of Malden, Mass.

A British private in a letter relative to the battle of Inkerman, printed in the London Times, gives the following scene:

"In the heat of the battle a young Russian officer made himself very conspicuous, and appeared indifferent to danger. He was young, tall, handsome and indeed beautiful.—Twice I had my rifle raised to shoot him, but my heart smote me, and I turned it in another direction. In an hour I saw him again, but oh, how changed! His cheeks, which had been flushed with the heat of the strife, were now deadly pale. He lay, or half, reclined, on the edge of a hillock, and held the miniature likeness of a pretty young lady in his hand, which had been tied to his neck by a small gold chain. His eyes were fixed upon it, but they were fixed in death. I cannot tell you what my feelings were; indeed, I cannot venture—it would unman me."

FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 7, 1855.

ALARMING INCREASE OF INTEMPERANCE IN BOSTON.—Drunkards are swarming our thoroughfares. One can hardly pass through a single street without being jostled by a victim of the rum shops. Last Monday over sixty drunkards were brought before the Police Court. New rum shops are opening, and the business of making drunkards never was better in its palmiest days than it is now.—Boston Telegraph.

The sovereign people of Boston, in their capacity of jurors, have decided that the law which would stop nine tenths of all these things shall not be enforced in their goodly city; but that everybody who will, may sell as much as he pleases. Out of that city, and away from all the large cities in the State, Massachusetts people do enforce the law to a considerable extent.

And in all the other New England States connected as they are with Boston, the trade is crippled, the supplies considerably embarrassed, and in many places cut off. The natural effect of these causes, is to concentrate the filthiest of the filthy, and the vilest of the vile, in that city; and drunkards abound of course.

SOLOMON COME AGAIN.—Our readers will remember that we copied from the N. H. Patriot an item saying that:—

A HARD CASE UNDER THE NEW LIQUOR LAW.—Solomon Bumford, of Canterbury, pleaded guilty, on Tuesday morning, to a charge of giving away a glass of spirituous liquor to a woman who asked it for the use of a sick child. Bumford refused to take payment for the liquor. A fine of twenty dollars and costs of prosecution was rewarded for his deed of charity.

The Manchester Democrat says,

The facts in the case are that the wise Solomon has a wider reputation as a retailer of bad rum, than as a doer of charitable deeds.

Ay: here we have it. Solomon is a humbug: and the court took his plea for what it was really worth.

MASSACHUSETTS.—The regular Democratic State Convention met at Worcester, on Wednesday, and nominated Hon. E. D. Beach, (the candidate of the Liberal Union or liquor party,) for Governor. He had 318 votes, out of 518 delegates.

There was great excitement at the detection of an alleged attempt at fraudulent voting for candidate for Governor. A new ballot was ordered, with the above result.

The following is a summary of the resolutions:

1. Declares that the present crisis in national affairs demands a renewed expression of those principles promulgated by Jefferson, sustained by Jackson, and carried out by the American people in the election of Frank Pierce.
2. Avows fidelity to the Constitution.
3. Sustains the Administration.
4. Denounces the know nothings.
5. Compliments Henry A. Wise.
6. Declares opposition to all illiberal laws.
7. Avows the docrine of popular sovereignty and denounces the abolitionists who violate it.
8. Requires the delegates to the National Convention to be a unit, and governed by the will of the majority.
9. Sustains Beach and other nominees.

CAUSE OF SANTA ANNA'S FLIGHT.—"Inspector," the Washington correspondent of the New York Courier and Enquirer, learns from a gentleman just arrived from Mexico, that the admitted cause of Santa Anna's flight was the desire to save his private fortune, which is immense.

The skirmish at the National Bridge is said to have been occasioned by the attempt of the pursuing party to capture a particular box of gold, which, although marked as the private property of Santa Anna, was claimed to be government funds.

Who would have thought it? Has the corruption of the "United States of the North" flowed over into Mexico, and corrupted its patriot president? Alas, Santa Anna must be set down among the Swartwouts and Galphins, the Schuylers and Tuckermans of financial notoriety. The man who has had a free pass into and out of Mexico, at last passes himself off for a swindler.

MANCHESTER.—The city government have for a week past taken some very efficient steps in carrying into practical effect the new prohibitory law. We are aware that it is no easy task to do this in a city where the opportunities for evasion are numerous, and the obstacles to be encountered are neither few nor feeble. But during the past week, the authority of the law has been recognised, and the public illegal sale of liquor has ceased here. Several groggery keepers have been held to appear before the supreme judicial court, now sitting at Amherst. Among them is George Young, held on three complaints, with the prospect of more. Young has for years kept a dirty groggery out on the road leading to Massabesic, and intended to continue to supply the topers in Auburn and Candia.—Dem.

FIRST LIQUOR CASE IN NASHUA.—On Saturday, A. W. Ricker, of New Ipswich, was found drunk, and, upon being arraigned before Judge Pearson, plead guilty, and disclosed who sold the liquor to him. Upon his disclosure M. C. Moore was arrested and bound over for selling liquor illegally. Ricker, being unable to obtain bail for his appearance as a witness, was detained in custody.—Nash. Gaz.

JUDICIAL MODESTY.—Gleaner, a good writer in the Boston Transcript, says, very justly:

Infallibility is the attribute only of the judgment seat of God. Already there exists a large volume devoted to the enumeration of "cases doubted and overruled."

We have no Judge Kane in this latitude.—Imprisonment in the sacred cause of human freedom, under the odious doctrine of contempt of Court—an imprisonment perpetuated by judicial etiquette—has made the jail of Passmore Williamson the most honorable abode in Pennsylvania. The ermine of Massachusetts has upon it no each spot or blemish.—Her Judges need no champion—certainly not one who resorts to personalities. They may, indeed, well challenge the just criticism of the world. Far distant be the day when they shall feel themselves above listening to the honest sentiments of even the bamblest citizen!

PRIVATE TREATY BY THE EUROPEAN POWERS WITH THE DOMINICAN GOVERNMENT.—The N. Y. Herald says: A reliable correspondent in Madrid, assures us that a private treaty has been made by France, England and Spain with the Dominican Government, in which the latter, for a certain consideration, has pledged itself to the following conditions, viz.: no settler from the United States, of any class or color, shall be encouraged to hold lands, or take up their residence in St. Domingo; no land, for mining purposes, factories, or coal depots, shall be sold, leased or ceded, either to private companies or to the American Government, without the prior consent of the French and British Governments.

This reads like a humbug; but it may be true.

FIRE IN NEWBURYPORT.—At half past 4 o'clock, Wednesday morning, the steam saw and planing mill, in the shipyard of Mr. John Currier, was discovered to be on fire, and so rapidly did the flames spread that nothing was saved of the contents, and in a few moments the main building which was under a separate roof from the boiler and engine house, was completely wrapped in flames.—This fire was probably the work of an incendiary, as it broke out in a part of the building distant from the furnace and engine, and where no fire or light had been used. The loss is estimated at $12,000, on which there is only $2500 insurance which is at the Haverhill Mutual office.

In addition to the destruction of the property belonging to Mr. Currier, a large quantity of the tools of workmen upon the ships in the yard were destroyed. The models of several ships, and the moulds and draught boards of two ships under contract were destroyed, involving much labor in the reconstruction of the work.—Herald.

MASSACHUSETTS.—The Whigs of this State are to call a convention for a straightout Whig nomination for Governor. But two or three of their State Committee are favorable to fusion and none of them to the Liberal nominees. Among all parties, it is probable that Gov. Gardner will be re-elected by about the same majority that he had last year. The Fusionists, the Know Nothings, and the Free Soilers, have undoubtedly a hundred thousand voters, and there is reason to suppose that most of those persons will cordially unite on the present Governor.—Newburyport Herald.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 5.—A collision occurred last night on the Camden & Amboy Railroad between a freight train and a charcoal wagon. The driver of the latter was killed, together with his two mules.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 4th.—The funeral of Judge Crauch took place to-day. The members of the bar, judges, municipal authorities, President Pierce, and the Attorney General were present.

The Norfolk Committee waited on the President to-day, to obtain Fort Monroe as a refuge for the citizens now remaining in Norfolk. They were courteously received, and the cabinet is in session to night, to consider the subject. The Committee anticipate a favorable answer to morrow. The amount now collected here for the fever sufferers is about $5,000.

CHARLESTON, S. C., Sept. 3d.—Murder at Sea.—The ship Ariel, from New York for Shanghae, was brought into this port to-day by the cutter Allen. The captain, Ayers, had been murdered at sea, as it was supposed, by two apprentices, named Henry Girard and George Anderson. The U. S. authorities have charge of the vessel, officers and crew. The Captain was found dead in his berth on the 17th of Aug. by the first mate, who at the request of the passengers, officers and crew put the vessel back.

TRENTON, N. J., Sept. 5.—The State know nothing convention met today. Seventy five delegates were present. They debated the slavery platform of the last convention all the afternoon, and finally passed a resolution explanatory of their sentiments, in which they declare the repeal of the Missouri compromise a violation of faith, and that it ought to be restored.

VERMONT.—Montpelier, Sept. 5.—Returns from about a hundred towns indicate the reelection of Mr. Royce by the people, by a majority of from 10 to 15,000. The house will be Republican and American by ten to one.

In Washington county, a strong effort was made by a union of democrats and straight out whigs to defeat the republican ticket, but the latter is successful, by at least 800 majority, and has carried every town in the county.

Frederick Frothingham, of Montreal, has accepted the call of the Second Unitarian Society, (Park street) Portland, to become their pastor.

BALLOON ASCENSION ON HORSEBACK.—On Monday the 20th ult. Mr. Elliot, the well-known aeronaut, made a balloon ascension from St. Louis, upon horseback. His Pegasus, it is said, behaved himself in an admirable manner, and during the ascent looked down upon the earth in wonder and astonishment. The balloon descended safely near the mouth of the Missouri river, about fifteen miles from the city.

LOCAL.

For the Chronicle.

Messrs. Editors:—Please to give me a little space for a few remarks on Law and Lawyers. Your correspondent "Principle," seems to have been very quick with his pen, to get in his comments the very day after a trial. My reply to him is, that he does not appear to understand the character of most men who compose the legal profession; though all he says about honesty is true.

In the case tried on Wednesday, for the unlawful sale of Alcohol, many who heard Mr. Hatch's construction of the law were very much surprised by it. He conveyed the idea that the law intended to give towns a monopoly of the sales of alcoholic medical tinctures; and he gave it so wide a sweep that it might include burning fluids. He also intimated that a majority of the people were against the law.

I have no doubt the majority are against the law as he expounded it, for he put it in an odious light. I have no doubt the majority are against all odious monopolies. But a majority of our good people are in favor of such laws as will, by shutting up dram shops, diminish drunkenness and disorder. And they are willing to put themselves to some inconvenience, in order to procure so great a benefit.

The Maine law has a section which goes into a description of certain medical compounds, and forbids their sale, though I believe that section has not been enforced in any case. But the New Hampshire law has no such section, nor prohibition. The men who drew up the New Hampshire law had the Maine law before them.

If they had meant to include drugs and medicines, they would have said so. But they have not said it: and therefore I do not believe they meant it.

I am not positive whether they meant to prohibit the free sale of alcohol, or not. If they did, it is unfortunate that they did not name it, as in the Price Currents and elsewere, it is classed as a drug, and not as a liquor, and is usually sold by wholesale druggists, and not by liquor dealers.

If now I may speak of the law, I must regard it as unfortunate that every town, however small, must have one agency, and that no one, however large, shall have more than three. I should have preferred that every druggist who was previously in the business should be an agent under proper restrictions, for medical and chemical purposes: on the general principle that all new laws should disturb old usages no more than is strictly necessary.

I do not believe that the New Hampshire law intends to create a medical monopoly; nor yet to declare itself in favor of all the medical uses to which liquors are put. It intends to diminish drunkenness by prohibiting the sale of intoxicating drinks; and in doing so, not wishing to go too fast, permits a sale of liquors for medicinal purposes; thus making it legal, but not pronouncing it good.

In conclusion it may not be amiss to remark that if our County Solicitor so expounds the law as to make it as odious as possible,—he is not the only person who can prosecute. Any one can do so, who understands the process. It is greatly to be desired however, that every law officer should do his duty faithfully and honestly, or else resign his place. HOMO.

☞"Homo" is informed that "Principle" did not comment on the Alcohol trial. His article was in type when the trial took place.

LAUNCH.—We are informed that the Light Boat now on the stocks at this Navy Yard, is nearly completed, and will be launched on Tuesday next. She is designed to be moored on Nantucket Shoals.

HISTORY SET RIGHT.—We are now told that it was not Elder Payne who put out the fire at Kittery, but another Rev. gentleman, viz., Mr. Austin of this city, whose summer residence is near by the place where the fire occurred, and whose garden engine was found to be so serviceable. Mr. Austin, the ladies of the neighborhood, and a few boys, were the fire department pro tem.

DESTITUTION.—Officer Jenkins, of Station 1, while going his rounds at a late hour last evening, found a woman, who gave her name as Jane Eckles, sitting in a doorway in Prince street, with a child but twenty four hours old in her arms. She said she was from Portsmouth, N. H., and was friendless and destitute. The officer provided her with a temporary home.—Boston Times.

Who is Jane Eckles? Does the City Marshal know her? or does the City Missionary? We have no family of the name in this city, unless they are new comers. We suspect Jane Eckles is a humbug; for if she really belonged here, she would probably have been at our almshouse.

☞ Hon. Lewis Cass, of Michigan, arrived in this city on Thursday morning; after remaining in the city a few hours he took the cars for Concord, N. H.

MUNICIPAL.—In the Board of Aldermen, on Thursday evening, a resolution was adopted authorizing the Mayor to draw on the Treasurer to pay approved bills on new school house.

Proposal to purchase a one acre gravel lot for $300—referred.

No quorum in Common Council.

BAPTIST ASSOCIATION.—The exercises of the Portsmouth Association of Baptist Churches, were continued on Wednesday evening, by a sermon in the Middle street Church in this city, delivered by Rev. Mr. Jennings.

The meetings were well attended by citizens and visitors. They were closed on Thursday by a meeting for conference and prayers.

ARRIVAL OF THE ATLANTIC.

By Conductor Cram we received a Traveller Extra, with Liverpool dates to Aug. 25, seven days later, by the Atlantic, arrived at New York.

Breadstuffs—there is an advance of 2s on flour, and 2d a 3d on wheat, and on corn 6d. Western Canal Flour at 41s; Philadelphia and Baltimore 40 a 42s; market closing quiet and steady. The weather had been rainy and unfavorable.

No further events of any importance have occurred in the progress of the war, but there are copious details of Sweaborgh bombardment, and the battle on the Tchernaya. The Russian loss at Sweaborg is reported at only 40 killed and 160 wounded. The fortifications were destroyed.

Two British ships had fired on Riga without effect. The squadron on the White Sea continued to destroy stores, &c. The British in the Sea of Azoff have blown up the sunken Russian ships of war.

The Russian loss in the battle of Tchernaya was nearly 4,000 killed and wounded, and of the allies only 1,000. The Russians were not pursued across the river, and held their former position.

Affairs before Sebastopol were quiet and unchanged, as well as at Kars.

Various rumors were current of a new Peace movement.

YELLOW FEVER.

BALTIMORE, Sept. 5.—Intelligence from Norfolk, via Richmond, is as usual more high colored, than the account received direct by boat. Mayor Fish of Portsmouth is reported dead. Rev. P. Willis, Methodist minister of Norfolk, is said to be dead. Com. Page has the fever. Richard Gatewood, correspondent of the associated press, and junior editor of the Beacon, is hopelessly ill. A large supply of provisions and other necessaries were sent down by the Baltimore relief committee this evening. The Baltimore relief fund is now $13,000.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 5.—The President, after consultation with the Cabinet, has caused an order to be issued to the commander of the Gosport Navy Yard, giving to him the discretion of closing that yard, and advancing a month's pay, to all employees who wish to leave.

An order has been issued to the commanders of other yards, to employ such refugees, if they wish employment.

In response to the Norfolk committee, the President has decided that he cannot grant their request to give up Fort Monroe as a place of refuge for the citizens of Norfolk on account of the time required to remove the troops and other residents from that post, as well as the want of a suitable place elsewhere for their reception.

The President and Cabinet have paid the committee $125, as a contribution for the relief of the sufferers.

Sept. 6th.—The deaths at Norfolk yesterday were 54. At Portsmouth 21.

Mayor Fiske and Rev. Mr. Mills are not dead as reported yesterday; both are improving.

HONESDALE, PA., Sept. 5.—The democrats of Wayne county met here last night, and passed resolutions endorsing Gov. Reeder's course in Kanzas, denouncing President Pierce as false to his pledges, and censuring the administration generally.

DEAD SHOT FOR BED BUGS.

A SURE death to these noxious disturbers of our nightly rest. Apply it to insects and it cuts them up and lays them out as readily as Sulphur Fumes kills Bees
It has no equal in the market. The whole world cannot produce a substitute of similar value to the comfort of a neat tidy housewife. Its application is of little trouble, while the benefit which may be derived from a single night's undisturbed repose is incalculable.
SANCHO PANZA

a25 LA FAYETTE LAIGHTON.

CALIFORNIA.—Messrs. J. G. Dows & Co., who are engaged in the business of distilling, communicate to the Herald some important statistics of the manufacture and consumption of spirits in California. The capital employed is thus stated:

Two distilleries in Marysville, twenty thousand dollars each	$40,000
One distillery in San Jose	30,000
Six distilleries in San Francisco	305,000
Total	$375,000

The same amount is supposed to be invested in breweries—enough at any rate, in the opinion of Messrs. Dows & Co., to make the total investment in distilleries and breweries $750,000 dollars. The like sum is required, at the lowest estimate, to stock and carry these establishments along, and employment of, say, 250 laboring men daily.

The average consumption of domestic (distilled) liquors in California for the last four years has been full five thousand gallons per day. To produce that amount of liquor here, will absorb 110,000 lbs of barley per day; and to supply the malt liquors for the State will require as much more, making 220,000 lbs of barley per day.

Well! is it not time to stop this? Five thousand gallons per day! That's the secret of nine tenths of the murders, thefts, robberies and arsons. Five thousand gallons a day may be sport to the manufacturers, but it is death to the people!

ELIXER.

THE Proprietor would respectfully call the attention of the public to his invaluable Remedy for all Affections of the Throat and Lungs, and begs of those who are undecided what to select, from the numerous medicines advertised, and recommended for such complaints, to give the ELIXER a trial. Having done so, they will no longer hesitate what to take themselves, or recommend to others. A single trial will prove to them that this is the most valuable remedy ever discovered for the various affections of the Throat and Lungs; it will immediately relieve the most violent Cough, and in a few hours completely cure the most severe Cold. As a Preventive and Cure for Consumption, it has no equal.—It is purely Vegetable, contains no poisonous ingredients, is quite agreeable to the taste, and may be given with perfect safety to the most delicate child. The numerous testimonials received almost daily from those who have been cured by it, fully justify the assertion that no family should be without this Medicine: let Mothers give it to their Children who have the Whooping Cough or Croup, and they will alleviate at once the sufferings of their little ones. Price 50 cts.

Call for G. W. Stone's Cough Elixir, and see that his name, and Cough Elixir, with the words Boston, Mass., are blown upon the Bottle, without which none will be genuine.

Opinions of the Press.

It is now generally acknowledged that the Pianos manufactured by Hallet, Davis & Co. are unrivalled in America, if in the world, for brilliancy or purity of tone.—Boston Daily Times.

An immense volume of sound can be produced by these Pianos without shattering the tones, as they send forth the most perfect, bell like notes, and we must confess that we have never listened to their equals for power, brilliancy, sweetness of tone, and purity of action.—Boston Herald.

The Pianos of Hallet, Davis & Co. deserve more than a passing notice. They are truly splendid instruments, very powerful, and of the purest and richest quality of tone.—Boston Transcript.

In regard to purity of tone, power and sweetness, being fully equal to any instrument that has come under our observation.—Boston Courier.

Owing to the beautiful elasticity of the action of your Grand Piano Fortes, I think it would be impossible for any Pianist, who plays properly, to break either a string or a hammer.—Extract from a Letter from Wm. Mason.

The peculiar feature of Hallet, Davis & Co.'s instruments is, they make no noise. Nothing but pure tone is produced by the vibration of the strings; and the construction of the sounding board, and action are such that skilful pianists, after once testing their merits, dislike to use any other instrument in the Concert room.—Philadelphia Sunday Mercury.

I find them to be very superior instruments—as well in tone as in touch.—Extract of a Letter from L. M. Gottschalk.

I can unhesitatingly say that I find them superior in quality and quantity of tone, to those of other makers; also in the elasticity and easy touch; and can cheerfully recommend them to any one who wishes to own or play on the best Pianos.—Extract of a letter from Robert Heller.

ARREST AND RECOVERY OF STOLEN PROPERTY.—The steamers on Lake Erie have during the present season suffered from the extensive depredations of some daring thief or thieves who managed in an adroit manner to obtain numerous trunks. The Michigan Central and the Lake Shore road have also been sufferers, and compelled to pay large sums for lost trunks. The Buffalo Republic explains the manner of theft as follows:

"The canvass covering of trunks is stripped off and the trunk or trunks is claimed by the professional thief."

An individual belonging in Buffalo, who is supposed to follow this particular branch of business, was caught in the act of obtaining a trunk of merchandise in this manner, and was arrested in Detroit and committed to jail in that city. His name is O. N. Morgan.

Information of the arrest of Morgan was sent to Buffalo to Officer James Cowen, who with officer Emerick proceeded to Morgan's house. They found the front door locked, and proceeding to the back part found an entrance, and within the sister-in-law and daughter of Morgan. They made some inquiries, and finally proceeded to enter the front part of the house. They found a large quantity of stolen goods, most of which has been claimed by parties in New York. There is no doubt in Buffalo that Morgan is the head and front of a gang of organized thieves.

WAR LOAN.—The almost fabulous amount subscribed to the late French loan of One Hundred and Fifty Millions of Dollars, amounting to nearly five times that sum, or about seven hundred and fifty millions of dollars, excites astonishment at the vastness of the sums spoken of. This great subscription was by a host, consisting of no less than 310,000 persons, of whom two thirds belonged to the working classes, who alone subscribed for forty millions of dollars, in sums averaging ten dollars each, and all of such subscriptions were wisely allotted. These stupendous results strike every one connected with finance with surprise, and are calculated to give greater stability to monetary affairs than any event of the kind that ever occurred before. An enormous amount of hoarded gold and silver will be disembowelled from their recesses to pay for this stock, which money will be circulated by the government, and will give a new stimulus to commerce, which the war under these circumstances will rather have the effect of stimulating than repressing.

Last week a burglar entered the house of Mr. John Lamb, Lacock street, Alleghany city, Pa., by forcing open a back window, and succeeded in administering chloroform to Mr. Lamb and his wife, while they were asleep, and took forty dollars in money, and some jewelry, that were under the pillow. The burglar left a bottle of chloroform in the room, which bore the label of a druggist in the Ninth Ward. Constable Scott took the bottle to the druggist to see if he knew who bought it. The druggist said he could account for all the chloroform he had sold since he commenced business: one bottle was purchased by a physician, another for a man injured on the railroad, and two bottles—one large, the other small—by a man named Shaw, a resident of the Ninth Ward. The bottle in the possession of Scott corresponded with the druggist's account of one of those sold to Shaw, and Mayor Adams felt warranted in arresting him. Accordingly he was arrested, and a small bottle of chloroform found on his person. The small bottle was labelled similar to the one found in Mr. Lamb's house. Shaw was held in five hundred dollars bail for a further hearing.

Rev. John Wheeler, D. D., who was nominated for Governor of Vermont by the straight out whigs' at their convention at White River Junction, declines the doubtful honor, and says he wouldn't have taken even so much notice of it, but for the newspaper comments upon it.

EXCOMMUNICATION.—The following extract from a letter to the Newark Advertiser, shows what the Pope is doing.

ROME, Aug. 8th 1855.—The sentence is pronounced; and the King and Parliament of Sardinia, and all the subordinate officers of the Kingdom who have been in any way concerned in the execution of the law abating the Monasteries, stand excommunicated from all the privileges and sacraments of their national church, by the authentic voice of the Holy See. Their doom was declared on the 26th ult., in the course of an Allocution read by Sovereign Pontiff in a "Secret Consistory" of the College of Cardinals, specially called for the purpose, in connection with his decrees concerning Spain and Switzerland, which have also both fallen into like sins.

FROM THE BRITISH PROVINCES.—The St. John Morning News says:—"We learn from a gentleman who has recently travelled through Nova Scotia and Prince Edward's Island that the crops of every description are unusually heavy, and promise to yield greater than for years past. In the latter place (P. E. I.) the grain crop, particularly the wheat, far exceeds the wheat of any former year, and is unsurpassed by any of the grain-growing States of the neighboring Union. Throughout this Province also, the crops have fully met the expectation of the husbandmen.—The frost, an unwelcomed visitor at this particular period, it is feared, has damaged the unripened grain. We hope, however, that the injury in this respect may not prove so great as has been anticipated.

A young colored woman of bad character, named Elizabeth Gilbert, was murdered on Friday night, in Philadelphia, by some persons unknown. Her body was found lying in a dry ditch in Duck lane near the Moyamensing road, in the First Ward. The deceased lived as a domestic with the family of a citizen actor named Myers.

SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 8, 1855.

GREYTOWN.

We have always ascribed the glory and victory achieved by our naval and military attack on Greytown, with its bombardment and destruction, to our National Administration, and to Commander Hollins and his forces as the instruments.

It appears now, that another party comes in for a share of the glory, viz., one Mr. J. L. White.

An address from Colonel Kinney to the American people is published. A prominent feature of the document is a copy of a letter written a year ago by Mr. J. L. White, of the Nicaragua Transit Company, to Consul Fabens, foreshadowing Commander Hollins's proceedings—announcing in advance the plan of the destruction of Greytown; and broadly hinting, as its sequel, the seizure of the place by the company. This letter shows that the administration in destroying Greytown acted as the instrument in forwarding the revolutionary designs of the Transit Company.

Kinney, in his communication, announces his purpose to establish a peaceful and industrious settlement,—but accuses the Transit Company of dishonesty, breach of trust, and tyranny.

With regard to the agency of the company in the destruction of Greytown, Colonel Kinney says:

In confirmation of my statement, I am, fortunately, in possession of a letter under White's own sign manual, proving that his object in those falsehoods was the overthrow of the then existing government of Greytown, and the establishment of a new government more pliable to the hands of the Company, and proving, furthermore, that he had conversed with Capt. Hollins, in order more effectually to consummate the achievement which has so unenviably distinguished our government in the eyes of the world. I may here add that a repetition of those misrepresentations was prepared by White, which, as he avers, was adopted by Secretary Marcy, in an official letter (to Lord Clarendon) vindicating the conduct of the administration in the bombardment of Greytown.

With regard to Captain Hollins, it is due to him to say that, in the opinion of Mr. Fabens, the United States Commercial Agent at San Juan, he acted solely as a faithful officer, in strict conformity with what he believed to be the instructions of his government. In fact, this document would have appeared in print before, but for the objection on the part of Mr. Fabens, that it might seem to indicate a concurrence with White's insinuations against the captain. While at this time publishing the letter on my own responsibility, I take pleasure in expressing the conviction that he was entirely free from complicity with the designs of the individual who proffered his gratuitous instructions to him. The following is the letter:

Office of the New York and California Steamship Line, via Nicaragua.
No. 5 Bowling Green, N. Y., June 16, '54.

Dear Sir:—Capt. Hollins leaves here next Monday. You will see from his instructions that much discretion is given to you, and it is to be hoped that it will not be so exercised as to show any mercy to the town or people.

If the scoundrels are soundly punished, we can take possession, and build it up as a business place, put in our own officers, transfer the jurisdiction, and you know the rest.

It is of the last importance that the people of the town should be taught to fear us. Punishment will teach them, after which you must agree with them as to the organization of a new government and the officers of it. Every thing now depends on you and Hollins. The latter is all right. He fully understands the outrage, and will not hesitate in enforcing reparation.

I hope to hear from you that all is right.

Yours, &c.,
(Signed) J. L. WHITE.

J. W. Fabens, Esq.

The records of history, I think, may be challenged in vain for an instance of more deliberate and unqualified fillibusterism than is here exhibited. Yet this is the man who has manifested so great an anxiety for the preservation of the government of Nicaragua and for the rigid enforcement of the neutrality laws! This, too, is the man who has, with a like consistency, enlisted foreign troops in the streets of New York, to shoot down and murder his fellow countrymen abroad, engaged in an expedition as peaceful and honorable as the world has ever known.

NO SICK CHILD.—Of Solomon Bumford, the Concord Statesman says:

It is charged that he was made to pay a penalty for giving a glass of spirit to be administered to a child who was ill.

But the Statesman adds—

The case was not so, but a clear violation of the statute.

The juries, grand and petit, attending the recent term of the Supreme Judicial Court in this city, manifested the purpose to carry out the provisions of the law for the suppression of intemperance, "without fear, favor, affection, or the hope of reward."

AN ESCAPE.—Speaking of the Supreme Court, now in session at Amherst, the Manchester American says:

Mrs Lyons, the principal witness in the case of Luke Curtis, now in jail on the charge of poisoning his father, having died since last April term, the case will not be tried again.

☞ The submarine telegraphic cable, forty miles in length, was lost in a gale of wind, accompanied with a heavy sea, on the 23d of August, between Newfoundland and Cape Breton.

☞ The benevolent merchants and others, of Boston, have subscribed about two thousand dollars for the relief of the sufferers at Norfolk and Portsmouth, Va.

A letter from a clergyman in Portsmouth, Va., to his friends in Salem, says:

Of nearly 12,000, the estimated number of inhabitants of Portsmouth, there remain not 4000, white and colored inclusive.

The mortality by this fearful epidemic has already amounted to about 400, so that the remaining population is literally decimated.

In the wake of pestilence, too, closely follows famine. Its pinching horrors are already felt by a large portion of our population, though the genial atmosphere of summer lingers with us, and Autumn is pouring its redundant stores all around us.

There is but one—I must correct myself, there is not one—grocery store open in the place. A depository of the provisions, however, generously sent us by the noble cities of Philadelphia and Baltimore, has been opened, and from this source the needy and woe-stricken sufferers are supplied.

GENERAL ASSOCIATION.—The Congregational Journal says:

One hundred and six ministers, fifty wives of ministers, and fifteen laymen, had places of entertainment assigned them in Concord during the meetings of the General Association last week. There were probably as many more from the neighboring towns, who attended during a part or whole of the meetings. There was no lack of room nor of a free heart, to accommodate twice the number. At the communion season the entire body of the house was filled, making a congregation of Christ's professed disciples of not less than 650.

We are happy to learn that the Rev. Mr. Cartice, whose injury we noticed last week, is comfortable, though his case is considered somewhat critical.

We learn that Dr. Barstow is recovering. He was seized with congestion of the brain.

☞ The Prisoner's Friend, for September, is just received from the editor, Charles Spear, Boston. It is the beginning of a new volume, and contains the following articles, some of them very interesting:

State Prison, Sing Sing, New York; The Lost Boy; Ordeals; Conversations with Prisoners; Going Home—poetry; Model Lodging Houses; A Funeral at the House of Correction; Productive Industry in Prison; Reform School for Girls; Giving Bail; State Peform School, Maine; Imprisonment of Youth and Children; The Bible in Prison; A Matron for the Jail; Criminal Legislation; Execution of Women.

Miss Richards of Gardiner, and Mrs. and Miss Dumaresque, the wife and daughter of Capt. Dumaresque, of Boston, were drowned in the Kennebec River, on Wednesday, at Richmond. They were bathing, at low water: Miss Richards was in danger: the others went to assist her, and all were drowned.

KANZAS LEGISLATURE.—The act dividing the Territory of Kanzas into three Judicial Districts has passed the Kanzas Legislature. One of these has been assigned to Judge Elmore, in spite of his removal; the other two to Judges Johnson and Lecompte. The House has also elected Probate Judge and Commissioners for eighteen counties; and District Attorneys for the other Judiciary Districts, namely, Charles Grover, H. A. Hutchinson and John T. Brady.

The act to punish offenders against slave property in Kanzas, has been almost unanimously rejected by the House. The bill to exempt slaves from sale under execution was also rejected.

Augustus Washington, who went to Liberia from Hartford, Ct., and whose letters written after a six months residence there, gave a very gloomy picture of the condition of the country, has written again at the end of seventeen months, and gives a very different account. The secret of the change is, that he is now doing a good business and getting rich, and the aspect of Liberia improves with his condition. It is apt to be so.

A LIFE OF TOIL.—A Wilmington (Del.) paper says that an Irish weaver named John Brown, who emigrated to the United States in the year 1794, and who set up his loom in Wilmington, in the same place it now occupies, has ever since been engaged in weaving carpets there, and still continues it, as happy as the day is long, after a lapse of sixty-one years.

Various causes have combined to occasion a decrease in the amount of emigration from Europe to this country during the present year. Up to the 29th of August there had arrived at New York only 93,106 immigrants, against 209,414 for the corresponding period last year—showing a falling off in numbers of more than one half.

A man was killed in Clark, Arkansas, on the 29th ult, by a child nine or ten years of age. The child's father was engaged in a fist fight with another man, when the child run up and stuck a knife in his adversary, killing him him almost instantly.

SPEED.—A stray horse set himself to running against the cars on the Boston and New York Central road, on Tuesday, and went eight miles in 18 minutes, keeping ahead of the train at full speed, till he fell through a bridge; but was uninjured by the fall. In his course he passed over one bridge of 25 feet, on the sleepers.

Mr. Snyder, of Congress Hall, Saratoga, has lost his celebrated trotting horse, worth from $4000 to $6000. It is thought that he was poisoned, in order to prevent his taking the purses and stakes at the Union Course.

In Turkey, whenever a storekeeper is convicted of telling a lie, his house is at once painted black, to remain so for one month.—If there was such a law in force in this country!——

THE LIQUOR LAW.

Messrs. Editors:—The writer, with very many others, has been much gratified in witnessing the favorable change in our city produced by the introduction and general observance of the "Law for the Suppression of Intemperance." Rarely is a person seen intoxicated. A marked change is observed about the places where intoxicating drink was sold. Many who spent much of their time, and the small pittance which they earned in their sober hours, at these haunts of vice, are now, it is believed, appropriating their increased earnings for the comfortable maintenance of their families.

It is much to be regretted that there should be any individuals unwilling to make the small sacrifice requisite to the general observance of this Law, or any among our politicians so unprincipled as to misconstrue and misrepresent the true intention of the Law, for the sake of making, as they hope, political capital out of it. We say give it a fair trial—and especially would we say to those officers whose business it is to see that all violations of this Law are faithfully prosecuted—discharge your duty, or, resign your office. If any such officer believes the Law unjust, and if he cannot prosecute a clear violation of it in good faith and to the extent of his ability, then he ought, as an honorable man, at once to resign his office. For, if under these circumstances he retains his office, it is to do only what he feels compelled to do in order to avoid the penalty—or, for the purpose of making the Law appear absurd by putting such a construction upon it as no reasonable man ever supposed was intended by its makers. LAW.

DEATHS IN AUGUST.—The number of deaths in this city, in the month of August, was but 10—four males and six females. The ages were as follows:

SUDDEN DEATH.—A man whose name we did not learn, died suddenly, in a fit, at the Methodist Camp Meeting in Kennebunk, Me. on Thursday night. His remains, on Friday, were carried to Kingston, N. H. where he belonged, for interment.

LONGEVITY IN LYNN.—There are eight persons in Lynn over ninety years of age—the oldest being ninety-six years and nine months. There are besides fifty-five who have attained the age of eighty and upwards.

MARBLEHEAD CENSUS FOR 1855.—Number of houses 949; inhabitants, 6932; males, 3335; females, 3597. Foreign birth, 716. One hundred and ninety-five of the above are 70 years of age and upwards to 88—none over 88.

ANOTHER CAMPFIRE ACCIDENT.—In Charlestown, Saturday night, a serious accident occurred to a Miss Catharine Churchill, an Irish domestic in the family of Mr. J. M. Trefren. Miss Churchill was filling a fluid lamp while lighted, when it took fire and suddenly exploded, burning her hands, arms, shoulders and face in a shocking manner. It is stated that the girl was ignorant of the dangerous nature of fluid, supposing it could be handled the same as oil.

SHARKS OFF SALEM.—The Salem Gazette says, Mr. J. H. Ham, a regular fisherman, for the supply of our market, for some time past has found the usual fishing grounds so infested with sharks, that it has been useless to attempt to catch other fish, but actually not unattended with danger to himself, to attempt to fish among them in his small and frail "dory." On Wednesday last, therefore, accompanied by Mr. C. A. Webster and Mr. J. Newcomb, he took a small surf boat down to about a mile and a half outside the South Breakers. Being provided with proper tackle, they let down their lines in about twenty fathoms water, and did not have to wait long for a bite. Pulling smartly, they soon brought the ugly phiz of a shark to the top of the water, where he was met by a stab from a whale lance, in the hands of Mr. Webster. Maddened by the pain of the wound, probably, the shark immediately leaped half way across the gunwale of the boat, barely missing a grip at the leg of Mr. Webster, who was standing there, and, failing in that, biting off the line which held him, and disappearing in the water, carrying away the hook in his mouth, as a remembrancer of his visit to the regions of air. Shortly afterward, a second bite was felt, and another shark was brought up. Mr. Webster gave him a stab in the back, but he broke both line and lance, and escaped before he could be secured. I third attempt was more successful. Either the same or another shark gorged the bait of a tempting young mackerel which was let down for him, and the hook retained firm hold in his throat. There being no lance left on board, with which to despatch him, he was permitted to drag the boat, which he did for about a couple of miles. When pulled alongside the boat, he was beaten over the head till he had but little life left, and then was drawn on board, with great difficulty, on account of his size and weight. His captors then brought him up, and landed him on the fish house wharf, where he remained, for the inspection of the curious, for some time. The dimensions of the creature, which was what is commonly called a blue shark, were nine feet in length, four and a half feet across the fins; weight estimated at about 500 pounds. He has been presented to the Essex Institute, by Mr. Webster.

YELLOW FEVER AT NORFOLK.—Extract of a letter dated Sept. 2.—The deaths have nearly doubled, and not less than fifty have been buried. Our acting Mayor has proclaimed martial law, with a view to obtain vehicles to bury the dead, &c., by impressment; and to-day carts, wagons, hearses, and every other two and four-wheel conveyance, has been used for that purpose. Some carry one, some two, some three, and some four bodies at a time. It would be impossible to give the faintest idea of the distress. Today women with children in their arms, were running about the streets, crying "bury my poor husband;" but it is hard to get the dead buried. Various kinds of vehicles are now rapidly moving by my house, conveying the dead.

A despatch of the 6th says:

Dr. Miller of Philadelphia is at the marine hospital in Baltimore, sick with the fever; Dr. Gooch of Richmond is dead; Rev. Mr. Webb, Mayor Fiske and Father O'Keeffe are recovering; Miss Andrews, from New York, is quite ill.

BALTIMORE, 7th.—There were 74 deaths at Norfolk yesterday. 97 bodies were buried in one pit on Wednesday.

The whole number of cases on Thursday was 450. There were 25 deaths on Wednesday, and from 10 to 15 on Thursday, up to 2 o'clock, P. M.

A robbery was committed at the Howard Infirmary, by one of the Superintendents, who broke open the trunk of a lady recently deceased, and abstracted a large quantity of jewelry, which was all subsequently recovered.

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 5,—The Pennsylvania Mass State Convention assembled here this this morning. About 3,000 persons were in attendance from different parts of the State. After a preliminary organization, a committee was appointed, who reported Judge Jessup of Susquehanna for President, with the usual number of Vice Presidents and Secretaries. The convention was addressed by several prominent speakers. The committee on resolutions were passed by acclamation—no side issues arose. During the afternoon, the convention was addressed by Messrs. Bingham and Campbell, members of Congress from Ohio, and other prominent men.—In the evening the convention nominated Passmore Williamson for Commissioner of Public Works, amidst great enthusiasm.—Joshua R. Giddings is now addressing the convention, which will probably adjourn tonight.

HARD CASE.—Smithers was telling his trials. He had been shipwrecked once, was burned out twice, and had to pay the notes of three of his friends for whom he had endorsed; fell through a man-trap in the sidewalk and broke a leg; was arrested by the sheriff on his marriage, for a debt he didn't owe; but all these evils he bore without murmuring.—The great trial of his life was, that his wife would not let him smoke in the parlor.

DEAD SHOT FOR BED BUGS.
A SURE death to these noxious disturbers of our nightly rest. Apply it to insects and it curls them up and lays them out as readily as Sulphur Fumes kills Bees
It has no equal in the market. The whole world cannot produce a substitute of similar value to the comfort of a neat tidy housewife. Its application is of little trouble, while the benefit which may be derived from a single night's undisturbed repose is incalculable.
SANCHO PANZA
Called down "blessings upon the head of the man who first invented sleep." How much more worthy such honorable distinction would he consider the inventor of the Dead Shot, who, by his Pungent and Deadly Preparation, has rendered utterly impossible the ancient bloody forays of such 'tolerable and not to be endured' tormentors; and who has enabled every one to guarantee to himself his own particular share of "tired Nature's sweet restorer."

COLORED BABY SHOW—The Boston Post understands that simultaneously with Barnum's exhibition of white babies at Music Hall, a gentleman of Boston, proposes to exhibit at Chapman Hall some of the choice infants of the colored race, so that our citizens can have the opportunity to determine whether or no the color has any effect on the intellectual organization of mankind.

BARNUM'S BABY SHOW!—It has leaked out that the babies—so far—that have been entered on the lists for the great exhibition in this city, are superior in form, health and beauty to the majority of those exhibited in New York. If this should prove to be the case, New England mothers may well be proud of their babies, as New York has long had the reputation of having the healthiest climate for children.—Boston Mail.

ON Saturday, the dwelling house in Sandwich, MASS., owned by C. E. H. Fessenden, and occupied by Rev. Mr. Forman, was much damaged by fire. Mr. Forman was obliged to flee from the building with his sick wife in his arms, and in their escape the falling cinders left their marks upon them.

HAYES'S MEDICINES.

READER, are you suffering from Humors, in internal or external? HAYES'S Allied Ointment and Humor Syrup will cure you just as sure as you use it. Take not our assertion for it, but the testimony of a thousand living witnesses. All it wants is a trial—it advertises itself. One bottle has sold a hundred in a single town. Reader, do you ask how you shall know these statements are facts, when there is so much humbuggery in advertisements? We will inform you: call on any of our agents, get a circular, select any names you please, address a line to that individual—they will speak—they are living witnesses. It will cost but a trifle, and must convince the most skeptical. We subjoin one from among the many:

Read the following, it speaks for itself;

LAWRENCE, June 12, 1854.

We the undersigned, citizens of Lawrence, having used the Vegetable Allied Ointment prepared by E. D. HAYES, of this city, and being personally acquainted with the Doctor, feel pleasure in adding our testimony to all the elector claims for his medicine. Unlike other remedies in the market, this preparation performs its office speedily and with certainty The Ointment we have used with the most happy results, after vainly seeking relief by the free use of Sarsaparilla, Salves, &c.

Our experience fully justifies us in confidently recommending it as an article, and the ONLY one known to us, as performing all it claims.

A. S. BUNKER, W. STARKNS,
S. I. THOMPSON, ASA T. SANBORN.

It cures Salt Rheum, Scrofula, Erysipelas, White Leprosy, Cancerous Humors, Ring Worm, Scald Head, Burns and Scalds, Chilblains, Piles, (a preparation expressly for Piles,) Old Fever Sores, and all old Mercurial Sores, however long standing. It removes all those vexatious Pimples, Eruptions and Moth or Mildew from the face leaving the skin perfectly soft and smooth, adding greatly to the beauty of the complexion. In no case will it leave a mark or scar. It improves the sight wonderfully, where the eyes are troubled with humors, by removing the difficulty and restoring the sight.

Price of the Ointment, $1; Syrup 50 cents.

CHARLES H. KENT General Agent for the United States and Canada, Lawrence, Mass, to whom all orders should be addressed.

Sold in Portsmouth, by Joe. H. Thacher, at the Good Samaritan Store, and W. B. Preston; and by Agents everywhere.

LIQUID CATHARTIC,

Family Physic,

The most important discovery ever made in Medical Science, being a compound of Barks and Roots, which forms the most powerful, safe and agreeable Physic ever offered to the Public.

THE necessity of such a Medicine has long been felt both by the heads of families and Physicians. Its advantages over cathartics given in the form of Pills or Powders, must be obvious to every intelligent person. It is prepared to act immediately and effectually upon the system, and at the same time is infinitely less difficult to administer, being quite agreeable to the taste. It not only produces all the effects where physic is required, but completely removes habitual costiveness, leaving the bowels perfectly free. It expels all humors from the blood, is a certain cure for the Piles, regulates the action of the Liver, frees the Stomach from Bile, invigorates the whole Nervous System, and removes the cause of all local pains, such as

RHEUMATISM, NEURALGIA, TIC DOLOREUX, GOUT, PAIN IN THE HEAD, SIDE, STOMACH, &c.

It may also be relied upon in all diseases of the Bowels: Dysentery, Diarrhœa and Cholera Morbus yield at once to its magic influence Again we repeat, TRY IT!—it needs no other recommendation. No family will be without it after they have properly tested its merits. Reader, if you have tried other remedies, without success, despair not—relief is now at hand. Are you suffering with scrofula, six bottles of my Liquid Cathartic will cure you. Would you be relieved from habitual Costiveness?—three bottles will effect all that you desire. If you are afflicted with Rheumatic, Neuralgic, or other local pains, two bottles will free you from them. All humors will be eradicated from the blood by the use of from one to six bottles In short, if you require a physic for any purpose, this is the most reliable, safe and agreeable to the taste that has ever been placed within the reach of the public.

PRICE $1.00.

Opinions of the Press.

It is now generally acknowledged that the Pianos manufactured by Hallet, Davis & Co. are unrivalled in America, if in the world, for brilliancy or purity of tone.—Boston Daily Times.

An immense volume of sound can be produced by these Pianos without shattering the tones, as they send forth the most perfect, bell like notes, and we must confess that we have never listened to their equals for power, brilliancy, sweetness of tone, and purity of action.—Boston Herald.

The Pianos of Hallet, Davis & Co. deserve more than a passing notice They are truly splendid instruments, very powerful, and of the purest and richest quality of tone.—Boston Traveller.

In regard to purity of tone, power and sweetness, being fully equal to any instrument that has come under our observation.—Boston Courier.

Owing to the beautiful elasticity of the action of your Grand Piano Fortes, I think it would be impossible for any Pianist, who plays properly, to break either a string or a hammer.—Extract from a Letter from Wm. Mason.

The peculiar feature of Hallet, Davis & Co.'s instruments is, they make no noise. Nothing but pure tone is produced by the vibration of the strings; and the construction of the sounding board, and action are so skilful and plausible, after once testing their merits, dislike to use any other instrument in the Concert room.—Philadelphia Sunday Mercury.

I find these to be very superior instruments—as well in tone as in touch.—Extract of a Letter from L. M. Gottschalk.

I can unhesitatingly say that I find them superior in quality and quantity of tone, to those of other makers; also in the elasticity and easy touch; and can cheerfully recommend them to any one who wishes to own or play on the best Pianos.—Extract of a letter from Robert Heller.

FRIENDSHIP—TO LIZZIE.

The earth can boast no purer tie,
No brighter, richer gem—
No jewel of a lovelier dye,
Than "Friendships diadem."

This is the sacred boon of Him
Who sits enthroned on high,
Surrounded by the Seraphim
Beyond the curtain'd sky.

This precious gift to man is given
To cheer life's rugged way,
To form antepast of Heaven
To all that own its sway.

Let us, fair friend, its power confess,
And own its potent spell;
Let our whole lives its truth express,
Our bosoms with it swell.

For it hath been—will ever be,
The sweetest charm of earth,
And boasts a near affinity
To things of heav'nly birth.

It is a rich perennial light,
From the Eternal throne,
And beams forever pure and bright,
From burning zone to zone.

Then may this ray of light divine
Ne'er from our bosoms fade,
But may it on our pathway shine
Till death our hearts invade. N.

PARRICIDE AND FRATRICIDE.—A savage murder was perpetrated at North Sterling, N. Y., about 9 miles from West Oswego, on the 30th ult. The murderer was John Fitzgerald, aged 18, and his victims were his father and mother, and a brother aged 14. John was a wayward youth, and had recently got himself into Auburn Jail by horse stealing.—His father mortgaged his farm to raise money to bail out the worthless fellow. On getting out he very soon offended his parents by his unfeeling conduct and remarks in reference to the funeral of his brother, which he refused to attend, and the ceremonies of which, being Catholic, he ridiculed. So violent became his feelings that he attempted to poison the whole family by putting strychnine in the sugar. Failing in this, he next attempted and succeeded in his attempt with an axe, to murder all but one of the family, while they slept. The hardened fellow confesses the whole, and assigns no reason but his anger towards his parents.

In Providence on Monday a violent assault was made upon Horace Manchester, Esq., by Joseph White, daguerrian artist. Mr. White's wife had petitioned for a divorce from her husband, and Mr. Manchester was her counsel in the case. On the evening in question, coming out of Normal Hall, where he had been to a meeting, Mr. Manchester met Mrs. White and walked with her down Broad St. until they were nearly opposite the Weybosset House, when he bade her good night and crossed the street on his way home. At this time, while he was walking along on the sidewalk, White came up and with his fist or some other weapon gave him a violent blow on the back part of the head, which knocked him down. He the jumped and stamped upon him, injuring him very severely.

John Graff and Edward Kempton of Blackstone, and William White of Uxbridge, have been arrested on suspicion of breaking into the house of Mr. Darling in Bellingham, last week. It will be remembered that they robbed the house of six hundred dollars, and knocked down Mr. Darling and two ladies who tried to prevent their depredations.

—AND—
Family Physic,

The most important discovery ever made in Medical Science, being a compound of Barks and Roots, which forms the most powerful, safe and agreeable Physic ever offered to the public.

THE necessity of such a Medicine has long been felt both by the heads of families and Physicians. Its advantages over cathartics given in the form of Pills or Powders, must be obvious to every intelligent person. It operates more immediately and effectually upon the system, and at the same time is infinitely less difficult to administer, being quite agreeable to the taste. It not only produces all the effects where physic is required, but completely removes habitual Costiveness, leaving the bowels perfectly free. It expels all humors from the blood, is a certain cure for the Piles, regulates the action of the Liver, frees the Stomach from Bile, invigorates the whole Nervous System, and removes the cause of all local pains, such as
RHEUMATISM, NEURALGIA, TIC DOLOREUX, GOUT, PAIN IN THE HEAD, SIDE, STOMACH, &c.

It may also be relied upon in all diseases of the Bowels; Dysentery, Diarrhea and Cholera Morbus yield at once to its magic influence. Again we repeat, TRY IT!—it needs no other recommendation. No family will be without it after they have properly tested its merits. Reader, if you have tried other remedies, without success, despair not—relief is now at hand. Are you suffering with Scrofula, six bottles of my Liquid Cathartic will cure you. Would you be relieved from habitual Costiveness?—three bottles will effect all that you desire. If you are afflicted with Rheumatic, Neuralgic, or other local pains, two bottles will free you from them. All humors will be eradicated from the blood by the use of from one to six bottles. In short, if you require a physic for any purpose, this is the most reliable, safe and agreeable to the taste that has ever been placed within the reach of the public.

PRICE $1.00.

LETTERS FROM GERMANY.—No. 5.

BONN, August 7, 1855.

Messrs. Editors:—After crossing the line into Prussia, nothing especially attractive is seen, except an occasional old castle, or a beautiful villa, until reaching Aix-la-Chapelle. This is the city of Charlemagne, the founder of the German Empire, who flourished during the latter part of the ninth century. "He changed tribes of lawless barbarians into a federation of civilized people, driving the Saracens beyond the Ebro, overthrowing the Longobards in Italy, and including under his rule Germany, the Netherlands, the Gauls, the greater part of Italy and Spain, with the Barbaric Islands, Corsica and Sardinia.—From the Ebro to the mouth of the Elbe, from the Atlantic to the mountains of Bohemia and the Raab, and from the British Channel to the Volturno, all were ruled by the head and hand that made its home in Aix. There did Charlemagne rest himself between his campaigns; there he deliberated in council; and amidst its green shades thought out the plans for extending and cementing his empire. At Aix-la-Chapelle he received ambassadors from the Caliph of Bagdat; there he entertained envoys from the Saxon kings of England, with whom he was on terms of friendship; and there he endeavored to advance literature and general enlightenment by the only means then known,—by the foundation of monasteries and the encouragement of the only learned men of those days, the priests. In fine, Aix was the scene of the most interesting personal and domestic episodes in the brilliant career of Charlemagne." Charlemagne built la Chapelle—the Cathedral—on which account "la Chapelle" was added to Aix, making its present name. The Germans, however, call it Aochen. It has been said by some that Charlemagne was born here, but it is disputed by others, and believed by few. That he died here, A. D. 814, is undisputed. He was buried with great pomp under the floor in the middle of the Cathedral, seated in a huge marble arm chair, wrapped in his imperial mantle, and surrounded by the paraphernalia of royalty. A large flat stone covers his grave, bearing the simple inscription Carolo Magno.

In A. D. 997 Otho III. opened the vault and removed the remains of the great conqueror and statesman, preserving them as relics; Pope Paschal III. having declared Charlemagne a saint. "He found the body still seated in the marble chair, clothed in the imperial robes, bearing the sceptre in his hand, and on his knees a copy of the Gospels. On his fleshless brow was the crown, the imperial mantle covered his shoulders, the sword Joyeuse was by his side, and the pilgrims pouch which he had borne always while living, was still fastened to his girdle. All these valuable relics were removed, and used in the coronation ceremonies of succeeding emperors of Germany." Frederica Barbarossa opened the vault again in 1165, to gratify a strange desire to sit in that same stone chair. After that it was used as the throne of state on coronation occasions. None of these relics are now in Aix except the chair; the rest having been removed to Vienna.

Napoleon and Josephine visited this tomb in 1804, and, while he, with profound awe and deference to the sacred place, stood silent, motionless and bare headed, attired in full regimentals, she indulged in the caprice of sitting upon the marble throne. Victor Hugo, who records the foregoing, adds—"In 1814, one thousand years after his (Charlemagne's) death, occurred the fall or moral death of Napoleon. In the course of the same fatal year, the allied sovereigns visited the grave of Charles the Great, when Alexander of Russia mounted his gala uniform, in imitation of Napoleon; Frederic William, of Prussia, appeared in an anderdress; and the Emperor of Austria in a great coat and round hat. The king of Prussia entered into all the details of the coronation of the German emperors with the provost of the chapter; but the two emperors observed a profound silence. All these are now silent as Charlemagne! Napoleon, Josephine, Alexander, Frederic William, and Francis II., are cold in their graves."

On the route from Aix-la-Chapelle to Cologne several old castles are pointed out, only one of which I will notice particularly. The castle and village of Morode was once the residence of a large family, or rather tribe, whose fame for insubordination, plunder and brutality, was so great that the name "Morodeurer" became a nickname for a robber, a terror to all the surrounding country, and so well and widely known that it has even been anglicised into the word 'marauder.' A tunnel one mile in length, passes through the highlands that divide the valley of the Meuse from that of the Rhine. The attention of the traveller is attracted by the numerous and lofty towers (steeples) of Cologne, while he is yet many miles distant from that old and noted stronghold of Catholicism. It is not, however, until he nears the walls of the city, that he obtains a glimpse of the far famed Rhine; whose numerous towns, fairy islands, picturesque scenery of valley, vineyard and mountain, ancient fortifications and castles now in ruins, and startling legends, will, most probably, be the objects of his contemplations by day and dreams by night for several weeks.

Cologne is the fountain head of 'Eau de Cologne.' It is a very ancient and well fortified town, and owes its existence to a Roman encampment pitched here in the time of Marcus Agrippa, which was afterwards rendered permanent and grew into a city by the settlement of a tribe called the Ubii, from whom it received the name Civitas Ubiorum. Agrippina, the mother of Nero, who was herself born here in the camp of her father, Germanicus, afterwards founded a colony of Roman veterans here and called the city Colonia Agrippina. Many works of the Romans, portions of the ancient defences, altars, inscriptions, &c., are still to be seen. For more than three centuries, from the middle of the 12th to the end of the 15th, it was the most flourishing city of Northern Europe. It was, however, finally ruined by the intolerance of the Catholics. The Jews were banished A. D. 1425. A law was enacted providing that if a Jew came into the city he should be accompanied by a guard, and pay a ducat for every hour he remained. In 1618 the final stroke was given to Cologne by the banishment of the Protestants, from which it did not recover for two hundred years. During the last twenty years it has revived considerably from its sleep of ages, and, by the aid of several railways, now terminating here, and more liberal commercial relations with other portions of Europe than it has heretofore enjoyed, is once more a great centre of commerce and travel on the Rhine. T. H.

DODGES, FLAWS, ABUSES AND TRICKS.—A bar keeper in Rutland, who has been indicted for selling liquor, complains that the authorities have put back the temperance cause for years by prosecuting him. He says that the people were becoming so well trained that they took liquors from him which were two thirds water, and that if he had been let alone he would have got them so that they would have drank clear water within six months.

Of course he could not expect any body to believe him; but his arguments for dram selling, and his objections to the law, are about as good as any that we see offered.

The Concord, N. H., Phœnix, of Sept. 8, says:

We hear that essence of peppermint, or something which is dignified with that name, but which is simply some kind of intoxicating liquor scented with a little peppermint, is sold pretty freely in Concord since the new law went into effect. We trust our city authorities will be on the lookout for such evasions of the law, and allow none of those who deal in these articles to go unpunished.

The same paper says in another paragraph:

We hear complaints that intoxicating liquors are too freely sold at the Concord Agency. On Tuesday, two of the witnesses in the liquor trials, from Pembroke, procured liquor from the agency and got drunk. Of course the agent is liable to be imposed upon, but the position is a very responsible one in a place like this, and demands the exercise of the greatest care. It seems to us that one of the chief qualifications of the agent should be a very extensive acquaintance with the people in the community for which such agent is appointed.

The agent appointed in this city possesses this requisite qualification, a general knowledge of the people; and is therefore as little liable to imposition as any person would be: but no one can be entirely free from it. We also take pleasure in saying, for the benefit of any who may not know him so well as we do, that while he will be firm in the legal execution of his trust, he will also extend every reasonable accommodation as to hours of delivery, to applicants for liquors for medical purposes, in cases of real need.

It may be proper to state, in this connexion, that Alcohol is among the liquors kept there; and that our druggists or most of them, petitioned the Aldermen for license to sell Alcohol.

This looks as if the city government, the agent, and the druggists, all thought, a short time ago, that the sale of that article was forbidden.

In regard to the peppermint essence dodge, noticed in Concord, no notice need be taken of it, farther than to punish its sale, as of an intoxicating liquor.

And so, in regard to the sale of Alcohol, if the Court should decide it not to be a liquor, but a drug; no doubt some would be sold and carried away, raw, and perhaps much mischief would ensue; but when mixed and diluted so as to be drinkable, it would be no longer a drug, but rum or liquor, and could not be sold legally, either to be drank in the shop or carried out of it.

If, at the worst, this supposed hole in the law should prove to be a real hole; the people of this State will surely put on a patch that will cover it.

Mr. O Fiske, of Connecticut, who was injured in the late railroad accident, at Burlington, N. J. and had one foot amputated in consequence, died this morning, Sept. 7.

LOCAL.

☞ Peter Jenness, Esq, has been chosen President, and James P. Bartlett, Esq, Cashier of the Bank of New Hampshire, soon to go into operation in this city.

☞ Capt. Clark, at Exchange Saloon, under the Chronicle office, has a good assortment of Fruit, Confectionery, &c., and especially a fine lot of Bartlett Pears, just ready for the tooth, which he is selling at retail or by measure.

For the Chronicle.

Messrs. Editors:—I hope that neither Homo nor any one else will suppose that I intended to be personal in what I write. I am dealing with principles, which like coats in a store are made for those whom they fit.

As Homo sought for something in my former communication in relation to the recent alcoholic case, and found nothing, I herewith offer the following, not far his special benefit, but for any one who may require it.

The framers of the law are the proper interpreters of the meaning of the law, and they tell us that the law is made for the suppression of intemperance.

Looking through a lawyer's spectacles, which so magnify the type that the attention is drawn off from the sense of the words to the technicalities, it may appear difficult to decide the important question under consideration, but looking at it with our natural eyes, with an ordinary degree of common sense, the difficulty vanishes.

Will the unrestrained sale of the tincture of rheubarb, and other tinctures, or burning fluid, endanger the morals of the community by promoting intemperance? Certainly not. And we may conclude the legislature did not include these articles in the prohibitory law.

Will the free liberty to sell alcohol be likely to promote intemperance? If any one says no, he is either entirely ignorant of the uses of alcohol, or he does not think there is danger from the unrestricted sale of intoxicating liquor.

Every rumseller knows that alcohol and water will make a good article of new rum; and a little instruction from the knowing ones will enable them or the purchaser to transform the alcohol into brandy, gin or whiskey or even into the various kinds of wine. And should our courts rule that alcohol was not included in the prohibitory law, it would not be a fortnight before we should have liquor shops again in abundance. Every one knows that our Legislature did mean alcohol, and not only so, but they meant nothing else.

The tincture of rheubarb is a drug with alcohol in it, and it may be said that the brandy, gin, &c. of commerce are drugs with alcohol in them, or that all intoxicating liquors are drugs with alcohol in them; but is any one so stupid that he cannot see a plain distinction that was intended to be made in these drugs, by the legislators. No one can fail to see that one class of drugs is bought for the alcohol they contain. The other class of drugs are bought, not for the alcohol they necessarily contain, but for the drug itself.

Those liquids which people buy for the sake of the alcohol, the legislature attempted to put under a restricted sale. Should a druggist mix a drop or two of tincture with a pint of alcohol, it would doubtless be sold for the alcohol, and the seller should therefore suffer the penalty of the law.

Had my former communication been written after the recent trial, this additional principle would doubtless have been suggested, viz, It is the duty of a lawyer to aid the community in sustaining the laws of the land.—To aid people in evading the laws renders them equally guilty with those who break the laws. PRINCIPLE.

REPUBLICAN MEETING AT KITTERY (Me.)—VILLAINOUS CONDUCT OF SOMEBODY!—The last meeting of the Republicans of Kittery, was held at the Point on Saturday evening. S. P. Hanscom, of Boston, reviewed the public acts of the Administration in a speech which occupied two hours. The meeting was large and enthusiastic, and closed with three cheers for Gov. Morrill and the speaker. After its adjournment two gentlemen who have been active in the Republican movement, found the harnesses upon their horses entirely cut to pieces. The team of Dr. Wentworth broke down while he was conveying Mr. Hanscom to his lodgings, several nuts having been removed to disable the vehicle, which resulted in frightening the Doctor's spirited horse, and endangering the lives of himself and Mr. H. If the parties guilty of such conduct are known, they should be brought to justice. A being who would endanger the lives of persons by disabling a vehicle, would pull up rails upon Railroads. KITTERY.

From the Auditor's report of the city expenses of Boston for the last financial year, just issued, is copied the following:

Burns Case. Extra expenses of maintaining the peace of the city during the trial and surrender of Anthony Burns, a fugitive slave from Virginia, $2,727.60.

MAINE ELECTION takes place to-day.—There is much crowing, and some bragging, as to what the different parties will do. We shall know more about it to-morrow or next day.

☞ Our Exeter correspondent states that Jacob Rowe and Joseph R. James, who were drowned on Friday morning, near Hampton Falls Depot, both belonged at Exeter, and left that place in a boat with a third man named Robinson. In endeavoring to cross the river, Rowe fell overboard; in trying to save him, the others upset the boat, and thus James and Rowe were drowned, not being able to swim. Robinson escaped.

Mr. Rowe leaves a family in Exeter; James was a young man not married.

ARRIVAL OF THE NORTHERN LIGHT.

New York, Sept 8.

The Northern Light has arrived, bringing news to the 18th ult, 450 passengers, and over $1,000,000 in specie. No exciting news.

Trade at San FFrancisco was dull, and most articles had declined in price. The mines continue to do well. The wheat crop would yield about 2,000,000 bushels.

Seventy-five Americans had been murdered on the Klamath. Thirteen Indians had been caught and hung. The Indians had also attacked the miners on the upper Sacramento. Seven Americans were wounded and fifty Indians killed.

At Ranchora, a party of Mexican robbers attacked the settlers, killing eight men and one woman. The robbers were pursued; a fight ensued, in which the Sheriff and three of the robbers were killed. Nine of the outlaws were afterwards hung by Lynch law.

I. C. Woods, late partner of Adams & Co. has absconded for Australia. It appears that he and his friends retained over $100,000 of the assets of the concern.

In the vault of a building formerly occupied by Adams & Co, an apparatus for the preparation of bogus gold dust had been found including acids and other chemicals, and an iron mill used to give the base metals the peculiar shape of flake gold. This mill had the remains of the last grist in it.

A fire had occurred in Stockton, destroying property to the amount of $30,000.

Col Walker arrived at San Juan del Sur on the 29th with a small detachment under his command. He was endeavoring to recruit from the California passengers, but met with little success.

Col Kinney was still at San Juan del Norte. He had concluded his contract for the Shephard grant of 35,000,000 acres of land, and had sent an agent to Grenada to get the grant confirmed by the Government.

THE FEVER.—Baltimore, 8th.—The news from Norfolk today is more encouraging. A decrease in the number of deaths, and the cases more easily managed. Deaths at Norfolk on Thursday, 23, and on Friday, it is rumored were twenty.

Letters say the deaths at Portsmouth average 15 daily. All the Physicians from the North are down, excepting two.

FLOUR at New York on Friday, 7th inst. 6 P. M. was said to be 25 to 37 cts. better—that is, better for the holder, but worse for the buyer.

The best brand of Genessee flour is selling at $8 a bbl. in Rochester. What keeps it up here?

☞ Boston donations for Norfolk and Portsmouth, are $2800.

The house of Wesley Vanaman, Hamilton township, N J, was destroyed by fire on Friday morning. Two of Mr Vanaman's children, aged 10 and 18 years, and Albert Ackley, perished in the flames.

It is related as an authentic fact, that at the St. Bartholomew massacre in Paris, the celebrated preacher, Peter Moulin, was preserved for future usefulness to the Church in a most remarkable manner. He crept into a brick oven to conceal himself, but had little hope of remaining undiscovered in the ferreting search for slaughter that was carried on. A spider, however, immediately crawled to the opening of the good man's retreat, and wove a web across it. The dust blew upon the airy screen, and made it dingy, so that the place appeared to have been long unfrequented. The enemies of the Christians soon passed by, and one of them carelessly exclaimed, "No one could have been in that oven for several days."

Judge Kane of Philadelphia has been in conference with Judge Lewis of the Pennsylvania Supreme Court, for several days, in reference to the Williamson case. It is believed that Judge Kane will order Williamson's release, in anticipation of the action of the State Court to that end. The Courts desire to avoid a collision, and Judge K. is by this time satisfied that such efforts as his to save the Union are not properly estimated.—Williamson is well and in good spirits. Mrs. W. gave birth, last Thursday, to a daughter. She felt the absence of her husband on the trying occasion to be a great privation, but bore it well. The two men convicted of assault and battery in the case, will demand another trial, on the ground of being in possession of new evidence.—Boston Tel.

DEAD SHOT FOR BED BUGS.

A SURE death to these noxious disturbers of our nightly rest. Apply it to insects and it convinces them and lays them out as readily as Sulphur Fumes kills Bees

SANCHO PANZA

Called down "blessings upon the head of the man who first invented sleep." How much more worthy such honorable distinction would he consider the inventor of the Dead Shot, who, by his Pungent and Deadly Preparation, has rendered utterly impossible the ancient bloody forays of such tolerable and not to be endured tormentors; and who has enabled every one to guarantee to himself his own particular share of "tired Nature's sweet restorer."

AMERICAN AND FOREIGN OFFICE.
Agency for business with US Patent Office, Washington,
76 State st, oppo. Kilby st, Boston.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION TO INVENTORS.—The Subscriber (late Agent of the U. S. Patent Office, under the Act of 1836) determined to present advantages, in applying for Patents, superior to those offered to inventors by others, has made arrangements whereby on applications prepared and conducted by him, THIRTY DOLLARS (instead of twenty, as is paid both by others,) will be remitted by him in case of failure to obtain a patent, and the withdrawal through him within thirty days after the rejection. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments and all necessary papers and drawings, for procuring patents in the US and foreign countries prepared, and advice rendered on legal and scientific matters respecting inventions, and infringement of patents.

Inventors can not only here obtain their specifications on the most reasonable terms, but can here avail themselves of the experience of 20 years' practice, an extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and correct accounts of patents granted in this and other countries; besides being saved a journey to Washington, the usual great delay there, as well as all personal trouble in obtaining their patents. Copies of claims of any patent furnished by remitting one dollar.—Assignments recorded at Wa.hington.

H. H. EDDY,
Solicitor of Patents.

"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. There were few, if any persons acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent Office; and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the best informed and most skilful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.

PIANOS.
HALLETT, DAVIS & CO.
MANUFACTURERS of
GRAND AND SQUARE
PIANO-FORTES.

☞ Particular attention is solicited to our PATENT SUSPENSION BRIDGE—also to our PATENT GRAND ACTION, as applied to both Grand and Square Pianos.

WAREROOMS,
NEW FREESTONE BLOCK,
No. 409 WASHINGTON STREET,
NEAR BOYLSTON STREET.....BOSTON.

Opinions of the Press.

It is now generally acknowledged that the Pianos manufactured by Hallet, Davis & Co. are unrivalled in America, if in the world, for brilliancy or purity of tone.—Boston Daily Times.

An immense volume of sound can be produced by these Pianos without shattering the tones, as they send forth the most perfect, bell like notes, and we must confess that we have never listened to their equals for power, brilliancy, sweetness of tone, and purity of action.—Boston Herald.

The Pianos of Hallet, Davis & Co. deserve more than a passing notice They are truly splendid instruments, very powerful, and of the purest and richest quality of tone.—Boston Traveller.

In regard to purity of tone, power and sweetness, being fully equal to any instrument that has come under our observation.—Boston Courier.

Owing to the beautiful elasticity of the action of your Grand Piano Forte, I think it would be impossible for any Pianist, who plays properly, to break either a string or a hammer.—Extract from a Letter from Wm. Mason.

The peculiar features of Hallet, Davis & Co.'s instruments is, they make no noise. Nothing but pure tone is produced by the vibration of the strings; and the construction of the sounding board, and action are such that skilful pianists, after examining their merits, dislike to use any other instrument in the Concert room.—Philadelphia Sunday Mercury.

I find them to be very superior instruments—as well in tone as in touch.—Extract of a Letter from L. M. Gottschalk.

I can unhesitatingly say that I find them superior in quality and quantity of tone, to those of other makers; also in the elasticity and easy touch; and can cheerfully recommend them to any one who wishes to enjoy play on the best Pianos.—Extract of a letter from Robert Heller.

WHEREAS, His Excellency the Governor, has laid before the legislature the following preamble and resolutions, from the general assembly of the State of Arkansas, viz:

"Whereas, the right of property in slaves is expressly recognized by the constitution of the United States, and is by virtue of such recognition, guaranteed against unfriendly action on behalf of the general government; and, whereas, each State of the union, by the fact of being a party to the federal compact, is also a party to the recognition and guarantee aforesaid; and, whereas, the citizens of each State are in consequence of such citizenship, under the most sacred obligations to conform to the terms and tenor of the compact to which their State is a party, therefore,—

1st, Be it resolved by the General Assembly of the State of Arkansas, That the legislation of Congress, repealing the Missouri compromise of eighteen hundred and twenty, and asserting the doctrine of non-interference with slavery, alike in States and territories, is in strict accordance with the constitution, and in itself just and expedient, and is for these reasons cordially approved by the people of Arkansas.

2d. Resolved, That the opposition of the northern States to the legislation above mentioned, is at war with the letter and spirit of the constitution, is grossly violative of plighted faith, and is a traitorous blow aimed at the rights of the South, and the perpetuity of the union.

3d. Resolved, That the citizens of the State of Ohio have pursued a course peculiarly unjust and odious, in their fanatical hostility to institutions for which they are not responsible; in their encouragement of known felons, and endorsement of repeated and shameless violations of law and decency, and in their establishment of abolition presses and circulation of incendiary documents, urging a servile population to bloodshed and rapine; and by reason of the premises, it is the duty and the interest of the people of Arkansas to discontinue all social and commercial relations with the citizens of said State, and the same is hereby earnestly recommended as the punishment of past outrages, and a preventive of further aggression.

4th. Resolved, That His Excellency the Governor be, and he is hereby requested to transmit copies of these resolutions to the governors of the several States and territories of the union, to be laid before the legislative authorities thereof, and to our senators and representatives in congress, to be laid before the senate and house of representatives of the United States."

THEREFORE, Be it resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives in General Court convened, as follows: 1st. Resolved, That the legislature of New Hampshire expressly and distinctly deny, that the constitution of the United States recognizes the right of property in slaves, and while they admit that the constitution confers upon congress no authority to interfere with the subject in the States, they do claim that from all territory over which congress have the exclusive power of legislation, they may, and it is their duty to exclude it, and that the doctrine of the slave States that congress are restrained from all action unfriendly to slavery in such territory cannot be sustained.

2d. Resolved, That the legislature of New Hampshire entirely disagree with the general assembly of the State of Arkansas, respecting the repeal of the Missouri compromise of 1820, and believe that the repeal of said compromise was an uncalled for, a most gross and wanton outrage upon the rights, feelings and sentiments of the people of the free States, and should be condemned by every citizen of every State of this union, as a most perfidious and treacherous violation of public faith and national honor.

3d. Resolved, That the people of New Hampshire demand as a right, the restoration of said compromise, and the amendments of the Kansas and Nebraska bill, so called, so as to exclude slavery from said territories, and will never consent to the admission into the union of any State out of said territory with a constitution tolerating slavery.

4th. Resolved, That while the people of New Hampshire are ardently and affectionately attached to the Union, and will do all in their power to preserve it, consistently with their honor and their rights, they will not, to avoid any crisis, submit to the introduction of slavery into Kansas and Nebraska, consecrated and set apart to free labor, as those territories have been for more than thirty years, by the consent of all the States of the union.

5th. Resolved, That all the threats of dissolution of the union coming from the slave States, unless they are permitted to regulate the policy of the general government on the subject of slavery, have lost all their terrors with the people of New Hampshire, and that they are ready to demand and enforce their rights in every crisis, and at any sacrifice consistently with honor and the constitution.

6th. Resolved, That it will be in time for the general assembly of Arkansas to complain of the legislation of the free States respecting slavery, when the slave States shall have corrected their own, and when the lives, liberty and property of the people of the free States shall be made safe therein.

7th. Resolved, That the question whether "it is the duty and the interest of the people of Arkansas to discontinue all social and commercial relations" with the people of Ohio, in consequence of conduct of which they disapprove, is one upon which the people of New Hampshire are not, at this time, called to act, and one which they are willing the people of Arkansas should settle for themselves, upon their own responsibility, having no fears that the people of Ohio will be frightened from what they deem their duty or interest, by any threats of the kind coming from the State of Arkansas, or any other slave State. and that the people of New Hampshire hereby pledge themselves to the people of Ohio, that they will unite with, and sustain them in all constitutional efforts to resist the further aggressions of the slave power.

8th. Resolved, That His Excellency the Governor be, and he hereby is requested to transmit copies of these resolutions to the governors of the several States and territories of the union, to be laid before the legislative authorities thereof, and to our senators and representatives in congress, to be laid before the senate and house of representatives of the United States. Approved July 14, 1855.

Resolved, &c. That, concurring substantially with the general assembly of the State of Rhode Island and Providence Plantations in the resolutions transmitted by the message of His Excellency the Governor, "our senators and representatives in congress be, and they hereby are requested, to urge upon the consideration of congress, the necessity of passing a law, imposing severe penalties against the introduction or importation into this country of foreign paupers and foreign criminals; since the introduction of the first named class of foreigners, is calculated to impose unreasonable taxes upon American citizens, and of the latter class, to corrupt the public morals, and endanger the public safety."

Resolved, That our senators and representatives in congress be, and they are hereby requested, to use their best exertions to procure the passage by the national legislature, of a new naturalization law, which shall require a previous continuous residence of not less than ten, nor more than twenty-one years in this country, to enable an alien to become a citizen thereof, and that all processes and oaths required by such law, shall be required to be had and taken exclusively before some circuit or district court of the United States, and before the judge or judges thereof in open court.

Resolved, That His Excellency the Governor, be requested to transmit copies of the above resolutions to our senators and representatives in congress, to be by them presented to their respective houses of congress, and to the governers of other States, with a request that they be communicated to the legislatures thereof.

Morning Chronicle.

TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 11, 1855.

For the Chronicle.

ENTERPRISE IN YORK COUNTY.

From the tenor of Uncle Toby's editorial in the Chronicle of the 4th inst, I perceive that he entirely mistakes the spirit of Down East's epistles to him respecting the "geography" of Portsmouth and Kittery, and the ship building, &c. therein; for Down East set nought down in malice or petulance, but "pleasantly" cited facts in order to set history right. And it is his catholic spirit that induces him to rejoice in the prosperity of Portsmouth, and to discard all "narrow views or sectional prejudices" towards her; and thus he hopes also to preserve the harmony of our social relations, and the "pleasant view," and "ornament" of the northern and other environs of "our city."

As an impetus to this blessed era of good feelings and comicals, let us a moment, study Uncle Toby's geography. "Geographically, Portsmouth," N. H. "Navy Yard is in Kittery, Me."! This is the platform of Uncle's "love of country";—thus he extends the area of geographical freedom to Portsmouth genius and enterprise! This probably prevents all "damage" to his "patriotic feelings who he bears the phrases Kittery Navy Yard—Kittery ship—Kittery captain"! Well, that's nice so far: and now, having learned thus much in the new geography, we may "quite naturally" hereafter call north south—east west, and "the moon green cheese." Why not! For New Castle, Kittery, Eliot, &c. being "all on the shores of old Piscataqua," we further learn from our new geography, "entitled to their respective shares of the honor belonging to Portsmouth ship-builders" and enterprise! Hurrah, for our "dignity"! Here, verily, is a magnificent gratuity from the city of Portsmouth to all her neighbors, provided they will say—Great is Diana—no, Portsmouth of New Hampshire. The name and game are her honors—we outsiders humbly and gratefully acknowledge ourselves shadows of by-path appendages to and about "our city" suburbs!

Now soberly, Uncle Toby, if you and your cotemporary newspaporialists in Portsmouth are so exceedingly neighborly, catholic and generous in your views on this question, why is it that you are so sensitive, so nettled, when now and then, a Mass. newspaper claims a little of the naval honors, &c. that belong to Portsmouth, when you do the same thing towards those in your own immediate vicinity? I could cite parallel cases of this nature, but that is needless, as you must be as conversant with the facts as I am. Is it less honorable in them than in you?

I still like Portsmouth, and feel more interest in her progress and prosperity than in any other place, save my own native town. But "consistency is a jewel," everybody says.—And the truly liberal "view" and non-"sectional" spirit are ever to render "honor to whom honor is due," be the same more or less.

With the utmost good-nature, then, Uncle Toby, I assure you, that this sentiment is as applicable to your and all other points of the compass, as to

DOWN EAST.

PASSMORE WILLIAMSON. — A despatch from Philadelphia, Sept. 8. says—

The Supreme Court of Pennsylvania, which is now in session here, has refused to grant the release of Passmore Williamson.—Judge Lowrie concurred in the decision, although he differed from the others in some of the views of the case. Judge KNOX dissented from the decision.

Judge Black read the decision. The ground taken is, that the Court has no jurisdiction to warrant its interfering with the judgement of the Federal Court; that such Courts have exclusive power in deciding cases of contempt, and this Court could not go behind the record to ascertain the fact whether the commitment was legal or not.

Judge Knox, in his adverse opinion, contends that the District Court had no jurisdiction to issue a warrant of habeas corpus in the first place, and that Williamson was guilty of no crime in refusing to answer it. He also urges that the power to issue writs of habeas corpus is confined exclusively to the State Courts.

ARRIVAL OF THE EMPIRE CITY.

NEW YORK, Sept. 10.—The steamship Empire City, from Aspinwall September 1st, arrived here about 12 o'clock, with the California mails of August 18th, 360 passengers, and $929,000.

Trade was active at Valparaiso, owing to the numerous arrivals. Flour in great demand for Australia at 11 1-2a$12.

In Bolivia the Presidential election had terminated in favor of Gen. Cordoba, son-in-law of Belzu, the acting President.

SMALL POX AND YELLOW FEVER IN NORFOLK.—Baltimore, Sept. 9. The tidings from Norfolk are, that there is no abatement of the yellow fever, and that the small pox has also broken out there, of which there were ten cases on Saturday.

At Norfolk, on Friday, there were forty deaths from yellow fever, and on Saturday up to noon there had been twenty five deaths.

At Portsmouth, on Friday, there were 22 deaths, and 50 new cases. On Saturday, up to noon, there had been 15 deaths.

STATE FAIR.—For the accommodation of those wishing to attend the Fair on the 12th, 13th and 14th inst, tickets will be sold at reduced rates on the P. & C. Railroad, as follows: from Portsmouth to Concord and back, $1.75; Greenland, 1.65; Epping, 1.20. Up trains leave Portsmouth at 6.45 AM. and 12.40 PM. Special trains leave Concord for Manchester at 9.30 and 11 AM. Fare down and back, 60 cts. Stages leave Candia for Manchester upon the arrival of up trains. Fare to Candia and back, 1.15. Unless special tickets are purchased, full fare will be charged.

BREAKING JAIL.—The County Jail at Concord, N. H., was broken open Sunday afternoon. Four of the prisoners made their escape. Among them was John W. Rand, confined for robbing the Concord Savings Bank. Pursuit was made, and Rand and two others were captured in the afternoon. One swam across the Merrimac River, and escaped into the woods, leaving all his clothing behind, but was caught in the evening.

RAIROAD ACCIDENT IN NEW JERSEY.—We record the fact that two more accidents have happened upon the New Jersey railroads. The seven o'clock train from Philadelphia over the New Jersey railroad, on Saturday morning, was near Elizabethtown, when a sudden concussion started the terrified passengers from their seats. A rail had become elevated, and and the sudden jar produced as the cars passed over it at full speed, threw a baggage crate from its platform to the distance of twenty rods into an adjoining field. The passengers were not injured, but the baggrge was scattered in every direction.

The same afternoon another serious accident attended with loss of life occurred on the Camden and Amboy Railroad. The engine of the two o'clock train when near Beverly was thrown from the track by the breaking of an axle attached to the forward truck and rendered it a complete wreck. One baggage car and a passenger car also run off, By this accident, the engineer was so badly injured that it was necessary to amputate one of his limbs, but he died shortly after. The fireman was seriously injured, but the passengers escaped unhurt. The accident was occasioned by a flaw in the axle next to the wesel. An examination proved the axle to have been sound about an inch and a half in a diameter of five inches. The greatest excitement of course prevailed, and it is thought that the engineer was aware of the flaw before he started upon the fatal trip.

SUNDAY CEREMONIES.—Those who think that foreign popish usages will never be naturalized here, may learn that a statue of the blessed Virgin Mary was inaugurated at the Church of the Redeemer on Third street, New York, on Sunday morning last. The image was brilliantly painted, had a blue robe fringed and starred with gold, and was encircled with a halo of gas burners. A German military company was in attendance, with a full brass band, and knelt during the elevation of the host, at the command of the captain.—Comment is unnecessary.—Union.

The Bunker Hill Aurora says that the late Mr. David Devens left among his bequests, the following:

To the City of Charlestown, for the purpose of providing books for the poor,	$1000
To the Female Benevolent Society,	2000
Rev. Mr. Ellis's church,	1000
The First Parish,	1000
The Baptist church,	1000
The Universalist church,	1000
Rev. Mr. Tappan's	1000

The following anecdote actually occurred in this city, a few days since: a little girl, apparently four or five years of age, attended Church, and is being somewhat new to her, she commenced taking a survey of the interior of the building. At last she observed the organ, and looking at it steadily a few moments, exclaimed—"What a beauty of a fireplace!"—Concord Phenix.

LOCAL.

POLICE COURT.

MONDAY, Sept. 11—Before Justice Odell.

The case State vs. Preston came up by adjournment for decision. The justice said he did not feel called upon absolutely to decide on the merits of the case. It would be his duty to do so, if the offence charged were one in which his Court had jurisdiction: in such circumstances he must try the case and decide it. But in cases like the present, where his only power is to discharge or hold for trial,—it is the Magistrate's duty to consider whether a conviction would probably be obtained at the higher tribunal. If he deems it probable, it becomes his duty to bind over. Considering it probable in the present case, he ordered the respondent to recognize in the sum of $200 for his appearance at Court.

WASHINGTONIAN MEETING.—The Annual Meeting of the Portsmouth Washington Total Abstinence Society, was held at the Temple, on Monday evening, when the Annual Report was presented, and the following officers elected for the ensuing year.

T. H. Miller, President.
F. W. Rogers, Vice President.

RETURN OF CATTLE.—On Monday evening just at dusk, a considerable drove of Cattle were seen passing through this city toward the State of Maine: quite an unusual sight. The drover informed one of our citizens that he had driven them to Brighton, Mass. but could not sell them to advantage. He therefore drove them back. This shows the fall in prices at the West,—and plenty of fodder in the East.

SALT FOR CONCORD.—The cargo of ship Granite State, just arrived at this port from Trapani, is 1378 tons salt; it was sold to F. W. Rogers of this city, and by him sold in one lot to John H. Pearson & Co. of Concord, N. H.

☞ We complete on our outside this morning, the publication of the Laws passed at the June Session of the New Hampshire General Court.

We also fill a page inside, with a list of Boston Business Cards, from the Advertising Agency of B. R. Richardson & Co. Many of them are from old and well-known houses; and the others will be favorably judged from the company they are in, as well as from the general fact that the most judicious advertisers are the best to deal with.

These two long documents rather curtail our usual miscellany; but advertising is the article upon which the printer flourisheth, and in a good supply of which the Chronicle has ever rejoiced, yea, and will rejoice.

☞ Somebody has broken into Jefferson Market, and rifled the money-drawers in the stalls, twice within a few weeks—the second entrance having been made on Saturday night last. But a few dollars in change was found by the thieves. Mr. Sewall says they did not molest the tills of occupants belonging to the K. N. party, but only those of the democracy, in both instances—and says he shall be ready to furnish a key for any individual who wishes to enter the market after business hours. We should think the light-fingered gent would hardly know whether to search neighbor Sewall's drawer or not, judging from the above test—as it has been hinted that he is like the Philadelphia thimble-rigger, on this K. N. question: "now he is, and now he aint."

HITCH YOUR HORSES.—A pair of horses attached to a four-wheeled hay-rack, belonging in North Hampton, started from Market Square, on Saturday about noon, and run through Congress and Middle streets, to the Ham house, corner of State, where the horses concluded to take both sides of the corner of the house, and considerably damaged a window by the consequent collision. Near by, Vaughan street, the team came in contact with a covered bread-wagon, in which were riding a couple of young men; the wagon was upset, and the riders pitched out, but not seriously injured.

☞ The corner stone of the new High School House in this city, on the corner of Daniel and Chapel streets, was laid on Monday afternoon, without parade. A variety of documents were deposited.

LIQUOR SEIZURE.—Last Saturday afternoon a large trunk directed to "H. Rafferty," received by the train of cars from Boston attracted some attention in the Depot of this city. The porter who called for it bringing no order from Mr. Rafferty, the trunk was not delivered, and Marshal Hanscom learning that there was good reason to believe the "critter" was confined in the trunk, thought it a case requiring his attention. He consequently repaired thither and was not much surprised at soon seeing his old customer Andrew Goodrich lurking about with a bereaved expression. He made no demand for the trunk, however, in the presence of the Marshal, who saw the depot closed. This morning Marshal Hanscom and Assistant Marshal Dresser called at the depot with a search warrant, overhauled the trunk, and found therein a ten-gallon keg of brandy, and a portly jug of gin, safely packed with pillows and bedding. They have it in safe keeping, to await the order of court.—Ballot.

Rules given for the outside and skirt.—Patterns cut to fit the form for 25 cents; or lining fitted for 37½ cents. Ladies should not defer, as Miss Allen's time is limited. PURE CIDER VINEGAR for PICKLES—for sale by MATHES & VARRELL. s5

CHICAGO, Sept. 8.—Two men have returned from Hannibal, Mo., who state that they found the supposed gold region around the Arkansas river, but report the total failure of the expedition, and the lynching of the leader of the company, named Poole, by his exasperated companions.

The total population of Chicago, as by the census just taken and complete, is 80,028.—In 1850 it was 28,620.

The reported re-election of Senator Atchison to the United States Senate from Missouri, as stated by the New York Tribune, is a glaring hoax. It is well known that the Legislature do not meet for several months to come.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 9.—The train from Baltimore last night ran over a bull, near Annapolis Junction, and threw the train off the track. The mail, baggage and smoking cars were smashed, the latter was full of passengers, but all miraculously escaped without the least injury.

The passengers arrived here at 12 o'clock last night.

The state of negotiations at the Court of St. James are such that the public interest will require the continuance of Mr. Buchanan for a longer period than he or his friends in this country anticipated. His connection with that mission will not therefore terminate at the time heretofore announced, namely, the 1st of October. It is presumed that his detention has reference to the Central American question.

HAVANA, Aug. 27.—Santa Anna goes immediately to Caraccas, where, or in the vicinity, he proposes to pass the balance of his days. The chicken folk look decidedly blue and down, as great predictions were made of an imaginary structure, for which the purse of Santa Anna was to meet the expense in his favorite sport at the cock pit. His reception has been a very cordial one on the part of General Concha and the authorities.

Health about the same. Not any excessive disease perceptible in the community.—Correspondence of Jour. of Com.

NEW YORK, Sept. 9.—A suit has been commenced in the United States Circuit Court, by a lawyer of the city against the Camden and Amboy Railroad Company for damages on account of injuries sustained by two members of his family in the recent catastrophe.

The weather has been most oppressively hot here to-day.

YELLOW FEVER AT NEW ORLEANS.—New Orleans, Sept. 7.—The yellow fever is sensibly abating in this city, and the week's return will doubtless show a gratifying decrease in the number of deaths.

A HARD CASE.—A correspondent sends us the following information. Eliphalet S. Rollins, late a private watchman on the Merrimac Corporation, sent his wife, with two little children, home to her friends in the country, giving her to understand that he would soon come to see her. He gave her only five dollars to pay expenses with. The youngest child is but six months old, and the other less than two years old, and Mrs. Rollins is of a very slim constitution.

After Mrs. Rollins was gone, her husband sold all the furniture, and with the proceeds and other money, in all some $700, decamped. It is supposed he has gone West. Mrs. R. is left in a penniless state.—Lowell News.

VERMONT.—The Atlas gives returns of the Vermont election from 204 towns, the aggregates of which are, for Governor, Royce, 23,869; Clark, 11,530; scattering, 4,090. For Representatives, there are 140 Whigs and Republicans elected; 28 Dem.; 31 K. N. The Atlas says there is a majority for Royce of 8,180 over all others. The few town remaining to be heard from will probably rather increase than diminish the majority of Gov. Royce.

INTENT TO SELL.—Before the Cambridge Police Court, on Friday, Robert M. Campbell was convicted of having liquor in his possession with intent to sell the same. Only a prima facie case for the government was made out, but the deft. was ordered to pay a fine of $10, and be imprisoned twenty days in the House of Correction, and give bonds in the sum of $1000 not to violate the law again for the term of one year. The accused entered an appeal.—Boston Mail.

FATAL TERMINATION.—R. J. Laurence, U S Mail agent, who was seriously injured by the recent accident on the Stonington Railroad, died on Saturday at his residence in So. Boston. Mr. Simmons of Rhode Island, who had both legs crushed off by the same accident, is also dead. He died at his residence in Kingston, RI. on Saturday.

BOSTON, July 25, 1855.
Dear Sir:—We have used "Ward & Bootts" Depilatory Salts on about one thousand salted hides, that had been heated so much that they would not bear the usual amount of soaking without damage. By the use of the salts we found the tendency to decay immediately arrested; consequently we have no hesitation in recommending its use, pritcularly in such cases.

Having been often solicited to establish a branch of our house in this city of Boston for the sale of LEARY & CO.'S HATS, we have made arrangements with Messrs. IVES & TUTHILL, of the Albion Buildings, Tremont Street, to furnish them with a constant and full supply of all our manufactures and importations, enabling them to issue the new styles, as invented, by us, simultaneously with our house in New York.
It is with much confidence that we commend to the citizens of New England, the enterprise of the above named young men, and we can assure our friends and customers, that while we have no pecuniary interest in the firm of IVES & TUTHILL, yet the goods they sell will be identical in quality, style and price, with the articles sold by us in New York.
LEARY & CO., Astor House, New York.
The firm of LEARY & CO. have been established for a quarter of a century, and every year have not only increased its sales, but its manufacturing and importing facilities. One of the undersigned having been connected with this establishment as a salesman for some time, and both feeling convinced that its claim to the leadership of Fashion in all that pertains to the covering of the masculine head is confirmed by the adoption of their styles by the public and the trade, enter with confidence upon the sale of their goods, assured that it will be mutually beneficial to the public and themselves.

Hews' Patent American Action
From the illustrious Pianist, L. M. Gottschalk, to Mr. Hews' Agent at New York.
New York, Dec. 5, 1853.
Mr. N. P. B. Curtiss—Dear Sir:—Having had the pleasure of performing upon Geo. Hews' American Patent Action Piano, at the World's Fair in this city, the present year, and other of his Pianos at your Warerooms, which afforded me much gratification, I cheerfully recommend them to the public. I am very glad of the improvement in the action.—These instruments likewise are of excellent tone, owing, no doubt, to the perfection of the scales.
Very respectfully, L. M. Gottschalk.

STAMMERING CURED!
DR. BRONSON & C. C. BEERS,
Are happy in announcing that STAMMERING can be permanently CURED by Medicine and Vocal Gymnastics. It is first treated as a Nervous Disease, (like St. Vitus' Dance, Epileptic Fits, etc.) and then the habit, incident to the disease, is corrected by exercises in Elocution. Mr. Beers has been an inveterate stammerer for thirty-five years; has attended many institutions for the cure of stammering, and expended hundreds of dollars without any permanent benefit, but cured himself 18 months ago, and has ever since remained so. With the same means, we have cured others, to whom we would gladly refer any applicants—not having failed in a single instance. Being satisfied from reason, experience and observation, that stammering is the effect of a Nervous Disorder, and can be perfectly cured by the above means in the course of two or three weeks, we assure all interested of these gratifying results, and guarantee a permanent cure, or refund the small fee paid in advance. Those desiring further information on these subjects, (including terms, etc.) can obtain it from our New York, just issued, on Stammering, its Effects, Causes, and Remedies; illustrated by One Hundred Engravings: Price ONE DOLLAR; on the receipt of which, the Book will be sent without expense, and the money thus paid, will be credited in the bill for Treatment. Boards, &c., furnished on reasonable terms. Address BRONSON & BEERS, No. 186 Washington Street, Boston, Mass.

PERUVIAN SYRUP,
DYSPEPSIA,
Liver Complaint, Dropsy, Neuralgia, Incipient Diseases of the Lungs and Bronchial Passages, General Debility, &c. &c.
Sold in Boston, for the Proprietors, by
WILSON, FAIRBANK & CO., Nos. 43 & 45 Hanover street.
BOSTON, June 7th 1855.
As you have requested some account of the benefit experienced in my case, from the Peruvian Syrup, I will state that for several years I have suffered from a catarrhal affection consequent upon Bronchitis. I tried various remedies, including tonics and stimulants, general and topical, but obtained no relief. The system seemed to be failing under repeated congestive attacks, induced generally by sudden changes in the weather and by over exertion, the attacks recurring upon an average every three weeks, the effects not passing off for several days. From testimonials adduced in favor of the Syrup, I made trial of it and soon experienced a decided improvement in strength and ability to resist atmospheric changes. It is now six months since I had a recurrence of the congestive attacks, and I have no doubt, adding my experience to that of others, that the Syrup produced the favorable change. Every physician is well aware that there are self-limited diseases, and where a disease is not so, that it is doubtful, which remedy (where several have been tried) effected the cure; therefore I will answer in advance a question which may be very properly made. Why speak so confidently in this case? Because, having tried various remedies, and all failing, this effected a favorable change in a short time, when the system was becoming daily more debilitated. Having the reliable assurance that no ingredient prejudical to the system enters into the composition of the article, I would recommend it where a tonic and alterative effect is desired, and I trust you will be able to make some arrangements by which physicians can recommend its trial in their practice, without seeming to countenance quackery.
FRAS. DANA, M. D.
Dear Sir.—I have been so much benefitted by the use of the "Peruvian Syrup" that I wish to make it known to similar sufferers. For some years I have been feeble and delicate—suffering at times from depression of spirits, with loss of sleep, languor and weariness. My food did not nourish or invigorate me. A slight cold would give me a cough, and for two years I had more or less bronchitis. I have used three bottles of the Syrup, and these symptoms have given place to a state of health I never thought of obtaining. My digestion is much improved, debility gone, spirits restored, and throat quite well. As I have made no change in my diet, regimen or in any other external condition, I can attribute this benefit to no other cause than the use of this excellent medicine.

Groveland, Mass., May 16th, 1855.
Dear Sir,—I hereby certify, for the benefit of those who are afflicted with the like complaints, that I was troubled for three or four years with neuralgia. I was first attacked in my head, face and teeth, and afterwards in my shoulders, back and legs, and could obtain no permanent relief from any medicine which I tried. When the Peruvian Syrup came into this town, I procured a bottle of it of the agent here, and commenced taking it in February, 1855, and found myself entirely cured by taking one bottle, and have had no further trouble from these complaints since, which is now about three months.
JOHN C. GEORGE.
[Copy of a letter from Dr. H. A. Kenney, many years resident in Lima.]
LIMA, May 5th, 1855.
Dear Sir:—Having for the last five years made extensive use of the "Peruvian Syrup" in many cases of obstinate disorders of the digestive organs, general debility (especially such as is produced by juvenile indiscretions) and dropsy, I most cordially recommend its use to all such as are suffering under any of the numerous affections arising from functional derangement of the alimentary canal.
Such of the component parts of this remedy which are familiar to me, as exhibited by chemical analysis, I know to be propitious to health, and such as are not developed by analytic scrutiny, I am also persuaded cannot be deleterious, never having known a single case in which its operation has proved otherwise than beneficial to the patient.
As a physician, I unite with my professional brethren in discountenancing charlatanic pretensions, but in the present case long years of experience have so satisfied me of its efficacy that I cannot permit the clamor of professional etiquette or obstinate prejudice to drown the voice of conscientious conviction. I believe this remedy is destined to have an unexampled popularity and do not believe that its claims to such distinction have ever been surpassed or even equalled. (Signed,) H. E. KINNEY, M. D.
CARD.
The undersigned having experienced the beneficial effects of the PERUVIAN SYRUP, do not hesitate to recommend it to the attention of the public.
From our own experience, as well as from the testimony of others whose intelligence and integrity are altogether unquestionable, we have no doubt of its efficacy in all cases of Incipient Diseases of the Lungs, and Bronchial Passages, Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Dropsy, Neuralgia, General Debility, &c. Indeed, its effects would be incredible, but from the high character of those who have witnessed them, and have volunteered their testimony, as we do ours, to its restorative powers.

HAYES'S MEDICINES.

READER, are you suffering from Humors, internal or external? HAYES'S Allied Ointment and Humor Syrup will cure you just as sure as you use it. Take not our assertion for it, but the testimony of a thousand living witnesses. All it wants is a trial—it advertises itself. One bottle has sold a hundred in a single town. Reader, do you ask how you shall know these statements are facts, when there is so much humbuggery in advertisements? We will inform you: call on any of our agents, get a circular, select any name you please, address a line to that individual—they will speak—they are living witnesses. It will cost but a trifle, and must convince the most skeptical. We subjoin one from among the many:

Read the following, it speaks for itself:

LAWRENCE, June 12, 1854.

We the undersigned, citizens of Lawrence, having used the Vegetable Allied Ointment prepared by E. D. HAYES, of this city, and being personally acquainted with the Doctor, feel pleasure in adding our testimony to all the doctor claims for his compound. Unlike other remedies in the market, this preparation performs its office speedily and with certainty. The Ointment we have used with the most happy results, after vainly seeking relief by the free use of Sarsaparilla, Salves, &c.

Our experience fully justifies us in confidently recommending it as the best article, and the only one known to us, as performing all it claims.

A. S. BUNKER, A. W. STEARNS,
S. I. THOMPSON, ASA I. SANBORN.

It cures Salt Rheum, Scrofula, Erysipelas, White Leprosy, Cancerous Humors, Rice Worm, Scald Head, Burns and Scalds, Chilblains, Piles, (a preparation expressly.) Barber's Itch, Fever Sores, and all old Mercurial Sores, however long standing. It removes all the skin troubles, Pimples, Eruptions, Moth or Mildew from the face leaving the skin perfectly soft and smooth, adding greatly to the beauty of the complexion. In no case will it leave a mark or scar. It improves the sight wonderfully, where the eyes are troubled with humours, by removing the difficulty and restoring the sight.

Price of the Ointment, $1; Syrup 50 cents.

Having done so, they will no longer hesitate what to take themselves, or recommend to others. A single trial will prove to them that this is the most valuable remedy ever discovered for the various affections of the Throat and Lungs; it will immediately relieve the most violent Cough, and in a few hours completely cure the most severe Cold. As a Preventive and Cure for Consumption, it has no equal. It is purely Vegetable, contains no poisonous ingredients, is quite agreeable to the taste, and may be given with perfect safety to the most delicate child. Opinions of the Press.

It is now generally acknowledged that the Pianos manufactured by Hallet, Davis & Co. are unrivalled in America, if in the world, for brilliancy or purity of tone.—Boston Daily Times.

As immense volume of sound can be produced by these Pianos without shattering the tones, as they send forth the most perfect, bell like notes, and we must confess that we have never listened to their equals for power, brilliancy, sweetness of tone, and purity of action.—Boston Herald.

The Pianos of Hallet, Davis & Co. deserve more than a passing notice. They are truly splendid instruments, very powerful, and of the purest and richest quality of tone.—Boston Traveller.

In regard to purity of tone, power and sweetness, being fully equal to any instrument that has come under our observation.—Boston Courier.

Owing to the beautiful elasticity of the action of your Grand Piano Forte, I think it would be impossible for any Pianist, who plays properly, to break either a string or a hammer.—Extract from a Letter from Wm. Mason.

The peculiar feature of Hallet, Davis & Co.'s instruments is, they make no noise. Nothing but sweet tone is produced by the vibration of the strings; and the construction of the sounding board, and action are such that skilful pianists, after once testing their merits, dislike to use any other instrument in the Concert room.—Philadelphia Sunday Mercury.

I find them to be very superior instruments—as well in tone as in touch.—Extract of a Letter from J. M. Gottschalk.

I can unhesitatingly say that I find them superior in quality and quantity of tone, to those of other makers; also in the elasticity and easy touch; and can cheerfully recommend them to any one who wishes to own or play on the best Pianos.—Extract of a letter from Robert Heller.

APPROPRIATE CONNECTION.—Workmen are busily employed in remodelling a double wooden dwelling house on Broadway, opposite the Mather School House, South Boston, putting in stores in the basement story.—When completed, the easterly store is to be used as an apothecary shop. The house overhead is to be occupied by a physician. The other store is to be occupied as a coffin warehouse, and the house over it has been leased by an undertaker. The four doors will be in a row, and bear in order the signs of a druggist, doctor, undertaker, and coffin maker.—This will be a great convenience to our South Boston friends, for they can get their prescriptions from the doctor, have them filled out by the druggist, purchase their coffin from the coffin maker, and make arrangements for being interred by the undertakur, thus saving much trouble and expense, which must incur by going from place to place.—Mail.

THEY WERE THERE.—It is related, on reliable authority, that upon the arrival of the allied fleet at Petropowlaski, on the Northwest coast, on the 21st of May, which place the Russians had evacuated a few days before, three Americans were found in possession, who claimed it as their individual property, and raised the stars and stripes in the face of the allies in support of their rights. The allies were just a few days too late. The universal Yankees had found their way there, no doubt, while peddling clocks and other "notions" among the Kamschatkans and other Polar nations.

A murder was perpetrated in Fletcher, Vt., twenty miles north of Milton Falls. A son of Mr. Chase went into the garden of a Mr. Fulton, and took a melon which Fulton had forbidden him, whereupon he caught the boy and inflicted upon him a severe whipping.—Mr. Chase, with the boy, went to see Fulton, and upon mentioning his business, was stabbed in the side, and in trying to escape received another blow in the back, and dropped dead after going about ten rods. Fulton made his escape.

SAD.—Cecilia Stein, Manda Stein and Edward Stein, an illegitimate son of Manda, natives of Berlin, Prussia, resided at No. 335 Bowery, New York, where they were found dead, Sept. 6. The coroner's jury rendered a verdict that the boy came to his death by a dose of poison administered by his mother and aunt, and that they had committed suicide. Cecelia was 33 years of age, and her sister was 22. The cause of this melancholy tragedy is clearly traceable to poverty. The sisters were industrious and willing to work, but could get nothing to do.

When the new prohibitive law went into operation in Massachusetts, there were over twenty places in North Bridgewater where liquor was publicly sold; there are now none. The law has been strictly enforced, and liquor which passes through the place is instantly seized. Last Sunday, for the first time, no drunken man was seen in the streets. We are informed that the old law was of no service in that place, and that they could not shut up the grog shops under it. With the new law, they find no trouble.—Boston Tel.

The Irish O'Donnells are of some note in military annals. Gen. O'Donnell of the United States army, after an absence from his native land for 38 years, is now visiting his brother, Major General Sir Charles O'Donnell, of the British army, at Limerick, Ireland. This distinguished Celtic family is now represented by four general officers, in the service respectively of America, Great Britain, Spain and Austria.

Hugh McTeer, the grocer, of Dover place, Boston, who was claimed as a husband by a woman from Quebec, with eight children, has left for parts unknown with his latter wife and one child. The woman and eight children are in destitute circumstances.

Captain Ryanders and the New York 'hards' denounce the administration as 'laid high and dry' in the sands of a desolate minority.

NEWBURYPORT POLICE.—The Herald of Saturday informs us, that the report of the City Marshal, shows the amount of crime and its character, that came under his observation and action, during the three months ending June 30, to be as follows:

During that time he made ninety-seven arrests, of which 24 were for drunkenness, 10 for violation of liquor law, 9 for disturbing the peace, 24 for assault and battery, and most of the others directly or indirectly connected with the use of intoxicating drinks, which is the cause of at least seven-eights of the pauperism and crime in this city.

SUDDEN DEATH.—Miss Lydia Ricker of West Amesbury, died very suddenly on Saturday week. She had been unwell for some weeks, but had so far recovered as to be about the house. On Saturday night she retired to rest with her sister, and was found dead in bed the next morning.—Amesbury Villager.

At St. Ann's church, New York, not a word is spoken during the afternoon service, which is for the benefit of deaf mutes. The service is performed in 'sign language,' by the rector, Rev. Thomas Gallaudet.

The best Genesee wheat flour is retailed at Rochester at $8 per barrel. A private letter from Virden, Ill., 3d inst., states that there are no purchasers of wheat at the railroad depot in that place. One dollar per bushel was all that was offered last week.

The New York Mirror learns that Santa Anna has made overtures for the purchase of Mr. Edwin Forrest's mansion near Yonkers, and that Mr. Forrest has named the price of the place at $190,000.

Mr. Benjamin Simmons of North Kingstown, who received such severe injuries at the time of the late Stonington Railroad disaster, died at 10 o'clock Saturday morning.

WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 12, 1855

MAINE ELECTION.

The accounts indicate that Morrill, the republican candidate for Governor is defeated, and that there has been no choice by the people. Returns from 160 towns gives Morrill 29,155 votes; Wells (dem.) 26,069; Reed, (whig) 6262. It is stated that a majority of the Senators and Representatives elected are "liberal," or opponents of "fusion."

That is to say, the real democracy of Maine, the majority of her legal voters acting in this election, have condemned the present intensified liquor law, with the men who made it, and the men who have endeavored to execute it. The natural and proper effect of this election will be to open 100 grog shops in Portland, and 1000 in the State of Maine, as soon as the legislature shall be organized and proceed to business. This effect may not follow so fully as we here anticipate: the leaders in this revolution have told us over and over again that they were the friends of temperance—yes of prohibitory law. Now we may possibly see them verify their words by deeds to correspond. But we do not expect it: nobody expects it.

The result will also be claimed as a triumph of slavery, and we must so regard it.—It is not strictly a triumph of the present administration of the federal government; for the Argus has repeatedly declared the liquor law question to be the issue—national matters having little to do with it. The strait Whigs, so called, coalesced or fused exactly on the rum question; on this the Argus, Expositor and State agreed; but the strait whigs professed some opposition to the Pierce administration.

One fusion is beaten by another. The republican fusion, which opposed slavery, and sought to restrain the rum traffic by law,—is defeated by another fusion of parties, some of whom rejoice to-day that they can get liquor, others that they can get money, and others still, power.

The defeat of any party is a matter of small consequence: but the success or failure of a law which aims to protect society against an evil so great as drunkenness, is quite important. The three successive Maine laws of the last four years have aimed at this; and in spite of bitter, persistent and powerful opposition, they have accomplished a great deal. The law is, of course, to be changed. The men coming into power profess to be the friends of temperance. We shall see in due time whether their change is for the better or the worse.

To show that our remarks are well founded, we make the following extract from the Argus of Tuesday.

The triumph is all we could wish. Fusion fanaticism and murderous Neal Dowism has got a death blow in their strong hold.

We do not forget however that our victory is not an exclusive democratic triumph. Our noble allies, the straight Whigs, deserve all praise for the generous and determined support, which their patriotic love of the Union, and the contempt for the present administration of our State affairs, has induced them to render our cause, and with them we gladly share the honor of our success.

These items sustain our remarks, and more too. The reader will perceive that the straight whigs killed Neal Dow and saved the Union at one blow. Such a smart party as that, holding the balance of power, may give the world some tokens of its presence next winter, in the legislature.

A letter from an American in Paris, says the great exhibition must be considered a failure in one respect—it does not attract Frenchmen. This fickle and economical race soon tires of any thing after it has lost the gloss of novelty which speedily departs, and they wince at paying a franc and even four sous.—The exhibition has ceased to be a novelty, and cela ne excite a Frenchman commonly replies to an invitation to visit the great show. Soldiers, fireworks, and theatres, are the only objects which never pall on this race. Pleasure trains, at greatly reduced prices, run once or twice a week from the provinces, but as yet they have proved unproductive. Thirty has been the highest number of passengers; Nantes, Angers, Saumur, Tours, and Blois furnished for all of them but sixteen passengers.

WHITEHOUSE, with his inimitable New England Bards, (says the Boston Times,) are to open the concert campaign on the 20th of September. The Times says such singers as Whitehouse, Minney, Durant the comic, and the pretty Millie Wilder, will create a furore wherever they go.

☞ The installation of Rev. Charles Lowe, as Pastor of the North Church and Society in Salem, will take place on Thursday, Sept. 27th.

PREPARING FOR THE SHOW.—Mrs Foster Erway, residing in Newfield, Tompkins Co., New York, on Sunday morning gave birth to four fine children, three girls and a boy. The weight of each was five pounds to a fraction. Dr. Sherwood reports the mother and children as doing well.

SEVEN DAYS LATER FROM EUROPE.

ARRIVAL OF STEAMSHIP AFRICA.

HALIFAX, 11th.

The steamship Africa arrived this morning, bringing Liverpool dates to the 1st inst, one week later.

The week had been productive of no event of moment, and the attitude of the belligerents was entirely unchanged.

Interesting details of the battle of Traktar Bridge, on the Tchernaya, and the official accounts of the Allied Commanders, had been received. They do not alter the complexion of the affair, and claim that it was a decided victory for the Allies.

Another Russian attack upon the Allied line, near the Cemetery, was looked for, and preparations were being made to resist it.

It is definitely announced that Omer Pacha is to take the command of the forces in Asia forthwith.

There is nothing of importance from the Baltic, or in regard to the state of affairs at Kars.

BREADSTUFFS—The market for Breadstuffs had been dull, but without change in rates, except for Corn, which was 1s per quarter lower.

Money market about the same, but slightly easier. The closing quotations for consols were 91.

MAINE ELECTION.—Portland, Sept. 11.—We have received some further returns this morning, but they do not change the character of the vote as stated in the morning papers. Gov. Morrill leads the poll, but the vote for Reed destroys a choice by the people.

The Liberals have the Senate and House by large majorities, and will elect either Wells or Reed. The vote is the heaviest ever cast, and exceeds 100,000.

By Telegraph to the Chronicle.

PORTLAND, 11th—8 P. M.

MAINE ELECTION.—The returns from 180 towns give Morrill 33,330, Wells 29,930, Reed 6,184. Morrill's vote in these towns 3,210 over his vote last year in same towns.

The legislature will be anti-republican. Returns come in slowly.

VOTES IN SOUTH BERWICK.—For Governor, Wells, 253; Morrill, 217; Reed 15. Representative, John Hanscom, 258; Barth. Wentworth, 223.

☞ Between the telegraph and our compositors an error occurred in Tuesday's Chronicle, in the footing of Morrill's vote. The result, however, will not be affected by it.

FEVER.—Baltimore, 11th.—At Norfolk, on Sunday, there were 40 deaths from the fever, and a considerable diminution of new cases.

At Portsmouth, on Sunday, there were 6 deaths.

The fever has broken out in Suffolk, 16 miles from Portsmouth, and the people are flying panic stricken.

☞ The Seat of Government in Canada is to be removed from Quebec to Toronto: the change to take place October 10.

RAILROAD TROUBLES.—The Salem Gazette says: The advertisement of the new railroad from Salem to Boston, which has been in our paper for some time past, has been discontinued. We observe that Deputy Sheriff Upton advertises the franchise of the Danvers Railroad Company for sale by public auction, to satisfy a judgment in favor of John Stevens, of Boston, architect, for the sum of $828 97.

We understand that writs were served upon several gentlemen, last week, attaching their property, as indorsers upon the notes of the Danvers Railroad Company. The franchise of the Newburyport Railroad Company was also attached. The proceedings appear to be from the Boston and Maine Railroad Company.

ANOTHER "BURST-UP."—The "Ship Timber Bending Machine," invented by Thomas Blanchard of Boston, was highly eulogized by competent judges, and stock was eagerly taken in a company which purchased the patent. The capital was $300,000, all paid in, but a circular has just been issued by Messrs. G. H. Ellery, and F. B. Cole, of New York, stating that they have purchased the assets, patent and machinery, for $60,000. They notify the shareholders, that they can have the privilege of repurchasing shares to the number they now hold for thirty-five cents per share, providing they signify a compliance within twenty days from the time of notice given, (27th August) or they lose all. They allege that thirty-five cents thus paid on a share, will reimburse them for their purchase, and create a working capital of $20,000. The sale of this property in such a summary manner is a most singular transaction, and to say the least, looks suspicious. The sale has been made by a majority of stockholders, without notifying or consulting the minority, who are now very modestly informed that they must pay thirty-five cents on the number of shares they hold, within a given time, or sacrifice the whole of their original investment. J. L. Tucker, formerly of the Tremont House, sailed for Europe some months ago for the purpose of disposing of the patent right there. How the failure of the company will affect his sales there, remains to be known.—Newburyport Union.

DEATH OF A GALLANT OFFICER.—The death of Capt. Chas. G. Merchant, of the U. S. A., is announced as having occurred at Pensacola on the 4th inst. The deceased was son of Maj. Chas. S. Merchant, of the U. S. Artillery, who was on board the steamer San Francisco during the terrible disaster to her on her passage to California. Capt. M. was a native of New Hampshire. He was married to a lady in Newburyport, where his family have many friends. He graduated at the Military Academy, West Point, in 1843.

Advices from Texas confirm the success of Evans, the American nominee for Congress in the Eastern district. The election of the American candidates for Lieut. Governor and Land Commissioner are also claimed.

LOCAL.

ROCKINGHAM FAIR.

The Committee of Arrangements give notice in the News Letter, that the annual exhibition of this Society will be held in Exeter, on Thursday, the 27th inst, to be continued for one day only. The field, near the depot, occupied by the Society last year, has been engaged, where suitable pens, &c., will be provided for stock. All Fancy Articles, Fruits, Produce, Tools, Carriages, &c. will be deposited at the Town Hall.

Messrs. John P. P. Kelley, George S. Sullivan, Joseph T. Porter, Joseph C. Hilliard, Alvah Wood, Charles G. Conner, William H. Gilman and John P. Allison, are appointed a Committee to receive and arrange the articles to be exhibited at the Hall, and any information relative to the same may be obtained by applying to either of said Committee.

The Ladies of Exeter and the neighboring towns are invited to render their "aid and comfort" in the arrangements.

The time for preparation is short; but the season is beautiful, and a good show can be made of fruits and flowers; of beasts and birds; of farmers, farmers' tools and products; and, last but not least, of matrons and maidens, sunburnt and fair; a few of them spinners—but most of them like lillies which toil not nor spin—but who are arrayed in a style to outshine Solomon in all his glory.

We have no doubt the one day's show will be lively and pleasant: we hope satisfactory and useful.

SERENADING.—Was it the "morning stars singing together," which made sweet music in our streets last Thursday night? No music is so delightful as the serenade, and seldom have we the pleasure of listening to a fitter band of performers than the one which discourses betimes to the slumberers of our city.—Journal.

No, bro. Brewster; it wasn't any such thing. Our devil was "round" on the night in question, and he says he "rayther guesses" that the harmony which blessed our neighbor's slumber, came from —— band, singing "Dat poor old nig has gone to rest."—We hope the Deacon will excuse us for expressing the belief that, when "the morning stars sing together," they will select some other tune.—Ballot.

We hope they won't sing "where 's the dough-nuts?" "fetch out the cake and wine!" or the like, as we have heard or dreamt. We were not "round" that night, and don't know who composed the cluster of stars referred to; but we have sometimes heard of similar planets pursuing a course so erratic, that they might be said to "wander backwards." The serenade is indeed charming, but only when conducted entirely incog. Midnight wine-bibbing and beer-sucking is apt to make comets of otherwise fixed stars, and to render the distinction between night and morning so imperfect, that the flying off at a tangent is by no means improbable.

☞ We happened to get a look at the valuable contribution to our State Fair at Manchester, from Mr. Wenzel of this city. It embraces sixty-four articles of his manufacture, including elegant and substantial specimens of book-binding, fancy boxes, baskets, picture frames, writing case, dressing case, reticules, portemonnaies, &c.; which are got up in Mr. Wenzel's best style—and cannot easily be excelled.

The Portsmouth Chronicle says the nonenforcement of the Liquor law in this city, has the effect to concentrate here the filthiest and vilest people of New England. We have many Portsmouth people here, and judging from them, it is the vile and filthy that stay at home,—if so be that Portsmouth produces any of that class.—Boston Herald.

We take this as a high, but well deserved compliment to the great body of our Sons who congregate in Boston;—and we accept all the reproof contained in it. Nevertheless our statement is true;—and no one we think will deny it.

☞ The Light Boat which has just been built at the Navy Yard for Nantucket Shoals, was successfully launched on Tuesday, at about 1 o'clock.

LOST—Last week, on State street, between the Rockingham House and Penhallow street, a Gold EYE GLASS. The finder shall be suitably rewarded on leaving it at this office. s11

BALTIMORE, Sept. 10.—The relief committee left here in the Norfolk boat this evening, to make arrangements for bringing to this city 200 orphan children. They will be quartered in the new House of Refuge, now in process of construction, and which will be prepared for their accommodation. They will reach here on Saturday, and be placed under the care of ladies attached to the various churches.

NEW YORK, Sept. 10.—The purser of the Empire City, reports August 27, Nathan Kean of Cranston, R. I., died at 7 1-2 A. M., shortly after having taken a sediliz powder, supposed to contain poison. J. H. Warren, a friend of his, was from the same cause, and at the same time, in a critical condition, but was saved by the exertions of the ship's surgeon. The powders which they took were brought by them from home.

STEALING IRON.—Pittsburgh, Pa. Sept. 10.—Some interesting developements transpired here on Saturday, showing extensive larcenies of old railroad iron belonging to the State works, amounting in value to about $16,000. A laborer in the employ of a second hand dealer in iron, named Henry Nichols, sued for wages before a justice, and gave hints implicating Nichols and several others living along the line.

Information was sent to the Canal Commissioner, and at his instance 28 persons have been arrested and committed to jail.—Thirteen barrels of brown iron were discovered. There is a prospect of a large number of additional arrests, it being said that nearly everybody living along the line of the road has been engaged in the thefts.

The St. Louis Democrat says Massachusetts destroyed the Know Nothing party in the United States, by the ultra course of her Legislature—by ignoring the fugitive slave law—and by enacting the personal liberty bill.

On this the Newburyport Herald remarks:

The result, too, will prove that the Kansas Legislature has done more to destroy the prospect of making that territory a slave State, by its ill-tempered, senseless, schoolboy legislation, and by the enactment of the present 'Black laws,' than could have been effected by all the cohorts of the Emigrant Aid Society, or by all the zeal of northern fanatical divines.

MEXICO.—In Mexico, the position of the church is an important consideration in political or military operations. Santa Anna found his most violent opponents in the priesthood of the capital. In the north, however, they were his supporters, and the Brownsville Flag says that Vidauri intercepted a letter written from the curate of Monterey, to Gen. Cruz, at Saltillo, proffering a loan of $100,000 to aid in quelling the revolution. This proffer, it seems, fell into the hands of Vidauri, who straightway informed th worthy cure, that inasmuch as he had defeated and put to flight the valiant General for whom these important sinews of war were intended, it would be a pity that such an amount of material aid should remain idle.—So he would take the place of Gen. Cruz, and be himself the recipient. This large sum, added to his other resources, has made the revolutionary chief quite easy in his Ordnance and Commissary's Departments.—Newburyport Herald.

During the heat of the insurrection in Mexico, a priest was ordered to execution. The officer in command of a party gave the order to a common soldier to shoot the padre. The man refused, declaring it was not lawful for him to kill a 'servant of God.' The officer threatened him with instant death, but the man remained firm. The captain then turned to the priest, and bade him receive the soldier's confession on the spot; and then sent both to the nearest ditch, where they were murdered together.

The barns of Joseph Williams, on School street West Roxbury, were burnt to the ground Wednesday evening, about a quarter past 10 o'clock The fire is supposed to have been set in the hay mow, and in ten minutes both barns were completely enveloped in flames. In the two barns there was about 50 tons of hay, a large crop of rye, and other produce of the farm, valued at about $1500. Two horses and one calf were burnt in the stable. When the fire was discovered, Mr Williams and his domestic proceeded to the stable to save the horses. Upon opening the door the flames met Mr Williams, nearly suffocating him, when the woman, seeing his danger, pulled him out of the stable. She then hastened to the cow stable, and while the flames were all around her, unyoked five cows and drove them from the fire. At times the house was in much danger, but by the perseverance of the neighbors and fire companies it was saved. Loss about $2,000; insured at the Dedham office for $1,000.

THE LOST CABLE.—The submarine cable, just lost off the coast of Newfoundland, cost $75,000, delivered at Port au Basque, including insurance, freight &c. It was fully insured in England. Forty miles had been paid out, and when it was cut the vessel was within 12 miles of St. Paul's. It is thought that a part, if not the whole of it may be recovered. Thirty-four miles of the cable were left on board the vessel, the weight of which was 190 tons.

DEAD SHOT FOR BED BUGS.

A SURE death to these noxious disturbers of our nightly rest. Apply it to insects and it switches up and lays them out as readily as Sulphur Fumes kills Bees

It has no equal in the market. The whole world cannot produce a substitute of similar value to the comfort of a neat tidy housewife. Its application is of little trouble, while the benefit which may be derived from a single night's undisturbed repose is incalculable.

SANCHO PANZA

Called down "blessings upon the head of the man who first invented sleep." How much more worthy such honorable distinction would he consider the inventor of the Dead Shot, who, by his Pungent and Deadly Preparation, has rendered utterly impossible the ancient bloody forays of such tolerable and not to be endured' tormentors; and who has enabled every one to guarantee to himself his own particular share of "tired Nature's sweet restorer."

'BEFORE THE MEN COME.'—Women folks like strong tea. We never saw a mature matron who did not relish it with as much gusto as a confirmed toper does his 'tod.' Many times have we seen a 'wild, impulsive, gushing thing of forty-five,' who never wore the matrimonial fetters, toss off a cup of Old Hyson that would almost take fur off a bison. The old ladies generally consider good tea thrown away upon 'the men,' however, and resort very freely to dilution when serving them. One ancient lady used to get the females of her flock around the table a little before the time, and serve up a rousing cup of tea all round, before the masculine party made their appearance; and, as she poured out the 'hy verage,' that cheers but not inebriates,' steaming hot, her invariable ejaculation, as she passed the cups hastily to the ladies, was—quick! quick! before the men come!"

G. W. STONE'S

ELIXER.

THE Proprietor would respectfully call the attention of the public to his invaluable Remedy for all Affections of the Throat and Lungs, and begs of those who are undecided what to select, to read the numerous testimonials advertised, and recommended for such complaints, to give his ELIXER a trial. Having done so, they will no longer hesitate what to take themselves, or recommend to others. A single trial will prove to them that this is the most valuable remedy ever discovered for the various affections of the Throat and Lungs; it will immediately relieve the most violent Cough, and in a few hours completely cure the most severe Cold. As a Preventive and Cure for Consumption, it has no equal. It is purely Vegetable, contains no poisonous ingredients, is quite agreeable to the taste, and may be given with perfect safety to the most delicate child. The numerous testimonials received almost daily from those who have been cured by it, fully justify the assertion that no family should be without this Medicine; let Mothers give it to their Children who have the Whooping Cough or Croup, and they will alleviate at once the sufferings of their little ones. Price 50 cts.

Call for G. W. Stone's Cough Elixir, and see that his name, and Cough Elixir, with the words Boston, Mass., are blown upon the Bottle, without which none will be genuine.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION TO INVENTORS. The Subscriber (late Agent of the U. S. Patent Office, under the Act of 1837) determined to present advantages, in applying for Patents, superior to those offered to inventors by others, has made arrangements whereby on applications prepared and conducted by him, THIRTY DOLLARS (instead of twenty, as paid back by others,) will be remitted by him in case of failure to obtain a patent, and the withdrawal through him within thirty days after the rejection. Inventors can not only here obtain their specifications on the most reasonable terms, but can here avail themselves of the experience of 20 years' practice, an extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and correct accounts of patents granted in this and other countries: besides being saved a journey to Washington, the usual great delay there as well as all personal trouble in obtaining their patents. Copies of claims of any patent furnished by remitting one dollar.—Assignments recorded at Washington.

R. H. EDDY,

Solicitor of Patents.

"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. There were few, if any persons acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent Office; and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the best informed and most skilful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.

PIANOS.

HALLET, DAVIS & CO.

PIANO-FORTES.

☞ Particular attention is solicited to our PATENT SUSPENSION BRIDGE, also our PATENT GRAND ACTION, as applied to both Grand and Square Pianos.

WAREROOMS,

NEW FREESTONE BLOCK,

No. 409 WASHINGTON STREET,

NEAR BOYLSTON STREET.....BOSTON.

Opinions of the Press.

It is now generally acknowledged that the Pianos manufactured by Hallet, Davis & Co. are unrivalled in America. If in the world, for brilliancy or purity of tone.—Boston Daily Times.

An immense volume of sound can be produced by these Pianos without shattering the tones, as they send forth the most perfect, bell like notes, and we must confess that we have never listened to their equals for power, brilliancy, sweetness of tone, and purity of action.—Boston Herald.

The Pianos of Hallet, Davis & Co. deserve more than a passing notice. They are truly splendid instruments, very powerful, and of the purest and richest quality of tone.—Boston Traveller.

In regard to purity of tone, power and sweetness, being fully equal to any instrument that has come under our observation.—Boston Courier.

Owing to the beautiful elasticity of the action of your Grand Piano Fortes, I think it would be impossible for any Pianist, who plays properly, to break either a string or a hammer.—Extract from a Letter from Wm. Mason.

The peculiar feature of Hallet, Davis & Co.'s instruments is, they make no noise. Nothing but pure tone is produced by the vibration of the strings; and the construction of the sounding board, and action are such that vibrating plaints, after once testing their merits, dislike to use any other instrument in the Concert room.—Philadelphia Sunday Mercury.

I find them to be very superior instruments—as well in tone as in touch.—Extract of a Letter from L. M. Gottschalk.

I can unhesitatingly say that I find them superior in quality and quantity of tone, to those of other makers; also in the elasticity and easy touch; and can cheerfully recommend them to any one who wishes to own a first class Piano.—Extract of a letter from Robert Heller.

THE RAPPERS—RAPPED.—In a recent discourse on the Transfiguration, Rev. E. H. Chapin took occasion to rebuke the tendency, now so common in the public mind, to peer into mysteries concerning the future state, and to obtain 'revelations' from very questionable sources. The preacher expressed the most full and complete satisfaction with the 'revelations' contained in the Bible, and hinted that if people paid more attention to their duties than to wonders—to work rather than to visions, they would better fulfil the requirements of the gospel.

Rev. Dr. Hodge of Providence, a few Sundays since, alluded to the character of most of the so-called 'spiritual revelations,' and remarked that, without arrogance, he thought he could say he felt himself far more competent to teach the spirits he had heard from, than they were to instruct him;—that from the words which were said to come from the eminent men who had lived in former times, it was quite evident in their cases it had not been gain for them to die, as from the senseless sentences they were alleged to have dictated, the truth of the common proverb was verified, that "a live dog is better than a dead lion!"

THE LOTTERY MANIA.—The New Orleans Delta relates a sad circumstance which recently occurred in that city. A poor but industrious mechanic, who had been accustomed to place in trust with his wife his weekly earnings, finally believed he had accumulated the snug little sum of $2000, and having an opportunity to buy a little homestead for himself and family, asked for his earnings, when he found that his wife had wasted all in the purchase of Havana lottery tickets! The vacant stare from the eyes of the husband plainly showed that he was no longer capable of appreciating his loss, but with a maniac laugh, he left his home, his wife and little ones, never more to return. A few days more passed, and his body was taken from the river; the coroner held an inquest upon it, and a verdict of "suicide" informed the public how he had died, but why he died remains a secret. The writer further adds: "We had this sad narrative from one who knew the family well, both in the bright day of the prosperity and happiness, and in the gloomy night of their misery and wretchedness.

CHARACTER RECOVERED.—The following is from the Police book: "A middle aged woman called at station 1 on Saturday, for a trunk which she said contained her 'character,' which was given her, and was very valuable. The trunk, which was left two months since, was produced, and to her great joy the article was found. It was a mutilated piece of foolscap, and contained the following:

'This certifies that Katy Quadd is a good domestic, capable of doing all kinds of work, but she will get drunk whenever she can get an opportunity.'

Quadd's eyes sparkled as she gazed on the treasure, and carefully folding the paper, and placing it in her bosom, remarked, 'It's worn a bit, it's a long time I've had it, so I think I'll get it copied.'

The document was signed by a respectable lady living at the south part of the city.—Boston Mail.

CROMWELL WHIPPLE, who has been so prominent in the temperance movement and in our State politics for some eight or ten years past, died at his residence in Coventry, on Friday afternoon. He was one of the representatives in the General Assembly from the town of Coventry, for the last three years, and last spring was one of the most prominent candidates of the American party in the Western district for representative to Congress. He died of consumption. He had many warm friends in all parts of the State, who will mourn his early departure with heartfelt sorrow.—Providence Journal.

An Englishman just returned from a brief southern tour, says he saw no less than thirty eight children of both sexes, under twelve years of age, with blue or light eyes, soft, pretty yellow or light chesnut hair, quite white, without any formation of feature indicative of African descent, and five or six handsome white women held in bondage—white slaves. The Englishman naively enquires if the physiological and theological argument for slavery applies to those who inherit so little of the accursed blood of Ham? The two great christian champions of slavery, Dr. Lord of Darmouth college and Dr. Shannon of the Missouri university, should meet in conference over this question, upon the decision of which hangs the liberty of so many parti-colored Americans.

A SELL.—Our story about Conductor Davis and 'that bill,' has elicited one about a man who wished to see the giraffe. He stepped up the door keeper and enquired:

'Is the giraffe to be seen here?'

'Yes, sir.'

'I want to see him.'

'Very well, sir.'

'It's fifty cents, isn't it?'

'One dollar, sir. Fifty cents for servants.'

'Well, I'm a servant.'

'You a servant?'

'Yes, sir.'

'The ——! whose?'

'Yours, sir, your humble servant.'

'Walk in and take a seat.'

The joke was worth the price of admission.—Newburyport Union.

We see it stated that a few days since the citizens of Provincetown held a meeting, and chose a committee of five persons to proceed to the West, with full powers to contract for flour to supply the families in town.—Boston Telegraph.

ALCOHOL BY APOTHECARIES.

I have noticed with considerable interest the working of the new Liquor Law. I have visited about one hundred towns in this State since the law went into operation, and have conversed very freely upon the subject—especially with apothecaries. I find that these last are, so far as my information extends, of one opinion—that the law if enforced to the very letter must subject them, and many sober customers, to very great inconvenience. Such is also the opinion of other intelligent persons, friendly to the objects of the law.

The object of my remarks, however, was to give my views upon this subject. From all I can learn, the law, so far as the sale and use of alcohol by apothecaries is concerned, will be modified—otherwise it may be in danger of becoming a dead letter. I hope the friends of temperance throughout the State will advise the proper authorities to allow the sale and use of alcohol by apothecaries, for strictly medicinal purposes only; but should there be a prosecution of all those apothecaries who may sell, the law will become unpopular, and be in danger of being repealed next year. I do not believe that apothecaries generally will refuse to supply their customers with alcohol for medicinal purposes, and I feel confident that a law so stringent as to prevent such sale and use cannot remain long upon our statute books. I am aware that some friends of the law will say that a supply can be had at the Agency. But many towns have no agency, and if they had, there are many reasons for, as well as against the sale by an apothecary. I make these remarks as a well wisher of the law. I am in favor of the law generally, but not to the letter. It can and no doubt—if not defeated by too many unnecessary and vexatious suits—will be amended. It is as perfect as could be expected. I believe it generally popular, and it will become so if executed with judgment and discretion.

But mayors, aldermen and selectmen, had better allow the use of alcohol as a drug, by apothecaries, for strictly medicinal purposes; and this too before the people demand it, as they surely will. RUSTICUS.

If Rusticus will look back to the Morning Chronicle of Sept. 7, he will see that our correspondent Homo, also a friend of the law, regrets that it had not permitted the license or agency of apothecaries for the sale of alcohol or medicinal and mechanical purposes; and also that he lays down the sound general rule that new legislation should never disturb old usages any further than it is really necessary to do so.

The law however, in regard to this point, is to be settled very soon, by a legal decision, probably. The general intent of the law was, beyond question, to suppress intemperance so far as it could be done by restricting the sale of liquors; allowing it for medicinal and mechanical purposes, but disallowing it otherwise. In endeavoring to accomplish this, it has restricted the number of agencies to three, in the largest towns; and it has enjoined the establishment of one, even in the smallest towns.

Rusticus advises the permission of medical sales by established apothecaries—and he also states what is doubtless a fact, that some towns have no agencies.

This statement has induced us to read the Agency section of the law. No penalties are affixed to it; so that towns having no agency, or those, if any, who should have four or six, are not liable to any fine.

If the Judges of our Supreme Court, in their charges to the Grand Juries, would give a good exposition of this new law, they would confer a great benefit by preventing much useless litigation.

THE YELLOW FEVER.

BALTIMORE, Sept. 12.—By the steamer this morning we have intelligence from Norfolk down to 12 o'clock yesterday. The deaths in that city during the 24 hours ending at 6 o'clock on Monday evening were 36. On Tuesday morning but few new cases or deaths were reported.

At Portsmouth, there were 26 deaths on Monday, and 22 during the fourteen hours ending at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon. The panic was increasing.

Among the dead were the Rev. Vernon Eskridge, (U. S. Chaplin) and daughter, and the Rev. James Chisholm of the Episcopal Church. The Rev. John Delvin (R. C.) had relapsed.

Out of a party of eleven physicians and nurses who went down on the boat on the 20th of August, six are now dead.

The Howard Association have declined sending the children to Baltimore, although every preparation had been made for them. Several families had removed to Camp Falls.

MAINE ELECTION.—The State of Maine newspaper estimates the whole Morrill Vote for Governor at 48,000; and Reed & Wells 62,000. Of these it gives Reed 12 or 13,000.

BABY SHOWS.

The two shows, Barnum's of white babies, and Bateman's, of black, took place in Boston on Tuesday. Both were attended by large numbers of people; and were thus successful. The prize baby, that is the highest prize, was a little girl, Zilla Maria Stacy of Boston.

The remarks of the press are amusing by reason of their variety and contrariety. The reporter of the Courier characterises both exhibitions as "inhuman," tries to ridicule the baby talk, and says:

It is proper to state that the persons who have degraded themselves by suffering their children to be displayed in this way—the colored as well as the white ladies and gentlemen—are a pretty ignorant set—fond of fame, a little vain, and lovers of money. We did not recognise any of our "first families" on the exhibition tables, and it may be safe to say they were not there.

The "Barnum and Col. Wood" Show was not very fully attended; but quite a number of persons, the wags of the town, went to see the "niggers," who were really the funniest of the two displays.

The Mail, by its editor, we presume, gives a long account of the white show and says:

We wish here to make one remark in reference to baby shows in general. At first sight, they seem puerile, and many are apt to laugh at the idea. But a single visit to an exhibition banishes all such thoughts.—For a prettier, more pleasing or satisfactory kind of exhibition could not be devised by the fertile invention of man. Instead of a crowd of crying infants as might be expected, are seen a collection of beautiful, healthy and happy children, and the spectator leaves the Hall with blessings on the children and thanks to Mr Barnum.

Of the colored shows, the same paper remarks:

It was very fully attended, and gave universal satisfaction. The managers of this enterprise have been most fortunate in gathering a fine collection of colored children, who are competitors for the prizes. In common with thousands, we were highly pleased with the exhibition, and an hour cannot be more pleasantly or profitably passed than in this hall.

The Bee speaks of both as very interesting and pleasant sights; and says:

We visited the halls—Music and Chapman—yesterday, and spent hours (2-15) in inspecting the young and exulting humanity in them. It was a great sight. We felt it. We knew it. So did those 150 mothers, more or less; and we almost believe their "jewels" did also, so sunny and joyous and intelligent were their young and pretty looks. Such a garden of auburns, and blacks, and chestnuts; such pinks, and whites, and straws, and blues in the bib-and-tucker way; such outbursts of young and sparkling jubilancy; such fine things and sights and hearings every way are not often seen.

SLOW TRAVEL.

A correspondent of the Boston Bee, complains bitterly of slow trains east of Boston. He says, writing from Portland:

The train in which I was a passenger (Maine Railroad) left Boston at 5 o'clock precisely and arrived at the depot in this city at 11 o'clock. One hundred and ten miles travel in six hours by an express train is certainly not a rapid progression in an age characteristically fast. The road is excellent, the cars spacious and luxurious, the grade very level, and the conductors capable and gentlemanly. I mention these facts to show that I find fault simply with the time occupied between Boston and Portland. Four hours should be the extent of time allowed by an express train, and the stops narrowed down to three or four at the principal points along the route. Now the stops and stays are innumerable. One would suppose the train was engaged by some fruit peddler who sold by the cent's worth. This is a serious objection to travelers, especially those whose destinations are beyond Portland. The same objections are made on the Eastern Railroad.—Can there not be some method adopted whereby this difficulty may be overcome? I hope the Directors of the two roads between Boston and Portland will immediately come to some decision upon this subject, and we shall hereafter have an express train that will perform the trip in some reasonable time. Everybody is complaining, and it is the duty of the Directors, who profess to accommodate the public, to listen to their complaints.—They can have as many omnibus trains as they choose, but in the name of reason and progress let there be an express train, either morning, noon or night, which shall be propelled at a rate above fifteen miles an hour.—Will it be done?

Really, we cannot tell: nor can we decide that these express trains are not too slow.—Great speed, however, is not so desirable in our view, as to make safety of no consequence. Fast drivers sometimes upset.

FROM HALIFAX.—The Halifax Recorder states that on the 30th ult. a soldier named Henry Kirby, belonging to the 76th Regiment, intercepted a young lady in the grove near Belmont, and demanded her watch and chain, which she was wearing. She firmly refused, and the ruffian forcibly grasped the chain, wresting it from the watch, by a rude attempt to discharge it from her dress, and striking her a severe blow on the face, with his fist. She successfully resisted, however, by wounding his fingers with her teeth; and imprinting upon the visage unmistakable proofs of the courage and fortitude with which she maintained the struggle. The soldier was committed by the Mayor, on the 31st, to be tried for highway robbery. This offender has twice previously been before the Mayor, in a few months, charged with rudely molesting unprotected ladies in retired places, but he has escaped justice through the complainants declining to prosecute.

A Marine Slip is about to be constructed at Liverpool, N. S., also a Reading Room established.

LOCAL.

POLICE COURT.—Samuel Sawtelle was brought before Justice Bennett, on Wednesday afternoon, for selling one glass of brandy to a colored man by the name of Hewes.—Hewes, the only witness for the government, testified to buying the brandy of Sawtelle. The defence set up was that this witness was mistaken in the person. Three witnesses for the defence testified that Hewes was not in the shop where the brandy was alleged to have been sold during the whole day. It was proved that Hewes was arrested on Tuesday evening.

Justice Bennett did not think the complaint sufficiently proved, and accordingly discharged the defendant.

Hatch, County Solicitor, for State. I. B. Claggett and Goodall for deft.

LAUNCH.—The beautiful three deck ship "Isaac H. Boardman," of 1500 tons, will be launched from the ship yard of Messrs. Fernald & Petigrew on Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock. The frames and plank are of New Hampshire white oak; and the ship is built in the most thorough manner, under the supervision of Capt. Henry Cook, who is to command her. She is owned in Newburyport by Messrs. Boardman and others, and is intended for the general freighting business.

☞ A salute of Artillery, (100 guns in number, as we learn,) was fired last evening in this city, as a token of rejoicing at the result of the Maine Election. The guns commenced at 7 P. M. The money to pay for the salute was readily subscribed: $20 of it on the Navy Yard.

A RAILROAD RACE—ITS CONSEQUENCES. The Albany Knickerbocker reports a new form of railroad recklessness, recently perpetrated in the vicinity of Chatham. The Western Railroad and the Hudson and Berkshire Railroad here run side by side for several miles. On Tuesday afternoon it so happened that trains arrived at this spot on both roads at the same time, and going in the same direction. A challenge was given and accepted in a trial of speed, and off they started at a furious rate. After running about three miles they came to a spot where the Hudson and Berkshire Railroad crosses the Western. Each engineer thought that he could get his train over first, and put on all steam to beat his opponent in the race. The Albany engine, however, lost two seconds, instead of gaining, as its engineer anticipated, and struck the rear passenger car of the other train in the centre, cutting it in two, and passing with all its cars through the opening.—There were but three persons in the car which was thus cut in two, and they escaped unharmed.

PROVIDENCE, Sept. 11.—The Cattle Show commenced here today. The number of cattle entered is rather small, the efforts of the society having been more especially directed to the Horse Exhibition, which opens tomorrow. The city is rapidly filling up with strangers.

RUTLAND Vt., Sept. 11.—The Vermont State Fair commenced today, under the direction of Major Dunlap, Chief Marshal. The show of horses, cattle, and sheep is very fine, and cannot be excelled by any New England State. Owing to the backwardness of the season, the exhibition of fruits is not large. The products of the mine, the quarry and the workshop, are very extensive and beautiful. The fair will be continued two days longer.

FROM EUROPE.

NEW-YORK, Sept 11.—The steamer Arago arrived about 3 1-2 o'clock, bringing 280 passengers.

The papers afford but little news not embraced per the Africa.

Queen Victoria had returned to England on the 28th.

Gen. Pelissier telegraphs under date of Aug. 24th, that on the previous night, the French carried an ambuscade of the Russians, on the Glacis of the Malakoff; subsequently the Russians tried to re-take it, but were repulsed with the loss of 300 men.

Napoleon in a letter to Gen. Pelissier thanking the army for the Tchernaya victory, looks to a speedy termination of the siege; and says if Sebastopol does not fall, he knows by information that the Russian army cannot again sustain the struggle in the Crimea through the winter.

Two frigates bombarded Port Baltic for several hours.

Government ships and stores have been destroyed in several ports by a cruiser.

The Russians are said to have doubled the garrison of Sebastopol. The Russians had launched several vessels at Nicholas.

BREADSTUFFS.—In the Liverpool Market, 29th Aug.

Brown, Shipley & Co. state that the market generally shows but little change, although a dull tone prevailed. Corn had declined 1s per qr. They quote Western Canal flour 40 a 40s 6d, Philadelphia and Balt 40 a 42, Ohio 42 a 43. Wheat dull, but prices unchanged; white 11s 9d a 12 3, red 10 2 a 10 3. Mixed corn 38s 6d, white 44, yellow 38 6 a 39.

The weather had been favorable and prospects continued good for an average crop.

This news was received in New York on the 11th of Sept; and the despatch at 6 P. M. said:

Flour easier at the close, sales 14,500 bbls, com to straight state 7 62 1-2 a 7 87 1-2, upper lake 8 a 8 1 2, com to good Ohio 8 12 1-2 a 8 1-2; Southern heavy, sales 2500 bbls, mixed to good brands 8 12 1-2 a 8 3-4, fancy and extra 8 3-4 a 9 3 4. Corn lower, sales 95,000 bu, mixed 86 a 87.

AMERICAN PIANOFORTES AT THE PARIS EXHIBITION.

From the Boston Transcript.

It will be highly gratifying to our readers to learn the marked success which has attended the specimens of art which Americans have sent to the Paris Exhibition; but to none of them has been attributed so much merit as to our celebrated American pianofortes. It would seem hardly possible that we could rival, as yet, France and England, and the other countries of Europe, so distinguished for their progress in the arts and sciences, in so delicate and important an instrument as the pianoforte; but the intelligent correspondent of the Boston Chronicle, in his letter to that paper, dated Paris, August 14, 1855, an extract from which we give below, shows what a rank our Boston pianofortes take abroad. We have before heard of the reputation of the celebrated instruments manufactured by Albert W. Ladd & Co., and it gives us the greatest pleasure to add to that already just gained reputation, that they now rival the world. We congratulate our friends, and the mechanics of the establishment, that they have been able before such an ordeal, and in the presence of three hundred French pianos, to take the first prize, and we Americans should be proud, too, that we have so eminent a pianoforte manufactory among us. We need no longer send to Europe for instruments of superior tone and finish, but may rather expect to furnish her with her best and finest pianofortes.

We copy from the Chronicle of Sept. 3:—"The great exhibition is now in a more flourishing condition than ever, and its future will, no doubt, be very successful. The jury of award are now engaged in deciding as to the merits of the various contributions. A remarkable affair has just taken place relative to a contribution from Boston, which will much gratify the pride of Bostonians. The trial before the jury of award, of the excellence of the various pianofortes on exhibition, took place at the celebrated Paris Conservatory of Music. The jury was composed of seven of the most eminent professors of music in Europe.

Joseph Helmesperger, director of the Imperial Conservatory of Music at Vienna, the president, placed himself in a position where he could hear the tone of the instruments without seeing them, so as to render a perfectly impartial opinion of their merits. In addition to this, the manufacturers' names were all covered up with white cards, on each of which was a certain number. When all had been tried, Mr. Helmesperger said, 'now for the American piano,' referring to one from Boston, which he had on several occasions examined and tried at the exhibitions, and which, for some unaccountable reason, had been neglected to be sent with the rest. A New York piano was among the number, and supposing he referred to that, they told him it had been tried. His answer was positive that it had not been tried, yet all this time he had not seen, but only listened to the tone of the instruments. After repeated assurances by them, and denials by him, he came forward and satisfied them that the one he referred to was not there, and directed them at once to send to the exhibition for it. Soon it arrived, and when tried before that talented jury, was pronounced the best pianoforte in the French exhibition, and, accordingly, it was awarded the highest prize medal. This piano is from the manufactory of Messrs. A. W. Ladd & Co., of Boston. The above facts are accurate to the letter, having received my information personally from Mr. Helmesperger himself.—He is a young man, not over twenty-five years of age. Having before heard the superior quality of tone of the above instrument, his practised ear detected that it was not at the trial. It is, indeed, astonishing. The circumstance that a Boston pianoforte has so successfully stood the severe test of such eminent European professors of music, is an event which may well gratify the pride of Bostonians."

MONTPELIER, Vt., Sept. 11—Fuller, the murderer of his neighbor Chase, in Fletcher, Vt., last week was disdovered by the officers in pursuit of him, but had committed suicide before he could be secured.

DEAD SHOT FOR BED BUGS.

A SURE death to these noxious disturbers of our nightly rest. Apply it to insects and it cuts them up and lays them out as readily as Sulphur Fumes kills Bees

It has no equal in the market. The whole world cannot produce a substitute of similar value to the comfort of a neat tidy housewife. Its application is of little trouble, while the benefit which may be derived from a single night's undisturbed repose is incalculable.

SANCHO PANZA

Called down "blessings upon the head of the man who first invented sleep." How much more worthy such honorable distinction would he consider the inventor of the Dead Shot, who, by his Pungent and Deadly Preparation, has rendered utterly impossible the ancient bloody forays of such 'tolerable and not to be endured' tormentors; and who has enabled every one to guarantee to himself his own particular share of "tired Nature's sweet restorer."

HAYES'S MEDICINES.

READER, are you suffering from Humors, in ternal or external? HAYES'S Allied Ointment and Humor Syrup will cure you just as sure as you use it. Take not our assertion for it, but the testimony of a thousand living witnesses. All it wants is a trial—it advertises itself. One bottle has sold a hundred in a single town. Reader, do you ask how you shall know these statements are facts, when there is so much humbuggery in advertisements? We will inform you: call on any of our agents, get a circular, select any name you please, address a line to that individual—they will speak—they are living witnesses. It will cost but a trifle, and most convince the most skeptical. We subjoin one from among the many:

Read the following, it speaks for itself:

LAWRENCE, June 12, 1854.

We the undersigned, citizens of Lawrence, having used the Vegetable Allied Ointment prepared by E. D. HAYES, of this city, and being personally acquainted with the Doctor, feel pleasure in adding our testimony to all the doctor claims for his medicine. Unlike other remedies in the market, this preparation performs its office speedily and with certainty; and the ointment we have used with the most happy results, after vainly seeking relief by the free use of Sarsaparilla, Salves, &c.

Our experience fully justifies us in confidently recommending it as an article, and the ONLY one known to us, as performing all it claims.

A. S. BUNKER, A. W. STEARNS,
S. I. THOMPSON, ASA T. SANBORN.

It cures Salt Rheum, Scrofula, Erysipelas, White Leprosy, Cancerous Humors, Ring Worm, Scald Head, Burns and Scalds, Chilblains, Piles, (a preparation expressly.) Barber's Itch, Fever Sores, and all old Mercurial Sores, however long standing. It removes all those vexatious Pimples, Eruptions and Moth or Mildew from the face leaving the skin perfectly free and smooth, adding greatly to the beauty of the complexion. In no case will it leave a mark or scar. It improves the sight wonderfully, where the eyes are troubled with humors, by removing the difficulty and restoring the sight.

Price of the Ointment, $1; Syrup 50 cents.

CHARLES H. KENT General Agent for the United States and Canadas, Lawrence, Mass, to whom all orders should be addressed.

Sold by Tyrrell & Co., Boston, Jos. H. Thacher, at the Good Samaritan Store, and W. R. Preston; and by Agents everywhere.

G. W. STONE'S

LIQUID CATHARTIC,

Family Physic,

The most important discovery ever made in Medical Science, being a compound of Barks and Roots, which forms the most powerful, safe and agreeable Physic ever offered to the public.

THE necessity of such a Medicine has long been felt both by the heads of families and Physicians. Its advantages over cathartics given in the form of Pills or Powders, must be obvious to every intelligent person. It operates more immediately and effectually upon the system, and at the same time is infinitely less difficult to administer, being quite agreeable to the taste. It not only produces all the effects where physic is required, but it completely removes the habitual costiveness, leaving the bowels perfectly free. It expels all humors from the blood, is a certain cure for the Piles, regulates the action of the Liver, frees the Stomach from Bile, invigorates the whole Nervous System, and removes the cause of all local pains, such as

RHEUMATISM, NEURALGIA, TIC DOLOREUX, GOUT, PAIN IN THE HEAD, SIDE, STOMACH, &c.

It may also be relied upon in all diseases of the Bowels: Dysentery, Diarrhea and Cholera Morbus yield at once to its magic influence. Again we repeat, TRY IT!—it needs no other recommendation. No family will be without it after they have properly tested its merits. Reader, if you have tried other remedies, without success, despair not—relief is now at hand. Are you suffering with Scrofula, six bottles of my Liquid Cathartic will cure you. Would you be relieved from habitual Costiveness?—three bottles will effect what you desire. If you are afflicted with Rheumatic, Neuralgic, or other local pains, two bottles will free you from them. All humors will be eradicated from the blood by the use of from one to six bottles, if you require it. If you want a physic for any purpose, this is the most reliable, safe and agreeable to the taste that has ever been placed within the reach of the public.

PRICE $1.00.

Copies of claims of any patent furnished by remitting one dollar.—Assignments recorded at Washington.

R. H. EDDY,
Solicitor of Patents.

"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. There were few, if any persons acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent Office; and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the best informed and most skilful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.

PIANOS.

HALLETT, DAVIS & CO.

MANUFACTURERS of GRAND AND SQUARE

PIANO-FORTES.

WAREROOMS,

NEW FREESTONE BLOCK,

No. 409 WASHINGTON STREET,

NEAR BOYLSTON STREET.....BOSTON.

Opinions of the Press.

It is now generally acknowledged that the Pianos manufactured by Hallet, Davis & Co. are unrivalled in America, if in the world, for brilliancy or purity of tone.—Boston Daily Times.

An immense volume of sound may be produced by these Pianos without shattering the tones, as they send forth the most perfect, bell like notes, and we must confess that we have never listened to their equals for power, brilliancy, sweetness of tone, and purity of action.—Boston Herald.

The Pianos of Hallet, Davis & Co. deserve more than a passing notice. They are truly splendid instruments, very powerful, and of the purest and richest quality of tone.—Boston Traveller.

In regard to purity of tone, power and sweetness, being fully equal to any instrument that has come under our observation.—Boston Courier.

Owing to the beautiful elasticity of the action of your Grand Piano Fortes, I think it would be impossible for any one who plays properly, to break either a string or a hammer.—Extract from a Letter from Wm. Mason.

The peculiar feature of Hallet, Davis & Co.'s Instruments is, they make no noise. Nothing but music can be produced by the vibration of the strings; and the construction of the sounding board, and action are such that skilful pianists, after once testing their merits, dislike to use any other instrument in the Concert room.—Philadelphia Sunday Mercury.

I find them to be very superior instruments—as well in tone as in touch.—Extract of a Letter from L. M. Gottschalk.

I can unhesitatingly say that I find them superior in quality and quantity of tone, to those of other makers; also in the elasticity and easy touch; and can cheerfully recommend them to any one who wishes to own or play on the best Pianos.—Extract of a letter from Robert Heller.

COMMERCE OF THE LAKES.

Hunt's Merchants Magazine for September, contains a valuable instructive article, on the Commerce of the Lakes, and the country from which it comes and is to come. We extract a few paragraphs—assuring those who don't have access to the Magazine, that almost every number contains articles of great interest.

Add up the number of square miles in all the States east of the Mississippi, except Wisconsin, Illinois and Florida, and you have only 700,000. If you are startled, as we were, and can scarcely believe the figures, take a newspaper and cut it in the shape of the territory we named east of the Mississippi and lay it on that west of Lake Michigan, and study the map in every possible form, and you will be forced to the conclusion that the Northwest contains a territory larger than the twenty-three older States we have alluded to east of the Mississippi. These States contain some 20,000,000 inhabitants.

But again, England, Ireland, Wales, and Scotland contain in all 115,000 square miles, only one-sixth of the territory of the Northwest, and have a population of 26,000,000.—Were the territory we have named equally populous, it could contain 156,000,000.—Turkey, Austria and France have in the aggregate 671,000 square miles, and a population of 84,000,000. Need it be wondered at, that speaking of the Northwest, Western men are obliged to use terms which venerable old fogies regard as extravagant and even absurd? The simple fact is that this territory is large enough to make fourteen States, of 50,000 square miles each, and is vastly more fertile and capable of sustaining a population many times larger than all the old States of the Union.

A few words as to the resources of the country under consideration. In minerals it is specially rich. It contains the largest and richest deposits of lead and copper that are known to exist anywhere upon the globe. We need hardly say that we allude to the copper mines of Lake Superior and the lead district of which Galena is the centre. Iron and coal are also found in great abundance.

In speaking of its climate and productions, it should be known that the isothermal or climactic lines bend far away north as we go west toward the Rocky Mountains. If we mistake not it is nearly as warm at the north bend of Missouri as it is at Chicago. Owing to this fact and the richness of the country, the buffalo range nearly up to the south line of British America.

The agricultural resources of these 700,000 square miles are absolutely beyond the power of man to estimate. It is the opinion of some of our best-informed men that the great plains over which the buffalo range in countless thousands, must after all, become the great corn-growing sections of the Union. There, too, will be reared the countless herds of cattle and the hogs driven here to be packed in beef and pork to feed the Eastern States, with an abundance to spare for all the nations of Europe.

Westward, and in all directions through this magnificent valley, our railroads will penetrate as the onward wave of civilization rolls over them. That wave will reach the Rocky Mountains, and on its summit meet the great Eastern surge from the Pacific coast, within the lifetime of the present generation. Thoughts we dare not utter, emotions deep and startling, crowd upon us as we contemplate this immense territory, not to speak of the East and South, and the mighty States of the Pacific coast, filled with intelligent, happy freemen.

Let our merchants, our real estate owners, and our business men generally, and especially those who have at heart the intellectual and religious welfare of society, all answer these questions for themselves, and act in view of the grave responsibilities which the above facts must suggest to every ingenious mind. To those who may be disposed to question our conclusions, we commend a more careful study of the geography and topography of the country between Lake Michigan and the Rocky Mountains, and we are quite sure they will acquit us of all disposition to overstate facts which must be plain to every man who will take the trouble to investigate them.

Dr. H. Cox, of Buffalo, inspector under the prohibitory law, has inspected seventy-six qualities of various liquor in that city since he has been in office. He has found some pure liquor, but a great deal of low per centage, and some pernicious fluid. In domestic brandy and port wine he has found the following ingredients in large quantities, viz:—Prussic acid, sulphuric acid, cider, alum, beet-root juice, (coloring,) nitric acid, logwood, lead and copper. He inspected a cask of liquor represented as domestic brandy, which was tinctured very strongly with sulphuric and nitric acids, so much so that the drinking of a reasonable quantity of it would produce serious injury. There was not a particle of alcohol in it. In this case, but one man had partaken of the liquor in the cask, and he was immediately taken sick after doing so.

THE STATE FAIR.

MANCHESTER, Sept. 12, 1855.

The long looked for and much desired day for the opening of the Sixth Annual Fair of the N. H. Agricultural Society, has at length arrived. The desires of the people have been exhibited in the eagerness with which the masses have poured into this city through the day, to view the products of the brain and hands, dairy and farm, tree and vine.—Sixteen long cars, containing at least 1000 persons, came in the first special train from Concord and places above, and two or three other extra trains were to follow. Innumerable hosts also came in the regular trains from the same place, and from other parts of the State.

The Exhibition, it appears to us, is not so large or diversified as the last held in this city, though better than that at Keene last year. Articles are constantly arriving, and to-morrow the display will be much larger than it is to-day. One reason for the smallness of the entries of articles for exhibition is, that the time is two weeks earlier than usual, and farmers object to bringing their fruits and vegetables before they arrive at maturity. However, the exhibition may be set down as good, and reflects great credit on the farmers and stock breeders for their enterprise and success in endeavoring to improve their various products.

Without going to too great a length, it would be impossible to particularize the various matters on exhibition. We will merely mention a few of the articles entered by residents of our own vicinity.

From Portsmouth we observe 30 varieties of beautiful Pears, by Daniel H. Spinney—among them a plate full of the celebrated Duchess d'Angouleme, which will weigh nearly a pound each.

William Laskey has the only specimens of Rope and Twine; very neatly and evenly laid up.

Mrs. Lamprey has on exhibition some beautiful Pictures in water colors.

Mr. Wenzell has by far the best display of Fancy Articles and specimens of Book Binding on exhibition; among them are a lady's Wall Basket and Dressing Case, Reticules, Portfolios, and four dozen Porte Monnaies, all of his own manufacture; also a Bible, on the cover of which he has elaborately wrought, in gold, a view of the New North Church.

We took pleasure in examining a beautiful picture in worsted, by Miss Charlotte Cheever.

These are all the entries from Portsmouth.

Among the articles from the neighboring towns, we notice 13 kinds of Peaches, by Mr. A. Littlefield of Greenland; 100 varieties of cut flowers, by J. H. Diman of Stratham, who has also 13 varieties of Pears, 13 of Apples, 6 of Peaches, and 5 of Plums.

G. W. Currier of New Market, presented half a bushel of Edwards Apples, the average size of which is 13 inches in circumference.

Mr. C. F. Low of Candia, has a fine display of Apples and Peaches; and Samuel Stimpson shews 21 varieties of Apples.

The monstrosities are few in number:—3 Squashes, weighing respectively 116, 95 and 90 pounds, were brought from Lebanon. The number of squash pies that could be made from these, with the result of one milking of the fine Cows on exhibition, and eggs from the Poultry have not been estimated.

The display of Stock is large and good.

The Horses were out on the course this afternoon, and put through their paces. They were viewed by thousands of spectators.

The exhibition of the various articles are this year held under two of Yale's Mammoth Tents, and appears to greater advantage than under the wooden sheds previously used, as the light is much superior.

The weather during the day has been excessively hot, while the air has been filled with clouds of dust. It appears to me the ground never was more dry and parched.—There is a universal prayer for rain. Cattle have suffered considerably, and many exhibitors have been deterred from offering their stock on account of the heat and the dusty state of the roads.

The receipts, up to 3 o'clock, amounted to about $1200.

The officers of the Society understand what is due to members of the press, who come to report the doings of the Fair. They are made the guests of the Society, are lodged and fed as friends, and ample accommodations are provided for them.

☞ Ship-building on the Merrimack river is brisk. There are now in the course of construction at the yards in Newburyport and Salisbury, 10 ships, 1 barque, 1 brig, and 1 schooner: thirteen keels, with an aggregate of 9,430 tons. The three largest are ships of 1100 tons, one of which is named the Daring.

WHAT HAS HAPPENED?

From the rejoicing of one portion of our citizens, over the Maine election; and from the discouragement of another portion, at the same event, we might think some strange thing had happened; that some miraculous convulsion had changed the physical laws of nature, or that the omnipotent voice of the people, ("Vox Populi Vox Dei,") had over turned or nullified some moral law.

But nothing like it has occurred. The serpent will still bite, as before, without enchantment; and it is just as true to-day, as it was yesterday or in King Solomon's day, that wine at the last biteth like a serpent and stingeth like an adder.

What then, has happened? Why simply that a majority of the voters in Maine have by their ballots pronounced against a certain statute which was designed to protect the State against the evils of drunkenness. It aimed to reach this object by breaking up the shops wherein drunkards did congregate and multiply. It tried to prohibit the sale of liquors for drink; and to restrict and guard their sale for medical and other allowed purposes.

After a four years trial of laws more and more strict, and enforced with more and more determination and diligence, the people of Maine have now decided that they will repeal, break down and destroy the present law.

That is, in other words, the general average of morals in Maine is not sufficiently elevated to obey such a law; and in this country no law can be very effectually enforced, which is not sanctioned by at least a general agreement in public opinion.

Our readers we know will bear with us as we take this occasion to repeat what we have asserted many times within three years, that temperance men generally err in underrating the strength of the rum power. The elements of its strength are in the combination of interest with appetite; of craft in the tempter with credulity in the tempted; and of fixed habit with feeble principle.

These elements have proved too strong in Boston for the enforcement of the laws there;—and in Portland, strengthened by Boston, they have now overcome and will destroy the present Maine law in the home of its friends. To show that we do not talk without book, we take from the State of Maine the comparison of the votes for Governor in Portland, in the years 1854 and '55. In '54, Morrill had 1729, and in '55 he had 1734. Here was no falling off. Reed fell off from 890 to 410. Cary, (wild cat,) had 45 last year and none this. But Parris, in 1854, when the banner was only the word Democracy, received only 809 votes; while in 1855, Wells, with the word liquor added to the banner, received a vote of 1919; making the enormous gain of 1110 votes in a single year.

In the State of Vermont, away from crowded cities, the tone of temperance morals is higher; there they had the best law in New England on the subject, before Maine altered hers: it was pretty well obeyed and respected; not perfectly; and it was executed in some cases: it could hardly be said to be enforced. There was not much force used about it.—Within three years they have modified and strengthened their law, and it works easily.—It is generally obeyed. Their temperance education is rather higher than their neighbors, and hence their law is sustained.

The Methodists closed their last camp meeting for this season, at Kennebunkport, Me., last Saturday.—Meetings are held there annually for the accommodation of the churches in this section and east of us.—This year they had some sixty tents, and thousands of persons were present.

MAINE ELECTION RETURNS.—In 233 towns the vote last year was for

Morrill.	Reed	Parris.	Cary, &c.
34,796	9748	19,591	2,570

The same towns this year give

Morrill	Reed	Wells
38,751	7559	35,606

Gov. Morrill has received about 4000 more votes in these towns than he received last year, and he leads Judge Wells over 3000 votes.—Portland Advertiser.

BALTIMORE, 13th.

The tidings from Norfolk continue of a melancholy nature. On Monday the number of deaths officially reported was 56; on Tuesday 53; on Wednesday there were 50 new cases, and 45 deaths.

The deaths at Portsmouth were 26, and the new cases 20.

THE VIRGINIA SUFFERERS.—The Pilgrim Church in Brooklyn, N. Y., over which the Rev. Henry Ward Beecher is pastor, has sent the very handsome sum of $500 in aid of the sick and destitute in Virginia.

GYPSIES ABOUT.—A party of English Gypsies, consisting of a man, his wife, and two daughters, 18 and 23 years of age, have swindled a man named Nicholas Pease of Limerick, Me., out of $1200, by telling him that a pot containing $4000 in gold was buried on his farm, and persuading him to borrow the $1200 of a neighbor as a "charm" with which to find the larger sum. He borrowed the $1200 as directed, which the woman obtained and the whole party decamped. It is stated that they stopped some weeks in the vicinity of Barnstead, in this State, a short time since, where they made a raise of five or six hundred dollars.—Dover Enq.

COWS AT LARGE.—Messrs. Editors:—Will you have the goodness to say to the citizens of Portsmouth, that on Wednesday no less than fourteen cows were on and about the Concord & Portsmouth Railroad track, near Mr. Asa Ham's, and that should the cars come suddenly on them and destroy lives and property, the city would be accountable.—This is entirely owing to the gross neglect of our city authorities.

There have been over forty cows impounded this summer, found running at large in the centre of the city, for the illegal discharge of which from the pound, the city, or officers of the city, are liable for six hundred dollars, besides a fine for neglect to provide a field driver and pound keeper. CHARLES ROBINSON.

WASHINGTON, 13th.

The Report of the Board of Naval Officers on the re-organization of the Navy has been submitted to the President, and approved of by him. 201 officials are removed from active service, including 49 dropped from the rolls entirely. The details are as follows: captains on leave of absence, 17; on furlough pay, 15; dropped 3; commanders on leave pay, 21; on furlough, 12; dropped, 5; lieutenants on leave pay, 18; on furlough, 49; dropped 19; masters, including those in the line of promotion, on leave pay, 15; on furlough, 3; dropped, 9; passed midshipmen on furlough, 2; dropped, 12.

WANTED—Any quantity of rain, in this vicinity. Man, whether he takes snuff or not, is compelled to have a "dust-hole" made of his nose. Dust is upon everything, and vegetation is becoming parched for want of moisture. Let us have rain, even if it is a "rain of terror."—Charlestown Adv.

SUPREME COURT.

The following items of result in criminal cases at Amherst Court, are abridged from the Manchester Mirror. The following persons were arraigned:

Edward Clark, Jere. Donahue, Michael Early, for breaking and entering the house of A. C. Darrah, Bedford. Pleas severally guilty.

Amos Eustace Brown, for breaking and entering the house of H. Haywood, of Manchester, in the night time. Plea guilty. Sentenced to hard labor in the State Prison for four years.

Charles W. Brown, for stealing. Plea guilty. Sentenced to the State Prison for three years.

Jane Murray, for stealing. Plea nolo contendere. Sentenced to two years in the State Prison.

Bartholemew Casey, for assault and battery. Plea guilty. Sentenced to the common jail for sixty days.

Joseph Shepherd and Matthew Monow, for breaking and entering the store of Fisher & Eppes. Shepherd pleaded guilty and was sentenced to the State Prison for three years.

Monow plead not guilty. On the 7th inst. he retracted his plea, and plead guilty. Sentenced to three years in the State Prison.

Johanna Murphy for some misdemeanor which we have forgotten. Plea guilty. Sentenced to the common jail for thirty days, and to pay a fine of one dollar.

Rhoda George, for stealing from the person. Plea not guilty. The Jury found that she was not guilty, and she was discharged.

George Young, on two indictments, for selling liquor. Plea not guilty.

Ephraim Adams, for selling liquor. Plea nolo contendere. Sentenced to pay a fine of $20 and costs, $10,56.

Wait Willard, on three indictments, for selling liquor. Plea nolo contendere. Sentenced to pay a fine of $20 and costs, $16,47 on first, and $20 on the two others.

Levi Johnson, of Hillsborough, for manslaughter. Plea not guilty. Trial put down for Monday, the 10th inst.

Samuel H. Leet, for taking certain trees from the door-yard of Joseph M. Rowell, of Manchester. About the middle of May last, Mr. Rowell lost two pear trees from his yard. They were taken in the night and missed the morning following. Mr. Rowell started in pursuit of his trees and found them set out in the yard of Mr. Gilman G. Fogg. Leet had sold the trees that morning to Mr. Fogg.

The Jury returned a verdict of guilty of stealing two trees of the value of $2. Sentenced to the common jail for thirty days, and to pay a fine of $6 to J. M. Rowell and costs of prosecution.

John Andrews, of Manchester, for selling one glass of spirituous liquor to one Daniel Annis, plead not guilty. Case passed for the present.

Calvin P. Woodbury came in having had his recognizances forfeited on two indictments for selling liquor. Forfeiture was stricken off. Sentenced on the first to pay a fine of $20 and costs, amounting to $17, and on the second a fine of $20.

Nathaniel Marshall came in and answered, and had the forfeiture of his recognizance stricken off—he not appearing yesterday to answer to two indictments for selling two glasses of liquor at Nashua. He plead guilty to the charge and was sentenced to pay on the first indictment a fine of $20 and costs, and on the second, a fine of $20.

THE RESCUE CASES.—The public generally have heard that no bill was found by the Grand Jury, against Perkins and Barnes for the alleged rescue of Loren Hunt from officer Foss on the 17th of August last. We understand that the Attorney General construed the statute to give the Police Court of this city jurisdiction of the case, and that it had power provided it found them guilty to punish the respondents by imposing a fine not exceeding $10, or by hard labor in the House of Correction not exceeding 30 days or by imprisonment in the County Jail not exceeding same time.

As we are informed, the Attorney General did not ask the Grand Jury to find a bill against the Respondent, for the reason that it was an offence, which if sustained was within the jurisdiction of the Police Court.—Manchester Mir.
